FEARFUL LOSS BY FOREST FIRES

For Twenty-Five Miles A Sea of Flame Rages. Many Persons Incarcerated.

Carters Lake, Colo., Oct. 12—Fears are expressed for the safety of a score of ranchers and their families, who are believed to be trapped by a fire that is sweeping Big Chief Mountain today.

The wind is blowing 20 miles an hour and a force of rangers are trying to check the spread of the fire. An urgent appeal has been sent to headquarters for assistance.

It is reported that more than a dozen fires are now burning in the Black Hills.

Washington, Oct. 12—Chief Forester Graves today received a telegram from Acting Supervisor Fitzwater, of the Superior National Forest, declaring that the fire line now is 25 miles long and is 50 miles west of the western boundary of the National Forest.

T. W. Bickett Encourages Democrats.

Attorney General T. W. Bickett, before an audience that filled the main floor of the court house, made an address Thursday night, that captivated and encouraged the local democracy, and for two hours there was applause and laughter at the hits given republicans by the speaker.

Cotton Continues to Advance.

Special to Journal. New York, Oct. 12—The market continued to advance today on very heavy general buying spot sales here. Quotations fifteen points higher.

License the Chauffeurs.

North Carolina needs a law that will require every person to stand an examination to secure a license to run automobiles. New York and many other states have found and are finding that it is absolutely necessary for the safety of human life to have only licensed chauffeurs.

Great progress will be reported by the message in the work of the Panama Canal and its immediate fortification will be recommended.

Congress will be urged to adopt some measure for the improvement of the declining merchant marine, particularly in encouraging the establishment of lines to South America, the Philippines and Japan.

The resolutions of the tariff board at home and abroad for information bearing on the question whether any of the articles in the tariff law need revision will occupy a session of the message.

TAFT'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

What President Will Advocate And What He Claims. Less Political Patronage.

Washington, Oct. 12—President Taft gives promise of delivering to Congress, in his annual message abundant grist for the legislative mill. Much was done at the last session of Congress but one of the White House circles predicted that the President would call for a long list of new statutes.

In accordance with custom, the message will lead off with a review of the foreign relations of the United States. An achievement to be given prominence in this connection was the successful arbitration of the century-old dispute with England over the North Atlantic fisheries.

Regarding the relations of this country with the nations of Europe and the Far East, the message will be the chronicle of a serene and peaceful year. Good feeling between the two big Americas and reference to the situation in Central America will afford a theme for a paragraph or two.

Efforts made to promote the economical administration of the Government's business will be emphasized in the message. It will be stated that the estimates of the Cabinet members of the amount needed for next year's expenses have been cut to the lowest notch.

Conservation of natural resources was fully provided for at the last Congress, and the President will recall attention to the subject. Disposal of water-power sites looms large in this connection.

The message will recommend that Congress pass a law that will permit the development of water power on public land by private capital, but that the Government shall keep a restraining hand on the concessions in order to prevent extortion or monopoly.

Another hard conservation problem that will be passed up to Congress concerns the disposition to be made of the stores of coal, oil and phosphates on public lands.

Two propositions that have heretofore been strongly urged upon Congress by the President will be repeated in the message—an amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law and Federal charters for corporations. The proposed amendment to the Sherman law would permit railroads to enter into limited agreements as to rates, subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Banquets and representatives will be asked to consider the question of surrounding their privilege of making public appointments in order that more Government employees may be placed in the tariff service.

U. D. C. HOLDING CONVENTION

Many Addresses Made on Opening Day. Much Business Transacted.

Rocky Mount, N. C., Oct. 12th.—On Wednesday the fourteenth annual state convention of the U. D. C. was opened with prayer by the chaplain of the State division, Miss Hettie James, of Wilmington. This was followed by the song "The Old North State" by the choir.

Mayor Thorne's address of welcome was most pleasing and appropriate. The keys of the city were delivered to the ladies for as long as they could be induced to retain them. The fraternal orders of Elks and Pythians were represented by Mr. Joseph B. Ramsey, whose address was followed by the singing of the stirring old song that cheered the Southern soldiers to battle in the sixties, "The Bonnie Blue Flag."

At the conclusion of Capt. Gravelly's address, Mrs. Winstead, in a sweet and splendid talk welcomed the Daughters to the homes and firesides and hearts of the people of Rocky Mount. The president of the North Carolina division, Mrs. F. M. Williams, of Newton, responded for the Daughters, expressing their pleasure and gratification at such a cordial reception.

The North Carolina flag from the Ransom Sherrill Chapter at Newton, was presented to the president by Mrs. W. C. Femiester, the same to be borne by the president on her trip to the convention at Little Rock, Ark.

The State President, Mrs. Williams, was then called to the chair and the Secretary called the roll of the various chapters and their representation, whether by proxy or by delegate was made known. After completion of this meeting the Daughters adjourned to the Cambridge Hotel, where at one o'clock there was served a luncheon by the city aldermen complimentary to the North Carolina division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

At 2.30 in afternoon the convention opened for a several hours' business session. At from 8:30 until eleven there was a reception by the Knights of Pythias in their hall in the Masonic Temple building.

Eastern Carolina Coming.

Mr. B. L. Bugg, traffic manager, and Mr. W. W. Croxton, general passenger agent of the Norfolk-Southern Railway were visitors to Raleigh yesterday.

They announced that the Norfolk-Southern was fully prepared for heavy business during Fair week and thousands of people will come to Raleigh from towns along its line. Because of the former inaccessibility at Raleigh to the people east of Edenton, comparatively few have come to Raleigh for the Fair festivities from points between that town and Elizabeth City; but with the present convenient schedules and fast movement of trains over the sound, unprecedented numbers are promised from that territory this year.—Raleigh Evening Times.
