OFFICIAL PAPER OF NEW BERN AND CRAVEN COUNTY.

New Bern, N. C. May 19, 1911.

STANDARD OIL DECISION

ALL AROUND VICTORY

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, the father of the gigantic trust comprising thirty-three allied corporations, and representing an aggregate capital of $600,000,000, must effect a dissolution. Its business must be restored to the subsidiary concerns. That was the decision of the United States Supreme Court.

It was a verdict that the ordinary business man would consider as adverse to this gigantic corporation and to all others that operate in "restraint" of trade. To the average speculator it might look like a verdict hostile to Wall Street. But the Standard Oil Co. shows no sign of being at all disturbed, nor does any other trust combination give signs of being fearful for the future. The stock market that for weeks had been lifeless in its tradings, the day following the verdict at once developed unusual activity, with prices going rapidly upward. Here are legitimate and speculative trade interests both rather helped, when the government orders the dissolution of a company whose allied capital is $600,000,000. The Standard Oil Company as a corporation has been a menace to commercial life, in its unrestrained monopoly. Its dissolution must likely result, the form taken is not likely to be a literal dismemberment, for the same keen business acumen that conceived, developed and brought to full maturity Standard Oil, has looked forward to such a verdict as the Supreme Court rendered, and is prepared to meet the situation.

But something more than legislative construction and a verdict upon that basis is demanded, if the Sherman anti-trust act is to have its full force, for violations of this act call for criminal trial and prosecution, with verdicts that shall be personal, not corporate, and the punishment be visited upon the living individuals of the monopoly that violates law, and not a punishment to be meted out upon an inanimate corporation without body to suffer or a soul to be tormented.

It is this very public sentiment that prevails, that seems to ask for a legislative rather than a judicial verdict, that makes the verdict one that strikes monopoly, forcing a bad trust to be a good trust, or give up, and yet causes no disturbance to trade and property values, this causes the general satisfaction. It may be that the verdict is all sufficient for the present time, and will have the desired effect of breaking up in future all combinations that are in "restraint" of trade.

HAIR ADVICE!

VALUABLE TO THE PRESENT-TIME GRAY-HAIRED PEOPLE.

What a pity it is to observe so many people with thin and faded hair, and then realize that the most of these people might have a fine, healthy head of hair if they would but use the simple "Wash & Rinse" of our grandmothers combined with other ingredients for restoring and preserving the hair. No one, young or old, need have gray hair, weak hair or falling hair, dandruff or any troubles of the sort if they would but use Wyle's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. On the contrary, it is possible to have healthy, vigorous hair, and prevent more by a few applications of this remarkable preparation.

MARK TWAIN

A New Edition

1/2 Price

Now for the first time you get a complete set of all Mark Twain's writings at just exactly one-half the price they have ever been sold before. This is a new edition, just as complete as the old one, which still sells, by the way, at $50.00. This new edition is only $25.00—for the 25 volumes.

It had been Mark Twain's ambition to have his books in every American home, and he made a great personal sacrifice to bring about this remarkable opportunity—for the first time in the history of publishing, copyrighted books are sold at the price of non-copyrighted books—the chance will not come again.

But for Mark Twain's action this would have been impossible. Never before has a copyrighted library set of a standard author's works been issued at such a low figure.

His Complete Works—25 Beautiful Volumes

Brander Matthews says: "Mark Twain will be included in that group of writers headed by Moliere and Cervantes. With the exception of Count Tolstol, Twain was the greatest of recent modern writers, and will be handed down to posterity through the trio of his works 'Huckleberry Finn,' 'Tom Sawyer,' and 'Pudd'nhead Wilson.' Twain is a greater stylist than Stevenson or Thoreau, and his 'Man that Corrupted Hadleyburg' is one of the finest works in English literature." Mark Twain himself wrote a preface to this edition. Brander Matthews has written the biographical criticism of Mark Twain and his work. There are portraits of the author at periods when the different books were in process of writing.

There are beautiful pictures by such artists as Frost, Newell, Smedley, Thulstrup, Clinedinst, Kemble, and Oppen. The binding is in rich red rep silk book cloth, with title labels stamped in gold. The books are printed on white antique wove paper, especially made for this edition. Each volume is of generous size and bulk, 5x7 1/2 inches.

An Odd Globe.
A great globe ornamented with the map of the earth carved in stone decorates the estate of an eccentric Englishman at Swanage. It stands overlooking the sea and is visible for quite a distance. One may walk about it and study it in detail. The plain surfaces, such as the oceans, lakes and continents, are decorated with Scriptural texts which are supposed to apply especially to the locality they occupy.

DIRE DISTRESS

It is Near at Hand to Hundreds of New Bern Readers.

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is the kidney's cry for help. Neglect hurrying to their aid means that urinary troubles follow quickly.

Profit by a sufferer's experience. Mrs. Lina Arthur, Sr., 528 W. Second street, Washington, N. C., says: "I suffered greatly from dull, nagging backache. I could hardly get around at times, and was afraid to move on account of the knife-like twinges in my loins. My kidneys were weak and no doubt caused all the trouble. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and getting a box, I began their use. They relieved every symptom of my trouble and I am therefore pleased to recommend them." (Statement given January 13, 1907.)

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally. Mrs. Rosa Ferris, Birmingham, Ala. BANKS "LOAN" MONEY.

They Don't "Lend" It, Because It Is a Business Transaction. Why is it banking houses always "loan" their huge sums of money, never by any chance "lend" them? "Lend" is the true verb, while "loan" was exclusively the noun. How came it about that "to loan" has uniformly supplanted "to lend"?

The purists make a great fuss about this. They insist that the stupid and untaught financial world has foisted upon the language a substantive verb when the true verb was needed, when the ancient and established usage was fixed in the signification of "to lend." But prior to the modern development of business enterprises when money was lent it was bestowed upon the borrower either for temporary use without compensation, as a mark of favor or patronage, or by the professional money lender who, taking advantage of persons in extremities of need, demanded usurious interest. This Anglo-Saxon verb today retains its ancient connotation. When it was coined the productive powers of money were unknown, and the wealth of rich men was locked up for safety and kept out of the channels of commerce.

Nowadays, by devices of credit and rapid intercommunication, it is kept constantly working in productive enterprises. Immense loans are made, no longer to relieve the necessitous and the improvident, but to stimulate industry and to enable the borrower as well as the lender to reap a profit in his transactions. Money is "loaned" in this sense. It is not lent—New York Times.

WARNING TO RAILROAD MEN.

E. S. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath, Me., sends out this warning to railroaders: "A conductor on the railroad my work caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and I was miserable and all played out. A friend advised Foley Kidney Pills, and from the day I commenced taking them I began to regain strength. The inflammation cleared and I am far better than I have been for twenty years. The weakness and dizzy spells are a thing of the past and I highly recommend Foley Kidney Pills."—F. S. Duffy.
