HAVE SUSPENDED WORK OF SALVAGE

About One Third Of Cotton On Wrecked Steamer Recovered

DIVERS WERE IN DANGER

Faced At All Times Possibility Of Falling Decks And Superstructure.

Capt. T. B. Lascere of Ferrandine, Fla., was interviewed by a Journal man as he passed through New Bern last night, en route to his Florida home. The captain is the chief of the Cumberland Sound Pilots' Association, but has lately been in command of the wrecking schooner H. Toomey, that was on the way at Meadows' marine railway a few days ago.

The schooner is owned by Capt. Bill of New York and has been chartered by the Merritt & Chapman Wrecking company to recover cotton from the wreck of the British steamship Thistleroy, which went ashore on Cape Lookout shoals in January last. Something over 8,000 bales of the cotton were recovered out of the cargo of 8,700 bales. The cotton was, of course, water soaked, and blackened, but still of value for some purposes.

The work of salvage has now been discontinued indefinitely and the schooner Toomey laid up at Morehead City. The Merritt & Chapman wrecking outfit and men have returned to Norfolk.

Owing to the condition and position of the wreck, which had been dynamited, the cotton that was recovered was secured with great difficulty, the divers being in danger at all times from falling decks and superstructure.

The editors of the State, when at the press convention at Morehead City last month, were taken out on this revenue cutter Seminole to inspect this wreck, therefore the end of this story of the sale of interest to those in the interior.

CLAIMS WARREN ATTACKED HIM

Postmaster Edwards Insists That He Has Been Misrepresented.

TALKS TO JOURNAL MAN

Says Report That Warren is Smaller Man Than He, is Mistake.

A Journal man visited J. F. Edwards, scolded of shooting Ben B. Warren of Vanceboro, in the county jail last night. The prisoner lay on a cot, with his eyes closed. When he tried to open them, it was seen that they were badly swollen. In a weak voice he said that all the newspaper reports of the shooting that had been read to him were wrong. In the first place, he declared that Mr. Warren is a much larger man than he. Edwards declares that Warren attacked him with a lantern as he was passing the livery stable on his way home to supper. That Warren chased him about 100 yards into a blacksmith shop. There Edwards claimed he got something to defend himself with and wheeled and struck Mr. Warren. Then they grappled and Warren fell and struck his head. Edwards claims that in the excitement he does not know when the shooting was done. The prisoner was too weak to talk further, but insisted that there were two sides to the story of the trouble and that he had been misrepresented.

A prominent citizen of Vanceboro was later interviewed. This man asserted he was a friend of both of the men and only wanted to see justice done. He said:

"The report that Mr. Edwards is the larger man is incorrect. Mr. Edwards' weight is in the neighborhood of 150 pounds, while Mr. Warren is a larger man, weighting about 175 pounds. Mr. Edwards was attacked first by Mr. Warren with a lantern. In the ensuing scuffle, the shooting occurred. Warren was highly intoxicated at the time of the affray. Edwards is in bad shape as he is still suffering from a bullet wound through the lung, received in a hunting accident three years ago. Edwards has always had the reputation of being a hard-working, steady man, who has never been in any trouble before. In fact, he is a man who has always been noted for attending strictly to his own business. It is thought by the people of Vanceboro that if Mr. Warren had not been intoxicated there would have been no affray. It is said to be a fact that Mr. Edwards would not go to the street when it was reported that Mr. Warren had been drinking, for fear that he would become engaged in an altercation with him."

Word from the Washington hospital last night was to the effect that Mr. Warren, the wounded man, was in such a precarious condition that the physicians could not probe for the bullet.

DEFER ACTION ON THE WALKER ROAD

Commissioners Say It Will Take Large Amount To Improve It.

WILL MAKE SURVEY.

Witness Fees in Casey Case As Revised By Solicitor Are Allowed.

The County Commissioners at the August meeting held yesterday discussed the Walker road at length and decided to have the route surveyed and also get estimates as to what the improvement of the road would cost. The Commissioners are of the opinion that it will cost a great deal more to improve the road than has been supposed. In fact, one of them was heard to say that it would cost something like five thousand dollars.

The idea of the Board is that the present Walker road could not be improved to advantage as it could not be drained without flooding many acres of valuable land in the vicinity. But what is known as the old Walker road which New Bern people started 35 years ago could be improved, it is believed, though not without considerable expense.

The Commissioners took final action yesterday on the various items of the Casey case of last October. The witness fees and the compensation for the chemist who made the analyses as revised by Solicitor Abernathy were allowed.

The tax levy was made as follows: 2 1/2 cents for general county purposes, 2 1/2 cents for sinking fund, 2 1/2 cents for interest, 15 cents for roads, 45 cents for State, 2 cents for pensions, 3 cents for Central highway, 2 cents for bridges and public health. This makes a total of 98 1/2 cents, a much lower levy than obtained in many counties of the State. The poll tax will be $2.81.

JOIN CHESAPEAKE MENHADEN CREW

A party of fifteen young men from Beaufort were in the city last night, en route to Norfolk, where they will go as crew of a menhaden steamer, fishing in Chesapeake Bay. They are to receive $40 per month, board and all expenses, including transportation from home and return. This looks pretty well to a "down home" boy, and little trouble is experienced in recruiting crews. All the captains on the Chesapeake are said to prefer men from North Carolina in their crews, as they make the best fishermen, being to the manner born. Capt. Albert L. Lewi, known by all seafaring folk along this coast, was chaperoning the boys on the way to Norfolk. The party consisted of: Anson Chapin, Alton Willis, Albert Marshall, James Jarvis, Walter Willis, Warren Smith, Percy Marshall, Louis Rice, Will Chapin, Dave Nelson, Josh Piver, Jan. Morton, Edw. S. Piner, Geo. Warren and Ben Gabriel, all of Carteret county.

PRETTY WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED

Special to Journal

Cove City, Aug. 5.—A pretty wedding was solemnized here Sunday night after services at Cove Creek Free Will Baptist Church when Mr. U. W. Daugherty and Miss Blanche Avery were united in marriage.

The first of the bridal party to enter were Messrs. R. B. Lane and Walter Heath, the ushers, who entered down opposite aisles. After them came Miss Pat Lane, maid of honor, who was followed by the groom accompanied by his best man, Mr. M. A. Hill. Entering simultaneously with the groom and best man but down the opposite aisle, came the bride leaning on the arm of her brother, who gave her away.

The bride and groom met in front of the altar and Elder Henry Cunningham in a very impressive ceremony pronounced the solemn words that made them husband and wife.
