COACHMAN AND HEIRESS MARRY

Connecticut Girl Surprises Friends and Family. Man and Wife a Month.

Danbury, Conn., Oct. 6th.—Miss Mary Bailey, daughter of Mrs. Festus C. Bailey, of this city, heiress to a large fortune and one of the leaders among the younger set in Danbury society, was married in New York city on Aug. 30th last to Patrick O'Connor, coachman and overseer of the Bailey place here, and the news has caused quite a sensation here.

Since Miss Bailey was graduated a year ago from a well known private school in New England she practically had control of the large house here, where she lives with her mother and many servants. No one attached to the household staff had any suspicion that Miss Bailey and the coachman, O'Connor, who is a young man who came here from Ireland four years ago, were infatuated, although one of the servants said that for several months O'Connor has been absent from his post for several days at a time.

It is learned here that the couple met in New York by arrangement and were married at St. Paul's Chapel.

About 160 merchants and business men signed an agreement pledging themselves not to enter into any contract to handle trading stamps.

Practically all of the leading businessmen of Hagerstown were present at the meeting, and a number of speeches were made against the stamp business. It is said only about a half dozen merchants in Hagerstown are handling them.

Marion Butler Speaks at Bayboro.

Oct. 7.—The campaign was unheeded in here today with the speaker, Ex-Senator Marion Butler, and a big bar-bacue. There was a crowd of about three hundred, a good many ladies, and the fine weather made the open air speaking a pleasure, and the platform was erected in the grove near the court house. The Aurora Band played several pieces and the occasion was a good deal of a love feast for Republicans who cheered, laughed and applauded the speaker. The ex-Senator spoke two hours and a half, touching on a number of issues, and in no way concealing the fact that he was the special target for democratic shafts, and in no way did he appear disturbed by this circumstance, of being the target. There were several attempts to break up his stream of utterance by a democrat, but the speaker turned these attempts to his own profit.

After the speaking there was a splendid bar-bacue spread, which included many good catches, and the ladies and gentlemen who were present, many of whom were from the city, were very much pleased with the affair.

The Unusual will happen to-night. First "After Supper Sale" at J. J. Baxter's Dept. Store.

BAILEY GETS EIGHT MONTHS

On County Roads For Assaulting With Deadly Weapon. Other Cases Tried.

At 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning the case of the State vs. Wm. Bailey, of Henderson, who was charged with an assault on John Havens, colored, with a deadly weapon in this city a few weeks ago, and the case of Chas. Whitten, also of Henderson, who was charged with aiding Bailey, were called in the superior court.

Messrs. Larry I. Moore and William Dunn appeared for the defendants and Solicitor Abernethy and Mr. D. E. Henderson presented the case.

Policeman A. L. Bryan was the first witness put on the stand. He said that on the night of Sept. 8th, and while he was patrolling his beat in the business section of the city, he received a call, telling him to go to Goldman's store on Middle street, that a big fight was in progress. He hurried there as fast as possible, and found that William Bailey and Whitford Hurtt had been engaged in an altercation and that Jno. Havens, a colored shoe maker, who had attempted to separate the fighters had been severely cut on the throat by Bailey. He took Bailey into custody and carried him to the city hall.

Charles Whitten was placed on the stand and said that Bailey, himself and several others had spent the day on a fishing trip down the river. Upon returning to the city they went to Baker Bryan's near beer saloon. While at this place Bailey and Whitford Hurtt became engaged in an altercation, but were parted before any damage was done. Did not see Bailey again until he heard a commotion in Goldman's store, ran over there and found Bailey and Havens clinched, tried to get Havens away from Bailey to keep him from being cut. Said that his home was in Henderson and that he came here from Washington, N. C., to accept a position with the Victoria theatre.

Mr. Dwight Styron was then placed on the stand. Said that he was standing on the corner of Middle and Pollock streets when he heard the fight in progress down the street. Ran down as far as Goldman's store and found Bailey and Havens clinched. Saw Whitten run in and strike Havens with a fishing rod. Heard Havens say "he has cut my throat" and saw him run out of the store. Later saw Bailey rush across the street and attempt to drive off in a hack. Saw him taken into custody.

Several other witnesses were placed on the stand, their evidence corroborated the previous evidence in every respect.

At this juncture Mr. L. I. Moore, counsel for the defendants, arose and informed his Honor that after a consultation with his clients he would offer a plea of guilty in both cases. That Bailey claimed not to have the least recollection of the affair, and also claimed that he thought Havens was hurt and that he was acting in self defense.

His honor informed the counsel for the defendants that the case against the young men was a very serious one, but owing to extenuating circumstances he would only impose a sentence of eight months on the county roads upon Bailey and that if he paid the costs in both cases and paid Havens $50 for his expenses that the sentence would not go into effect for eight days. In the case of Whitten judgment was suspended upon the payment of the costs of the case.

The next case called was that of the State vs. Charles Paul and Henry Arpin, two young white men who were charged with turning in false fire alarms. Much evidence was introduced which showed conclusively that they were the two who sent in the alarms. The case was given to the jury and after a short deliberation they returned a verdict of guilty. Sentence was reserved until today.

The next case called was that of Lon Bell who was charged with retailing and at the time this report was received the jury had not returned a verdict.

Francis Boyd, colored, who stabbed Crawford Roper in this city several weeks ago with a nail, and whose death resulted was released from custody by the grand jury who failed to see that her action was not justifiable.

A true bill was returned by the grand jury in the case of Henry Kerman and he will be tried for the murder of Clayborn Kerley.

Lon Bell was also tried, for retailing but the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

WHITE-CAPPERS BEAT WOMAN

Victims Claim Cruel Treatment But Neighbors Contend They are Undesirable Citizens

Harrisonburg, Va. Oct. 7.—White-cappers entered the home of Mrs. Kate Eaton at Broadway, Rockingham county, several nights ago, took her son, John Roberts, out into the front yard and then there administered a severe beating with a cowhide until both mother and son had to beg for mercy. Not content with that, the midnight intruders went back into the house, and after ransacking the place and scattering the contents about, set to work and almost demolished the house.

This is the story that the Eaton woman and her son were telling Tuesday. The two came to Harrisonburg and laid the complaints before Commonwealth's Attorney Conrad. Mayor Aldhizer, of Broadway, it is said, had not given the couple much satisfaction and had directed them to the county seat.

The Eaton woman looks to be about 40-years of age, while her son is in his twenties. John Roberts is not a prepossessing looking youth. He pulled his derby hat down over his ear, gripped his Winchester rifle, which he had on his shoulder, and told the Commonwealth's attorney that he wanted revenge. The old mother gritted her teeth, too, and declared that revenge would be sweet to her also.

People from Broadway say that there is another side to the story. They say that the Eatons are undesirable citizens and that the white-cappers are a band of good citizens who had exhausted every other means to rid the town of the Eaton mother and son.

The mother and son, since the affair have been camping in the front yard of the demolished home, the son with his trusty Winchester on his knee ready for another visit from the white-cappers.

Mrs. Eaton says she has a sister who wants her property, and puts the blame for the invasion upon her.

It is said that the people of Broadway will not be content until the Eatons have left the community for good. They say the visit to the Commonwealth's Attorney is a mere bluff.

Republican Speaking at Court House.

Ex-Senator Marion Butler opened the political campaign in this city last night, at the court house. It was nearly 8:30 o'clock when Mr. Butler and the local Republican Executive Committee arrived, the speaker being introduced by the chairman Mr. Clyde Eby. The chief points discussed in the over two hours speech were Butler and Bonds, local self-government, public school education, and the tariff. Each of these were spiritedly presented and emphatically demonstrated as Mr. Butler knows how. As shown from one side they had full weight, and while several times there was applause, pretty liberal, the question of effect upon the audience could not be fully determined. The crowd which filled all seats except the gallery, gave attentive heed throughout the speech.

Rural Carrier Captures Convict.

In carrying his regular route, as rural mail man, Wednesday, Mr. F. T. Harper, who is on R. F. D. No. 2, performed a double service for his country in capturing single handed an escaped convict from the county road gang. The convict was John Henderson, colored, sentenced nearly two years ago to four years, for shooting Constable Ernest Jones.

When Mr. Harper passed the camp at Mr. Bob Wooten's place he was told of the escape of Henderson, and the latter was described to him. He came upon the sleeping man six miles from camp and recognized him at once. Henderson was taken and placed in charge of two men until the rural letter carrier could fetch his trip and notify the sheriff in this city, who went to the place and took Henderson back to the road force—Kinston Free Press.

Norfolk-Southern Contemplating Better Train Service to Goldsboro

The management of the Norfolk-Southern Railway have been in conference with officers of the Goldsboro Chamber of Commerce with a view to giving Goldsboro increased and better passenger and freight facilities.

A new train, leaving Goldsboro at night carrying Pullman sleepers, carrying Kinston and New Bern, to Norfolk, Va., is in contemplation, and a corresponding train from Norfolk to reach Goldsboro in the early morning.

This train would greatly add to the facilities of Goldsboro, being increased business to the Norfolk-Southern Railway, and it is in keeping with their general purpose and policy to give the best service to the public.
