

OPPORTUNITY TO MAKE NEW BERN DISTRIBUTING POINT.

The Journal's contention for municipal ownership of at least one good sized dock, is to force transportation development and growth to and from this city by water. With the railroad service that now comes here, which is on the increase, there is the need of water transportation that will give certain and fixed schedules for passenger and freight service. This would mean competition that would help the mercantile trade of New Bern, and a competition that would bring here, with the cooperative efforts of the chamber of commerce, manufacturing plants and branches of some of the big manufacturing plants in other sections, that would find this city, with its ample and competitive water and rail transportation facilities, a splendid point from which to distribute their products. The opportunity to make New Bern a distributing point is easily within the possibilities, and through local effort by the chamber of commerce, there are splendid chances to gain to this city, manufacturing plants, and the products of those that will see the importance of this city, with its ample transportation facilities, as a place to use as a distributing center for this eastern Carolina section.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Mr. Taft must wait until he gets out West to find whether he is to be a hero or a victim.

A FIERCE NIGHT ALARM.

Is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it awoke Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, O., (R. R. No. 2) for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Some times it severe attacks," he wrote "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved that a certain remedy, Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others, so may you. Asthma, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Whooping Cough, Hemorrhages by before it, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Sold by all Druggists.

Why He Went to Market.

It usually happens in this way: "Jim," says Mrs. Mann. "I see that the best butter is 3 cents cheaper at the market than it is out there at our grocery store. This is market day. Would you mind going down there on your way home and getting me two dozen eggs and some corn and a few--" "Oh, I'm awfully sorry, dear," breaks in Mr. Mann. "but this is going to be my busy day. I won't be home till pretty late, and there are a lot of extra things that I simply must attend to, and--" "Never mind, dear," says Mrs. Mann. "I'll just as soon do it myself, but I haven't any money, and if you will leave me a ten dollar bill I'll--" "Come to think of it," breaks in Mr. Mann right there. "I won't be so very busy today. I was thinking about next week. I'll go to the market for you very gladly."--Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GOOD FOR BILIOUSNESS.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets last night, and I feel fifty per cent better than I have for weeks," says J. J. Firestone, of Adreign, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness." For sale by all dealers. Samples free.

Strangled the Tree.

A Victoria clergyman had an orange and a pine tree in his garden. One spring it was noticed that the orange tree was drooping, and on digging down he found that the roots of the pine, which stood at some distance, had twisted around the taproot of the orange tree and were strangling it to death. The offending roots were untwisted and cut away, and the drooping plant revived. The tree eventually died. Then on digging down at a greater depth the clergyman found the pine had attacked the orange root lower down and accomplished its murderous end.--London Graphic.

Joshua was buying a fieldglass. "This one," said the clerk. "is just what you want. Its magnifying power is twenty-five times." "No," Joshua replied. "I want one it is better than that."--Success Magazine.

ART IN ICE.

Wonderful Palace That Was Built by Czars of Russia.

The use of ice for architectural purposes is an art that has been carried to a high state of perfection in northern countries, and some almost incredible feats have been accomplished in this curious branch of industry.

Probably the most remarkable building constructed wholly of ice was the palace built on the Neva by Czarina Anna of Russia in 1750. The first attempt to construct this building was unsuccessful, as the slabs of ice were too thin and the building collapsed in the first thaw. Subsequently large blocks of ice were cut and squared with great care and laid on one another by skillful masons, who cemented the joints with water, which immediately froze. The building was completed was fifty-six feet long, seventeen and a half broad and twenty-one high. It was of but one story. The facade contained a door surmounted by an ornamental pediment and six windows, the frames and panes of which were all of ice. An elaborate balustrade, adorned with statues, ran along the top of the facade, and another balustrade surrounded the building at the level of the ground. The side entrances to the inclosure were flanked with pillars supporting urns, the latter containing orange trees, whose branches, leaves and flowers were all of ice. Hollow pyramids of ice on each side of the building contained lights by night. The grounds were further adorned with a life size figure of an elephant, with his mahout on his back. A stream of water was thrown from the elephant's trunk by day and a flame of naphtha by night.

A tent of ice contained a hot bath, in which persons actually bathed. There were also several cannons and mortars of ice, which were loaded with bullets of ice and iron and discharged.

The interior of the building was completely furnished with tables, chairs, statues, looking glasses, a clock, a complete tea service, etc. All made of ice and painted to imitate the real objects. A bedchamber contained a state bed with curtains, a dressing table with a mirror, pillows, bedclothes, slippers and nightcaps, all made of ice. There were ice candles, burning naphtha and, most wonderful of all, an ice fireplace containing burning ice logs. Ice blocks of ice smeared with naphtha and then kindled.--Scientific American.

The Doctor's Fee. These came a letp in the rush of patients, and the doctor opened two small envelopes lying on his desk.

"It's all right," he said. "I wasn't sure. Without offending I couldn't open the envelopes in the presence of the persons who gave them to me. They contain the fees left by two Englishmen who called close on each other's heels. English etiquette is rather embarrassing for a physician who is used to patients who hand over their money with the denomination right on top, American fashion. In England it would be considered an insult to give a physician his fee unwrapped. You can't insist an American physician that, but newcomers credit him with an excess of sensibility and give him a good many uneasy moments wondering if he hasn't been underpaid."--New York Sun.

Dye Before You Patch.

"Never patch a garment just before it goes to the dyer's," was the advice of a young woman in a dyeing establishment. "Unless the patch and the thread it is sewed on with are exactly the same kind of material as the garment they will come out of the dye pot different shades. Here is a blue skirt that was brought to us cream colored. The cloth had worn through in several places, and the owner had patched the tiny holes so painstakingly that the patches could not be detected in the original color, but after the dyeing they showed up a darker blue. The amount of dye any material will take depends upon how much cotton, wool or silk it contains. It is so hard to determine that exactly that any garment that has to be mended can be matched much better after dyeing."--New York Sun.

The Seismograph.

The seismograph is a most interesting instrument. It is kept in a sub-basement room, far from disturbing influences. There it records upon a strip of paper such earthquakes as may happen anywhere. The scientists then study the strip of paper and herald to the world the news that the tremor which shook down several cities was duly registered.

The seismograph is a remarkable contrivance, though in just what way it is not yet determined. However, in the interests of science, it is as valuable as would be the impact of the foot upon the seat of the trousers of a man who had been kicked by a mule. After the event he could study the impact and assure himself that he had been kicked.--Litt.

NOTICE TO COTTON FARMERS

On account of the light weight bales coming to this market, the buyers held a meeting and decided for their own protection, that they would not accept a bale weighing 400 pounds or less, unless there is a deduction of ten pounds per bale; consequently in buying light weight bales in your territory, it will be absolutely necessary for you to deduct ten pounds per bale from bales weighing 400 pounds or under and 25 pounds per bale from bales weighing 300 lbs. or less. The usual custom was to deduct one dollar on bales under 300 lbs. which does not anything like cover the loss. Further we particularly want to call your attention with regard to tare, this must not exceed 22 pounds per bale, any cotton overrated you must either refuse to buy it or else buy it subject to tare claim when it arrives at Norfolk, and such notation must be made on the invoice for cotton. We cannot urge you too strongly to follow these instructions very carefully, otherwise we will have to bill you back for any loss sustained for either of the above causes. Yours very truly, EURE HARRIS & CO. Norfolk, Va. To J. U. Smith, Cotton Buyer.
