WORDSWORTH'S RECITATION.

The Way the English Poet Received Ralph Waldo Emerson.

When Emerson, the great American writer, came to England he paid a visit to Wordsworth, says an English magazine. Wordsworth had just returned from a journey and was in his garden writing a poem on what he had seen. The visitor found the great poet a white haired, tall, sparely built man, of a rugged, rustic type, with nothing, unless it were the fine eyes, to hint of the poet.

Wordsworth made no ceremony over the visit of the man from a far land, but said instantly when he was called to greet him, "If you are interested in my poetry perhaps you will like to hear these lines." Emerson politely agreed, and this is what happened. Emerson has himself written the story down for us. The old poet thought for a few moments, then stood forth and repeated with great animation an entire poem he had written.

"The recitation," the American philosopher wrote afterward, "was so unlooked for and surprising—Wordsworth standing apart and reciting to me in a garden walk, like a schoolboy declaiming—that at first I was near to laughing; but, recollecting myself that I had come thus far to see a poet and he was chanting poems to me, I saw that he was right and that I was wrong, and I gladly gave myself up to hear."

Rise and fall of Peter Lytle.

The Tripoli of the early nineteenth century could boast of a fleet. And more, the fleet could boast of an admiral hailing from Scotland. Peter Lytle was his name. When he arrived at Tripoli in 1794 he was mere mate of an English vessel. But a nature adventurous asserted itself. He plundered part of the ship's cargo, was suspected and took refuge in the castle. There began his real career. He turned Moslem, married a relative of the reigning pasha, and in time became lord high admiral of the fleet. His ambitions did not stop even here. He did not stick to his fleet. He embarked on a course of piracy, distinguished himself and made enemies. His standing became undermined. "Poor Peter," commented an old time traveler, "was no longer an object of consideration with any party."—London Globe.

To Be a Real Actor.

Sinking one's identity in character parts on the stage is but an insignificant branch of acting. The displaying of a personality beneath the makeup, the incarnation of a written character in flesh and blood, by a sheer act of genius on the part of the actor in filling a part with his own personality tempered to the limitations of his role—the creation, in short, of a living, visible and intelligible being, is the grand goal of the actor's art.

How well Richard Mansfield knew that art! In his performances you saw an impenetrable makeup; but, though Mansfield was hidden, behind the disguise were the brains of the greatest dramatic genius of our generation, fashioning steadily and superbly a character as he conceived it out of the materials placed at his command by the playwright—Henry Kolker in National Magazine.

Complimenting Granny.

Little Billy—I don't like my Auntie Nellie, granny. Granny—Why not, Billy? Billy—Well, she was nasty to me, and when she dies I shan't go to her funeral, but I'll go to yours with pleasure, granny.—London Opinion.

AN ENGLISH PENSIONER.

Superannuated at Birth and Drew the Stipend All His Life.

The wife of an English cabinet minister had promised to stand godmother to an infant and, calling on the parents a day or two previous to the christening, expressed her regret that her husband had nothing left at his disposal of any importance and that the only thing he could do for her godson was to put his name on the pension list as a superannuated general postman.

The offer was accepted. The pension was regularly paid to the parents during the minority of their son and to him afterward as long as he lived. He thrived in the world, became an alderman and attained a considerable age, often declaring that he had more pleasure in pocketing the few pounds he drew half yearly from this source than he derived from the receipt of any other portion of his income.

He died a few days after one payment was due, and one of his executors came to town to announce his decease and to receive the money. On asking the clerk who paid him if it was necessary to produce a certificate of the death he was answered:

"Oh, no, not in the least. I will take your word for it. My father paid his pension as long as he lived, and I have paid it myself for the last thirty years. I am quite sure that the old gentleman must be dead by this time."

This recipient of the public bounty had been a superannuated postman for upward of eighty years.—Exchange.

GOOD NEWS

Many New Bern Readers Have Heard it and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of back sufferers in New Bern are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands upon thousands of people are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading.

Mrs. G. E. Edwards, 223 E. Main St., Washington, N. C., says: "I suffered terribly from backache, accompanied by sharp shooting pains through my kidneys and the kidney secretions caused me considerable annoyance. I used several kidney remedies but received no relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They drove away the pains and lameness in my loins and strengthened my kidneys, that tired, languid feeling disappeared and I am able to rest better at night. I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Generosity.

A friend to everybody is often a friend to nobody, or else in his simplicity he robs his family to help strangers and becomes brother to a beggar. There is wisdom in generosity, as in everything else.—Spurgeon.

AN ALARM AT NIGHT.

That strikes terror to the entire household is the loud, hoarse, and metallic cough or croup. No mistaking it, and fortunate then the lucky parents who keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound on hand. H. W. Carrelman, Canton, N. Y., says: "It is worth its weight in gold. Our little children are troubled with croup and hoarseness, and all we give them is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. I always have a bottle of it in the house." For sale by all dealers.

Baseball Versus Art.

Teacher (reprovingly)—The word isn't "pitcher." Percy. It's "picture." You, Tommy, tell the class the difference between the two words. Tommy (son of an artist)—Pitchers sell for more than pictures.—Puck.

CHILDREN CRY FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Beating Eggs.

The next time you wish to beat the yolk and white of an egg separately try this plan: Break the egg, leaving the yolk in the half shell. Beat the white stiff, then drop in the yolk and beat together. It is not only done better, but you save washing an extra dish and losing a large proportion of the egg yolk that sticks to dish and egg beater.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM.

George W. Koons, Lawton, Mich., says: "DR. DETCHON'S RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began the use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by Bradburn Drug Co.

Amateur Might Do as Well.

"Tell the truth, now. You are a professional beggar, are you not?" said the keen faced individual who had been approached.

"I need to think I was" replied the weary wayfarer, "but since 13 cents in all I have to show for a day's work I am forced to the conclusion that I am merely an amateur."—Stray Notes.

Without optics or harmful drugs of any kind Foley's Honey and Tar Compound stops coughs and cures colds. Do not accept any substitutes.—For sale by all dealers.

A Puzzle.

Cyclus—All women are alike. SUNDAY—And yet some men commit bigamy.—Philadelphia Record.

WHERE THE LOCALITY DOES NOT COUNT.

Wherever there are people suffering from kidney and bladder ailments, from backache, rheumatism and urinary irregularities, Foley Kidney Pills will help them. Belvidere, Ill. E. A. Kelly, an ex-engineer says: "Three years ago my kidneys became so bad that I was compelled to give up my engine and quit. There was a severe aching pain over the hips, followed by an inflammation of the bladder, and always a thick sediment. Foley Kidney Pills made me a sound and well man. I cannot say too much in their praise.—For sale by all dealers.

FOR THAT DULL FEELING AFTER EATING.

I have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for some time, and can testify that they have done me more good than any tablets I have ever used. My trouble was a heavy dull feeling after eating.—DAVID FREEMAN, Kemps, Nova Scotia. These tablets strengthen the stomach and improve the digestion. They also regulate the liver and bowels. They are far superior to pills but cost no more. Get a free sample at all dealers drug stores and see what a splendid medicine it is.

Cured His Headache.

"I found a sure cure for my headache, by accident," said a man who travels much on the water. Drawing a little nickel plated mouth harp out of his pocket, he added: "Here it is. I won this harp on a board on one trip as a card prize. On this trip the boat pitched and tossed and swung. I felt my teeth coming and to amuse myself as long as possible played on the mouth harp and played with great fun. Gradually as I played the portentous feeling left me. When I related my experience to a doctor after landing he said:

"That's a capital idea. Your little harp forced you to do some deep breathing."—New York Sun.

Trying to Be Witty.

They were sitting in the parlor with the lights turned low. The hour was pretty late. He and she had talked about everything, from the weather to the latest shows. He yawned, and she yawned, but he made no attempt to move toward home, and she was coming weary. At last she said: "I heard a noise outside just now. I wonder if it could be burglars?" Of course he tried to be funny. "Maybe it was the night falling," he said.

"Oh, I think not!" she exclaimed. "More likely it was the day breaking!" Hasty exit of he.—Pearson's Weekly.
