AMONG THE BRETHREN.

No one newspaper editor in this State can likely see all the publications, and so be in position to they come in, how fortune is fa-voring the brethren of the press.

Every newspaper, anxious to show improvements itself, enjoys better-ments in its state contemporaries note and judge, by the papers as ments in its state contemporaries. head a n d Local pride first, state pride second, might be a fair expression, as regards North Carolina editors, in the matter of improvements in and e y a s their publications. With this in mind, the Journal notes with pleasure a few of its State exchan ges that have "progress" signs in their columns.

In this section, the Greenville Reflector, is an afternoon daily that small in size, is as readable as though twice the size. There are ho dead items, and the pony telegraphic service gives its columns a live, newsy look, while locally and editorially, it is readable throughout.

Greensboro has taken the biggest newspaper advance in the State. The change of ownership in the Daily News has worked a most radical advance for the better in the news columns. Its correspondents send in "stuff" that is live news, the kind that not only local Nights," by Theophile Gautier. readers enjoy, but outsiders. Its editorial page is also advanced.

The Telegram changing owners, has with increased resources put this Greensboro daily into the for ward ranks. - It is a most interest ing exchange to this office.

The Wilmington Star, while not having made any changes in makeup or ownership, is often four pages larger. Best of all it makes local betterment its primary sub changes in their columns, but are as strong as ever for community development and state advancement:

The Nile or the Sky? The barge sped like an arrow over the water, leaving behind it a silver wake that soon was effaced. A few frothy bubbles breaking on the surface alone testified to the passage of the craft, already out of sight. The river banks, yellow and salmon colored, unrolled rapidly like papyrus bands be-tween the double agure of the beavens and the water, these so alike in tone that the thin tongue of earth which separated them seemed a causeway built across an immense lake and made it difficult to decide whether the Nile reflected the sky or the sky re-

Davy Crockett at the Play.

John Quincy-Adams used to occasionally attend the theater, and he was especially pleased with Hackett as Paletan. When Mr. Hackett had a benefit it was announced that at the particular request of Coionel David Crockett of Teanessee the comedian would appear in the play called "The Kentuckian." This brought out a house full to overflowing. At I o'clock the colonel was escorted by the manager through the crowd to a front sent reserved for bim. After a short time the curtain rose, and Hackett appeared in hunting costume, bowed to the audiunte and then to Colonel Crockett. The compliment was reciprocated by the colonel, and then the play want on —From "Ferley's Reminiscences."

AVERTS AWFUL TRAGEDY. Timely advice given Mrs. C. Willough by, of Marengo, Wis. (R. No. 1) prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved County Farm Life Schools, and for two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a "consumption" sough and could do little to help her. After many remedies falled, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovers. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote "and the awful cough has almost its regular meeting on the fin April, 1911, for the purpose gone. It also saved my little hoy when taken with a severe bronchial trouble."

The instinct of animals is som supposed to be more infallible man human reason, but a scientist's obset vations of the katydid rather contradict that opinion. The katydid, with its musical membranes, produces two printed the words "AGAINST COUNTY FARM LIFE SCHOOLS."

Words, "FOR COUNTY FARM LIFE of the words and the written or druggist of Spirit Lake, lowa, says: "Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are certainly the best thing on the market for constipation." Give these tablets a trial. You are certain to find distinct "songs," one peculiar to the night and familiar to everybody, the other a daytime tune, which is rather a rasp than a melody. According to the scientist mentioned, it is sometimes quite comical to hear the singers and denly change their time when a dark cloud obscures the sun, immediately resuming their daytime song when it has passed. This recalls the hens that go to rocst during a solar celline. go to roost during a solar eclipse.

The Earl and the Angler.
One of the earls of Minto had a kindly nature. One day a Hawick angler was throwing his lineon the river near Minto when a tall gentleman came up to him and inquired what kind of sport be was having. The fisher replied that it was not very good and that he could do better if he were at the other side of the water, adding, "I'll gi'e ye sixpence if ye'll carry me across." The bargain was strock, and the gentleman, getting the angler on his back, carried him through the water to the other side. True to his promise, the angier produced the sixpence, which he proferred to the stranger, who, however, smiled and remarked, "Give it to the first beggar you meet and tell him it is a present from the Earl of Minto."
