PETRIFIED TREES.

The "Stone Forest" one of California's Natural Wonders. California, among many other natural wonders, contains a "stone forest." This is located in Sonoma county, only a few miles from the little resort of Calistoga Springs. This "forest" consists of a great many petrified trees, all of which are prehistoric.

In respect to the great number of petrified trees and their immense size, the California "stone forest" surpasses that of Arizona. Strange to say, very little is known about these wonderful Sonoma county petrifications—so far as the general public is concerned. Many of these trees are of enormous size. The famous "Queen of the Forest" is a prehistoric redwood about eighty feet long and nearly twelve feet in diameter. It has been broken in several places, and these breaks are as clean as if cut off with a saw. A tree has grown up through one of the breaks and has attained quite a large size. Another giant tree known as the "Monarch" lies near by, which is almost ninety feet long and is without a break. This tree is a fir, and averages ten feet in diameter. Not far away is another giant son of the forest—a redwood that is about sixty feet long and nine feet in diameter. This tree is broken into many hundreds of pieces, yet it retains its shape almost perfectly. Scattered about for the area of several acres are many other pieces of petrification. So perfect has been the transmutation into stone that the grain of the wood still remains very clear, and the variety of the tree may be easily determined.—Scientific American.

THE OLD LIBERTY BELL.

History of This Relic of the Revolutionary Patriots. Overvigorous ringing of the old Liberty bell many years ago on the occasion of the celebration of the Declaration of Independence was what put the crack in it and forever destroyed its resonant tone. It was cast by Paul & Stow in Philadelphia and hung in the belfry of the now historic state-house in lower Chestnut street early in June, 1753. It contains 2,080 pounds of metal.

Near the top of the bell were cast the words "Proclaim Liberty Throughout All the Land Unto All the Inhabitants Thereof." Prophetic of its destiny, this gave it the name Liberty bell.

When the British army marched to Philadelphia in 1777 the bell was taken down by patriots and carried off to the night to Allentown in order that it might not fall into the hands of the enemy. In 1781 it was returned to the tower of the statehouse.

For more than half a hundred years thereafter the bell was rung and honored on Independence day every year before the crack appeared in it. An effort was made to restore its tone by sawing the crack wider, but this proved of no avail. The bell was finally removed from the tower to a lower story of the statehouse and used only on extraordinary occasions. Subsequently it was rigged up on its original timbers in the vestibule. In 1893 it was exhibited at the Columbian exposition in Chicago.

Shakespeare as an Actor.

Shakespeare once played the ghost in his own "Hamlet." A younger brother of the dramatist in describing the event said that he wore "a long beard and appeared so weak and drooping" and unable to walk that he was forced to be supported and carried by another person to a table, at which he was seated among some company.

In "As You Like It" Aron's hand assumed the role of Adam, the old servant, in whom was represented "the constant service of the antique world" and who was "not for the fashions of these times."

Famous Gretna Green.

Gretna Green, Scotland, became famous for its celebration of irregular marriages. For many years the average number was 500. The ceremony consisted only of an admission, before witnesses, by the couple that they were husband and wife, this being sufficient to constitute a valid marriage. After this the officiating functionary (for many years a blacksmith, together with two witnesses, signed the marriage certificate.

What He Wanted.

The doctor stood at the bedside and looked gravely down at the invalid. "I cannot hide from you the fact that you are very ill," he said. "Is there any one you would like to see?"

"Yes," said the sufferer faintly. "Who is it?"

"Another doctor."

No Obstruction.

In the course of a trial at Watferry, Conn., the examiner was trying to get the topography of the country and the relative situation of objects. The witness was asked, "Which way does the road run past your house?"

The reply was, "Both ways, as it runs up and down."—Case and Comment.

Teaching Him.

Visitor—I saw your husband in a crowd in town today. In fact, he was so close that I could have touched him. Husband—That's strange. At home he is so close that nobody can touch him!

Acts of Kindness.

If every one did an act of kindly kindness to his neighbor and refrained to do any unkindness half the sorrow of this world would be lifted and a heaven on earth.

ACKNOWLEDGE IT.

New Bern Has to Bow to the Inevitable—Scores of Citizens Prove It.

After reading the public statement of this representative citizen of New Bern given below, you must come to this conclusion: A remedy which cured years ago, which has kept the kidneys in good health since, can be relied upon to perform the same work in other cases. Read this:

Mrs. James Day, 99 E. Front St., New Bern, N. C., says: "I suffered terribly from dull, nagging backaches and I had acute pains through my kidneys. Whenever I attempted to stoop or lift, I suffered more intensely and sound sleep at night was out of the question. In the morning when I got up, my back was very lame and sore and I was also annoyed by a kidney weakness. Finally I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from the Bradham Drug Co., and it did not take them long to remove my aches and pains. I have been feeling so much better in every way since I took this preparation that I willingly give this account of my experience." (Statement given January 25, 1908.)

THE BENEFIT LASTED.

On November 25, 1910, Mrs. Day was interviewed and she added to the above: "I have been free from kidney complaint and backache ever since I used Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago. I willingly allow the continued publication of the statement I gave at that time, and I wish to show my gratefulness for the benefit I received."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

A Courtville (Pa.) judge ruled that any person present in the mob that burned a negro at the stake and who knew of the mob's purpose was guilty of murder.

Big Poker Stakes.

Many stories of big poker games among the western cattlemen in the early days have been told, but this story of the game with probably the greatest stakes is really true. Two well known cattlemen of southwestern Kansas, one of whom is now a prominent business man in Kansas City, started to move their herds to the pastures of Wyoming. Each herd contained more than a thousand head of cattle. When they came to the crossing of the Arkansas river near Colledge they found a flood on. They were unable to cross for two or three days. To while away the time the two men engaged in a poker game. When the flood finally subsided so that the cattle could proceed one of the cattlemen said to his son, who was helping to drive, "Just turn my herd over to our neighbor and we will go back home." He had bet and lost not only all the money he had, but all of the herd of cattle.—Kansas City Journal.

To Make Red Ink. Red ink is easily made by amateurs who follow this recipe: Get a one ounce bottle and see that it is perfectly clean and dry. Place in it one teaspoonful of aqua ammonia, gum arabic the size of two peas and add six grains of carmine. Fill up the bottle with clear soft water, and after standing a little while it will be fit for use.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong with a weak stomach. It is the most important part of the human system, and its proper nourishment is essential to health and vitality. The stomach is the first step in the process of digestion, and if it is not properly nourished, the food will not be properly absorbed, and the body will be weakened. The best way to keep the stomach strong is to eat a diet of pure, natural foods, and to avoid all artificial and refined foods. The most important part of the diet is the food that is eaten first, and this is the food that is eaten first, and this is the food that is eaten first.
