THE CARPATHIA INTO PORT

Only 745 Persons Saved. List of Prominent Men Missing Including Astor, Butt And Struss Still Stands.

New York, April 19.—The Cunard liner Carpathia, a ship of gloom and sorrow, came into New York last night with first news direct from the great White Star liner Titanic, which sank off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland early on Monday morning last.

The great liner went down with her band playing, taking with her to death all but 745 of her human cargo of 2,340 souls.

To this awful death list six persons were added. One died in the life boat which was put off from the liner's side, and five subsequently succumbed on the rescue ship Carpathia. The list of prominent men missing stands as previously reported, and the total death list as brought to port by the Carpathia is 1,631.

Survivors in lifeboats huddled in the darkness at a safe distance from the stricken ship and saw her go down. As to the scene on board when the liner struck, accounts disagree widely. Some maintain that a comparative calm prevailed, others say that wild disorder broke out and that there was a maniacal struggle for the lifeboats. That the liner struck an iceberg as reported by wireless was confirmed by all.

Sensational rumors told by hysterical passengers who would not give their names said that Captain Smith had killed himself on the bridge; that the chief engineer had taken his life and that three Italians were shot in the struggle for the boats.

These rumors could not be confirmed in the early confusion attendant on the landing of the survivors.

Ripped from stem to engine room by the great mass of ice she struck amidships, the Titanic's side was laid open as if by a gigantic can opener. She quickly listed on starboard with a shower of ice on the forecastle deck. Shortly before she sank she broke into two shaft the engine room, and as she disappeared beneath the water, the explosion of air caused two explosions which were plainly heard by the survivors afloat.

A moment more and the Titanic had gone to her doom with the fate of hundreds grouped on the after-deck. To the survivors they were visible to the last and their cries and moans were pitiable.

Simmons in First Primary

The consensus of opinion seems to be that the removal of ex-Governor Aycock by death from the senatorial race operates to render certain Senator Simmons' nomination for the United States senate in the first primary. This is the opinion expressed by shrewd and observant Democrats from all sections of the State, and especially from Wayne county and the third congressional district, and from the west. Mr. Aycock was the only man who could possibly have divided the West seriously with Simmons, and with the ex-Governor out of the race, the State west of Raleigh is practically a unit for the Senator. Men from Greensboro, who take part in politics, say that Mr. Simmons will even carry Guilford county and the fifth district. Kitchin's speech at Greensboro seems to have operated against him in a great degree. And the great majority of the Aycock vote will naturally go to the Senator, who was his warm personal friend, and who stood shoulder to shoulder with the ex-Governor, and led the white people of this State in the most serious crisis since the Civil War. Aycock and Simmons led in the same period and were associated with the same political leaders and organization, and it follows that the Senator shall fall heir to the ex-Governor's strength. The warm bonds of friendship between them were never broken, and would not have been, had the ex-Governor lived to make his campaign this year. —Rocky Mt. Rebo.

A Gratifying Fact.

The Underwood boom is now sounding and the democracy will have before it the first full-fledged, outright candidacy of a far southern man for many years. This is important as indicating the wane of a sectional feeling, a fact always gratifying.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER CAN'T STOP HIM

The Colonel Declares That he Will Swim the Big River Rather Than Miss His Date.

Washington, April 19.—"It is such a comfortable lie that it is not worthy of denial," said Senator Dixon when told that Wm. B. McKinley, Taft's manager, will charge that the Montana senator was elected to the senate by fraud. The Taft publicity bureau here has said they would show that senator Dixon's election to the senate cost him $250,000, and that they would furnish the name of the man who put up the coin.

In order that Colonel Roosevelt may be in Greensboro Monday as previously arranged, his managers have arranged to run a special train from Little Rock to Knoxville. The Mississippi river is 40 miles wide at Memphis and the railroad people notified the Colonel's managers that it would be impossible to get him to Greensboro by Monday. Colonel Roosevelt says: "rather than disappoint my friends in North Carolina, I would swim the Mississippi river." "Tell my fellow countrymen in North Carolina," said senator Dixon, "that Colonel Roosevelt will be in Greensboro on time and I will meet him there."

Bearing subpoenas for certain persons aboard the Carpathia, whose names were not disclosed, senator Smith of Michigan, and senator Newland of Nevada, two members of the subcommittee which will take the first steps in the congressional investigation of the Titanic disaster, went to New York to meet the rescue ship. Senator Bourne, the third member of the subcommittee, joined them there. The subcommittee intends to subpoena every one on the Carpathia who might throw any light upon the cause of the catastrophe.

Senator Simmons was appointed a member of the subcommittee of the senate committee which will investigate the wreck of the Titanic. On account of his work on the senate finance committee, also because at a later meeting it was decided to hold the hearings in Washington, senator Simmons did not accompany the full committee to New York.

RECORD PEACH CROP EXPECTED

Severe Cold Few Weeks Ago Did Very Little Damage. Farm and Orchard Lands Attract Attention.

Raleigh, April 19.—W. J. Adams, of Benson, Johnston county, was hailed before Judge James L. Webb at Goldsboro, today on a writ of habeas corpus which was granted by Justice W. A. Allen of the North Carolina Supreme court on the petition of Mrs. Adams who alleges that the husband mistreated her, drove her from her home and kept her separated from her three week old babe. She alleges that on other occasions Adams mistreated her.

The Mecklenburg tablet, commemorating the Mecklenburg declaration of Independence, May 20, 1775, has arrived in the city in charge of Miss Violet G. Alexander, a representative of the Mecklenburg committee of the Colonial Dames. The tablet will be placed in the rotunda of the State capitol at an early date, the North Carolina Historical Commission having granted permission. The inscription on this tablet has been the cause of much controversy, the date May 20, having been attacked as not correct by Charles Van Noppen.

All indications point to the best peach and apple crop in North Carolina in years, according to reports that have reached Major W. A. Graham, commissioner of agriculture. The severe cold of a few weeks ago did little damage to the trees, and since that time the trees have blossomed and filled so rapidly that a heavy frost would be required to seriously damage the young fruit. Thick leaves have begun protecting the fruit.

Major Graham says wheat is looking good in the Piedmont section, though oats are badly damaged.

With the chairmanship of the executive committee and the control of the convention at stake, the Wake county Republicans are walking about this week. If the brethren have horses and automobiles they are riding, but if not, they are moving away. Primaries are to be held Saturday afternoon in the county, and Saturday night in Raleigh, to elect delegates to the county convention, and these delegates will elect the executive committee which will in turn elect a chairman. Mr. Lester F. Butler, the present chairman, is opposed by W. J. Andrews. Much literature is being circulated by both factions, and both sides are claiming the victory.

North Carolina's fine farming and orchard lands continue to attract the attention of settlers in less favored sections of the United States, and every day the department of agricultural receives a batch of letters from prospective settlers. Unless those farmers who enter the state write to the department of agriculture—and they seldom do—there is no way of keeping a record of emigrants.

The city officials of Raleigh are now getting settled in their new offices in the splendid new municipal and auditorium building. No article of furniture is being moved from the old Metropolitan Hall which has been the headquarters for the city authorities for the past forty-odd years. The furnishings for the new building are all specially designed in mission style and are quite in keeping with the handsome building.

The State headquarters for the campaign of Senator Simmons for re-election to that office will be opened forthwith in the municipal court section of the old building, this commanding the second floor front, an ideal place for campaign headquarters.
