NO. 32.

LOCAL NEWS.

A new wharf is being built at the Reddick Mill.

Several boat loads of corn in yesterday. Prices advanced a little.

The New Berne will arrive this morning, and sail at the usual hour.

Seven bales of cotton sold at the Exchange yesterday. Prices unchanged.

The steamer Trent has improved considerably in appearance since receiving a coat of paint.

A burst up in Manwell and Crabtree's machine shops yesterday. Very little damage done.

The Cornet Band discourses music near us every evening lately. Music is sweet and consoling after a blue day for locals.

Mr. W. M. Watson returned from Raleigh yesterday morning. He went on an insurance tour and was quite successful.

We regret to learn that Mr. F. M. Simmons was in a critical condition at one time yesterday, from the bite of a spider. Late yesterday evening he was much improved.

Chief Marshal Wainwright had marshalled his decorators and was busy at work yesterday evening festooning the Robert E. Lee and the S. H. Gray for today's picnic. We anticipate a pleasant day's entertainment.

Rev. F. W. Eason left yesterday to attend the Southern Baptist Convention in South Carolina. The Convention represents the Baptist churches in the Southern States and has a constituency of one and a half millions of white members.

Cottonseed hulls seem to make a very valuable fertilizer, contrary to common opinion. Major Dennison used some on a very poor spot in his garden, planted in Irish potatoes, and by comparison with land fertilized with stable manure, the cotton seed hulls are better. The potatoes planted in February are now larger than walnuts, and very smooth-skinned.

We have before us a copy of the Deaf Mute's Journal of New York, dated May 4th, and containing a very interesting account of a reception given to Prof. Frank B. Clarke by the members of his class in the Deaf and Dumb Institute of that city.

Professor Clarke is a son of ex-Judge Wm. J. Clarke and Mrs. Mary Bayard Clarke and passed several months of the past winter and spring in this city seeking relief from incipient consumption, which he happily found in the pleasant climate and from his physicians' skill.

Bell Telephone for New Berne.

Mr. J. F. Anstin of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, arrived yesterday morning and will begin work immediately on the lines to be constructed in the city. The Board of Councilmen have already granted the right of way.

Died.

At Hickory Grove, Craven county, on the 8th inst., of paralysis and continued fever, JAMES HUGHES, only son of Richard and Annie B. Berry, in the seventh year of his age.

The funeral will take place from the residence on Middle street at 5 o'clock this (Tuesday) afternoon. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

Mrs. B. H. Gaskins of Little Swift Creek on Monday morning, May 8th, of Pneumonia. Aged about 40.

Onslow Finances.

A communication from Richlands in this issue goes for the party leaders of Onslow. It is well for us to state that the JOURNAL, by publishing the article, does not endorse as true the statement of facts therein set forth. We publish a newspaper and if the facts are correctly stated, the showing is a bad one. If incorrectly given the JOURNAL is open to reply to the parties hurt by the letter. We suggest to correspondents to write short letters if publication is desired.

New Berne Enterprises.

The lovers of "lager" in New Berne will note with pleasure that our enterprising townsmen, Mr. E. H. Windley, has at length induced Messrs. B. P. Sale & Co., of Norfolk, Va., to establish a branch of this business in our city. When they shall have completed their arrangements they will have ample facilities to supply not only the city but the entire country east of the West W. R. R. with fresh beer. The firm has taken one of the buildings on Flanner's wharf, three doors below the Cotton Exchange; have built an ice-house, put in a Baxter engine, a Hoyt Bros. lighting bottle washer, and the lovers of the beverage will now have an opportunity, which they have never before enjoyed, of getting fresh, pure beer, unhurt by fermentation. Heretofore that cellent reputation as a musician, coming from the best European schools, and as he expects to make New Berne a permanent home, the lovers of music here will have the advantage of his great skill and practice.

Mayor's Court.
A little more than the usual crowd had assembled at the police headquarters yesterday morning, which was an indication that something of importance was on hand.

Marshal Gaskill called the court to order as His Honor took the chair. W. T. Burgess was the first called. He was charged with committing an assault and battery on John Haley last Saturday night.

Mr. L. J. Moore appeared as counsel for the prosecution and stating that Mr. Haley was unable, on account of the injuries received, to attend court, asked that the hearing of the case be postponed until Thursday morning.

"May it please your Honor," said Mrs. Burgess, stepping forward, "can I speak a word? I wish to state that I have seen Mr. Haley and he was sitting up. I want a habeas corpus warrant for him immediately!"

"You will have to appeal to a higher court," suggested counsel.

Mayor—"The counsel in the case has made the statement that Mr. Haley is not able to be here. I cannot hear the case without him. The case is continued until Thursday morning 10 o'clock. Mr. Burgess will give bond for his appearance at that time."

Prisoner—"Can I be allowed to go out for fifteen minutes on my own recognizance?"

Mayor—"I will leave you with the Marshal; he will give you time to hunt up your bondsman."

The case of Ella Selby for larceny was next called and set for Thursday.

Court adjourned.

Letter from Dr. Burkhead.
NASHVILLE, TENN., May 3, 1882.

The General Conference of the M. E. Church South convened this morning at 9 o'clock in this city. Bishop Paine in the chair.

Bishop Kavanaugh read the 259th hymn (which was sung by the whole body), and then prayed a most appropriate and touching prayer.

Bishop Pierce read the 63d chapter of Isaiah, and Bishop Keener read the 3d chapter of Ephesians. Bishop McTyre read the 88th hymn and Dr. J. E. Evans, of Georgia, prayed.

The roll was then called by Dr. Leftwich.

Dr. T. O. Summers was elected, by unanimous vote, Secretary, with Drs. Vincil and Leftwich as assistants.

Dr. R. A. Young delivered an appropriate address of welcome to the hospitalities of Nashville.

The time of meeting and adjourning was fixed.

The Presiding Elder and the pastors of the churches in Nashville were appointed a committee on public worship. Then Bishop H. N. McTyre read the address of the Bishops. This address is a well considered paper.

A most impressive scene then took place. Bishop Paine, in well chosen words, asked to be retired from the active duties of his office. He said he had been a Methodist preacher for sixty-five years, and thirty-six years a Bishop.

You will doubtless see the Daily Advocate, and call such items as you may think proper to publish. If I can find time I may write you an occasional note.

Onslow Letter.

RICHLANDS, OSNLOW CO., N. C., May 4, 1882.

EDITORS JOURNAL:—Perhaps a short account of the way in which some things are done in this Democratic (?) county would not be uninteresting to the intelligent and thoughtful readers of your paper. At its last regular session the Legislature passed an act to authorize the Board of Commissioners of Onslow county to levy a special tax, not to exceed one-third of seven thousand dollars, each year for three years, to be applied to the payment of the present outstanding indebtedness of the county.

This indebtedness does not extend back beyond 1876, for at that time the Board of Commissioners then in office published a statement showing the county to be out of debt and a surplus of money in the treasury. In addition to the special levy of one third of seven thousand dollars, made last year, the said Commissioners made a regular levy, to the full extent allowed by the Constitution, upon all subjects of taxation in said county, to meet current expenses; and "current expenses" are supposed by some of the taxpayers to include the payment of jurors for services incident to holding two courts a year in this county. Notwithstanding this, the writer is informed that at the close of the late term of Onslow Superior Court the jurors, after being taken by the call of the law from their homes and farms and workshops at this busy season of the year, and paying from their private funds the necessary expenses attending four days of arduous service, did not receive the pay from the county to which they were entitled. And yet we are told that the special levy was made for outstanding debts, and the regular levy was for "current expenses." It seems from this that paying cash to jurors for services rendered in the court is no part of the current expenses of Onslow county. This county is said to be Democratic, and Democratic officials manage, or try to manage, its financial affairs as well as its political machinery, and the foregoing is a fair recital of the manner in which they succeed, and have been succeeding for lo! these many years with the county finances. Their success in running the political machine is shown in the fact that at the last two elections the county sent Independents to the Legislature. The late term of the Superior Court for this county, was held by Judge Gilmer, who is an exceedingly agreeable gentleman, and who is regarded as one of the very best circuit Judges on the bench. His genial manners, his patience, his learning in the law, and his fine business habits, and the strict impartiality with which he dispenses justice, are some of the many qualifications which pre-eminently fit him for the office he fills.

It is to be regretted that the attention of Judge Gilmer was not invited in open court, to the matter of paying jurors. We believe, if an earnest appeal in this behalf had been made, and a true state of the case had been presented to him, that he would have used all proper means to correct the evil.

A term of the United States Court was held in New Berne, last week, at which were present citizens of this and also of Jones county, known to the writer hereof, as Jurors. These Jurors received their full pay for every day's service, and their mileage too, in Cash. That court is also presided over by an able, upright and impartial Judge, but a Republican in politics. That court is officered by Republicans, and its officers are appointees of a Federal Administration, also Republican in politics.

The court officers in Onslow are Democrats, or claim to be such. Further comment is unnecessary.

WARWICK, JR.

The New Officers.

The impression made by His Honor Judge Seymour and the new District Attorney, Mr. W. S. O'B. Robinson during their first term of Court in this city, are very flattering. His Honor took a firm stand against professional jurors and has succeeded in breaking up the association of partisan jurors. Mr. Robinson handled his cases with much ability and dispatched the business of the Court. Floral trophies were presented to His Honor and his able District Attorney as tokens of appreciation of their uniform courtesies to those attendant upon Court.—Wil. Review.

Got Married.

A correspondent informs us of the marriage, on the morning of the 17th inst., in Pender county, of Mr. A. Hanning, aged 84 years, and Mrs. Martha Wilson, aged 77 years. The youthful couple have our kindest wishes for a happy and prosperous career; but we hope the "old folks" had been fully advised of the step.—Wil. Star.

On taking the chair Mr. Hubbard, in stating the object of the meeting, addressed the meeting in an eloquent tribute in memory of Mr. Rumley, arraying his many virtues in an earnest and forcible way.

Judge Thomas, submitting the resolutions, addressed the meeting in a forcible and feeling manner. The resolutions are as follows:

WHEREAS, Since the last term of the Superior Court for Carteret county, James Rumley, late Clerk thereof, has departed this life; and whereas because of his services faithfully, honestly and acceptably rendered for many years, the Bar especially are desirous of testifying their respect for his memory, therefore

Resolved, That in the death of James Rumley, late Clerk of the Superior Court for Carteret county, the members of the bar have sustained a great and irreparable loss.

Resolved, That we tender our condolence and sympathy to the relatives and friends of deceased.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in the Telephone and New Berne Journal, and that the Chairman be authorized to present them to the court with the request that the same be spread upon its records.

Messrs. H. R. Bryan, M. DeW. Stevenson, Swift Galloway, Clement Manly, Stephen W. Isler and Col. Piggott paid tributes of remembrance to the noble dead.

On motion of Clement Manly, Esq., the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Judge Thomas in submitting the resolutions, asked the Chairman to report the same to the Superior Court and request the Judge to allow them to be spread on the minutes of the court.

On motion of Mr. Simmons the Chairman was asked for a copy of his remarks that they might be published with the proceedings of the meeting.

On motion of Mr. Isler the meeting adjourned.

A. G. HUBBARD, Chm'n.
CLEMENT MANLY, Sec'y.

(From Beaufort Telephone.)
ADDRESS OF CLEMENT MANLY, ESQ.

Mr. Chairman:—It was only for the last three or four years that it was my good fortune to know and to love the pure man to whose memory we meet to do honor this morning. I knew him when the frosts of life's winter had silvered his hair and rendered venerable his noble form and courteous manner.

What was his youth? what was the fresh spring of his life? what was the generous manhood—the rich, golden summer? I can only tell from the fruition of the autumn, hanging like a laden tree burdened with the fruit of virtues that can know no decay—virtues that live eternal and that illumine with a lustre the crown of human character as stars lighten the dark sky. To every office of his life he brought that manly purity of character, that none knew him but to do him honor. In public office or in private trust, in every position, he carried with him an influence for good, which breathed upon the company like an incense—vulgar expression was stilled in his company as in that of wives and daughters; rivalry was hushed, the voice of blasphemy was silent.

And yet Mr. Chairman, for all his virtues and nobility, it has never been my fortune to meet with a man who deserved so little credit for it. Nature made him honest and no vice crept into his thoughts, but found evil repugnant to his growth.

He lived in his own world.
"As some tall cliff that rises above the sea,
Swells from the vale, and midway leaves the storm,
While round its breast the raging clouds are spread,
Eternal sunshine settles on its head."

God grant that in every action of our lives where doubt shall enter the mind as to its propriety, we may turn to the example of him to whom we pay tribute this day, as a guidance of rectitude.
