This picture will interest the children especially and there will undoubtedly be hundreds out to see it. ## MODERN TYPE LIVERY STABLES

Daniels-Newberry Live Stock Company's New Stables Completed. Some New Ideas About Livery Business.

The completion of Daniels-Newberry Livery Stock Company's new livery and sale stables sets the pace for a class of stables that New Bern has never possessed before. These stables are a model of convenience, utility and neatness amounting almost to luxury.

Fronting on South Front street, almost opposite the Gaston Hotel, the building is forty-three feet wide, two stories, faced with gray pressed brick, the office windows being heavy plate glass. There is but little ornamentation but the frontage impresses one by its appearance of solidity and permanency.

The whole structure which is built of brick, is 132 feet long, the front as before noted being of two stories. A wide entrance opens from South Front street with a floor of iron-tinged concrete, pushing on into the stables proper, the arrangement of which will be described later. On the right of the entrance is the office of the firm, large, well-lighted, well-ventilated and equipped with such furniture as is needed. On the left is another room not so large but in every way as complete, which will be furnished and kept in condition as a waiting room in which ladies may rest while their rigs are being made ready. There are three rooms in the upper story to be used for storage and display of harness, robes, and other paraphernalia of the livery business.

The entire building is intended to be as nearly as possible fire-proof, and particular attention is paid to sanitation. The apartment for stock is lofty in height, admitting a free circulation of air which is scientifically regulated by ventilators and each stall is ventilated by a window furnished with a sliding iron shutter. A large skylight is placed midway the roof, under which is located, what is called the "mule pen." Open stalls with iron topped partitions, range on one side while on other are large box stalls. Everything looks neat, orderly and clean. The walls and wood work are all whitewashed and the floor is littered with pine saw dust, all of which gives forth a pleasant and healthy smell. The watering troughs and washing vats are made of concrete and are supplied with running water.

At the rear is an addition, built of iron, 150 feet long every arrangement and equipment as complete and perfect as the main building. Something like sixty horses can be cared for in the stables, each having a separate stall.

The firm expects to do a considerable business in the sales line as well as boarding etc., but special attention will be given to the livery end. Horses will be kept to suit the needs of all, the tank and the more assured, both will be provided for, and special drivers for both ladies and gentlemen will be furnished.

The gentlemen comprising the firm are too well known in this section to need much introduction. Mr. L. G. Daniels established a large business in Pamlico county selling stock vehicles, etc., to which he has added greatly since coming to this city a few years ago. During his residence in New Bern Mr. Daniels has taken an active interest in local affairs, investing his money and using his influence for the betterment of the community.

Mr. A. O. Newberry resided here several years ago, finally going to Newport, where he has built up a large livery, and sales business which has proven to him successful.

FREE WOOL IN FIVE YEARS

Mondell Roasts Democrats—More Reciprocity Talk. Talbott Back Again.

Washington, May 3.—Free wool wool at the end of five years will be the compromise of the House Democrats when the wool schedule is revised, according to indications. Nine of the 14 Democrats on the Ways and Means Committee favor immediate free wool. The other five, led by Chairman Underwood favor a reduced duty.

Exactly two scores out of the 291 members of the House were on hand today when the gavel fell for the sixth successive day of talk on the Democratic free list bill.

Representative Mondell (Rep., Wyo.) denounced the Democratic tariff policies as "bare-faced attempts to gold-bribe the farmers."

More Canadian reciprocity is proposed in a resolution introduced in the House today by Representative Ames (Rep., Mass.) which reads: "It is the sense and judgment of this House that negotiation with Canada should be instituted at this time with a view to establishing closer commercial ties and freer trade relations with that country."

Representative Talbott returned last night after about a week's stay in Atlantic City, and says he was much benefited, physically, by his sojourn there.

ARAPAHOE ITEMS.

Arapahoe, Pamlico County, May 1.—Our people are all busy in their farm work.

Our merchants are progressive, but the hope of their prosperity rests upon the farmer.

Our little town continues to put on new life.

Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Womble who opened a millinery store here the first of the season are having a lively trade.

Our merchants are all doing good business.

The crops in this section are some weeks behind time because of the cold, but the weather is very refreshing now after such a refreshing rain as we had last night.

Our Free Will Baptist friends had a grand reunion here beginning last Friday closing last night, it was well represented by delegates from New Bern and other places. They had good audiences at every service.

Miss Viola McLawhorn was the guest of Mrs. Clara Reel, of this place since last Thursday. She will return home today.

Mr. Albert Rawls, who went to Colorado and other western states five years ago and married a charming little western girl, and returned home some time ago to see his people and friends, has accepted a position with the John D. Roper Lumber Co.

Mrs. Fannie Tyndall, of New Bern came down last week to visit her parents and attend the union, accompanied by Miss Donnie Godley. They returned this morning.

The daylight pictures shown on "The Silver-Light" screen at The Athens are the best ever seen in the state.
