BROKE SPEED LAW

Police Arrest Three for Hitting It Up too Fast.

Recently there has been much com. plaint in regard to the manner in which number of motorcycle owners were disregarding the laws regulating the eed of all vehicles. Sunday Chief Police Lupton gave his officers orders th arrest all offenders of this ordiance . whom they saw. It is generally supposed that Sunday is a day of quiet and rest but a person standing on any of the streets down in the business section. of the city on the last Sabbath afternoon would have been convinced that it was at least not a day of quiet.

A number of motorcycle owners had their machines out on a spin and it seemed as though they waited untilnear the center of the city and "opened em up." An officer was stationed near the corner of the Elks Temple and ere the sun had set, three offenders had been summoned to appear at the City Hall on Monday afternoon. They were E. E. Morris, Benjamin Baxter and Riley Patrick. Mayor McCarthy let them off on payment of costs but warned them that if they were brought before him again he would be more sexere with them.

Others before the Mayor yesterday were: Charlie Collins, colored, charged with
