LOSES LIFE UNDER STREET CAR

Leaps From the Rear of One Car Directly in Front of Another.

Richmond, Sept. 30.—Leaping from the rear of one street car directly in front of another, Charles Clark a thirteen-year old colored boy, had his life crushed out at Twenty-second and Venable streets Wednesday night.

It is said that the boy was stealing a ride on a west bound car, and in jumping off turned on front of a car that was bound in an easterly direction. Motorman Wm. E. Bottoms, of the latter, brought his carrier to a stop less than ten feet beyond the spot marking the accident, but it was too late. The boy's skull was crushed, his left leg broken and he was cut about the body. So closely was the body pinned down that it was necessary to use a jack in removing it. The arms were bent beneath the body and the truck guard of the car rested on the skull.

The city ambulance was called, with Dr. Turman in charge. He saw that the victim was dead and so ordered that the coroner be summoned. An inquest will be held by the latter Friday morning.

Motorman Bottoms and conductor J. T. Cook took their car to the barns and then reported to the First Precinct police station following the fatality. They were placed under $500 bond each for their appearance before the coroner's jury.

Shortly before the body was removed from beneath the car the father and sister of the dead boy arrived at the scene. Both were terribly grief stricken and the girl became so hysterical that it was necessary to carry her home.

For Sale.

I will sell on Oct. 31, at auction, a one horse truck to collect payment for repairs on same.

SEARCHING FOR POTTER HEIRS

Left Million and Half After Being Killed by Vigilance Committee.

Durham, Sept. 30.—To find legal heirs to a fortune of a million and a half dollars left by Robert Potter who was killed by a vigilance committee in Texas in 1884, lawyers from three states are delving into court records at Durham, N. C., Greenville, S. C., and in Marshall county, Tex.

Potter, who for three terms was a member of the North Carolina legislature, left this state 76 years ago and invested in wild Texas lands which recently developed natural gas and oil wells.

In 1844 Potter's wild cat business methods aroused the people of Marshall county, Texas against him and he was driven from his home and killed. Since the property, which was his, has developed great value, numerous claimants have appeared. Potter was twice married and his second wife, who was much younger than he, still lives and is a centenarian.

The best line of Coat Suits can be found at D. F. Jarvis.

Christ Church's New Rector.

Rev. B. F. Huake, former rector of St. Paul's church left to lay for New Bern to enter upon his new charge as rector of Christ church in that city. Mr. Huake said his heart was very much attached to the people of Greenville, and as he could not see all his friends personally before leaving, he asked The Reflector to say good bye to them for him—Greenville Reflector 29th.

Rev. Mr. Huske arrived here Friday, and has made his home at the Rectory. Tomorrow he will hold his first service as Rector of Christ Church in New Bern.

FIRE AT TONGERS WOUND A FISHER

William Raab, of Washington, Probably Fatally Shot by Oyster Navy Boat Crew

Washington, D. C. Sept. 30.—As a result of the alleged gross carelessness on the part of some one aboard the Virginia State police boat "James River," near Colonial Beach, Wednesday William E. Raab, of this city, is in a serious condition at Providence Hospital here with a bullet hole through his body.

Mr. Raab, accompanied by Thomas Morrill, William Pigott and H. J. Juennemann, all of this city, were fishing at Colonial Beach Wednesday. Oyster dredgers were working about a quarter of a mile down the river. The police boat, in command of Captain W. Hudson, was seen coming up the river. As it approached, the oystermen, who are said to have been dredging illegally, sailed away. The police boat was then about half a mile away, when a shot was fired from a gun. With the report of the gun Mr. Raab, who was sitting in the bow of the boat fell forward into the bottom of the boat. The bullet had passed through his back, out of his abdomen and lodged in the calf of his right leg. He was brought to this city Wednesday night.

The members of the party declared that the shooting was a piece of gross carelessness. They stated they could plainly see the police boat. Captain Hudson, however, declared to the fishermen at Colonial Beach he was unable to see the boat. Mr. Morrill and Mr. Juennemann said today that Captain Hudson had informed residents of Colonial Beach that he thought the fishermen were not in the range of the gun. Six shots were fired at the fleeing oystermen, one hitting Mr. Raab, while another is said to have come within a short distance of Mr. Morrill's head.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

The twenty-eighth convention of the W. C. T. U. opens here tonight with welcome night. The following influential persons will make short addresses of welcome: Mr. M. H. Allen, in behalf of the citizens of the city, Dr. J. N. H. Summerell, for the ministers; Hon. D. L. Ward, for the lawyers; Mr. S. M. Brinson, for the schools, and Mrs. George Green, President of the local W. C. T. U.

The response to these addresses will be made by Mrs. Ida M. Height, of Elizabeth City.

A very interesting program of music has been arranged, which we trust will be enjoyed by all.

A warm welcome to the people of New Bern to attend all the services, both morning and evening.
Miss Phelps is a speaker of unusual ability and charm of manner, thoroughly captivates her large audience by her masterly discourses. Her logic is sound, her wit and humor are only surpassed by her pathos and earnestness. Her experience is rich and varied, having traveled widely both in this country and the old world. Seldom will the citizens of New Bern have the privilege of hearing so gifted a speaker, for no woman upon the lecture platform today has a deeper interest in temperance work than Miss Phelps. As a lecturer she is a brilliant, fearless speaker.

Unsuitably Mated

The divorce evil is growing and we do not have to go outside of Craven county to seek evidence of the fact. At present there are just 10 cases pending for trial in Craven Superior Court. The majority of these complaints are women, showing that there are some mighty sorry men. It is a regrettable record—these 10 homes that should be peaceful and happy—literally wrecked for one cause and another. Man-made laws may never these ties but we are old fashioned enough to believe that what God joins together man cannot cast asunder. Marriage is a solemn and a serious obligation. Too many enter the married state lightly and for some purely worldly motive, and this obtained, soon weary of the responsibilities thus imposed, seek divorce, which is easily obtained, and a new conquest follows. The church, society and the world should frown down such dissolutions. Those who marry should look carefully before they leap and having entered the married state, should accept what the relations imposed. They should learn to forgive and to forget; to meet trials and obstacles heroically as a part of life's duty; to love and live for each other and thus pass on honor and a blessing to themselves and the world. If a man and woman are not united in these respects, then they should not be joined together.

FALL SUGGESTIONS

FALL SEASON 1910. CONDITIONS GIVE GREAT PROMISE.

The cloud of gloom which seems to settle over this community as a result of conditions brought about by the backward Spring is lifting and the sun of prosperity is now shining on many who were disposed to be pessimistic, at least doubtful about immediate future.

This change is due in main to the crop prospects which are much better than the most sanguine a few weeks ago could hope for, in fact indications now are for more than an average yield in all of the staples which go to the making of good times and even for more than an average yield in the chief corn crop; the South of course is dependent on cotton for its prosperity and prospects for this are good, but even should the yield not come to expectations the recent increase in price would go to make up the difference, and while the country as a whole is benefitted by a big cotton crop the South has an offset when there is a shortage. With good crops will come a decrease in living expenses and the more that can be saved from the table the more there is left for the adornment of the person to analyze the situation in all of its elements of strength, the fall of 1910 is full of promise for us all.

As the fall season will soon be in full swing, in preparation for the same we have broadened the scope and increased the lines of each department, we take the liberty of suggesting to you the great importance of a personal visit to our store. It is perhaps unnecessary to enumerate the many advantages to be obtained by coming to us. We have space only to point out a few redeeming points.

Our Millinery Department is full of the richest colorings and styles the world's market affords; this will surely be a variety season in regards to shapes and materials. We find a tendency to hold to the large shapes which have been so popular, and yet there are a great variety of turbans and small shapes being used, this will give the milliner a better opportunity to please her customers as it will not be necessary to compel buyers to take the only shape in vogue whether becoming or not. The large hats have a tendency to broaden in the back and narrow in front, brims drooping considerably. Smaller hats have high brims rolled close to the crown, this is very effective, turbans are made with high crowns, mostly body of hats are Felts, Beavers, Satin, Corded Silk, Velvet and Velvet combined with Silks and Satin

The wise Dry Goods Merchant of the day realizes that competition is so keen that he would keep his customers he must bind them with a chain that cannot break. The strongest connecting links are honest dealings and the best values for the least money.
