The wholesome, harmless green leaves and tender atems of a lung healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its curative properties. Ticking or dry bronchial coughs quickly and safely yield to this highly effective Cough medicine. Dr. Shoop assures mothers that they can with safety give it to even very young babes. No optum, no chloroform—absolutely nothing harsh or harmful. It calms the distressing cough, and heals the constitive membranes. Accept no other. Demand Dr. Shoop's, Sold by Bradham Drug Co.

Helter skelter" has been suggestively defined as a fingling expression vaguely imitating the hurried clatter of feet rapidly and irregularly moved. Most dictionaries, however, led astray probably by the ordinary orthography, have missed the true etymology of this phrase. It should be "belter kelter." "Helter" is an old word for "hang." probably connected with halter, and "kelter" is used by old writers in the sense of "order" or the proper state. Thus Barrow, the divine, says, "If the organs of prayer be out of kelter how can we pray?" "Helter skelter," therefore, is literally "hang order, to the or let it take its chance." Ben Jonson in "Every Man in His Humor" writes, "Helter skelter, hang sorrew, care "It kill a cat" and Shakespeare using it to express rush and hurry, says, "Helter skelter have I rode to thee."

Imprint of a twenty dollar note on one side and of a ten on the other. But, in-assuach as the face showed the figures 20, $20 was the legal value of the bill. In most cases the "freak" bills that have escaped the vigilance of the bureau's officers are national banknotes, which, like the regular treasury notes, are printed there. As infimated already, the face value is always recognized when the "freaks" come to be cashed at any branch of the treasury. Almost all the "freak" bills that have been issued in the past have found their way back to the treasury, there to be destroyed. It is thought that very few of them are now scattered about, and these are for the most part in the hands of curio hunters.-Harper's Weekly.

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause, rather than the effect would come into practice. A tiny, inside hidden nerve says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the Heart, and one to the Kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fail, then the organs must faiter. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain, Sold by Bradham Drug Co.

Trade In Cobwebs. In Europe, especially in France and Germany, there exists quite a trade in cobwebs to be applied to bottles of wine thought to call for that additional evidence of age. The dealer who furnished cobwebs to the wine sellers has likewise a liquor that softens and solors the cork to make it assume the stains of time. These cobwebs are not spread upon the bottles without due preparation. They are previously steeped in gum in order that they may the more readily adhere to the bottle. When they have been laid upon the bottle a little soot is sprinkled upon them, which final touch completes the

The first doses gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. Davis Phar macy.

Nature and Poetry. Environment aids poetry, but does not create it. Nature is the grand agent in making poetry, and poetry is present wherever nature is. It sparkles on the sea, glows in the rainbow flashes from the lightning and the star peals in thunder, roars in the cataract and sings in the winds. Poetry is God's image reflected in nature, as in a mirror, and nature is present wher Tosti's Thanks. Signor Francisco Tosti, the famous song writer, is very impulsive and quick to resist the slightest assumption of patronage. One day a lady called on him and announced her intention of singing two of his songs at a concert.

"I thought I would just run round and try them over with you," she said. Tosti remarked that he was not in the habit of giving lessons in that manner, whereupon the lady retorted: "Very well; I will not sing your ongs then." Tosti's face beamed as he advanced toward her with outstretched hands. "Madam," he said, "I thank you very much for that favor."
