LEGISLATORS WANT MORE PAY

High Cost Living Alleged: Income Tax Bill, Grant For Sheriffs.

Raleigh, Feb. 1.—A bill introduced by Senator Graham, of Orange, would amend the State Constitution so as to increase the compensation of members of the general assembly to $300 instead of $240, and if an extra session is held, pay them $100 each for it. The presiding officers are to receive $10 per day. Senator Graham says the high cost of living makes it impossible to serve in the legislature without personal financial loss, and that the people ought not to expect their law-makers to make up the deficit of necessary expense.

Senator Brown, of Columbus, introduced a bill to prohibit social clubs from handling liquors for members.

A bill by Boyden, of Rowan, would prohibit trespassing on railroad tracks. Thompson introduced a bill to establish a State school for the feeble minded.

Petitions poured into the House of Representatives for prohibition of near beer in North Carolina from Wilson, Polk, Perquimans, Burke, Rockingham, Mecklenburg, Yadkin, Buncombe, Hertford, Northampton and other counties.

The Senate bill to ratify the proposed amendment to the United States Constitution providing an income tax passed its second reading in the House 39 to 6, and on objection by Dillard, of Cherokee, to final reading took its place on the calendar for final passage another day. It was adopted after a lengthy debate on the Ewart resolution as a substitute for which the Senate bill was finally taken from the committee and passed without any party division.

In making a fight for the repeal of the 1909 law allowing sheriffs $20 each for blockade distilleries broken up, as it applies to Cherokee county, representative Dillard charged that deputy sheriffs in his county have "grafted" his county but of about $1,800 for fees of that kind, when in reality there had not been more than two distilleries in the whole county within two years.

Representative Stroup offered an amendment to include Gaston county there was a fight to defeat the action on Dillard's bill, but it was lost, and it looked like it would pass in spite of the opposition of many prohibitionists who urged that the committee on liquor traffic is preparing an amendment to the State law that would eliminate the evil complained of in Cherokee.

The house of representatives passed the bill by Roberts, of Buncombe, to allow divorce where there are no children from the union, after ten years' separation, without the requirement that both have resided in this state for the ten years.

SIX VILLAGES ARE RUINED

Tidal Wave's Destruction at Manila Greater Than Reported.

Manila, Feb. 1.—Reports from the region of Mount Taal, on the island of Luzon, show the volcanic eruption and subsequent tidal wave to have been far more destructive than at first believed. It is now feared that 600 people lost their lives in the six villages that were practically destroyed.

Talisay, Tanaon, Calambra, Lemony Taal were almost obliterated by the quake and inrush of water. These towns are now depopulated, the survivors having fled to escape a repetition of Mount Taal's violence.

The entire island is enveloped in a thick layer of mud, which has worked incalculable damage to the vegetation. Orchards are battered to the ground and even houses crushed by the weight of falling mud and ashes.

Every thing in our big store will be sold at Cost for the next week or ten days, Clothing and Ladies Suits at Half Price. J. J. Baxter.

IN MEMORIAM

ELIZABETH W. ENNETT.

On January 24th, at her home at Cedar Point, in Carteret county, the spirit of Elizabeth W. Ennett, daughter of the well known and loved late Dr. Geo. N. Ennett, passed into everlasting rest. Though a sufferer for several years, she was always cheerful and happy. Always tender and thoughtful for others. Although she realized that she was near, she met it bravely; there was no shadow of fear in the home-going, only grief for the loved ones left behind. Her last words were words of comfort to those who by their love and devotion had made her sweet young life bright and happy. She was beloved by all who knew her, because the beautiful soul within spoke through her every word and deed.

For those of us who loved her best, more words cannot express the grief of our hearts, nor is it needful to speak words of praise of one whose very life was an inspiration and benediction. We cannot understand the wonder of the Divine love that has taken her from us, but through the night of our grief we can rejoice that she has passed into endless day, to join the loved father and brother gone before, for, if ever a soul answered the call of the great beyond with the clean, sweet record of a pure life, that one was Elizabeth, to whom we pay the sacred homage of our hearts today, and so our prayer is for one who loved her, that because we know her, we may live more worthily, that we may be gentle because of her strength, that her gentleness may make us great, so that in the end we may meet face to face with one whose strength is "as the strength of ten," because her soul was pure.

For there is no sorrow and weeping. In the beautiful home of the faint, where the silent stars are sleeping. No sobs, but love's perfume. When the angels their watch are keeping. There's a home at last, and rest. ONE WHO LOVED HER.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Held Here Yesterday. Much Interest Manifested in the Work by the Farmers in This Section.

During the past few months the State Department of Agriculture has been endeavoring to promote agriculture in this State by holding Farmers Institutes at which the farmers are taught the best methods of farming. Yesterday one of these institutes was held at the court house in this city and a number of well known agricultural experts made very interesting and instructive addresses on the best methods to use in making farming a profitable business.

Among the prominent visitors present were: Mr. J. L. Burgess, Agronomist, State Department of Agriculture; Mr. J. A. Conover, Dairy Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Dr. W. G. Christman, Veterinarian of the same department; Dr. Wilson, of Raleigh; Mr. S. H. Shaw, State Horticulturist and Mrs. Sue V. Hollowell.

One of the main and most interesting subjects of the meeting was the drainage of the farm. This is one of the principal things that the farmer has to contend with. Often it is the case that he fails to properly drain several acres of the land which he owns and in many cases the products grown there are a failure. Drainage makes his work twice as easy as it would otherwise. It improves the quality of the crop and greatly increases his profits in the end. Then again, in the matter of properly fertilizing the farm the same trouble is found. If the drainage is not good the fertilizer does not have the proper effect. Many other reasons were brought out by the speakers to show that the question of drainage was one of the farmers' first duties.

Practically every subject in which the farmers could be interested was thoroughly discussed and analyzed and the speakers were well repaid for their efforts by the interest manifested by their audiences.

In the women's department Mrs. Sue V. Hollowell fully discussed the advantage of proper sanitation in the home, the advisability of using economy in everything possible, the right way to can fruit, dairying, poultry raising and many other interesting subjects. Mrs. Hollowell is an excellent speaker and she had the full attention of her hearers at all times. Numerous questions were asked and much was learned in this matter.

Taken as a whole there is nothing more beneficial to the farmers and their wives than these institutes and they are quick to take advantage of the opportunity to learn every new phase of the work. It is more than probable that another will be held here at an early date.

Near Beer Dives Given Orders to Move Quick

Wilmington, Feb. 1.—The citizens of Castle Hayne, a village in New Hanover county, met yesterday afternoon and decided to give the owners of two near-beer establishments notice to close out within 48 hours or the law would be resorted to compel them to close. Conditions had grown to such in the vicinity of the saloons that the citizens decided not to stand it any longer. Sentiment among the best element of New Hanover is overwhelmingly in favor of driving out the near-beer saloons, conditions in some parts of the county being like it was open saloons existed in the rural districts years ago.
