VOL. I

NEW BERNE, N. C., SATURDAY, APRIL 8, 1882.

NO. 6.

LOCAL NEWS.

Herrings in abundance; only 10 cents per bunch.

Growing rice was seen in the city yesterday two inches high.

Shad scarce; eighty cents per pair for roe; forty cents for backs.

Yesterday being Good Friday, we put no market reports in to-day.

The schooner Reuben was what we wrote yesterday, and not Levo, as the printer had it.

Forty car loads of iron and twenty of fertilizers are at the Railroad warehouse awaiting shipment.

The schooner Morning Star was at the Hughes wharf yesterday, unloading ice for Watson & Daniels.

Mr. M. Patterson has been importing some pressed-brick from Philadelphia, for use in the cemetery.

We notice on Clyde Line wharf a lot of lumber shipped by Mr. Cherry of Swift to Baltimore, via that line.

Seven car loads steel rails, and one of spikes, bolts and plates, passed yesterday for the Midland extension.

Rev. J. B. Parsons of Palestine will preach in Temperance Hall tomorrow night at usual hour. A cordial invitation is extended.

Mayor Howard thinks New Berne the most quiet city or town in the State. He says there has been a great improvement within the last year.

Capt. Southgate, of the steamer New Berne reports a very heavy fog in Pamlico sound on Thursday night. Says he saw nothing from 11 o'clock P. M. until 6 A. M.

About one hundred tubs of fish went up on the Midland yesterday. There must be a fishy set somewhere up the road. Besides these we saw a large number of barreled fish go up on the freight this morning.

Mr. J. A. Meadows' grist mill has been running on full time this week. He contemplates raising his building to four stories, and raise the corn from the boats to the fourth story by means of elevators. His facilities for handling, grinding and bolting are already the best we have seen.

Messrs. J. M. White, Aleck Tilghman and R. W. King, of Kinston, came to the city yesterday. Mr. King has a list of over one hundred and fifty names of the business men of Kinston, petitioning the Post Office Department to require the mails to be received and opened at Kinston on Sundays.

Personal.
Sheriff Koonce J. B. Banks and Lewis King of Jones county were in the city yesterday.

Messrs. Bryant Bonner, Benj. Thompson, Alex. Cuthrell and Geo. Litchfield of South Creek, Beaufort county, were in the city yesterday.

Arrival of the New Berne.
The steamer New Berne arrived yesterday morning with a good load of general merchandise and the following passengers: Mrs. Martin and sister, Mrs. S. H. Lane, Miss Harriet Lane, Miss Tate and Miss Baker of New York.

New Paper.
The first number of the Kinston Free Press is before us. It is edited by Messrs. C. W. Howard and C. E. Daniels, and published by Mr. Josephus Daniels, and is a very creditable paper, both in its matter and make-up. It is Democratic in politics.

Fire in Kinston.
A small fire in Kinston on Thursday night. At about half-past eleven a small dwelling on Heritage street, near the Stubbs House, belonging to Mrs. Mary A. Hunter, caught fire by accident and was consumed in a short while. By the aid of vigorous work the adjoining buildings were saved. No insurance.

False Alarm.
A little after ten o'clock last night the fire alarm was given, and the fire department came promptly to time. We happened to be in the third story of the printing office when the alarm was given, and before we reached the ground the Atlantic engine was out and out of sight down the street.

It turned out to be a false alarm, and happily no one was to be found.

An Unique Walking Cane.
Captain Berts, of the steamer Neuse, has a walking cane which he purchased while on the West India Islands. It is made of whalebone, the head being whittled out of a tooth with a pocket knife, exactly in the shape and color of a chicken snake in a striking position, by a Portuguese. He was certainly a good whittler.

Departures.

The steamer New Berne cleared yesterday at 2 P. M., with a full cargo of cotton, naval stores, green truck, among which was about ten boxes of peas, &c., &c.

The Neuse went out at 9 P. M. with a heavy load of general merchandise for Kinston.

Freight Arrivals.

Freights at the Midland depot on Friday morning consigned to the following parties:

T. H. Mallison, A. R. Dennison, D. Bell & Co., C. L. Dickinson, Watson & Daniels, S. M. Buckman, J. W. Sandlin, J. L. Rhem, W. L. Arendall, A. D. Wade and G. N. Ives.

"City Items."

We have no "ad" under the head of "City Items" to-day. The firm of C. E. Foy & Co. gave us one on Tuesday to run one week, but yesterday sent notice to take it out as the articles advertised had all been sold. We are happy to mention it as due in part to the advertisement in the JOURNAL.

New Berne Market.

COTTON, Middling, 11. Low Middling, 10 1/2. Good Ordinary 9 1/2. Ordinary, 8.

Only five bales sold yesterday.

TURPENTINE. So sales, market unchanged.

TAR. No sales, market unchanged.

CORN. Market active with an upward tendency. Sales of 2,000 bushels at 85 cents in bulk.

South Creek.

We visited this fertile section of Beaufort county in 1872 and viewed the fairest farming lands that we had ever seen. The country then was comparatively a wilderness and bears were nearly as common as hogs. Meeting Mr. Bryant Bonner is the city yesterday, at whose home we stopped in our visit in 1872, we inquired particularly after those South Creek bears. He says that the rapid clearing of the lands, and the bear hunting in the last few years have nearly cleaned the bears out; although not very long ago an old darkey in the neighborhood asserted that he counted twenty-five in the field in one night. The South Creek people, Mr. Bonner says, have in the last year or two commenced planting rice.

The Atlantic Fire Company.

Last night we had the pleasure of witnessing a drill of the horses of the company at their quarters, next door to the JOURNAL office. If we were to tell the length of time required to hitch to the engine and get out on the street, it would be incredible to those who never saw it. The horses are kept in stalls just in rear of the engine, and the men sleep in the engine room. Upon hearing the fire alarm one of the men jumps to the doors and throws them open, the other strikes a gong, and immediately the horses walk out and place themselves under the harness, which are suspended by means of cords and already fastened to the engine, and in less than a half minute from the time the stalls are thrown open, they are on the street in a run for the fire. Next week we will attend a drill of the New Berne's.

The New Berne Rice Mills.

On yesterday we paid our first visit to the rice mill of Mr. Elijah Ellis and found it in operation. Any one accustomed to the ordinary rice mills that have existed in the county for near a century would be surprised at the amount of machinery used in the process of cleaning here, as well as gratified at the manner and simplicity with which the work is done.

The rice is entied from the sacks into a hopper on the floor and is taken by an elevator to the fourth floor where it passes through the sand screen, taking out all the dirt, trash, chaff &c.; from here it goes back to the lower floor into a hopper and passes through the rocks to take the hull off; it is conveyed to the fourth floor and passes through a screen which takes out all the grains that were not hulled in the mill, from here it goes to the fan on the second floor, and then to the mortar to be pounded. After the pounding it is carried by an elevator to the fourth floor again, passes through another screen to take the flour out, then to another fan then to the polisher, from thence to the separator and lastly into the turce.

The separator divides the rice into three grades; short, middling, and whole rice, each grade going into a different tierce.

The capacity of this mill is about four hundred bushels per day, and is undoubtedly a great incentive to rice culture in this section as it makes a better market for the producer.

Dr. Canedo failed to meet his obligation to pay over $153,000 for the Cape Fear and Y. V. R. R., and hence the road awaits a new proposition. Everybody says, "I told you so!"—Laurensburg Enterprise.

The Representative at Large.

When we learned that there was to be no extra session of the Legislature, and consequently no redistricting of the State, we thought we foresaw an occasion for the exercise of the largest breadth of view as well as wisdom of selection. Who shall be the candidate of the Democratic party for the ninth place? He must be voted for by the electors of the whole State. He must be a man whose record is just as unassailable as if he were the candidate of the party for Governor. He must be so much above all reproach that he will be invulnerable at every point. He must be so free from "entangling alliances" that no section can object to him upon that score. He must be of such elevation of character that good men in voting for him shall deem it a matter of pleasure and satisfaction. He must be a man who commands the respect of all classes and conditions of mankind. He must be acceptable to the East and to the West. He must be a man of talents. He ought to be a good speaker on the hustings, for he may be opposed by a strong popular advocate. Who is the man?—W. L. Star.

Crop News.

The news of the crops, which comes in from all parts of the country, is very encouraging indeed. The farmers are certainly hard at work. The estimates seem to be that the area planted in cotton will this year be in Wake from a fourth to a third less than last year. But it is noticed that the third or fourth lot is made up in another and important way, that is, that much more corn will be planted. The area in wheat and oats is now said to be larger than at any time since the war. The weather, since farm operations began, has been all the most exacting farmer could wish, and now every one is busy, too busy to come to town. The ground is breaking beautifully, remarked a granger yesterday, and he went on to say, further, that the crop prospects were actually so good that not a man could by any chance grumble at them.—News and Observer.

How is it that corn is selling in Lenoir county for 75 and 80 cents, and here in Wayne, and adjoining county, it is held for one dollar per bushel. There is no question about corn being a scarce article, but there is no doubt about there being enough to supply the demand; and there should be no extortion in prices.—Goldsboro Review.

The meeting of colored citizens in Goldsboro last week is supposed to have political significance, although some said they came because the earth was too wet to work on the farm, and others wished to enjoy a cheap ride, etc. Between now and the State election, politics will be badly mixed.—Baptist Courier.

STATE NEWS.

Gleaned from our Exchanges.

Raleigh imports asparagus from Goldsboro.

Wilmington had forty fire alarms during the past year.

Kinston Free Press: Kinston ought by all means to have a cotton factory.—Our fish market is bountifully supplied. Fresh fish are to be had on the streets every day.—The Methodist church is to have a new coat of paint at an early day.

Morning Star: Eggs are again retailing at 20 cents.—Grown chickens are selling at 80 cents to $1 per pair, and turkeys at 22 cents per pound.—Spirits turpentine was on the boom again yesterday, having sold as high as 60 cents per gallon, an advance of 2 cts since Monday.

The Daily Bugle: A Cigarette factory is the next new enterprise in Greensboro.—Greensboro has long been noted for its schools, its hotels, its stores, pretty women and sweet flowers—with plenty of tobacco factories its prosperity is assured.—Judge Schenk has certainly bought the beautiful Ogburn residence, and will soon become a citizen of Greensboro.

Farmer & Mechanic: The Raleigh bar is becoming as strong in numbers as in names and learning.—Hon. Geo. V. Strong, and Geo. M. Smedes, Esq., have formed a legal partnership. Wisdom, learning, good looks, and popularity, are a good stock in trade to start with.—The New Berne Daily, (also the Weekly Journal) is at hand, and we congratulate Bros. Harper & Nunn in making a seizable start, in size, style, and salubrity. The latter expresses our idea for a daily newspaper; viz:—plenty of news, in paragraphs, with editorial comments, but not, or very rarely, long editorials. Moreover to have decided views in politics, but not allow them to do injustice to the opposition.

Daily Review: The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 168 bales, and those of yarn, 1,085 barrels.—We are very sorry to learn that Mr. B. D. Morrill, a venerable citizen of this place, was stricken with paralysis at his residence here on Sunday last. His left side is paralyzed and his condition is considered very critical. We trust that we may soon hear more favorable reports as to his condition.
