

BOATMAN CHARGED WITH RETAILING

Noah Lee Had Been Under Surveillance of Local Officers For Some Time

HEARING SET FOR THURSDAY

Search of His Boat Revealed Presence There of Four Quarts of Banana Brandy

Noah Lee, captain of the gas boat Fanny Brevard which has a regular run between New Bern and Arapahoe, its home port, was placed under arrest by Chief of Police Lupton and Officers McDaniel and Iпок Tuesday afternoon on a warrant charging him with retailing spirituous liquors. Owing to the absence of a very important witness the preliminary hearing was continued until Thursday at 1 o'clock and the defendant gave bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at that time.

Capt. Lee has been under the surveillance of the officers for some time. Whenever the boat was tied up at the dock there was a continual fine of visitors going and coming. This, of course had a suspicious appearance. Tuesday morning a man purchased a half pint of rye whiskey from some one on the vessel and he claims that Lee is the man who made the sale. When the officers arrested him later in the day a search of the vessel was made and a carton containing four quarts of banana brandy was found. In addition to this an empty half-pint bottle identical in every way with the bottle containing the whiskey purchased earlier in the day was found.

He was carried before United States Commissioner F. W. Hargett at Jacksonville for a preliminary hearing but owing to the absence of a material witness the case was continued until next Monday and the defendant allowed to give bond for his appearance at that time in the sum of $150.

MANY FARMERS DO THEIR TRADING HERE.

Visitors to New Bern are impressed by the large number of vehicles which they see on the streets of the city and which bear unmistakable evidence of being driven by farmers. Last Saturday a Journal man counted fifty-three buggies and wagons standing in front of one of the livery stables and yesterday thirty-two were lined up in front of another establishment. The farmers of this section realize that they are treated fairly by the New Bern merchants and whenever possible come to this city to do their trading.

STREET CARS TO BE RUNNING SOON

In Two Weeks New Bern People Can Go to and From Their Homes on Them

ENTIRE LINE COMPLETED NOW

Dynamos and Engine Together With the Cars Will Be Here at Early Date

Within a few more days, probably two weeks, New Bern citizens can go to and from their homes and places of business on the street cars. Dr. E. C. Armstrong, one of the managers of the car line company, was interviewed yesterday by a Journal man, and he stated that the entire line had now been completed, that the contractors had turned the car barn over to them and the only thing now causing delay was the fact that the dynamos and engine for the power plant had not arrived. These have been shipped from the manufacturers and are enroute to New Bern and will be placed in the plant immediately after their arrival.

The placing of the dynamos and engine will require but a few days' time and everything will be in readiness for the operation of the cars which will have arrived by that time. Dr. Armstrong says that the cars may be in operation during the week of the Fair and in fact it is the intention of the management to make every effort to have them running that week. A number of prominent citizens have already asked for reservations on the first car over the line.

RUN DOWN BY TRAIN, LEG HAS TO BE AMPUTATED.

A colored man named Neal had both legs so badly mashed near Chocowinity Tuesday morning by the train enroute from this city to Norfolk that amputation was necessary. The man boarded the train at Vanceboro and at Chocowinity got off and started up the track. After the usual stop at that station the train pulled out and within a few minutes gained considerable speed. The engineer saw Neal at a point about half a mile above the station and almost in the centre of the track. He blew the whistle a number of times and when he saw that this had no effect, put on the brakes but the heavy train had so much momentum that it struck the negro before coming to a stop. He was placed in the baggage car and carried to Washington and placed in the hospital for treatment.

PIANO AND VIOLIN CLUB ORGANIZED.

Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock the usual Tuesday afternoon class in Theory met in the Griffin building at the Graded School. This class is regarded as most important and all of the piano and violin pupils are required to attend promptly and regularly. After the class the Piano and Violin Club was re-organized in the Auditorium. A good deal of enthusiasm was shown in the election of officers whose names are given below:

President, Nannie Willis.
 Vice-President, Esther Marks.
 Secretary, Lavinia Tolson.
 Treasurer, Catherine Stewart.
 Critic, Nell Bishop.

The club meets once each month and a program consisting of piano and violin selections by the different pupils is given. After the program come musical games and light refreshments.

STRAW LIDS LOOK ODD ON A FROSTY NIGHT.

With the temperature several degrees below the point where one can truthfully say they are comfortable and the air damp and raw, a lone pedestrian brayed the throngs and paraded down Middle street last night wearing a wide brimmed straw hat. That he was the centre of attraction goes without saying. All eyes were turned in his direction. Some ventured the suggestion that maybe he was paying a bet lost on the ball game yesterday afternoon, while others thought perchance he hailed from some climate where straw lids are not laid aside until along about Thanksgiving Day. However, the stranger paid but little attention to the furor he was creating and continued calmly on his way.

There will be prayer meeting tonight in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Mr. W. F. Aberly.

THE RED SOX ARE WORLD CHAMPIONS

Yesterday at Fenway Park, Boston Took Fourth Game of Seven Hard Fought Contests

THE SCORE, THREE TO TWO

Mathewson in Box for Giants, Speaker for Boston Knocks Home Run

The world's championship baseball series for 1912 is now nothing more than history and the Boston Red Sox are the proud possessors of the pennant. The eighth and last game of the series was played at Fenway park, Boston, yesterday afternoon and resulted in a score of three to two in favor of the Red Sox.

The eyes of every baseball fan in the country yesterday turned toward the Hub City and when the news was flashed over the country that Christy Mathewson and Meyers for the New York Giants and Bedient and Cady for the Red Sox had been chosen as the batteries for the game the hopes and aspirations of those who were "pulling" for the Giants rose considerably. It was a battle royal between pitchers and "Matty" showed himself far superior to his opponent in every way and in the eighth inning the latter was taken out of the box and replaced by Wood. The Red Sox made their first run in the seventh inning and in their half of the tenth inning Speaker knocked a home run with a man on base.

The following is the total score:

	R	H	E
New York	2	10	3
Boston	3	7	5

SWINDELL—HASKETT.

Yesterday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage Miss Bertha Haskett, of Newport, and Mr. Louis Swindell, of Fairfield, were joined in wedlock, Rev. J. B. Hurley performing the ceremony in the presence of a few relatives and friends. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple drove to the Union station where they boarded the train enroute to Raleigh. After attending the State Fair they will visit several cities in the north. Upon returning they will make their home at Fairfield where the groom is engaged in business. Mr. and Mrs. Swindell have many friends in this city who wish them much happiness.

TO INVESTIGATE SENATOR WARREN

Charge That He Misappropriated Funds of Senate Will Be Probed

EXPULSION TO BE ATTEMPTED

Said to Have Carried on Senate Payroll Persons Not Even in Washington

Washington, Oct. 16.—Senator Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, chairman of the Senate Committee on appropriations, will be the subject of an investigation by a committee of the Senate when Congress convenes next December and a determined effort will be made to oust him from that body on the ground that he has misappropriated the funds of the Senate.

This decision to make Warren follow in the footsteps of Lorimer has been reached as a result of a series of conferences between Progressive Republican and Democratic Senators. Some time ago a number of serious accusations were made against Warren. Included in these was the charge that he had carried on the Senate payroll a number of his relatives and employees who not only did no work for the Senate, but who were not even in Washington during the time they were receiving their monthly checks from the government. Senator Warren recently made reply to the attack. In this reply he admitted that his relatives and employees were carried on the Senate payroll and that they did not work for the government but excused himself on the grounds that the salaries drawn by them were more than balanced by sums which he had paid out of his own pocket for clerical assistance in connection with government work. Senators who have been waiting for Warren's reply now declare that his excuse is, in effect, a confession that he misappropriated the funds of the Senate. These senators assert that the misappropriation of the Senate funds furnish sufficient grounds for Warren's expulsion from the Senate.

It is declared that this movement to deprive Warren of his senatorial seat is entirely non-partisan and it is more than likely that the resolution demanding an investigation will be immediately after Congress convenes next December.

ADDS TWO MORE SCHOOLS.

The Southern Shorthand and Business University of Norfolk which has had branches at Newport News and New Bern for some time, is opening this week at Kinston. At Wilmington it has bought out the Southern Commercial School. This makes five schools under the same management. The school at New Bern under the direction of Prof. Holmes is doing exceedingly well and promises to become one of the strongest and best paying business schools in the State.

It sounds strange to hear talk of Christy Mathewson's being "too old" at 32, but baseball is a young man's game.

ODDS DECIDEDLY IN WILSON'S FAVOR

Roosevelt Strong in Illinois But Governor Holds Strongest Strategic Position

NO ONE WILL GET MAJORITY

Democratic Success Predicated on Same Republican Split That Exists Elsewhere

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 16.—If Theodore Roosevelt carries any one of the Middle Western group of States, he will carry Illinois.

No Presidential candidate will get a majority of the votes of this State. The 29 electors who win will win by a plurality. That much can be snatched from the maze of uncertainties in which the politics of Illinois is involved.

It is no means a safe bet that Roosevelt will win. The odds are decidedly in favor of Wilson. Democratic success is predicated upon the same split in the Republican ranks of Illinois that obtains in most States throughout the country. Normally, not even as attractive a candidate as Wilson could hope to carry Illinois on a Democratic ticket without a revolution.

The conditions that favor Roosevelt, it must be said are all on the surface. The enthusiasts for the most part are for him. The loud-talking and the claim-the-earth element is lined up behind the Bull Moose party, and that fact may have served to inflate his chances in the State. It has at any rate led a great host of people to believe that he will run first in Illinois.

This is the inevitable impression gained from talking with the people of Southern Illinois. That is the section of the State through which Hiram Johnson cut his widest swath.

Democratic leaders in the State, however, caution the political observer to keep a close watch on the northern part of the State. They say that Chicago, for instance, will go strong for Wilson and that the northern farmers, enraged at the Harvester and Twine Trust oppression, will turn savagely upon Roosevelt.

ORGANIZE DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

Tuesday night at Messic, Pacific county, a Wilson-Marshall-Craig Club was organized about forty-five members being enrolled. During the meeting Judge Carrawan, of Messic, and Mr. Carl L. Daniels, of Bayboro, made short speeches. Mr. A. T. Lincoln was made president of the club and Mr. Frank S. Jones was chosen as secretary. The object of the club is to boost the men after whom it is named and work for their election.

DON'T WAIT!

Only twelve days remain before the great Eastern Carolina Fair will be opened to the public. During this time the directors of the Fair have much to do and they ask that those who intend making exhibits do not wait until the last minute. All who intend making exhibits who have not already notified the secretary of the Association should do so without delay.

SHORT PASSING EVENTS.

The Washington Decorating Company, who have secured the building at No. 72 Craven street, have so transformed the front of the structure by the use of flags and bunting that it is a thing of beauty.

Mr. W. C. Willett and Captain D. P. Henry returned yesterday morning from New York where they went to purchase several large automobiles which will be used in handling the large number of visitors to the Eastern North Carolina Fair. The cars will be shipped during the next few days.

Mr. J. A. Wright, one of the owners and proprietors of the Beaufort News, was among the visitors to the city yesterday. He said that the fishermen at that place were making unusually large catches of fish just at this time and were finding a ready market for them at good prices.

The football game to be played at the Fair grounds next Tuesday afternoon between the New Bern team and the Graded School team, will be called at 3:30. No admission fee will be charged and the public is extended an invitation to attend.

The contractors who have charge of remodeling the Presbyterian manse on Johnson street are pushing the work forward just as fast as possible and hope to have the building ready for occupancy during the next three weeks.

COL. ROOSEVELT KEPT HIS NERVE

Dropped When Shot by Would-be Assassin, But Was Up Soon Waving to People

INSISTED ON MAKING SPEECH

"Don't Hurt the Poor Devil, He Doesn't Know What He Has Done", He Said

Chicago, Oct. 16.—"I will stand up. I must stand up now if I never do again," were Colonel Roosevelt's words to his cousin, Philip Roosevelt, a moment after the would-be assassin's bullet had struck him in front of the Hotel Gilpatrick, at Milwaukee, Wis. Philip Roosevelt, who was at the Colonel's side begged him to remain seated in the position to which he had fallen at the shot. Philip Roosevelt said that at the shot the Colonel, who was standing and waving hi hat at the moment, wavered and fell to a crouching position on the seat of the automobile.

"Sit still. Sit still, Cousin Theodore," urged Philip.

"No, I will stand up. Don't hurt that man. Don't let anyone hurt him. Bring him to me," ordered the Colonel, rising to his feet and speaking in his usual strong voice. "Don't hurt the man, Martin, the stenographer who was the hero of the occasion, was still holding John Schrank, the assailant, in his grasp. Henry F. Cochems, the progressive National Committeeman from Wisconsin, who had jumped in front of the Colonel, turned to him.

"He pinked me, Harry, he pinked me," said the Colonel with his hand over the wound in his right breast. "I got that all right."

"For heaven's sake, Colonel, go to a hospital," said Cochems. "Don't try to speak."

"I will go there and speak tonight," said Colonel Roosevelt with deliberation. "If it kills me. I will speak if I fall on the platform. I have a message to deliver. This may be my last chance to deliver it. I may be hurt worse than I feel. This may be my last speech. I am strong now. I want to go right away while I am good for it."

Colonel Roosevelt opened his waist-coat and bloody shirt and glanced at the wound. It was a black hole, surrounded by bruised and bloody flesh. Little blood came from it, which at first seemed to indicate the flow might be internal.

No doubt about the Colonel's prompt recovery is entertained by the attending surgeons, that is, if they can convince him of the necessity of keeping quiet and giving his wound a chance to heal.

Milwaukee, Oct. 16.—John Schrank, Col. Roosevelt's assailant, will not be brought to trial until after the election. State's Attorney Zabel so announces, stating that it would be unwise in his opinion to call the case during the final struggle in the Presidential campaign. He believes Schrank to be sane and says that the man should have the full penalty of the law.

TEMPORARILY DERANGED, INJURES HIMSELF.

Capt. George Wallace, who resides on Metcalf street, painfully injured himself by striking his head against a wall and throwing himself down a flight of steps yesterday morning while temporarily demented. Captain Wallace was injured by a fall several years ago and since that time has not been entirely himself. He was rational at intervals yesterday afternoon and it is believed that with treatment at a sanitarium in the Western part of the State where he has been taken accompanied by physicians and relatives, his condition will speedily improve. Much sympathy is felt for him and his family because of his affliction. He is another of Mayor C. S. Wallace of Morehead City.

CHILD BREAKS LEG.

While playing Sunday afternoon on one of the trucks being used in the construction of the street car line on Queen street, Cecilia, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Spicker had the misfortune to break one of her legs. The little girl, in company with several playmates, had been pushing the truck along the track and jumping on and off at intervals for a ride. In some way she fell and one of the wheels passed over her leg. Medical attention was rendered at once and she is rapidly recovering.
