OFFICIAL PAPER OF NEW BERN AND CRAVEN COUNTY.

New Bern, N. C. March 21, 1911.

VETO POWER FOR GOVERNOR

The Charlotte Observer very justly condemns the legislature's activity upon trivial measures, consuming the time that should be given to matters of state wide importance. Notably does the Observer feel that it was an outrage that such an important measure as the Salisbury-to-Asheville highway, that had been promoted and worked upon by its advocates to a great degree, should have failed to pass. Here was a bill only needing legislative enactment, to bring good results to a long section of the state, with no objection, yet is lost in the closing hours of the assembly, when countless local bills are being rushed through, the majority of these bills being of no character except to limited localities, and quite likely known to but few persons in these localities.

The need of system in the general assembly becomes more apparent after each session closes. There should be a roster kept open to the inspection of persons who are justly concerned in the bills, and legislators should have such a list each day to see what actual progress is being made, and what important measures demad acting upon. Under the present way, not even legislators can tell whether a bill has passed, or in what shape it is, as it seems to have been in the case of the Salisbury-to-Asheville highway bill, only a "guess" as to its fate was possible, until too late. And as the Observer says editorially, and justly—

"The people of North Carolina have a right to ask, to insist, that their legislatures shall hereafter transact business upon a better basis. To dawdle away most of the session with local trivialities which county and city authorities could manage more wisely themselves if given permission and then to let necessary and important legislation receive scant attention or fail—this has been the common fault for a good many years. The public is becoming very tired of the biennial performance. There is a growing belief that to give the governor veto power—and North Carolina alone among American Commonwealths withholds the veto from its governor—would greatly lessen the evil by concentrating partial responsibility for things done or omitted. At present a North Carolina legislature is little better than a mob."

Giving the governor the veto power would serve to correct in greater part the lack of the present no system legislatures.

Local Points After Big Reward.

One of the most interesting descriptions of a criminal rendered by the local police in some time was the one recently given out. The party "wanted" is a young man only 25 years of age and is described as a veritable Apollo and a full-blooded sport. He was cashier of a bank and left with the funds entrusted to his care. Another interesting circular received a few days ago offers the largest cash reward for police information of the last few years, possibly the largest ever offered by the legal authorities for the capture of an offender against State laws, the sum of $25,000. This munificent reward is offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons suspected of being implicated in the destruction of the Times Building at Los Angeles, California which caused the consternation of the entire west at the time of its occurrence last October. Ten thousand dollars extra is offered for any general information concerning the felony.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Goldsboro, N. C.—"A physician treated me for many distressing symptoms," writes Mrs. Etta A. Smith, "but gave me no relief.

"I suffered with neuralgia around the heart and was troubled at times with my head. I had pain in my left side, bowels, left thigh, shoulders and arms.

"After taking Cardui, I am now well and can recommend it to other suffering women."
