MRS. MCGILL BROKE DOWN

Gives the Real Facts in Regard to Her Case and Tells How She Suffered. Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good."

One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

torture-chamber . . . you inquisitive little thing!" "What tortures? . . . Who is being tortured? . . . Erik, Erik, say you are only trying to frighten me! . . . Say it, if you love me, Erik! . . . There are no tortures, are there? . . . "Go and look at the little window, dear!"

I do not know if the viscount heard the girl's swooning voice, for he was too much occupied by the astounding spectacle that now appeared before his distracted gaze. As for me, I had seen that sight too often, through the little window, at the time of the rosy hours of Mauderens; and I cared only for what was being said next door, seeking for a hint how to act, what resolution to take.

"Go and peep through the little window! Tell me what he looks like!" "We heard the steps being dragged against the wall. "Up with you! . . . No! . . . No, I will go up myself, dear!" "Oh, very well, I will go up. Let me go!"

"Oh, my darling, my darling! How awest of you! . . . How nice of you to save me the exertion at my age! . . . Tell me what he looks like!" "At that moment, we distinctly heard these words above our heads: "There is no one there, dear!" "No one? . . . Are you sure there is no one?" "Why, of course not . . . no one!"

"Well, that's all right! What's the matter, Christine? You're not going to faint, are you? . . . as there is no one there? . . . Here come down . . . here! . . . Pull yourself together . . . as there is no one there! . . . But how do you like the landscape?" "Oh, very much!" "There, that's better! . . . You're better now, are you not?"

"There is No One There, Dear!" "That's all right, you're better! No excitement! . . . And what a funny house, isn't it, with landscapes like that in it?" "Yes, it's like the Musée Grévin. . . . But, I say, Erik, . . . there are no tortures in there! . . . What a fright you gave me!" "Why . . . as there is no one there?" "Did you design that room? It's very handsome. You're a great artist, Erik."

"Yes, a great artist, in my own line." "But tell me, Erik, why did you call that room the torture-chamber?" "Oh, it's very simple. First of all, what did you see?" "I saw a forest." "And what is in a forest?" "Trees." "And what is in a tree?" "Birds." "Did you see any birds?" "No, I did not see any birds." "Well, what did you see? Think! You saw branches! And what are the branches?" she asked the terrible voice. "There's a gibbet. That is why I call my wood the torture-chamber!" "You see, it's all a joke. I never express myself like other people. But I am very tired of it! I'm sick and tired of having a forest and a torture-chamber in my house and of living like a mouse in a hole with a false bottom! . . . I'm tired of it! I want to have a nice, quiet flat with ordinary doors and windows and a wife inside it, like anybody else! A wife whom I could love and take out on Sundays and keep amused on week-days. Here, shall I show you some cards-tricks? That will help us to pass a few minutes, while waiting for eleven o'clock tomorrow evening. My dear little Christine! . . . Are you listening to me? . . . Tell me you love me! . . . No, you don't love me . . . but no matter, you will! . . . Once, you could not look at my mask because you knew what was behind. . . . And now you don't mind looking at it and you forget what is behind! . . . One can see used to everything. . . . If one wishes. . . . Birds of young people who did not care for each other before marriage have shared their misadventure all I shall know."

BROUGHT TO LIGHT

New Bern People Receiving the Full Benefit.

There have been many cases like the following in New Bern. Everyone relates the experience of people who know. These plain, straightforward statements will do much toward relieving the suffering of thousands. Such testimony will be read with interest by many people.

Mrs. Lavenia Hall, 30 George St., New Bern, N. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great value in restoring my health. I suffer from a weak back and pains across my kidneys have made me restless at night. In the morning I felt tired and had no strength or energy. The secretions from my kidneys were unnatural and caused me no end of annoyances. When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply from the Bradham Drug Co., and their use removed all my pains and aches. Since taking this remedy, I have had a better appetite and my entire system has been toned up."
