SENATOR SIMMONS CONCLUDES

Closing He Referred to Schwab As 'A Petted Child of Fortune.'

Washington, May 2.—Senator Simmons yesterday concluded his speech in advocacy of a revision of the tariff schedule and notwithstanding it was the first speech of a long series in the tariff fight. Senator Simmons found it necessary to mildly lecture the senators on its lack of interest. The Missouri senator could see no reason for continuing the general discussion except for campaign purposes. "I had assumed that to be the purpose of Democratic senators," remarked Senator Gallinger. "They can pursue that course with better reason than the Republicans," replied Mr. Stone. Mr. Simmons referred to Charles M. Schwab as a "petted child of fortune," and said that he would like to see reduced the extortionate profits obtained by him through the employment of a horde of cheap alien laborers.

Fort Worth, Texas, May 2.—Two hold-up men late last night accosted Frank Connor on a side street downtown and, at the point of a revolver, robbed him of 10 cents, all he had, then compelled him to take off his trousers and fled, leaving him shivering more from embarrassment than cold. He crept and half ran to a car barn where he telephoned the police for clothing.

Cleveland, O., May 2.—Five men, all employers of the Great Lake Towing company, were burned to death and damage estimated at $450,000, done to boats and gasolene on the docks when a Standard oil barge exploded late yesterday.

The barge which was at the Jefferson avenue docks on the Cuyahoga river, was being filled with gasoline from a tenth used gallon tank on the bank. Leaving oil on the surface of the river was ignited and set fire to the barge. A terrific explosion immediately followed.

BUTT'S CORPSE NOT FOUND

Examination of the Titanic Victims Continues, But Many Lose Hope

Halifax, May 2.—Thirty embalmers worked all night in an improvised morgue preparing for inspection of more of the unidentified dead in whom centners of relatives still searching for Titanic victims may find their kin. The unidentified list, with the exception of two tentative identifications made last night, still stood at 60, when the work was resumed today. This was the official total as estimated from White Star lists.

George Widener, Jr., of Philadelphia, has left Halifax, apparently convinced that the body buried at sea was that of his father, a valet and not Mr. Widener. Several others whose hopes were shattered by yesterday's developments started for home, though many others whose quest has so far been without success, will await the arrival of the cable ship Minia with what promises to be a meager addition to the list of bodies recovered.

Major Blinton Winship, United States Army, today said he had seen the unidentified dead and had given up hope of finding Major Butt's body.

SEN. SIMMONS STATE LEADER

Is In Charge of State Democratic Delegation.

Washington, May 2.—The press dispatches announce that his Democratic colleagues have put Senator Simmons in charge of the Democratic side of the chief tariff debate of the present session of Congress—that concerning the revision of the iron and steel schedule. And the fight is now on. This is the biggest task that has been allotted to a North Carolinian in Congress in two generations.

This bit of news must likewise make those few conspicuous North Carolina Democrats who have been attacking Senator Simmons' tariff record, feel rather uneasome. The Democratic minority in the United States Senate consists of men like Gore, Caberson, Gorman, Bacon, Hoke Smith, Overman, and if these men see fit to make Senator Simmons head of the corner, it can not make any great difference that Representative Claude Kitchin and Governor W. W. Kitchin reject him. There's a reason, as the advertisements say, and everybody knows it. And they know too, how unworthy of true Democrats that reason is. This bit of news also goes to show how much was behind the press dispatches a few weeks ago, when it was stated that upon Senator Bailey's retirement Simmons would take his place in the Finance Committee.

The simple truth of the matter is that Senator Simmons is a bigger man than some of his North Carolina rivals would like for the State to know. In ten years he has won his way right to the front of the most august legislative body in the world and his fight for the revision of the tariff on steel and iron will be one of the great arenas in which the battle of the Democratic party will be fought out this year.

He has a way of making good. Now watch him conduct the fight for the revision of the iron and steel schedule. When he finishes that job, the Nation will sit up and take notice, and the Republican party in the Nation will read his name as the Republican party in the State does now. He has never yet failed to come out on top, and North Carolina will cheer him on now that he takes in hand the biggest thing a North Carolinian has had to do in Congress since the day of Nat Macon. She will cheer him on, and she will expect him to succeed.

His friends will miss him in the campaign, but who would not prefer to have him going up against the mighty at Washington rather than using the State's time to canvass for himself? And there are yet some people who would rather vote for men who faithfully sticks to the post of high duty than for a candidate who can find in his public position nothing better to do than to canvass for himself.

The Democracy of North Carolina must be proud of this fresh and signal recognition of her senior Senator, and it must likewise appreciate the fact that his promotion means much to the party in every way. To the end that he shall succeed in so great a task it behooves every Democrat not only to be confident, but also to be helpful. Let us make it known to him that his fellow Democrats of North Carolina are with him as they were in the days of 1896 and 1900.

500 Chicago Saloons Close

Chicago, May 2.—Chicagoans are climbing on the "water wagon" in such large numbers that saloonkeepers have begun to notice their daily receipts dropping off. More than 500 saloonkeepers it is declared, will not renew their licenses expiring tomorrow, their chief reason being that men of all classes are drinking less.

Over one bar in the downtown district that did not reopen today hangs the sign:

Good-bye, Stein, and farewell, Flagon. Chicago's last bar thirst, he'll drive the water wagon, Starting May the first.

Other reasons given for quitting business are the enforcement of laws relating to gambling resorts and dance halls. There are about 1,000 saloons in Chicago.
