FOOT CRUSHED BENEATH WHEELS

Attempts to Jump From Moving Train and is Thrown Underneath the Wheels.

While attempting to dismount from the west-bound train just after it had left Riverdale Sunday afternoon, Mr. Geo. Tippet, an aged white man who lives at that place was thrown from the platform to the track and his foot so badly crushed beneath the wheels that it was found necessary to amputate it just below the knee.

There was only a few passengers on the train coming up from Beaufort and Conductor Hines, who was in charge of the train was only stopping at each station for a few minutes. At Riverdale Tippet assisted some relative on the cars and before he could get off the train was in motion. Being an aged man he was not very agile and this, no doubt, caused the accident. As soon as it became known that the accident occurred the train was brought to a stop and the injured man placed in the baggage car and brought to New Bern. Upon the arrival of the train here a stretcher was secured and he was rushed to Stewart's Sanatorium where his leg was amputated just below the knee. Yesterday afternoon he was resting well and will doubtless recover within a few weeks.

The Elks Christmas Tree.

Nearly three hundred children were made glad last Sunday by the local order of the Elks. As had previously been announced the Christmas tree was held at the Masonic opera house. Tickets had been issued to those who were found worthy of charity and when the doors were thrown open, the crowd of youngsters who had been waiting on the outside for some time, flocked in. There were many exclamations of surprise and joy as they gazed upon the array of gifts. Each one of the children was given a gift and some confectioneries and fruit.

Thanksgiving For Rain.

Boston, Dec. 26.—An inch and a half of rain, which fell is believed to have effectively ended the drought which has menaced the water supply of half a dozen cities in New England. People who have been denied tub baths by watchful water officials, farmers who have been hauling water in barrels long distances for their cattle and manufacturers who have seen their plants put on short time or forced out of commission entirely from lack of water power hailed the rain with joy. In many pulpits special thanksgiving was offered for the breaking of the drought and the rain was referred to as a Christmas gift to New England.

UNCLE SAM MAY ADD CUBA TO FOLD

Serious Crisis Expected on Island Early in Year.

Washington, Dec. 26.—War department officials expect a crisis in Cuban affairs by February and it is said that troops are being held in readiness to be rushed to the island at short notice to protect American and other foreign interests and to maintain peace. President Taft declared in 1906 when secretary of the war that if the United States was forced again to intervene in Cuban affairs the American flag be planted permanently in the island. It is not believed that the Cubans would permit permanent occupation without a fight. Secretary of War Dickinson and General Clarence Edwards, chief of the war department, reported on their recent return from Cuba that they were amazed by the disrupted and corrupt conditions they found there. It is declared that many measures for the benefit of special interests have been pushed through the Cuban congress and President Gomez has furthered the measures. It is pointed out that permanent intervention, may be made under the following article 3 of the relations with Cuba: "That the government of Cuba consents that the United States may exercise the right to intervene for the preservation of Cuban independence, the maintenance of a government adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty and for discharging the obligations with Cuba imposed by the treaty of Paris on the United States now to be assumed and undertaken by the government of Cuba."

L. Sanders) and his granddaughter Irene Overton in Granville county last Tuesday. Their home and the dead bodies in it were afterward burned by the assassin. CHILD LABOR'S IN HORRORS

Children Under Six Years Put at Work and Weak Laws Weekly Enforced.

Washington, Dec. 26th.—Sensational charges of repulsive conditions in child labor in Europe are made in a special report by Dr. C. W. A. Veditz, professor of sociology in George Washington University and published by the United States Bureau of Labor.

Children in Austria begin work before six years of age; child laborers in France are drilled to disappear through trap doors at the approach of inspectors. There is a general indifferent enforcement of the child labor laws through which employers find it more profitable to pay the nominal fines imposed than to obey the regulations.

The general conclusion is that child labor laws abroad are poorly enforced and that the penalties imposed for violations are ridiculously small and of practically no deterrent value.

In Austria the compensation varies from food and clothing to $14 a year in agricultural occupations. A large proportion receive wages of 50 cents to a $1.50 per month.

In Belgium most of the factories are visited only once a year, and ignorance of the law is sufficient defense of a proved violation. One-fourth of the children, under 16, either get no wages at all or earn less than 10 cents a day. More than one-half receive between 10 and 20 cents.

In France, in 1908, 383,873 factories employing child labor, were not visited by inspectors. Official age certificates are often forged or altered, and a traffic has sprung up, especially among Italian children imported into France in droves for employment, mainly in glass works, brickyards and as chimney sweeps and bootblacks.

Germany's industrial code, regulating the employment of child laborers, was recognized as having not so much abolished child labor as having forced it out of the factories into home industry. A small proportion of the employers found violating the law receive punishment.
