J. F. C. Enjoys a Visit at Historic Edenton And Sees Things.

Editor Journal.

Leaving New Bern on Sunday's Norfolk train, I pulled into Edenton at 2:15 to a belated dinner, but a hearty welcome, should have arrived at 1:05. This is a historic old town, and points of interest are all marked. The oldest date being 1658. The teapot where Mrs. Elizabeth King and other ladies held their protest meeting in 1784, perpetuates the spot, though it is minus tea and tempest at this date. I also copied the inscription on Governor Eden's tomb in old St. Paul's church yard. I could anglicize the old English, but the old Latin required an interpreter. May give you a short article on this on my return. Commercialism does not seem to have taken this town very heavy, as her people seem to retain that old antebellum culture as yet. They have a cotton factory, with its little white martin gourd residences, two small spinning factories, and a peanut factory, run by a nephew of myself. He is a peanut boy right, and a hog packer, uses from snout to tip of tail, so he uses the peanut. Five grades are made for human consumption and two for animals. The big bad ones for magnum (the old sow), and the bad little ones for the cackling hen. The factory uses some 200,000 bushels of nuts and employs 70 to 80 hands.

I do not know when I shall return to Robbers Row and hardpan.

When my shoes get leaking in the upper.

And my pants baggy at the knee, I'll come where the pancake's thin for supper.

And the tomato goes on a spree.

China Rejects Loan.

Washington, June 26.—China has rejected the $300,000,000 loan from the banking group of the six powers, probably because of the stipulation for foreign supervision of its expenditure. The proposal for foreign administration of the sale monopoly also has been declined. Four cabinet officers of the Tang Shao-chi have offered their resignations. These advices were received yesterday by the State Department.

President Wants to Provide for State Guards.

Raleigh, June 26.—Adjutant General Leinster, head of the North Carolina National Guard, was elated today when he learned that President Taft had recommended that congress pass an appropriation of $3,000,000 to enable the various state guards to engage in joint maneuvers. The Third regiment Raleigh Ambulance Company and Field Hospital have been detailed to Anniston, Ala., July 16. The other two regiments will go to Camp Glenn at Morehead City.

The adjutant general has called a meeting of the advisory council for Thursday to consider the matter of sending the Third regiment to Morehead in case the appropriation fails, but there is little likelihood that congress will refuse to provide for the maneuvers.

To Establish State Banking Department.

Morehead City, June 26.—The establishment of a State department of banking will be the most important subject before the sixteenth annual session of the North Carolina Bankers' Association which convened here today.

Financiers of national prominence, United States Treasurer, Lee McClan William B. Reed, of the National City Bank of New York, R. F. Harris, head of the Illinois Bankers' Association and a small sized army of State are here.

President Brewster of Rocky Mount, is one of the foremost advocates of the proposed State banking department. It is his contention that existing State regulation of banks is most unsatisfactory, that bank examiners have no adequate office room and no clerical assistance in Raleigh and that the importance of the States banks demands a department as much as insurance or any other essential branch of the Commonwealth's government.

A special committee has prepared a report on this subject and it is probable that a bill to be introduced in the next session of the Legislature will be submitted to the convention for endorsement.

20,000 Workmen May Be Laid Off.

Washington, June 26.—Employees of all the United States navy yards in the country to the number of 20,000 or more will be laid off July 1st unless Congress makes provision for payment of their wages.

This announcement was made by Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop at the White House yesterday.

Have you attended Baxter's big sale? If not, don't fail to come today.

Invitation Received.

The following invitation has been received by the Journal:

You are cordially invited to attend the celebration of the Fourth Anniversary of the Breaking of Ground for the Building of The East Carolina Teachers Training School on Tuesday, July 2, 1912. The exercises will be held at the building site, which will be completed by the State.

DESIGNS FOR TWO BATTLESHIPS

Navy Goes Ahead With Tentative Drawing, While Waiting On Congress—30,000 Tons Will Be The Displacement.

Washington, June 26.—Without waiting for the outcome of the legislative fight on new battleships, the navy authorities are making tentative designs for two monster "super-dread naughts" similar to the design of the 1912 vessels. The displacement of the vessels if completed as designed will be close to 30,000 tons each.

Increase of side armor, turbine engines and three gun turrets will probably be features of the new ships. There will be no reduction of speed.

There is under discussion the question of a lighter armament, especially with regard to the three-gun turrets. But navy ordnance officers expect to know more about this after the test of the experimental three-gun turret which has been constructed by the bureau of ordnance and will soon be ready for trial at the navy proving ground at Indian Head.

Talk of changes in the military masts continues to be heard in naval circles. One coterie of officers favor one mast, instead of two, and believe the size of the masts would be diminished so they would not allow such a large target for the enemy. The preponderance of navy sentiment, however, indorses the military masts on the American battleships as they now stand.

It is considered probable that the vessels will be propelled by turbines, instead of reciprocating engines, although the Navy Department in inviting proposals will permit the bidders to submit propositions for installing reciprocating engines.

Talk of an increase in the side armor of the new ships is entertained only on condition that it involves no sacrifice of speed or steam radius.

Is Norfolk-Southern to Enter Wilmington?

Wilmington, June 26.—Countless rumors are current here to the effect that the Norfolk Southern railroad is preparing to enter Wilmington. One or more surveying parties have been at work in the northeastern section of the county for the past several weeks and it is said that members of the parties have stated in answer to inquiries that they were surveying for a railroad project. A local engineering firm has been engaged in surveying through the Acorn Branch section and even to the doors of the city at Smith's Creek, which fact, in connection with the well founded rumors that property owners in that part of the city have been approached by outside capitalists who offered to buy or take option on their property, lends credence to the reports that a railroad is back of the work. It is also known that a surveying party has been at work in Pender county, and also around the Chiriquipin section in Duplin county.

Craven's First Cotton Blossom.

The first cotton blossom received at this office from a Craven county farm, came in yesterday from Cove City and was grown by B. M. Cook, who has a farm near that place. It was plucked 25 h. Jones county has not reported yet. It is usually among the earliest.

Woman Nominée for Governor.

Tacoma, Wash., June 26.—Miss Anna A. Malley, Socialist lecturer and writer, of Everett, has been nominated for governor of Washington by a referendum ballot of the Socialist party, completed yesterday. By the same referendum the Socialists have placed in the field a full ticket covering every state office. Returns were received from more than 5,000 Socialist voters. Miss Malley defeated Judge Richard Winslow, a gray-haired judge and member of the Seattle school board, by 500 votes.

She is already in the field campaigning. Though hitherto unknown to even the club women throughout the state, Miss Malley is likely to run second among the candidates for governor and her election is not impossible if the old parties remain split. The Socialist vote has grown very fast during the last two years. Under Governor Bay they elected the best man in the state.

Funeral of Mr. Guy B. Cox.

All that was mortal of the late Guy B. Cox was laid to rest in Cedar Grove cemetery yesterday morning immediately upon the arrival of the train from the west. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. J. B. Hurley amidst a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.

The floral offerings were beautiful and numerous. The large cross sent by the clerks and carriers of the post office attested the esteem in which the deceased was held by his comrades in the office.

In the death of Guy Cox this city loses one of its noblest young men. To those who knew him was but to gain a friend-ship. Being of a congenial disposition he never placed himself above any one, always willing and glad to help a friend in distress. In his duties at the post office one could always find him ready at all times to accommodate those who came in contact with him. That he will be missed can be vouched for, and the consolation that affords his friends is that he is at rest, but he will ever be cherished by "One Sweet Solemn Thought" by those who knew him.

Opposes Removal.

Newport, R. I., June 26.—Historical societies in Rhode Island are making preparations to prevent the navy department from removing from the Newport naval training station the famous corvette Constellation.

It is argued that the expense of maintaining the Constellation is trifling and that on account of historic association the old square rigger should not be removed from Newport.

At the National Democratic Convention. Many Rumors Afloat.

Baltimore, June 26th.—The convention was called to order by Alton B. Parker, temporary chairman. After prayer by the chaplain the credentials committee made their report. The committee on permanent organization then made their report. This was followed by a report from the committee on rules of order and business and also a report from the committee on resolutions.

The following program has been arranged for today:

Thursday—Call to order by permanent chairman; opening prayer, speeches placing presidential candidates in nomination; roll call of states to record their votes for candidates, continued until one candidate receives two-thirds of votes; speeches placing vice-presidential candidates in nomination; roll call of States until selection is made; announcement of members of new national committee; adjournment sine die.

All of the hotels and public places have been filled with rumors during the day as to who will be the presidential nominee. However, nothing is definite. The nomination will not be made until tomorrow as has been scheduled on the program and until that time the convention must be filled in by some means.
