WINS A BRIDE IN CHARLOTTE

J. Leon Williams and Miss Bessie Steere Married Tuesday Night.

LEAVE FOR A TOUR Friends Remember Couple With Handsome Array of Presents.

Mr. J. Leon Williams of this city and Miss Bessie Steere of Charlotte were married Tuesday night in Charlotte. Yesterday's Charlotte Observer gives the following account of the wedding:

"The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius E. Steere at 211 South Myers street was the scene of a ceremony of exceptional charm and beauty last evening at 8:30 o'clock when their daughter, Miss Bessie Lente Steere, and Mr. J. Leon Williams of New Bern were married by Rev. Dr. Gilbert T. Rowe, pastor of Tryon Street Methodist church.

"The entire residence was elaborately decorated in honor of the event, the color scheme being white and green. The vows were assumed in the north parlor before an altar formed by an exquisite arrangement of palms and ferns and an arch covered with ivy. White candles shone in colonial candlesticks with tall white tapers.

"To the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march played by Mrs. I. W. Jamieson, the bride and her father, Mr. Lucius Steere, descended together the broad colonial front stairway which was decorated in white and green, white cloth and ivy being gracefully looped from one to another of the seven posts. At the foot of the stairway they were met by the groom, who accompanied the bride to the altar. Ten attractive young girls, pupils of Miss Steere's class in Tryon Street Methodist Sunday school, held white ribbons wound with green maidenhair ferns forming an aisle from the foot of the stairway in the reception hall to the entrance of the north parlor.

"The bride's only attendants were Mrs. James E. Steere, dame of honor, and little Miss Mary Johnston Steere, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Steere, ring-bearer. Mrs. Steere wore a gown of green messaline silk with lace overdress, elaborately trimmed in real lace. She wore diamonds and pearls. Little Miss Steere wore a dainty dress of hand-embroidered white batiste and lace.

"The bride's wedding gown was of cream satin duchess, trimmed in rose point lace. She wore a bridal veil trimmed with orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a pearl and diamond pendant, the gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and maiden hair ferns.

"After the ceremony a reception was given. At the conclusion of this Mr. and Mrs. Williams left for a tour of Northern cities. On their return they will be at home in New Bern, where Mr. Williams is secretary of the chamber of commerce and a practicing attorney.

"Miss Steere is a talented and popular young woman who has many friends in this city. She was educated at Elizabeth College. Mr. Williams formerly resided here for a short time. He is a graduate of the Trinity Law School and is a young attorney who ranks high in the esteem of the New Bern people among whom he has cast in his lot. This regard finds expression in a large rosewood chest of silver presented by the New Bern bar, two cases of silver from the chamber of commerce and a handsome gift from the Eastern Carolina Fair Association of which Mr. Williams is secretary.

"Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. James Ray of Laurinburg, Mrs. Kate Gordon of Yorkville, Mrs. F. M. Roberts of Winston-Salem, Miss Edna Wilson of Winston-Salem.

The Ladies Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church will meet Thursday afternoon, Sept. 12, at 4:30 o'clock in the lecture room, topic, "Japan".

PROGRAM AT THE ATHENS TODAY

King Kollins and the two Klifton sisters. Comedy novelty musical entertainers. High class popular and ragtime selections. Duets and Solos. This is a splendid trio. We have one of those exciting Western pictures to-day—"Broncho Billy's Gratitude," featuring G. M. Anderson, the Essany Cowboy player. "The End of Robespierre" is another good picture, taken from the actual history of a man whose personality dominated the committee of safety in the early days of the French revolution. "A Prisoner of the Harem" is a Kalem production taken in Egypt, while "Egyptian Sports" is an enterprising film portraying scenes on the Nile at Cairo, Egypt.

WOODROW WILSON TO TOUR WEST

His First Invasion Promises to Be Marked by Great Enthusiasm.

IS IN GREAT DEMAND

But Word Comes That Doubtful Districts Needs Him Worst.

New York, Sept. 10.—Governor Woodrow Wilson's first invasion of the West since he was nominated for President on the Democratic ticket has every indication of being one of the most enthusiastic tours ever made by a Presidential candidate.

One of the problems that confront Acting Chairman McAdoo was to satisfy the popular demand from a score of cities who wanted to honor Governor Wilson as their guest.

Governor Wilson will practically open the Iowa campaign on the 17th, when he makes his first speech in Sioux City.

Minneapolis and St. Paul are making elaborate arrangements for the Governor's visit on the 18th, and Michigan Democrats are going to rally in Detroit on the 10th.

Congressman James M. Cox, Democratic candidate for Governor in Ohio, will greet Governor Wilson at Columbus on the 20th, along with Governor Judson Harmon. While Congressman Cox had been carrying on a vigorous campaign throughout Ohio, he asked that Governor Wilson would make at least one speech in Ohio, "just to show to the Democratic National leaders the real sentiment of Ohioans and give you an indication of why you are going to carry the state by over 100,000."

On his way back to Sea Girt, Governor Wilson will address a mass meeting at Scranton, Pa.

The reports from various state chairmen and National Committeemen have all been along the lines of, "while we will be honored to have Governor Wilson, we would rather you would send him to some of the doubtful districts."

ACTS HEROINE'S PART IN FLOOD

Miss Edna Johnson Displays Rare Courage in West Virginia.

STICKS TO THE KEYS
Everybody Deserts Hotel But She Goes Back and Sends Out News.

Copies of the Wheeling Sunday Register received here tell of the courage of Miss Edna Johnston displayed in connection with the recent flood at Collier, W. Va. The Register also presents a two column picture of Miss Johnston, who is the manager of the Postal telegraph office here and who is now at Collier's, her former home, on a visit.

The telegraph office in Collier is on the ground floor of a hotel run by Miss Johnston's mother. When the floods began to inundate Collier's, the regular operator tried in vain to get Pittsburg. A little later all the occupants of the hotel had to vacate and climb up on an engine in the railroad yards nearby, the water pouring in the cellar of the house.

When Miss Johnston realized the extent of the flood, she stated that she conceived it to be her duty to try to let somebody know the news on the outside of the town. She made up her mind to take a chance. She left the engine, waded in water up to her knees, into the telegraph office which was covered with water. She got up on the desk and almost immediately got a wire to Carnegie. She called Pittsburg and the operator there answered. She warned him of what had happened. Soon after his message had been received the line went dead. All communication with the outside world was ended.

She started to leave the big building but she was cut off. It was too late. She saw the Thorley's house swept away as well as Mrs. Ludie's house, which was just back of the hotel. The wall of water roared with a sucking sound as it pounded against the building. The section of the house next to the creek was lost in the torrent. She saw the stable and all out houses go. The water was close to her, creeping up to her in the telegraph office. After a few minutes it ceased to rise, she was in the highest room, which was on the front of the building near the railroad track.

Miss Johnston had to remain in the building for several hours when she was rescued.

HIGH SCHOOL AT DOVER STARTS UP

One Hundred and Eight Pupils Present First Day of Term.

MR. GASTON PRINCIPAL

Assisted by Mrs. L. T. Kornegay and Miss Jessie Richardson.

Dover, Sept. 10.—The fall session of the Dover High School opened Monday with one hundred and eight pupils. Prof. W. G. Caeton, principal is a graduate of Trinity College with high honors. He has had one year's experience as teacher of a high school, and comes to us as a well qualified teacher and a high toned Christian gentleman. We extend to Prof. Gaston a most cordial welcome and bid him God speed in the work before him. His assistants, Mrs. L. T. Kornegay and Miss Jessie Richardson, are too well known to need an introduction. They are well prepared and thoroughly competent teachers. We trust that with the splendid faculty mentioned this may be the most prosperous year in the history of the Dover High School.

It is a source of much regret that we have lost from our midst the family of Mr. Furney Avery. Mrs. Avery has moved to Chapel Hill to conduct a boarding house, while her son, Mr. Wade Kornegay, is finishing his course at the University. Miss Alma has accepted a position as teacher in Chapel Hill this year and Miss Birdie will probably enter college.

Miss Alma Richardson left Tuesday to attend G. F. C. at Greensboro, Miss Gladys West and Miss Fannie Richardson for Red Springs Seminary.

Misses Gladys and Mary Hartford have gone to Kinston.

The post office has moved back into Mr. W. A. Wilson's building.

The Brett Engineering & Contracting Co., issue a little sheet styled "Weekly News Letter," which they send out to their different contract forces. Every employee gets one. This is done to stimulate the employees of each contract that each may know how the other contracts are progressing.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call to his eternal reward the soul of Brother Walter Lee Hardison, a true and upright citizen; a kind and devoted husband, and a consecrated gentleman, who for a number of years was a faithful member of Dover Council No. 189, Jr. O. U. A. M., therefore it is resolved, 1st, That while we humbly submit to the divine will we are made sad on account of the death of our brother and realize that this order has lost a useful member, and the committee in which he lived a most excellent man.

2nd, That we extend our sympathy to the stricken and bereaved family in their great sorrow.

3rd, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes, one sent the New Bern Journal for publication, publication, and a copy mailed to the bereaved family.

W. H. CATON,
W. A. WILSON,
R. B. JONES,
Committee.

FOOT-BALL MEET IS LARGELY ATTENDED

A largely attended meeting of young men interested in and members of the New Bern Football Association was held last night at the hall of the Atlantic Fire Company. It was voted to leave with Capt. L. W. Smith the selection of the time and place for practice. And he called the boys out for the first practice at 8 o'clock next Monday evening at the Academy Green. All who are interested are urged to attend. The signals will be gone through with and other work will be done.

It is hoped to arrange a number of games during the fall and winter season. Two games have already been arranged with Washington. One will be played on Christmas day here and one on New Year's day in Washington. An effort will also be made to get a game with the A. & M. second team to be played here during Fair week.

burg was: "If you lose us you may know that the building is gone."

The Wheeling paper after printing this message, added:

A Panhandle train dispatcher working his trick in the Pittsburg office early Monday morning had taken down the brief words telling of the destruction of Collier, when the message closed abruptly with the above startling statement. The telegraph instrument spluttered weakly at Collier and Miss Johnston got the following reply:

"Will send relief. Keep your nerve. Do the best you can."

(Signed) NORRIS.

She thus renewed her acquaintance with her old "Penny" friend Lester Norris on a stormy night and under most trying circumstances. Since that meeting Miss Johnston has been a resident in her old home at Collier.
