COTTON DROP CAUSE EXCITEMENT

Wide Decline in Futures Falling Lower as Trade Provisions So Sweeping as Virtually to Make New Measure a Corrupt Practice Ask

New Orleans, La., July 19.—Yesterday's cotton market was one of the most exciting in many months, with heavy sales and sensational declines in all futures. Private reports from Liverpool to the effect that the bull leaders were liquidating stirred up selling orders in all parts of the cotton world and futures on the New Orleans Exchange opened at a wide decline only to go still lower as trading progressed.

When the trading was over it was the general opinion on the floor that the bull campaign in the summer months had been abandoned. August, the most active fall crop month, lost 48 points at its lowest, or nearly half a cent a pound. This represented an enormous loss on the line of long August cotton; the bulls are supposed to own.

The new crop months were not so weak as August, although at their lowest were $1.05 a bale, cheaper than yesterday's close. The general opinion was that leading bull interests materially lightened their load during the day. One brokerage firm that does a large business for certain New York traders was a heavy seller at times. This was supposed to be liquidation.

SWANSBORO LETTER.

July 18.—Saturday was the big day of the season here. It was a Mobile Day. A splendid dinner was served by the local craftsmen to the visiting brethren, and every body had a big time. Installation of officers was the main business feature of the day. The following are the officers:

D. J. Sanders, W. M.; C. Buckmaster, S. W.; A. M. Sadler, J. W.; W. W. Russell, Treas.; Clyde Morton, Sec.; W. A. Tolle, S. D.; M. E. Bloodgood, J. D.; J. E. Rogers and J. B. Phillips, Stewards; Tom Merritt, Tyler; Mr. David J. Ward conducted the installation and directed the other exercises and entertainments of the day.

Cap. George Littleton has completed his new residence which is located near the shore. We learn that he will sell his old home. The building was put up by Rogers and Hill, two of the best carpenters in this section.

We will soon have two telephone lines between here and Jacksonville.

Mr. S. A. Staling, of Hubert, has built a large store just in front of the old Queen Creek meeting house, a short distance from where he formerly conducted business. He has put in a heavy stock—over $10,000 worth of goods. He contemplates building a fine residence at the old Hubert, near his new store in a short while. Mr. Staling is a successful farmer as well as merchant and real estate investor.

Swansboro has a machine shop fitted out with lathes and all other necessary equipment. Mr. Bell is proprietor.

Mr. J. S. Canada has moved into his new drug store near the Terrazzo Hotel. Dr. W. H. Willis is the proprietor and ice cream maker.

General Willis' old home near Warden mill, is for sale, will be sold this Monday in August. Any one wishing to buy a good place would do well to investigate.

There will be a picnic at Barber's school house, near Silverdale, Saturday July 22nd.

The following guests are now registered at the Terrazzo Hotel: George L. Weeks, Dr. M. Matthews, W. E. Forbush and James Ferguson, of Maryland; M. M. Carter and his family, of Jacksonville, La.; H. Matthews and W. D. Simpson, of High Point, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moore, of an of Delaware; John Jones and J. H. Bell, of Polkville; John Watson, of Folk; J. E. Leonard, Kinston, J. H. Baker, of...

DRASTIC CAMPAIGN PUBLICITY BILL

Washington, July 19.—The most practical publicity bill ever proposed by either branch of Congress has passed the Senate. The measure passed by the House was amended in form as virtually to make it a corrupt practice act. Its provisions were made so sweeping that many Republicans and Democrats protested against them.

The bill requires the publication of campaign contributions both before and after any election. This applies to State primaries and candidates for the Senate and for Representatives are included. Three "anti-election" statutes must be first. The record must contain not only itemized accounts of funds, but of all legitimate expenses and promises made either by the candidate or for him.

The expenditure of candidates to secure an election are limited to 10 cents for each voter in a State, the aggregate not to exceed $10,000 for a Senator and $5,000 for a Representative. It is stipulated that the provision must not interfere with any limitations imposed by the States. The restraining of statements in the mails, with postage properly affixed and other precautions taken on the final day for sending them in, will be accepted as fulfillment of the law.

The debate preceding the passage of the bill was spirited and varied.

It was declared by Senator Haysburn the bill gave legislative license for the enormous expenditure of money in election campaigns. He said that the Senate of seeking to make responsible and to curb the expenditure of money in election campaigns, it must be eliminated, every prohibition and inoperative are required.

The full publicity provided for primaries in some States did not determine from speaking great sums in furthering their elections, said Senator Reed. In Wisconsin, he said, the successful candidate expended $1,07,000, on $2 for each voter, while the opposing candidate expended about $1.50 for each voter. The State law did not prevent this use of money. He believed there should be a limit, proportionate to the voters of each State.

An amendment was offered by Mr. Reed limiting expenditures to 10 cents for each voter in each State. Mr. Reed said he would accept a maximum limitation of $25,000 for a Senator and $5,000 for a Representative. He also provided a penalty exclusion from seats or expulsion if enacted before the facts developed.

The penalty clause was pronounced unconstitutional and a long discussion followed of that point. Mr. Reed changed his amendment, omitting the penalty clause and reducing the amount to $10,000 for a Senator and $5,000 for a Representative. The publicity bill will now be returned to the House for concurrence.

Refrigerators.

Will sell the balance left over at the following prices. Genuine Porcelean lined Lenard Cleanable, the $25.00 at $22.50, the $35.00 at $30.00, the $40.00 at $35.00, the $45.00 at $40.00. The above prices are the lowest we ever offered this class of goods at. Everyone carries guarantee that they will do all you expect any refrigerator to do.

Mr. Bruce Craven Enters Law Business.

The following item will be of interest to many of our readers who are acquainted with Mr. Bruce Craven, a brother of Prof. H. B. Craven of this city.

North Wilkesboro, July 18.—The new partnership of Hackett & Craven, for the general practice of law, begins business here today. Mr. E. D. Hackett has for a number of years been one of the leading lawyers of this section of the State and was for some time grand master of the State organization of Odd Fellows. Mr. Bruce Craven, though young in the law, is well known to the public by his work in education and writing, and he has in the short time he has been here become an active citizen. The new firm begins with a large practice.

The managers of The Athens always look to the comfort and pleasure of their patrons.

May Manufacture Wine, And Sell It At Home.

Raleigh, July 19.—So many farmers are making inquiries in regard to the manufacture and sale of wine that Deputy Sheriff Crocker today asked that it be stated that any person may make wine from his own fruit and sell the wine on the place to retail purposes of 10 gallons or more. The prohibition law does not prohibit the farmer from making wine provided he does not sell the wine from the premises on which it is made, or in packages of less than two gallons and a half.

PRESIDENT HAS WILEY'S ANSWER

Belief That Pure Food Expert May Get Reprimand But no Dismissal

Washington, July 19.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley's answer to the charges made against him by the personnel board of the Department of Agriculture was presented to President Taft yesterday. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson received the papers from Dr. Wiley just before he left the department for the regular cabinet meeting.

He had no time to read them before the cabinet session began and declared that he would not be able to make a recommendation. The outline of Dr. Wiley's defense was not known by Mr. Wilson and was not disclosed at the White House. Although Attorney General Wickersham is out of the city, the case was discussed informally by members of the President's official family. No announcement as to when the President will dispose of the case was forthcoming, but it is not probable that he will be able to settle it for several days yet.

Attorney General Wickersham speaks tonight in Duluth, Minn., and while Mr. Taft, undoubtedly, has gone over the case with him before he left the city, it is believed Mr. Taft would wish his attorney general to read Dr. Wiley's answer. Mr. Wickersham will not be back in Washington before Friday. The President goes Friday afternoon to Manassas, Va., to attend a Blue and Gray reunion. Sometime Saturday he is going to leave for Beverly to spend the week end with Mrs. Taft. Unless he can settle the case Friday morning or late Saturday night it is possible that it will go over until Tuesday when he expects to return to Washington from the summer capital.

Dr. Wiley declined to discuss his answer in any way, but intimated that it was "brief and to the point. An unverified report is current here that the President will mildly reprimand Dr. Wiley, but will not under any circumstances, request his resignation.

President Taft told visitors that owing to the press of other business he would be unable to take up the Wiley case even with Secretary of Agriculture Wilson's recommendations available, before Thursday. The President also said that he intended to read every word of the record and indicated that it might be several days before he reached a decision.
