HOW TO GET THE UTMOST VALUES WHEN YOU BUY CLOTHES.
A SUIT of clothes has three points of value—style, fit and wear. You get the utmost style value only when your suit is cut to fit YOUR individual personality. That means tailor-made clothes.
You get the utmost fit value only when each garment is made to conform exactly to YOUR figure. That means tailor-made clothes.
You get the utmost wear value only when your suit is made of a standard pure wool fabric. And that means tailor-made clothes.
We give you the utmost value in style and fit by applying all our knowledge and artistic skill to the making of YOUR suit.

STATE CAPITOL'S SPLENDID GROWTH

New Theatre, New City Hall and Auditorium. Will Strive To Be Convention City.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 30.—Raleigh is to have a new $50,000 theatre, located next to the present Academy of Music, which is to be remodeled and improved also. The arrangements were perfected at a meeting of a new stockholding company, which acquires both properties and both will be operated as theatres. At present, because the lessee of the Academy of Music changed his allegiance from the Klaw and Erlinger "trust" to the "independent" circuit, the Klaw and Erlinger people have had to jump Raleigh on their Southern circuit, there being no other available theatre.

One of the new theatres will be operated by each wing of the theatrical competition. With the exception of the moving picture shows and vaudeville houses, Raleigh has had only one theatre available for the "legitimate" for two or three years. It will now soon have three big ones.

In a few days Raleigh's magnificent new city hall will be completed. It includes an auditorium with a seating capacity of five thousand, and is designed to be used chiefly by State gatherings—conventions of all kinds, and especially the State conventions of the political parties. It is arranged so that it can be converted into a theatre also, when desired, with seating capacity for any given number up to 5,000. It has been several years since either of the great political parties has held a State convention in Raleigh because of the limited accommodations offered, whereas for generations gone all such things were held here.

Now the capitol city has an auditorium not equaled by any other town in the State. Three big additional hotels are in course of construction and the oldest one is being remodeled and enlarged at a cost of $100,000. A dozen or more conventions in session at other places this year have already adjourned to meet in this city next year and the capitol will again become as of old, the "convention city" of the State.

Among the new structures are hundreds of homes built by well to do people, whose families have come to reside in Raleigh, even though the business of the head of the house is elsewhere. Among the new buildings already contracted for next year are the new State administration building, to cost $250,000, and located on one of the four corners opposite Capitol Square (three others like it are to be built later on by the State on the other three corners); a new Y. M. C. A. building, for which the public of Raleigh recently subscribed over $20,000, and scores of business houses, many to take the places of old structures on the principal business streets.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

There will be a called meeting of the W. C. T. U. held this afternoon at 4:20 o'clock in the Presbyterian lecture room. A full attendance of the members is requested.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Death has again invaded our ranks, and taken from us a worthy brother, one that was always present at the lodge meetings, and ready to perform any task assigned him. How we shall miss our brother James Parsons. May we bow submissively to the dispensation of a wise Providence, and seek to be ready when called to leave this earthly existence to enter the great beyond, to join the brotherhood where farewells are unknown.

Resolved, That we tender the widow and orphans our sympathies. And that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our minutes and published in the New Bern Journal and the Sun.

GALLILEE NOTES.

Craven County, N. C., Aug. 30, 1911. There are several cases of sickness in the neighborhood, but none of them are serious now.

Mr. Hazel Stapleton of Raleigh spent last week at home with his father and sister, returning home Sunday night.

Messrs. M. C. Thomas, Frank and Dave Everington went to Wilmington Sunday.

Misses Mand, Pearl and Belle Stapleton spent Sunday at Marshville City. Mr. Tom Everington and Misses Loretta and Arnette, also went to Marshville Sunday.

Mr. J. B. Grant was a caller at Mr. T. A. Stapleton's one day last week.

Master Monte Stapleton had the satisfaction to visit a study with his father from the effect of which he is not likely to be ill.

NEARLY SINKS BATTLESHIP

Shell Hits So Close to Warship that Water is Slashed Upon Decks of Ohio.

Washington, Aug. 30.—The great dreadnaught, Delaware, the pride of the navy, hit the target battleship Texas twice at a distance of ten miles, and came near sinking one of the finest battleships of the navy.

The Delaware for some time had been shooting twelve inch shells at the Texas at a range of seventeen thousand yards. She got the range accurately after several shots, and placed two shells in the hull of the Texas, and the other battleships and cruisers had taken position of what was considered a safe distance.

The distance from the target, however, had nothing to do with what happened. All of a sudden the after turret of the Delaware opened fire, and it was supposed she intended to annihilate the Texas with two more twelve inch shells. After the first of these shots, however, the battleships that were observing the play, as it were, frantically ran up signals "cease firing."

The information that came here is that the first shell from the after turret of the Delaware whistled close over the Ohio nine miles away and gave the officers and jacksies the cold shivers. It was thought that the signals to "cease firing" were run up, but before they were observed by the Delaware another twelve-inch shell hit so close to the Ohio that it slashed the water on the decks of that battleship.

It is very remarkable and altogether unexplained how any gunner could have taken another ship for the Texas. The Texas has no cage masts although some of the armored cruisers with the fleet are still without these basket masts. One report is that one of the armored cruisers so had a close call. Admiral Osterhaus so far as can be learned has not reported the incident to the Navy Department.

Co-Operative Work For Farmers.

We desire to call the attention of the Farmers of our county to the move recently made by the Chamber of Commerce of New Bern and the Farmers' Union for a joint move for an exhibit this fall of the products of our soil and such other exhibits as may seem profitable to the city and surrounding country.

Progress is the order of the day, and co-operation properly applied brings progress.

Now that New Bern is awake to the opportunity of co-operation. We trust the farmers will not be slow to get in line, and show some of our products. Let every farmer determine to push the matter to a real success. We need the meeting to stimulate effort; the exhibit will do good and show our soil climate and variety of productions, to those who may feel interested in our exhibit.

We ought to have fruits, vegetables and animals of the various kinds raised in and around our community.

Brother farmers wake up to the opportunity. We have only a short time to get ready, but we can before the middle of October get up a very creditable display of native products.

We can both do good and get good out of the exhibit. We learn a suitable place has been secured for the exhibit, now let the good work go on, a good fair is an educational move and the Farmer's Union is first and last all the time for education and co-operation.

Of course when we bring down our exhibits from up this way, we expect to find a good road from End street right into the city without having to climb over sand and brick bats for weeks, rough mud pools and we don't want to go way round down End street and back into the heart of town but straight down Broad street.

SCARE IN RECIPROCIETY WAR

Canadian Opponents of Treaty Use Annexation in Fight Against Laurier.

Ottawa, Ontario, August 30.—Like the haze that comes down from Northern bush fires at this season, the rival claims of party managers, the extravagances and absurdities of the hustlings and, above all, the silence of the electorate obscures the real tendency of the Canadian campaign. Nearly four weeks remain before the fate of reciprocity is decided at the polls on September 21. Meanwhile both the Laurier government, whose life is tied up in the result, and the Conservatives, who hope to gain power after fifteen years in opposition, are pleased with the developments.

Mr. Borden, the Conservative leader, has diligently stamped a hal dozen doubtful counties in Ontario. He has appealed directly to the workers in industrial plants, representing reciprocity as a precursor of destruction of the national protective policy under which they were upbuilt and have prospered.

Arthur Hawkes, a Briton born, has been conducting a vigorous campaign among the British-born, pointing reciprocity as a step toward annexation. This is having effect upon the large number of British-born citizens in Ontario, who are engaged in industrial plants in Ontario. Some of the most effective political organizers in Canada are of British birth. It is too early to judge the effect of his onslaught.

Clifford Sifton, formerly a member of the Laurier Government, is speaking most freely in Ontario, bitterly attacking the premier. One of the most effective political organizers in Canada is of British birth. It is too early to judge the effect of his onslaught.

On the government side Sir Wilfrid Laurier has completed a week of addresses to his compatriots in Quebec. He has been at special pains to denounce the representations of Henri Bourassa, the Nationalist leader, that the Canadian Navy entails a policy of conscription. The prime minister feels that the French-Canadians are beginning to see the navy light and that the Bourassa cause will suffer in consequence. Moreover, he finds the reciprocity policy itself extremely popular. Mr. Bourassa professes to favor reciprocity, but his enmity to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, if successful, of course entails the defeat of reciprocity.

The government managers admit the possibility of losing at the most five or six seats in Quebec as a result of the Nationalist movement and of local political casualties. These would be gains for the Nationalists, however, not for the Conservatives. Although Conservatives and Nationalists have a mutual interest in defeating the premier, the policies on other subjects differ radically.

There is a difference in the atmosphere at The Athens—Get in the best atmosphere.

Camping Party At Shackelford Banks.

Dr. L. L. Hendron's camping party at Shackelford Banks, near Beaufort, N. C. broke camp Monday after two weeks of a most delightful outing, bathing and fishing were the chief forms of amusement.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Dr. Hendron were Dr. Stevens and Prof. Payne of the University of Ga., Misses Lucy Stanton and Carolyn Cobb of Athens Ga., Prof. W. F. Gill of Trinity College, Miss Izzy Hendron of New Bern, Miss Mabel Chadwick of Beaufort, Mr. H. D. Wood of New Bern and George N. Emmett of New Bern. The party was charmingly chaperoned by Mrs. T. J. Roberts of New Bern.

No more delightful camping ground can be found on the Atlantic coast than at Shackelford's Banks, located only a few miles from Beaufort, and just across Beaufort Inlet from Ft. Mason, conveniently alike for still fishing for trout and blue fish on the inside and when the waves of the ocean run low, sea trolling for mackerels on the outside. In this connection a tip of twelve miles to the Light House may be had at the same time.

The camping party returned to New Bern Monday at 11 o'clock. Dr. Hendron's convenient launch, coming by way of the new Inland Waterway Canal and Mrs. Stanton and Cobb, Dr. Stevens and Prof. Gill spent a couple of days here the guests of Miss May Hendron.

The managers of The Athens always look to the comfort and pleasure of their patrons.
