THIRTY-FIRST YEAR

HON. THOS. SETTLE SETTLES THINGS

The Taftite Republican Nominee for Governor on the Booze Question

PROHIBITION HUGE HEADACHE

Strange that Such a Cause Should Have as Champion a Man of Settle's Brilliance

At 8 o'clock last night, the time set for the speaking, fifteen people had congregated in the court house to hear Hon. Thomas Settle.

Before the speaking began, however, another dozen or so—not over a gross—were attracted by the continued ringing of the court house bell. The prisoners in the adjoining jail had a fine opportunity to hear the discourse. They were attentive, and the speeches seemed to do them good. It was doubtless the best talk some of them had heard for a long time.

Mr. George Green started the ceremonies by introducing Hon. David H. Blair, Republican candidate for attorney general. He paid a glittering tribute to New Bern and all the rest of the country. Naturally, a protective tariff had been responsible for the building up of this country. He really gave a good talk. The court room was fairly well filled by the time Mr. Blair got well under way.

When the audience had reached respectable proportions, Hon. Thomas Settle was introduced, as one of North Carolina's most distinguished sons and Republican nominee for governor. Mr. Settle started to speak from the platform in front of the judge's bench, but a man in the audience who described himself as a Democrat, but a friend, asked Settle to get where the light would shine on his face, and the speaker mounted the rostrum.

Mr. Settle began his address with a very smooth line of talk about the beauties of New Bern. He is some jolly, which is evidenced by the fact that he stated that it did not require the opportunity to debate any high moral question to bring him to this city. He was glad to come on any pretext. Settle said this was a novel campaign. There was never one like it before. He said that the only Democratic question was, "What is a Democrat?" They conjured with the name of Vance, but when he was alive, they grappled at his political throat. "Simmons is not a Democrat," says Kitchin, "No more are you," retorts Simmons, while Clark claims he is the only true, virgin pure Democrat, according to Settle.

"Your boss, Joseph Daniels, says neither Simmons nor Kitchin is a Democrat," said the speaker. There were cheers for Simmons when Settle said Simmons was right in his vote on the lumber question.

"The wayfarer man, even though he be a Democrat," said Settle, "should be able to understand that the prosperity of North Carolina depends upon the success of the textile industry. Maybe the Democrats think they ought to be industrially dead, anyhow," he said.

To give the devil his due, it must be stated that the Honorable Thomas did make a very entertaining speech, interspersed with many pleasing anecdotes to illustrate his points. Would that there were room for some of them here—those that could be printed, unexpurgated.

Then he launched into prohibition, and proceeded to give that "moral issue" particular fits. He said it was inspired by John Barleycorn himself. It had increased crime, placed whiskey in the hands of the blind tigers, made perjurers, and raised the price in general. Fifteen millions of dollars went yearly from North Carolina for "booze" alone, while the only things the Tar Heels got in return were disordered stomachs and headaches.

Yes, it is a pleasure to listen to Hon. Thomas Settle!

DE GRAFFENREID MONUMENT

Movement Toward Erection of Monument to Baron De Graffenreid

MONEY TO BE SUBSCRIBED

Matter Had Been Dropped, But Interest Has been Renewed and Memorial Assured.

New Bern's monument to its founder, Baron De Graffenreid, is now almost an assured fact. At least, one would so judge by the interest that is being manifested by the citizens. Yesterday young Walnau who is securing the subscriptions for the fund secured an unusually large number of contributions and he has visited but few people. This campaign for securing funds for the erection of this monument is now well under way and there will be no cessation until the required amount has been secured. County Superintendent S. M. Brinson, who is treasurer for the fund, is engaged in securing information as to the cost of a suitable monument and will know within a few days just what amount will be required.

The location for the monument has not been decided upon up to the present time but this is not of material consequence just at this time. The main thing is to secure enough money to make the monument an assured fact and then select the location. The first list of contributors follows and this will be printed each week as the fund grows.

Every man, woman and child in New Bern will have an opportunity of contributing to this fund and every donation, no matter how small will be appreciated.

MANY LEAVE FOR GREECE. Called Home to Take part in Hostilities Against Turks.

Asheville, Oct. 9.—Twenty Greeks, who have been employed in various capacities in and around Asheville, answered the call to arms sent out by their government and left here yesterday for Greece, to take up arms against the hated Turk.

Members of the local Greek colony did not talk very much after the call to arms was issued, but from the general exodus yesterday, it seems that they immediately began to prepare for their trip to fatherland, and as a result, Greeks are scarce in Asheville today.

The Greek proprietor of a local restaurant said today that all the Greeks in the city capable of bearing arms, with the exception of the few that were absolutely necessary to carry on their business here, had left, and that thousands of Greeks would leave the United States in the next week, all bound for the fatherland.

On Thursday night, Presiding Elder Rev. J. E. Underwood will be in the city and will conduct prayer meeting at the Centenary Methodist church. Immediately after this meeting, the fourth quarterly conference will be held. All members are requested to attend.

WOMAN BLIND TIGER JAILED

Eleanor Thompson, Colored, Notorious Whiskey Seller, Arrested at Camp Perry

SAM LILLY TAKES THE WOMAN

Renewed Efforts Being Made by Government Men to Break Up Liquor Traffic

Eleanor Thompson, colored, and said to be one of the most notorious whiskey sellers in this section of the state, was placed under arrest Monday afternoon at Camp Perry by United States Deputy Marshal Samuel Lilly on a warrant charging her with retailing spirituous liquors without a government license. She was taken before United States Commissioner F. W. Hargett at Jacksonville for a preliminary hearing. Several witnesses were placed on the stand by the government and at the conclusion of the hearing Commissioner Hargett found probable cause and bound the defendant over to the next term of United States District Court under a bond of two hundred dollars. The woman attempted to secure this amount but was unable to do so and was brought to this city and placed in the county jail for safe keeping.

Deputy Collector J. E. Cameron and his deputy, Mr. Lilly, are doing all within their power to break up the sale of liquor in this section of the state, and during the past few months they have done excellent work as the records of the arrests made by them will show. The government, of course, cannot interfere when the person engaged in the sale of intoxicating spirits has a government license in his or her possession. But the records show that there are comparatively few such licenses in force in eastern North Carolina. When such a license is issued it is up to the local authorities to keep an eye on the owner for if he or she did not intend selling whiskey there would be not the least cause for them having the license. The government will attend to those without the license and the local authorities have only to secure evidence against those who have them. There is not the least doubt but that some whiskey is being sold in this section but the number of violators of this law have decreased at least one hundred per cent during the past six months. The condition has been brought about by the efforts of both the state and government officers.

FISH SCARCE.

The supply of fish on the market during the past few days has been inadequate to fully supply the demand. High winds have caused the fishermen to be unable to properly fish their nets. Shipments to outside points have been unusually small.

IN REALM OF SOCIETY

OPENING OF SOCIAL SEASON

Delightful Reception Yesterday Afternoon, The First of the Fall

Handsome Home of Mesdames Coyle and Whitford Scene of Brilliant Affair

The fine home of Mrs. J. B. Coyle and Mrs. Cordelia Whitford, on Craven street, was the scene of a brilliant social event yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, when Mrs. Coyle and Mrs. Whitford entertained at a pink tea in honor of Mrs. F. H. Babbitt, of Providence, R. I.

The house had been attractively decorated for the occasion, the color scheme of pink and white being effectively carried out with many potted plants and flowers and the scene was indeed one of liveliness as the soft glow of the many shaded candles and small electric lights fell upon the decorations and the beautifully gowned women.

Little Misses Elsie Jones and Harriett Dunn opened the door and presented the card tray to the guests as they arrived, while Mrs. E. K. Bishop and Misses Carolina Claypoole welcomed the guests in the reception hall.

Receiving in the parlor with Mrs. Babbitt, the guest of honor who was attractively attired in canary silk, were Mrs. Cordelia Whitford wearing grey and white, Mrs. J. B. Coyle, gowned in a becoming white voile dress trimmed with hand made lace and wearing diamonds, Miss Tille Pope wearing tulle and Mrs. E. A. Coffin in a gown of white mull.

From the parlor the guests were invited into the punch room by Mrs. John Dunn. In this room the color scheme of pink and white was artistically carried out with the many flowers and plants. Mrs. J. Vernon Blades and Mrs. W. L. Hand served delicious fruit punch.

Mrs. James Mitchell then ushered the guests into the dining room where Misses Louise Waters, Bessie and Mary Hollister and Mrs. John D. Whitford served cream and cake. In this room attractive pictures had been effectively used in the decorations and silver bonbon dishes filled with nuts added a touch of beauty.

About one hundred and fifty guests called during the evening and before leaving all expressed themselves as having greatly enjoyed the event and voting Mrs. Coyle and Mrs. Whitford the most charming of hostesses.

All members of the Woman's Club who desire to become members of the Household and Economics Department will meet in the club rooms this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

BASEBALL ENTHUSIASM

Local Fans Crowded About the Journal's Bulletin Board Yesterday

NEW YORK AND BOSTON TIE

If Baseball Interferes With Business, Give up the Business

Score	R.	H.	E.
Nrw York	6	11	3
Boston	6	12	2

With the weather ideal Fenway park, Boston, was crowded to its utmost capacity yesterday afternoon with delirious fans intent on seeing the second game of the World's Champion Baseball Series between the New York Giant of the National League and the Boston Red Sox of the American League. In the first inning the Red Sox put three men across the home plate. In the second inning the Giants made one run and in the fourth inning added another. In the fifth inning the Red Sox added another run to their list and it seemed to the thousands of spectators that they had the game cinched, but in their half of the eighth inning the Giants made three runs and the Red Sox added still another run to their score. From this time on the game was fast and furious and until the end of the eleventh inning with the score standing six to six the game was called on account of darkness.

Scores of local fans crowded around the Journal's bulletin board during the game and read the reports as they came in after each inning. Boston and New York seemed fairly well balanced in the esteem and personal devotion of the local fans. A multitude of facts and fancies and circumstances entered into determination of preference in a case of this sort. The most highly trained psychologist could scarcely take a look at a fan and name his preference in a world's series. If one of the contesting teams has on it a player who is well known or is a son of the South, that will win the favor of many. Sometimes it will be won because a manager has had hard luck in the past and is coming into his own. Your typical fan never forgets anything and never forgives. A crooked deal he thinks someone got away back in 1903 will influence his hopes and even his betting in the year of grace 1912.

Consequently every time a team made a run yesterday their act was rewarded by cheers in New Bern before the next side had time to get to the bat. It was the same way in Florida. Doubtless it was the same in San Francisco. The man who fired the shot heard 'round the world has a rival in every world's championship baseball series, when a base hit on the shore of the Atlantic means a yell on the sands of the Pacific. The third game will be played today at Boston and the Journal will begin to post bulletins shortly after 2 o'clock.

BOILER IN CITY HALL

At an early date a new boiler will be installed at the city hall for the purpose of furnishing steam heat for the building. The boiler now in use was installed several years ago and has done good service but is now almost useless. Bids for the new boiler were opened at the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen and the contract awarded. The entire heating apparatus will also be overhauled and put in condition.

MR. GUMBO BETTER.

Mr. C. C. Cumbo, who was shot and seriously wounded several days ago while assisting Deputy Sheriff D. H. Fleming in arresting a gang of negro thieves and who was taken to Stewart's sanitarium for treatment, is rapidly recovering and will be able to leave that institution within a few days. Mr. Cumbo's escape from fatal injury was remarkable, seventy-seven shot entering his body.

WHARF AT FAIR GROUNDS.

The wharf now being constructed at the Fair grounds for the use of the many boats that will land there during the week, is rapidly nearing completion. The structure runs out into the river for two hundred feet and at the end the water is deep enough for large boats to dock while smaller craft can tie up nearer the shore. A roof is being erected over the end of the dock so that merchandise can be landed there and allowed to remain for any length of time without being exposed to the weather.

TRANSPORTATION TO THE FAIR

Executive Committee of Eastern North Carolina Fair Association Met.

MOTOR CARS TO THE GROUNDS

Stock Company Organized to Operate A Line of "Rubber Neck Wagons"

The Executive Committee of the Eastern North Carolina Fair Association met last night to consider a proposition made by Messrs. F. M. Hahn and Al. Newberry relative to operating a line of motor busses between this city and the Fair grounds during the week of the Fair. The gentlemen making the offer asked that the Association donate the sum of $300.00 toward helping pay the expenses incidental to getting the cars to this city and operating them during the week. As the association would receive no return from this, the committee after discussing the matter decided to reject the proposition and adjourned.

Immediately after the adjournment the members of the committee met at private citizens and organized a stock company which will be known as the Oaks Traction Company, the object of which is to operate a line of motor busses during the week of the Fair. Ten thousand dollars in stock was subscribed and this afternoon Messrs. W. C. Willett and L. H. Cutler, Jr. will leave for New York where they will purchase the big cars. Four of these, each with a capacity of forty-seven passengers and sufficient power to carry a trailer in addition, will be secured and will be on the scene in time for the Fair.

The present plans of the stock company promoting this project are to operate the cars only during that week but there is a probability that the line will become permanent or at least that the cars will be used for sight-seeing vehicles with a regular run to different points in and near the city.

RESULTS IN SUPERIOR COURT

After being out for more than twenty hours the jury on the case of Tippet vs. the A. & N. C. R. Co. and N. S. R. Co., in which the plaintiff was suing for damages in the sum of $75,000 for damages received while on one of their trains, yesterday afternoon returned a verdict awarding the plaintiff $1,500.

In the case of Walter Morris and G. W. Morris vs. the Mills Campbell Lumber Company in which the plaintiff was suing for damages to some timber caused by one of the defendant's tram engines, the jury awarded them $80.00.

Considering that the majority of the cases on the civil docket, those which require time for their hearing, rapid progress is being made and the docket will be cleared before the close of the term if possible.

SEWERS FOR RIVERSIDE

Mr. R. R. Eagle has just completed a survey for a sewerage system for Riverside. Six thousand feet of piping will be used in this work and bids for the work will be advertised at an early date. This section of the city has long needed connection with the sewerage system and now it is an assured fact that this work will be done in the near future the citizens living in that section are greatly pleased.

HUNTING PARTY.

A hunting party composed of Messrs. Osman Baxter, George Waters, Ben Baxter and W. T. Hill left yesterday for several days' hunting trip down Neuse river. The sportsmen were well equipped with guns and ammunition and were confident of bringing home a quantity of game.

WEATHER

Forecast till 8 p. m. Thursday. For New Bern and vicinity, fair to night and Thursday. Warmer tonight. Moderate northeast to east winds.

For North Carolina. Fair tonight and Friday warmer tonight and south portion.
