PAMLICO YOUTH FOUND GUILTY

Of Forgery at Yesterday's Session of Superior Court, Number of Cases Disposed of During the Day.

One of the most important cases tried at yesterday's session of Superior Court was the case of the State vs. Otis Broughton, a white youth whose home is near Arapahoe, Pamlico county. Some time during the month of March, last, Otis Broughton and Asher Brinson, one of his companions, came to New Bern and presented a check for $27.55 to one of the local merchants in payment for some articles which they had purchased. The check was made payable to C. A. Johnson and endorsed by Mr. J. B. Reel, of Roelboro. Mr. Reel is well known by the merchants of this city and the check was accepted without question. Later it was found to be a forgery. Broughton, who is a mere boy, and Edwards were placed under arrest, brought back to New Bern and after they had been given a preliminary hearing were bound over to the Superior Court. They secured bail and were released. In the meantime Brinson left for parts unknown and cannot be located. During the trial he attorneys on both sides put up hard fights, the State using every available bit of evidence to convict and the defense trying just as hard to prove their client innocent. The case was given to the jury at noon and several hours later they returned a verdict of guilty. Sentence has not yet been passed on the prisoner.

The following other cases were disposed of during the day:

- State vs. Julia Boyd, charged with carrying deadly weapons to prisoners confined in the county jail. Found guilty and sentenced to a term of 2 years in the State prison.
- State vs. Webster Blount, charged with retailing. Found guilty. Sentence not yet passed.
- State vs. Moses Nollies, charged with false pretence. Jury returned a verdict of not guilty.
- State vs. Sam Lewis and P. A. Wayne of Vanceboro, charged with unlawful removing a fence. Jury returned verdict of not guilty.
- State vs. Mary-Taylor, charged with retailing. Jury failed to agree and defendant will be given a new trial today.
- State vs. Harriet Etheridge, charged with operating an assignation house. Found guilty. Sentenced to a term of 2 years in the State prison or to leave the State within 30 days.

War On Rag Time.

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—Oblivion awaits "Beat Cat," "Grizzly Bear," "Texas Tommy," "Houston Dip," "Turkey Trot" and kindred departures from the conventional dances, according to an edict of the international association, masters of dancing. It was agreed that rag time music is responsible for rag time dances. The association voted to begin a campaign against this sort of music, substituting the more quiet waltz and dignified dances of former generations.

Villages Burned.

Kodiak, Alaska, June 12.—The Kodiak and Woody Island villages are buried under ash as the result of the eruption of the Katmai volcano Thursday. The eruption continued for forty eight hours, but no lives were lost. Many settlements, near the volcano, suffered. A revenue cutter Manship, was in port when the eruption began and furnished refuge for all inhabitants—five hundred men, women and children—thus saving many lives. The navy wireless station was destroyed. Dispatches were sent toeward appealing for all available craft to come to the assistance of the people here. The property loss is enormous.

AVIATION CLAIMS TWO LIVES

The Victims Were Practicing at Aviation School When Their Wright Machine Collapsed—Board of Inquiry Named.

Washington, June 12.—Another fearful toll was taken by aviation last night when the mutilated bodies of Lieut. Leighton W. Hazehurst, Jr., 17th Infantry, U. S. A., and Alfred L. Welch, a professional aviator in the employ of the Wright brothers here, were flung from under the debris of a collapsed aeroplane. The accident occurred while they were attempting the test requirements by the government in a machine contracted for by the War Department. Although an army board was immediately appointed to determine the cause of the accident, it is thought the real cause of the machine's failure never will be known. The crash came so suddenly and unexpectedly that the two men met their death without being able to make a single move to arrest their fall. Seven army flyers were among the score of spectators, but they cannot explain the accident.

It was shortly after 6 o'clock that the Wright machine was run out in front of the long line of hangars. For several days Aviator Welch, whose home is in this city, had been busy demonstrating the aeroplane. All the War Department's requirements had been met, except a climb of 2,000 feet within 10 minutes, carrying a load of 450 pounds. Welch knew the machine was capable of making the test, for it had been accomplished at Dayton, Ohio, by Orville Wright before it was taken to College Park and had been made impatient by several failures.

A few minutes later he announced that he was ready. Lieut. Hazehurst followed Welch into the machine, taking the passenger seat. The aeroplane moved off steadily and flew the length of the field, rising 200 feet. As it was turned toward the group of army officers before the hangars, Welch clipped sharply to indicate to the official starter that he was ready for the stiff climb. The ship carried the machine to within 75 feet of the ground and it then straightened out sharply, too quickly, the observer flyers then, without warning the aluminum wings crumpled, or collapsed upward to that they almost met above the engine. The machine dropped, then turned her nose toward the earth and dived.

The accident occurred about 1,000 feet from the hangars and when the first witness reached the wreck it was seen that both of the men were dead. Welch was buried in the debris, but the body of Hazehurst had been catafalqued fully 20 feet away after the machine struck. Welch's clothes were practically all torn from his body, which was bruised and battered. Hazehurst's skull was fractured and his head badly disfigured.

Mr. Tolson was a successful farmer, a kind neighbor and a worthy man in all respects.

The Situation Grows Brighter.

Washington, D. C., June 12th.—The absence of fresh outbreaks in Cuba has encouraged the State Department in the belief that the measures to show the government's purpose to maintain order in Cuba, have proved sufficient. It was decided there will be no additions to the force now in Cuba. Unusual developments make such necessary. Admiral Fiske, the ranking officer at Key West, will remain there for the present, with the battleship New Jersey and Nebraska. The Navy Department, by wireless, will keep in constant touch with the Atlantic Fleet's first division. After leaving Hampton Roads, with the midshipmen, it is expected that the planned exercises for the portion of the fleet will soon be resumed.

The United States gunboat Nashville has landed at Mayport, five miles south of Hope Bay, a detachment of 25 blue-jackets, with a supply of guns, to protect the West India mines. The sailors will be later replaced by marines.

COCAINE FIEND IN TROUBLE

Attempts to Break in Women's Room at Bridgeton. Bound Over to Superior Court Without Bond.

J. S. Johnson, a young white man who claims Wilmington and several other North Carolina cities as his home is now being held in the county jail in this city without bond on a very serious charge, that of attempting to break in to a room in a dwelling at Bridgeton which was occupied by ladies.

Johnson arrived at Bridgeton a few days ago and secured board with Mrs. M. C. Cahoon at that place. He was given a room in the ell part of the building and seemed to be well satisfied with his new place. It was noticed by Mrs. Cahoon and her daughter that the new boarder acted in rather a suspicious manner at times but they paid but little attention to him.

Last Tuesday night Mrs. Cahoon, her daughter and a neighbor who was passing the night with the family, heard some one trying to enter the room. Mrs. Cahoon ran to the window and called for help. Several persons responded and found Johnson outside the bedroom door. His condition at the time clearly showed that he was under the influence of some powerful drug. He was placed under arrest but fought so bravely that it was found necessary to securely bind his arms and feet before he could be controlled and conveyed to this city and placed in jail.

Yesterday morning he was given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace W. R. Barrington, on a warrant charging him with an attempt at burglary. The defendant refused to plead either guilty or not guilty, and in fact but little could be got out of him. However the magistrate found probable cause and bound him over to superior court without bond.

That Johnson is a slave to "dope" in various forms there is but little doubt. On his person were found several packages which had contained cocaine, and his actions at the time of his arrest showed that he was mentally unbalanced at that time.

More Light On That "Snake Story"

Some days ago a story came from Greenville, this State, that a rattlesnake had bitten two children and that they had died, while a third child was drowned in a tub of water at about the same time. It sounded very much like a story from Wilkesbarre, Pa., where the biggest ones come from and so it turns out. There was not a word of truth in it—no foundation for it at all. The author did not even have the "Jimnies," he was just a plain liar.—Greensboro Record.
