SUGGESTIVE CRIME

PROMOTION

What's in suggestion? Look about carefully, read the newspapes, and the student of human nature will almost say, suggestion leads to as dire evils, as it does to good.

If this is true how careful should the parent be, with what extreme caution should youth be taught, and how much help should those organizations seeking to improve mankind, through the suppression of evil literature, be given in their efforts.

In this day when to the sight is everything being graphically presented, is there the danger of crime suggestion. Moving pictures must pass the board of censors. Illustrated songs are scanned lest they suggest. In some states no picture in store or on bill board may be displayed that partakes of the suggestive. Today the greatest danger suggestion for crime promotion lies in the daily newspaper, and the weekly as well, because disgusting crime details are embellished by the pictures of the guilty parties, and a prominence given to women of shameless life, equal to that of women who are working for uplift and christianity.

It is this extreme publicity of crime and its principals, that evil is encouraged. The weak minded, those inclined towards the lewd and vulgar, the morbid, the criminally 'disposed, all rush to read crime stories from the press, to eagerly look at the pictures of the actors in the different affairs. The greatest criminal has those who would do him honor. There are the suggestive possibilities in all crimes committed that cause the would be criminal to study and go over the crime, until there follows another crime, more atroctious, all through suggestion. As some peculiar suicide will find a score of imitators over the world, so will some particularly inhuman act lead to murderous and terrible deeds on the part of those inclined to criminal worship and communities will stand aghost and wonder from whence came such [fearful men and women. It'was the suggestion, the details and pictures leading to the committing of erimes, which had the effect, with no personal animus to prompt those who follow in the wake of the first crime enacted.

Where French Market Coffee Won Its Fame

Over 130 years ago the old French Market at New Orleans won fame through its exquisite coffee. It was a rare treat to stop at this celebrated market and sip of the delicious beverage—the only place in America where it could be secured.

The society dames of all the Mardi Gras Balls would not consider the event complete without a cup of French Market Coffee as a "nightcap."

In the War of 1812, after Andrew Jackson's brilliant victory, he stopped at the Market House and treated his troops to French Market Coffee.

Then it could be had nowhere else. But today you may all serve it at your table—for the old French Market blend is perpetuated by

Had Reason to Be Silent. Presuming upon their engage ment, the young weman placed; a re straining hand upon the arm of her

"Don't be so extravagant, George!" she exclaimed.

"Oh, that's nothing," he replied. " always make a point of giving a dollar when I go to a strange church." Just then the deacon came with the plate, and George dropped a coin. Everything seemed favorable, and the young man beamed with a sense of generosity. Then the minister gave out the notices for the week and concluded with the wholly unexpected announcement of the day's collection. "The collection today," said he,

When the Operator Says "Line Busy,"

When the operator gives you the 'busy' report it does not necessarily mean that some one is talking over the telephone called. The line may be busy when there is no one in office or house when there is no possible way for the telephone to be actually in use.

It may be that some one is trying to of catarrh that cannot be cured by call the same telephone, and should you or any one else call at the same time the operator would get the "busy" signal and so report. PETRIFIED TREES.

This is located in Sonoma county, only a few miles from the little resort of Calistogs Springs. This "forest" consists of a great many petrified trees, all of which are prostrate.

In respect to the great number of petrified trees and their immense size, the California "stone forest" surpasses that of Arizons. Strange to say, very little is known about these wonderful Sonome county petrifactions so far as the general public is concerned. Many of these trees are of enormous size. The famous "Queen of the For-est" is a prehistoric redwood about eighty feet long and nearly twelve feet in diameter. It has been broken in several places, and these breaks are as lean as if cut off with a saw. A tree has grown up through one of the breaks and has attained quite a large size Another giant tree known as the "Monarch" lies near by, which is almost ninety feet long and is without a break. This tree is a fir, and averages ten feet in diameter. Not far away is another giant son of the forest-a redwood that is about sixty feet long and nine feet in diameter. This tree is broken into many hundreds of pieces, yet it retains its shape almost perfectly. Scattered about for the area of several acres are many other pieces of petrifaction. So perfect has been the transmutation into stone that the grain of the wood still remains very clear and the variety of the tree may be eas ily determined.—Scientific American.

THE OLD LIBERTY BELL.

History of This Relic of the Revolutionary Patriots.

Overvigorous ringing of the old Liberty bell many years ago on the occasion of the celebration of the Declaration of Independence was what put the crack in it and forever destroyed for the complainant as follows: its resonant tone. It was cast by Pass the beifry of the now historic statehouse in lower Chestnut street early in June, 1753. It contains 2,080 pounds of metal.

Near the top of the bell were cast the words "Proclaim Liberty Throughout All the Land Unto All the Inhabitants Thereof." Prophetic of its destiny, this gave it the name Liberty

When the British army marched on Philadelphia in 1777 the bell was taken down by patriots and carried off in the night to Allentown in order that it might not fall into the hands of the enemy. In 1781 it was returned to the tower of the statehouse

For more than half a hundred years thereafter the bell was rung and honored on Independence day every year before the crack appeared in it. An effort was made to restore its tone by sawing the crack wider, but this proved of no avail. The bell was finally on extraordinary occasions. Subsequently it was rigged up on its original timbers in the vestibule. In 1893 it was exhibited at the Columbian exposition in Chicago.

Famous Gretna Green.

Gretna Green, Scotland, became famous for its celebration of irregular marriages. For many years the average number was 500. The ceremony consisted only of an admission, before witness, by the couple that they were husband and wife, this being sufficient to constitute a valid marriage. After this the officiating functionary (for many years a blacksmith), together with two witnesses, signed the marriage certificate.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY.

Supplies by the Week.
In the matter of small savings and watchfulness of expenditure the Eng-lish housewife is about. For example, the English housekeeper deals out to her servants the week's allowance of sugar, rice, flour, coffee and all other household provisions that are kept, in quantity, and requires an account of It all to be rendered, the thing having been brought to so fine a point that she knows the exact amount of each article requisite for her family, allowing so much to each individual and that quantity being sufficient, as she knows by experience, two ounces of tea, for instance, being regarded as a week's supply for each single individual, one-half pound of sugar, three and one-half pounds of meat for a woman and five and one-fourth for a manfacts which the housekeeper probably learned from her mother before herknowing, moreover, the greater variety of the simpler kinds required.

All of these stores she sets down in her housekeeping book as she gives them out, and she does not fail on the next dispensing day to consult her dates and if anything be left over in the cook's hands not accounted for to subtract that from the amount to be newly issued. And in England servants expect this. So far from being indignant with it they would feel as if there were no guiding hand behind them if left undone and they given their head in an overflowing storeroom, as servants are with us.

In fact, there is no saving which the housewife across the water considers too small to practice or as beneath her dignity.-Exchange.
