STEEL TRUST TO BE GOOD
Wants Constructive Legislation. That Interests and People May Know Where They Are.

Washington, June 9.—Legislation to replace the Sherman anti-trust law so as to protect property interests and the people's welfare alike was urged by E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, in concluding his testimony before the House-called "steel-trust" investigating committee. Judge Gary said he hoped the committee in its report on the investigation would give the United States Steel Corporation what the committee thinks ought to be the corporation's standing under the law.

"I wish," said he, "that this committee would take advantage of its opportunity to suggest legislation and use its influence to bring about the enactment of proper legislation calculated to properly protect the property interests of the country, the interests of the government and the people at large, so as to permit us to continue business progress along lines of prosperity.

"Constructive legislation is what is needed in this country if we are to retain our position in the ranks with competing nations of the world."

"Would you believe it sensible," asked representative Littleton, "to have Congress appoint a joint committee to hear representatives of capital and labor and of so-called restrained and unrestrained trade with a view to preparing an anti-trust law which would correct features of the Sherman law or errors that might have come through court decisions on that law, and to strengthen and elaborate that law?"

"Yes, I do," responded Mr. Gary. "and I would be glad to have such an undertaking result in something more practical and to be the first one to fall into line to live up to such a law.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES HOLD MEETING
Met At Court House Yesterday Morning For Purpose of Opening Bids From Different Townships For Location of Farm Life School.

At 11 o'clock yesterday morning the Board of Trustees of the Farm Life School consisting of Messrs. D. F. Whitford, H. A. Marshall, M. D. Lane, W. E. Moore, Clyde Morton, A. D. Ward, S. M. Brinson, O. B. Wetherington and Thomas Arnold, met at the court house in this city for the purpose of opening the bids for that institution that were tendered by the different townships. After three hours of discussion the Board voted to leave their decision open until August 8th, 1911 at 12 o'clock, at which time the site for the school will be selected.

Mr. M. M. Green stated to the Board that on account of some misunderstanding and delay that the 8th Township had failed to secure enough names to a petition that was to have been presented to the Board of county Commissioners at their last meeting asking them that they call an election for the purpose of voting on an issue of $25,000 to be used in building this and that this Township would like to have the final decision of the Board postponed until such a time as would allow them time to get out among the people and secure enough names to this petition to have it carried.

Mr. D. V. Richardson, of No. 2 Township then took the floor and stated that the other Townships in the county were bitterly opposed to such an action, that they did not think that this school should be established in the 8th Township and that as they had had as much time as any of the other Townships he wanted the bids that had been given in opened and the decision rendered at once and that such was the request of every voter in his Township. He said that when the Farm Life School project was being started in the county a bid lecture were being made in its behalf it was generally understood that the school would not be located in the 8th Township and on that account it was unanimously voted for by the county people.

Speaking in behalf of the 8th Township Mr. Jas. A. Bryan said that the committee who had been placed in charge of the election had not had sufficient time to secure enough names to the petition and that he would like for the Board to defer their decision until some other time so that this committee could have sufficient time to get around among the people and secure their names to the petition. He then went on to tell what advantages the school would have if located in this Township. He said that if it was located here it would be right in the center of the entire county where it would be accessible to every resident in the county who wished to send his or her children to this school. He said that if it was located in some other place that the pupils would not have the advantage of attending lectures, church services, etc. that they would have if they were near this city. He stated that the city of New Bern paid 5% of the taxes of this county, and that the 8th Township paid 6.8% of the taxes of this county and that in his estimation those who paid out the most money for this institution should have some voice in its location. He also said that if the school was located in some other Township it would have a tendency to take trade away from this county and carry it to some other county and that if the people of Craven county had to pay the expenses of this school they should reap the advantages (much applause).

Mr. J. L. Bland, of No. 1 Township, said that his objection to having the school located in the 8th Township was that if the country boys attended it and were allowed to get too near New Bern they would be inoculated with what is known in rural circles as "town fever" and that their chance for absorbing much knowledge would be very small.

Representatives from Cove City, Clark, and one or two other small towns said that the advantages of the school that they were offering for the location of the school.

Mr. E. M. Brinson, Secretary of the board of trustees, said that he wanted every section of the county to be fairly represented in this fight for the location of this school and that he wanted every one of the different sections to have their say for it, but above everything else he wanted all of them to remain friendly for "progressive" and "good" as he said. That he was not a partisan and that he was not a partisan and that he was not a partisan.

Mr. H. A. Marshall then made a motion that the meeting be adjourned until August 8th, 1911 at 12 o'clock. This motion was carried.

LEWIS WANTS POSTAL EXPRESS
Claims That Express Rates Are Excessive. Suggests Condemnation of Contract.

Washington, June 9.—Representative David J. Lewis, of Maryland, has introduced a bill to add the express companies to the post office system, and proposes to thus reduce the rate over one half on small packages and about one-third generally, and to extend the system to the country districts through rural delivery.

"There are two main reasons," said Mr. Lewis, "why postal express is necessary. First, the express company service does not reach the country and the farmers; and second, the contracts of the express companies give them an average rate of three-quarters of a cent a pound on parcels with the railways, while the government is paying the railway 4 cents a pound for carrying mail. In order to get this comparatively cheap transportation rate for the carriage of parcels, I propose that the express companies' contracts with the railways be acquired by condemnation."

Mr. Lewis said that the express companies have been making over 50 per cent on the capital actually invested, but at that give no service to the million of farmers of America. The rural free delivery ought to be a part of the express system, and when this bill becomes a law we shall have an agricultural parcels post, which will market the farmers' produce and save them the time and labor of marketing their truck. Rates even lower than those quoted are promised, by having the rural and city carriers assemble the small consignments of the individual shippers and utilize the fast freight service on trunk lines, with passenger trains on branch roads to hurry the stuff to destination, at the regular fast freight rates.

Norfolk, Virginia, June 9th.—W. H. Taylor, but the latter being out of the city, could not be seen today for a statement. The Williams tunnel project is separate and apart from the J. E. Cole tunnel project.

great advertisement for the county, and furthermore, that it would be much more easily accessible. He said that the State had made an appropriation for the building of ten of these Farm Life Schools and that after these had been completed it was not probable that any more of these schools would be built by the State, but that they would spend several thousand dollars each year in helping out the school that had already been built, that he expected to vote for the school to be located in a township whose people would take an interest in it and develop it to the best of their ability. He stated that a few days ago he had received a letter from State Superintendent of Public Instruction Joyner, stating that he would be glad to come down and look over the proposed site of this school and that he would be glad to assist in any possible way in the location of the institution.

A number of other gentlemen, including Mr. C. D. Bradham, Dr. Francis Daily and D. P. Whitford made short talks on the subject and it was shortly after that the meeting closed. There were in favor of purchasing the location of the school and the opening of the school that had been brought in would come forward.
