TAFT'S FIRST GREAT NAVAL

Review as Commander in Chief. Demonstration of America's Preparedness For War.

New York, Nov. 3.—From the bridge of the Mayflower, where Theodore Roosevelt had stood to bid a Godspeed to the departing and then a welcome to the home coming battleship fleet, that circled the globe three years ago. President Taft yesterday reviewed the most notable assemblage of warships in the history of the American navy.

In three long columns stretching as far as the eye could reach up the Hudson river, the grim, gray ships—99 in all—had waited the Presidents coming. In his honor they were dressed from stem to stern in fluttering flags, as if a tampering for this gala occasion to conceal the muzzles of the death dealing guns. The gay busting lent color to the scene, but the meaning of the dull gray hulls and the polished rifles that protruded from turret mouths could not be masked.

The significance of the mobilization and review of the fleet at this time was simply to demonstrate the preparedness of the American navy for any emergency. To further impress this fact upon the President and the nation, to say nothing of the world at large, the naval authorities were not content with the usual plan of a review of the fleet at anchor.

But in addition the orders provided that after the Mayflower had steamed through the several columns the fleet should get under way and pass out to sea. This double spectacle made the review unique in the annals of naval displays throughout the world, and attracted to New York the military and naval attaches of most of the powers of Europe.

President Taft had his first real review of the American navy. It had so happened since he entered the White House that the fleet which was so greatly admired by his predecessor, Colonel Roosevelt, had been on widely scattered duty for the greater part of the time. And while the President had reviewed two divisions of the Atlantic fleet in Provincetown harbor in the summer of 1910 and a little more than 2 weeks ago in San Francisco had stood upon the quarterdeck of the flagship California of the Pacific fleet, he had never until now come into his own as commander-in-chief of the fighting forces of the country.

WAS IT ATTEMPTED SUICIDE?

Abram Block Proprietor Victoria Theatre Is Shot By His Own Pistol.

About 9.30 o'clock last night, a report of a pistol was heard the sound coming from the rear of the store No. 97 Middle St., run by Abram Block who also is proprietor of the Victoria theatre, a moving picture and vaudeville house on Pollock St. Mrs. Block who was in the front of the store screamed and several persons outside hearing the shot and scream rushed to the scene. Mr. Block was found standing in the back room with a pistol and a large wound in his side. He claimed not to have shot himself and refused to do anything. A doctor was quickly summoned who examined the wound and declared Block must go at once to the sanitarium for examination and treatment. Only at the imploring of his wife and two crying children was he induced to go, the ambulance having been summoned.

The reports all indicate that Mr. Block was despondent over financial troubles and had been drinking, the culmination being in his shooting himself, after apparently seeing no hope to find relief in his business and pecuniary troubles. Mr. Block has been here several years running a 10 cent store and later engaged in the moving picture show business.

An examination of the wound at the sanitarium showed it to be superficial the shot not penetrating the abdomen, being merely a flesh wound, the doctors saying last night, Mr. Block would get over it.

LARGELY INCREASED ICE CAPACITY

Practical Reconstruction of New Bern Ice Company's Plant.

The New Bern Ice Company is now reconstructing its plant on Griffin St., by tearing down all the structural parts except that of brick. These will be no frame or wooden buildings, but under the new plant, all will be of brick. The wooden structures removed under the reconstruction, will be replaced by much larger rooms, engine and manufacturing sections, so that the daily ice output will be increased to more than ten times from the present capacity.

The Peoples Ice Company's plant, this was consolidated with the New Bern some months ago, will be taken to Griffin St. and each part added that can be used in the enlarged plant.

Holds the Wild Turkey Record.

So far this season the Journal records the wild turkey shooting record to Mr. T. J. Baxter, of this city. Mr. Baxter was out on Wednesday morning early, the first day of the open turkey season, and after sitting in a blind from 4 a. m. to 2:30 p. m., he was rewarded by seeing two turkeys approach to within the excellent food he had distributed. Getting his bird fully in line Mr. Baxter closed away, killing both turkeys with one shot. The birds were splendid ones, one weighing eleven and other eleven pounds.
