WILSON ARRIVES AT CAPITAL CALLS ON PRESIDENT TAFT

He Led Party Met at Depot
By Committee Headed
By Thomas Nelson Page.

STREETS LINED WITH CHEERING THOUSANDS

Driven to Shoreham Hotel and Assigned to Presi-denial Suite.

Washington, March 3.—Woodrow Wilson, who tomorrow will be inaugurated President of the United States, arrived in Washington this afternoon at 3:45 on a special train accompanied by a large party. The president-elect and his party were met by a big reception committee headed by Thomas Nelson Page and William Corcoran. Events and were driven in automobiles to the Shoreham hotel where they were assigned to the presidential suite on the fourth floor.

The streets through which the presidential party were driven were lined with thousands of spectators and even after their arrival at the hotel it was found necessary to place five secret service men in the corridors in order to keep back the curious crowd.

The president-elect spent some time greeting relatives and then went with Mrs. Wilson to call on President Taft. The party was due to arrive at the White House at 6 o'clock and they arrived exactly on time. There, too, the grounds were crowded and as the president-elect and his wife drove through, in their automobile prolonged cheers rent the air.

The party proceeded leisurely to the blue room where President and Mrs. Taft received them. After an exchange of compliments and partaking of tea the party returned to the Shoreham hotel for dinner. Tonight the president-elect attended a smoker given in his honor by Princeton men.

The weather tonight is pleasant and indications are that tomorrow will be a beautiful day and that the thousands of visitors who are in the city will not be disappointed in any way.

The president-elect is in the best of health and enjoying everything immensely.

FIVE THOUSAND WOMEN PARADE

RIVALLED INAUGURAL EVENTS

Footsore Pilgrims of the "Cause"
Led Way Up Pennsylvania Avenue.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Women had a gala day in Washington today, a fete and pageant day to spur on the cause of equal franchise and to impress upon the minds of the men who are to rule the government tomorrow, their demand for an amendment to the constitution enfranchising women. Five thousand women participated in the pageant which moved up Pennsylvania avenue from the Peace monument to the treasury building and thence to Connecticut Hall where a monster suffrage meeting was held.

Rivalling in interest the preliminary events of the inauguration the suffrage demonstration attracted thousands of women to Washington from all sections of the country and many mass meetings were held in the city on Sunday. Accompanying the procession, which consisted of seven divisions was an allegorical tableaux on the steps of the treasury building, in which was impersonated Columbia, summoning to her side Justice, Charity, Liberty, Plenty, Peace and Hope. These attended by maidens viewed the procession after which they assembled at the hall where the final rally of the day was held.

Mrs. Richardson Coke Burleson was the grand marshal of the parade and Miss Inez Millholland of New York was the herald. Sections of the parade represented the progress and meaning of the suffrage movement, the first section typifying the "world wide movement for woman suffrage" was led by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the International Suffrage Alliance. Women from all countries where suffrage prevails marched in this section. The second section represented "Seventy five years struggle for freedom, for justice, conquering prejudice," and was exemplified in a series of floats piloted by Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, Miss Grace Ross, Miss Katherine Hitchcock, Miss Hazel Roberts and a mounted brigade of suffrage women.

The third section portrayed the idea that "man and woman make the State; man alone rules the State." Floats in this section revealed women in the field, the farm, the home, in patriotic service, in education, in medicine, law, labor, government and other fields of endeavor. "The appeal of the States" that of the sixth section. The fifth section comprised in-uniformed women marchers and the seventh section consisted of delegates from States where suffrage has been wholly or partially granted. Nearly all the women marchers were gaily uniformed and the floats and golden chariots were very attractive and created a very favorable impression.

FALLS ON BOTTLE, CUTS HIS FACE

SON OF REV. J. B. PHILLIPS IS PAINFULLY INJURED BY BROKEN GLASS.

Larry, the five-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Phillips, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon while playing in front of his parents' home on George street by falling on a broken bottle. It is claimed that an older lad came along and pushed the little fellow from the sidewalk to the street and in falling his face struck the jagged edges of a broken bottle, inflicting very painful wounds. A physician was summoned as quickly as possible and the child given medical attention. Last night he was resting easily and present indications lead to the belief that the wounds will not prove serious.

OLD BUILDING IS BEING TORN DOWN.

A force of workmen yesterday began tearing down the building on Craven street formerly occupied by the Journal and which was recently purchased from A. T. Dill by Eugene Williams. Mr. Williams will erect a large brick building on the site and this will be used as a garage by the New Bern Garage Company.

Miss Victoria Crumpler of New York arrived in the city Sunday night to take charge of Miss Jennie Sustain's millinery establishment.

Mrs. Bessie Carpenter of Raleigh, who has been visiting in the city for several days, returned home Sunday afternoon.

Atlantic Coast Life Savers In Action For Stranded Ship

Photos by American Press Association.

WHEN the Norwegian fruit steamer Nicholas Cuneo, outward bound from New York, was driven on to the Long Island shore during a terrific gale, the life savers found it impossible to reach the vessel. She was close in, but the high wind lashed the sea into such a fury that the life savers were beaten back each time they tried to reach the ship. When the storm subsided the steamer was found nearly high and dry, and Uncle Sam's men in the cork belts had no trouble in getting the crew off. The pictures show the life savers in action after the gale had blown over.

OLIVER FARMERS PLANT TOBACCO

NEW STOCK BEING PURCHASED

Sound of Hammer and Saw
Can Be Heard On All Sides. Farm Sold.

(Special to the Journal)

Oliver, March 3.—From present indications one would judge that the farmers of this section are planning to raise a large crop of tobacco this season. There are about ninety acres in cultivation around this place and this means that the owners of this land have got their hands full for the next few months attending to this crop.

One spirit of progressiveness which is evident in our town is that the farmers are getting clear of their old, decrepit stock and filling their stables with younger and more serviceable animals. Several thousand dollars have recently been spent in this manner by the farmers here.

There is considerable building activity around Oliver at present and the sound of the hammer and saw can be heard on all sides. Among the structures being erected is a tobacco barn by J. C. Moore, and a dwelling by R. P. Parker. Other buildings will be erected during the next few months.

We are glad to learn that the condition of Joe Nobles, who has been critically ill for some time past, is rapidly improving and will probably be out again within a few days. Mrs. Derby Parker who has also been seriously ill is rapidly improving.

M. H. Parker has recently disposed of his fine farm on the Quaker Bridge and Gum Branch road and will move in a few days to his place at Oliver's Landing.

CLUB REORGANIZED

Athletic Organization of Church Appoints Instructor.
The Athletic Club of Christ Episcopal church met in the parish house last evening and reorganized the gymnasium class. This class was first organized last summer and at that time a "gym" was fitted up in the parish house. Interest in the work lagged and the paraphernalia was but little used. Last night a physical instructor was appointed and hereafter on each Thursday night there will be regular work by the class. The gymnasium will be open at all times to the members of the class and they may use the outfit whenever they so desire. This is an innovation in church work for New Bern, but it is believed that it will prove a useful purpose.

Ned Delmar returned yesterday morning from a visit with relatives at Oriental.

NOW'S THE TIME TO WIN RACER

SO GET RIGHT TO WORK BOYS AND GIRLS AND WIN ONE OF THE GLAZERS.

Every person who has taken a course in the art of using a typewriter has encountered this sentence: "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party." So many times have they tapped this off on their machines that many of them can write it backwards, sideways or blindfolded, and all through their life they remember that "now is the time" and have grasped every opportunity coming their way.

The Journal has changed this sentence to read thus: "Now is the time for every boy and girl in New Bern to win a Marathon Racer." Several days ago the Journal offered to give one of these speedy, serviceable machines to every boy or girl who would bring in five new subscribers for three months each or a renewal for six months. A number have entered the contest and several machines have been awarded and can be seen gliding around the streets all during the day.

Now, there is no reason why every boy and girl in the city should not own one of these racers. It is an easy matter, to win one without spending a penny of your own money. Just say to your self, "Now is the time" and come right down to the Journal office, secure a subscription blank and get to work among your friends. If you cannot get new subscribers, just remember that two renewals for three months each will count the same as one new subscriber for three months.

If, after entering the contest, you find that you cannot get the required number to secure a racer, the Journal will pay you a liberal commission for each new subscription turned in. Now get busy. Don't delay another day. Get out among your friends, tell them just what you are doing and get their subscription. Its easy once you've started and in a short while you will be the owner of a Marathon Racer, a machine, which sister, or any member of the family can ride without the least practice.

YOUNG WHITE MEN CREATE DISTURBANCE.

Harry Huff and Whit Hurtt, two young white men of this city, were placed under arrest at James City Sunday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Thomas Smith on a warrant charging them with disorderly conduct. They were given a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. R. Barrington yesterday afternoon and were found guilty but judgment was suspended upon the payment of the costs of the case.

The Board of Aldermen will hold their regular monthly meeting tonight at 8 o'clock.

D. R. DAVIS DIES OF INJURIES VICTIM OF STREET COLLISION

FAVORS A STATE WIDE STOCK LAW

"A Close Observer" Believes Cattle
Should Not Be Allowed to Room at Large.

ERADICATE THE CATTLE TICK

More and Better Sotck Can Be Raised If Owners Give Them Proper Care.

Mr. Editor:

I read with much interest the article published in your paper headed "Against State Wide Stock Law." The voter who wrote this piece seems to see only the good things God has done for us in this sunny land we live in. He completely ignores the fact that when God made man and beast that he also made pests to annoy man and beast, and it has been proven beyond doubt that he also endowed man with power to destroy the troublesome pest. It has also been proven beyond discussion that to quarantine pasture land for two or three years the cattle tick, which has cost this country millions of dollars, can be eradicated.

Without this cattle tick, instead of raising scrub cattle, we will be in equal competition to the best stock raised in the United States thereby, instead of demanding scrub prices, our cattle will weigh two or three times as much and demand the best prices. It seems to be the idea of some people that all they want to do is to count in number what they own regardless of quality, while number counts for nothing as compared with quality. Besides the No. Fence Law does not prohibit "Voter" from fencing all the fine pasture lands he writes about to put cattle in, which he owns but one thing it does is having laws that will prevent his or any one else's scrub cattle from spreading the cattle tick and grazing on other people's land. Voter seems to think his cattle should be privileged characters and eat grass that does not belong to the cow or the owner of the cow.

Mr. Voter would take a little time, drive through some of our neighboring Counties, Pitt, Green, Wayne, Lenoir, Johnson, Nash, and all through Western North Carolina where there are thousands of acres of fine mountain grazing lands, where they raise and ship beef of the best quality, he will find these counties are free from cattle ticks and have the No. Fence Law. The farmers living in these sections would not have the Fence Law again under any consideration. The only reason Mr. Voter writes as he does is because he does not know; if he would take time and throw off selfish ideas, his views would be changed regarding the No. Fence Law very much.

Don't try to mislead. Let's have more cattle and better cattle and get rid of the cattle tick. Fence your pasture and have quality. Let one beef weigh what two will now and have quality instead of quantity.

Last winter I met a Northern gentleman who had spent quite a time in traveling over the different Southern and South Western States, looking for a place to locate, he was a cattle raiser and farmer in northern New York, on account of the severe winters in the north decided to move South. After spending some time in Eastern North Carolina, he thought that this section was the best he had seen, the opportunities far beyond other sections for the future. He told me if he was not for the cattle tick he would look no further, but would purchase a home and move. I have understood this gentleman did buy land and locate across the cattle tick lines. If our resources are so great without this pest, that we could get rid of by having a no fence law, why should the good people stay still and continue in the same oldrut. Let's be aggressive and take every advantage to improve our country, because Mr. Voter has his views on the cattle raising the better thinkers and cattle raisers of the United States who I dare say can learn Mr. Voter more about stock raising in one month than he ever knew all his life. So we must get rid of the cattle tick before we can ever hope to be a successful cattle raising section. I for one stand firm on the State Wide Stock Law and hope for the benefit of our farmers and State, the General Assembly that is now in session will see fit to pass the State Wide Stock Law.

A CLOSE OBSERVER.

Riding His Bicycle He Collides With Cart—Dashed to Pavement.

HEMORRHAGE OF BRAIN IS CAUSED BY FEARFUL FALL

Death Followed Last Night
Funeral Arrangements Not Yet Made.

While riding on Craven street on his bicycle shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning D. R. Davis, the well known druggist, collided with a mule and cart which was being driven in the opposite direction and was thrown to the pavement, sustaining injuries from which he died last night shortly after 11 o'clock. Bystanders rushed to the injured man's assistance and he was carried into the home of Dr. R. S. Primrose which was near the scene of the accident.

A physician was summoned and upon arrival he ordered that Dr. Davis be taken to his home on Broad street where an examination was made. It was not thought at first that his injuries were serious but later it was found that the base of the brain was injured and the patient slowly grew weaker until death ensued.

The news of Mr. Davis' death was a shock to every one who heard it last night. For many years he has lived in New Bern and was known and liked by all. He was ever the personification of cheerfulness, unselfishness and thoughtful consideration for others, while in his own family he never tired of little ministrations of kindness at every turn so that to the stricken loved ones, his going away is an infinite bereavement and an unfathomable sorrow.

Ten years ago Mr. Davis married Miss Mary King. Three children have been born to this union but in their youth they little realize their loss and the hand of sorrow falls heaviest on the heartbroken wife and mother. Mr. Davis is also survived by his mother Mrs. Laura Davis of Beaufort, who is now visiting at Norfolk, Va., one brother, Edward Davis of Ceo-gia and one sister, Mrs. Henry Hatfield of Norfolk, Va.

The deceased was forty-two years of age. He was the owner and proprietor of Davis' pharmacy and was one of the town's most progressive citizens. He was a member of Centenary Methodist church and a consistent worker in this church. He was also a member of the local lodge of Elks.

Arrangements for the funeral had not been completed last night.

NEGRO ATTACKS HIS TWO SONS

BOUND OVER TO COURT UNDER THE SUM OF ONE HUN-DRED DOLLARS.

John Kenyon, colored, who lives near the Long Wharf section in the southwestern part of the city, was before Mayor McCarthy yesterday afternoon to answer to a charge of an assault with a deadly weapon in the wee 'sma hours last Sunday morning on two sons, Herbert and George Kenyon. The affair created much excitement in that section and according to the statement of Policemen Bryan and McDaniel, who made the arrest, the scene of the collision resembled a slaughter house. From the evidence submitted at the trial Kenyon exhibited his prowess as a fighter and the scars on the bodies of his sons mutely attest the fact that there was a lively scrimmage. After hearing the evidence the Mayor bound the defendant over to the next term of Superior Court under a bond of one hundred dollars in default of which he was sent to jail.
