HAITI CONDITIONS ARE DESPERATE

American Warships Rushing to Island At Full Speed. Assassination Plot Fails.

Washington, July 22.—Reports confirming the desperate situation in Haiti are received at the State Department. The department is basing its hope of saving American lives and property from destruction at the hands of the rebels on the American warships now speeding to Haiti. It is believed the scout cruiser Chester will reach there tonight or Sunday.

The gunboat Des Moines is also on the way from Boston, but cannot arrive until the middle of next week. As the Petrel, which is already on the Haitian coast, has no wireless, her movements are not known and cannot be controlled. The department is backing up Minister Fauriol's protest against the proposed bombardment of any town by the Haitian gunboat.

Nothing is known at the department of the yacht Americans at Cape Haitien.

Report of the State Department indicate that revolutionists are in possession of practically all the territory north of Port au Prince and that a state of anarchy prevails throughout the republic. President Simon is seriously ill, it was said.

News of the bombardment of the cities of St. Marc and Gonives is expected by the Haitian warship Antione Simon.

It is learned that a plot to assassinate President Simon when he came ashore failed because the President arrived before he was expected.

Submarines to the Good

Result of Manoeuvres on New York and Boston. Easy Approach Battleships.

Washington, July 22d.—One certain result of the naval war game in progress off the eastern entrance of Long Island Sound will be recommendations to Congress for a considerable increase in the number of submarine boats.

Even the commander of the attacking fleet, Real Admiral Osterhaus, had to admit in his official report to the Navy Department that the submarines attached to the defensive fleet had succeeded in approaching his big battleship without detection until they suddenly rose at the short distance of 500 yards from the anchorage. Equipped with torpedoes that easily travel five times that distance at great speed, it would have been an easy matter for the submarine commanders to have sent some of the big ships clear out of the water if the war had been an actuality.

The obvious lesson is that in war time a hostile fleet will never dare anchor off the coast if there is reason to suspect the presence within 25 miles of any of the underwater craft or if they do, they must have recourse to the British device of strong chain torpedo nets hung far out from the hulls.

When Cheering Wins The Game.

"The greatest advance in sportsmanship in the last decade of baseball was made when the umpires were instructed to suppress coaches who addressed the opposing players with intent to disturb them, or incited the crowd to assist in 'rattling' the opposition. It still is done, but not openly or flagrantly," writes Hugh S. Fullerton, in "Watch His Arm" the great article on baseball coaching in the American Magazine for August.

"McGraw probably is the greatest master of any of the baseball generals in using the crowd, but he has been wise enough to change with the game and he accomplishes the same results or nearly as great by acting. One of the joys of the game on the old White Sox park in Chicago was to see 'Handsome Nick' Altrock, the comedian pitcher, step out to coach. He usually wore a mit and a glove—and as a cheer master he perhaps was the most successful the game ever has known. I have seen him control the entire crowd, using his hands as the conductor of an orchestra does his baton, and at the psychological moment, with one wave of his arm, start twenty thousand men cheering wildly and cheering in unison as he waved to them. The effect upon the opposing team was disastrous in many cases and often turned the game into a rout."

A Well Known Man's Opinion.

The Savoline Co., New Bern, N. C.

We have derived so much benefit from the use of SAVODINE, that we wish to add our testimony to the list of those already acquainted with its merits.

My wife has been using SAVODINE for quite a while for cold in the head, when she found it a ready relief for CATARRH but above all that, is the fact of its having proved itself invaluable in her case. A short time ago she was taken very sick, and as he would clap his little hands to his ear, we decided to try to soothe with Savoline, and realizing that something must be done at once, we put a tiny bit of SAVODINE in his ear and it with water dissolved in a few minutes he was sleeping as sweetly as though he had never had a pain. We immediately procured Savoline and we will always feel grateful for what it has done for us.
