Cucumbers in market yesterday.

The telephone wires are being fixed.

Major Dennison of this city has ripe peaches.

Ten bales of cotton sold at the exchange yesterday.

Country apples were offered yesterday at fifty cents per peck.

M. D. W. Stevenson Esq. leaves this morning to attend the U. S. Court at Raleigh.

The New Berne carried out yesterday nine hundred and sixty barrels of potatoes and eleven hundred boxes of beans, squashes etc.

Mr. E. J. White, of this county, from one fourth of an acre of land, sold on Tuesday 24 barrels of potatoes for $182, and has five barrels of culls left.

There are just about 1000 men in and around New Berne who are grieving because they didn't plant Irish potatoes this year.

The Allen Cultivator is becoming widely known. Two were shipped today on the steamer New Berne, one for Cotton Plant, Arkansas, the other for Florida.

We are requested to announce that the Enterprise, a newspaper to be published at Stonewall, Pamlico county, will not appear until the 10th, inst. The delay is caused by the failure of the material to arrive in due time.

At the regular meeting of the Board of City Councilmen held last night Councilman J. L. H. Missillier of the 2nd Ward tendered his resignation which lies over under the rules until the next regular meeting. Mr. Missillier has been with Geo. Allen & Co. of this city many years. He goes to Henderson the last of this month where he will open a hardware store.

The remains of Fulton L. Powell, of Fleming, West Virginia, who was drowned on Saturday, were deposited in Cedar Grove Cemetery on yesterday morning. A number of the printers of the city, with other citizens, assisted in paying the last tribute of respect, and the Rev. F. W. Eason read the burial service and offered a touching and affecting prayer. On his grave were placed several bouquets of flowers, prepared by Mrs. N. S. Richardson for the stranger dying away from home.

Big Profit on Irish Potatoes.

Mr. Elijah Ellis sold six barrels of potatoes from his garden on yesterday which were raised from ninety cents worth of seed on a plot of ground 60 by 30 feet—over 100 barrels per acre. They brought $5.00 per barrel including culls. Big pit on the investment.

A Query.

Messrs. Editors:—A friend who has been visiting the city for several weeks inquires if the Revenue Cutter, Stevens, ever leaves port, or does it ever go out on a cruise. Can you answer the question?

We know nothing about it. We believe the Cutter is placed here for the purpose of detecting smugglers, and we suppose they know when to cruise and when to lie in port.—Ed.

Wouldn't Wait.

Yesterday a colored man drove in an ox from the country and offered him for sale to the butchers at the market. The bargain was closed at $18 with one of the butchers, but before the money was passed another butcher, Mr. McGinn, thinking that he recognized the ox as one belonging to Mrs. Edward Perry above Pollockville, began to question him, and the more he asked questions the more anxious the negro was to get his money until his anxiety excited suspicion; finally he slipped off without waiting to get his money, leaving the ox in the hands of the butcher. It is no doubt a stolen ox.

Steamer Accommodations.

Yesterday morning while in conversation with Capt. Southgate, of the steamer New Berne, he spoke of the many accommodations afforded the public by his boat—nice passenger rooms, polite servants, fine table, etc.; "and in addition to all this," said he, "the fish are coming aboard of their own accord, so we can have them right out of the water into the frying-pan. While coming in this morning a fine mackerel so long (measuring about forty inches with his hands) jumped aboard, making a leap of about eight feet through the port hole."

While the Captain was relating this story, which was a true one, a pair of Spring chickens came along and wanted to fly aboard, but it took forty cents to raise their wings.

Marine News.

The steamer Contentee came in from Vanceboro yesterday with cargo of lumber and tar.

The Trent from up Neuse with Irish potatoes.

The steamer Louisa cleared for Baltimore with a full cargo of lumber, rice, wooden plates and naval stores.

The New Berne came in at the usual hour and carried out a good cargo of Irish potatoes, beans, etc.

The schooner Ohio, Scarborough master, from Sladesville, Hyde county, with cargo of corn.

The schooner Goldthwait, Rose, master, from South Creek with cargo of corn partly consigned to J. A. Meadows.

The Wolfenden, Lupton, Master, from Bayboro with cotton and corn.

Meeting of Road Commissioners.

On next Tuesday the commissioners appointed by the Legislature to construct a road from near Barker's bridge in Carteret county via Catfish Lake to the Newport road near W. Foy's Craven county, will meet in this city to organize and take steps towards having the road made. The following are the committee.

Messrs. H. R. Bryan and W. Foy, of Craven county, Thos. S. Gillet, F. Foy and G. W. Koonce, of Jones county, and Dr. W. H. Barker of Carteret.

This road was surveyed about two years ago by W. A. Jones and others, and it is found to shorten the distance for the people of Carteret and White Oak in Jones county, who bring their products to New Berne, from 12 to 15 miles. It is of much importance to this city and the people of that section which it reaches. It also penetrates the public lands of the State, and if justice was done this section convicts would be put upon the road and it would be constructed in a little while. We intend to keep hammering at the authorities until the law is complied with in regard to the Quaker Bridge road; and we insist that the next Legislature shall assign convicts to this and other roads through the pocosins.

Personal.

Philemon Holland, jr., is attending the Commencement Exercises at Trinity College.

Mr. William Asber, a prominent merchant from Swift Creek, was in the city on Tuesday.

Mr. Hezekiah Davis sold three barrels of Irish potatoes on Tuesday for $17.50, raised on a little spot in the garden.

Mr. F. D. Koonce of Richlands, went up to Raleigh today, to help Col. Johnson run his Independent-anti-Prohibition Convention.

John Pearce of Pollockville brought down five barrels of Irish potatoes yesterday, raised from a half bushel of seed, which he readily sold for $6 per barrel.

Mr. H. C. Fosue was in the city yesterday with wool for sale. He got 20 cents per pound. He has some fine Cotswolds that yield eight pounds of wool at a clipping.

Mr. Adolph Cohn of Swift Creek, called to see us on Tuesday. Mr. Cohn is expected by his friends to deliver some anti-Greenback speeches during the coming campaign.

Thos. S. Gillet, of White Oak, Jones county, was in the city yesterday. He says the crops in his section have improved rapidly for the last few days. When he saw the crops in the neighborhood of Lee's Chapel he felt glad that he lived on White Oak. He contemplates going into sheep and cattle raising soon.

Kinston Items.

Sides, 14c. per lb.

Eggs, 10c. per doz.

Corn, 90c. per bushel.

Shoulders, 14c. per lb.

Meal, $1.00 per bushel.

Hams, N. C., 16c. per lb.

Turpentine, virgin, $2.00.

Flour, extra, $7.00 per bbl.

Pork, mess, $23.00 per bbl.

Flour, family, $8.00 per bbl.

Rice, rough, $1.00 per bushel.

Turpentine, yellow dip, $2.50.

Chickens, spring, 30c. per pair.

Chickens, grown, 50c. per pair.

Cotton, nothing doing in this market.

Abram Noble col. has the finest swamp corn in Pink Hill township.

It is reported that L. B. Cox and R. L. Parrott, each in his own interest, are trying to trim the tail feathers of our postmaster. He says, however, these feathers cannot be cut.

Robert H. Rountree, a former citizen of this place, now a New York millionaire, is on a visit to his old associations. He appears to be as "sound as a dollar," and has worked himself up among the solid men of the great commercial metropolis of this country.

Henry R. Strong, book-keeping with Rountree, Barnes & Co., of Wilson, N. C., paid us a visit last Saturday. From his movements it is fair to conclude a certain Craven county belle has given him a terrible blow in the "left anaconda region," as Mrs. Partington would say.

William Sutton, U. S. pensioner of the war of 1812, was in town today. He is probably the oldest white man in the county—will be eighty-seven years old next August; has never been drunk, has never had a fight, is in fair health, hopes he is a Christian, is a strong Henry Clay Whig, and has a very poor opinion of the parties of the present day.

Commencement exercises at Chapel Hill having closed, "them literary fellows" from Lenoir county, T. R. Rouse, J. D. Miller, W. D. Pollock and A. T. Hill, who have been "rubbing their backs against the college walls," have returned to their homes. The two last mentioned young gentlemen were on our streets last Saturday, looking intellectual as a Boston transcendentalist.

The Republican County Convention at Kinston last Saturday was large and harmonious. Among many others E. R. Dudley, Esq., of New Berne, was present, happy as if Hubbs were already nominated. Elisha Grady and M. Lanier, of Hubbs persuasion, were appointed delegates to the district convention at Wilson, and W. J. Pope and L. H. Fisher delegates to the State Convention at Raleigh.

Saturday last was the liveliest day in Kinston within twelve months. The Republican Convention, and the preliminary examination of Henry Kennedy, charged with the murder of Lewis Croon about a month since, drew a large and excited crowd. Justice Harvey took the evidence and committed the accused to jail to answer at our next Superior Court. The prosecution was conducted by Jackson & Loftin and H. F. Grainger, Esq.; the defence by Wooten & Gray and A. J. Loftin, Esq.

Light in Darkville.

It was in one of the New England towns, and way back yonder when gas was first beginning to throw the tallow dip and the oil lamp in the shade, than the following pathetic incident occurred.

There was published in the town the weekly paper which had grown up from the village, times, the good old Editor having been not only a chronicler of all events, but as it were—a sort of guardian of the young and thoughtless—a protector to the weak and friend to the poor, while he was at the same time, the boon companion of the wealthy and everywhere considered as good authority on law, physic, religion, politics and improvements as Webster was on spelling and definitions. This good old man was named Grace, and well did he appreciate the importance of the position he occupied as Editor-in-chief of the most influential paper (to them) in the universe.

With the keen eye of an eagle did he watch every thing that looked like innovation on the good old primitive customs and manners, and with equal eagerness fastened his powerful talons in whatever presumed to offend his idea of propriety.

But alas! science had plumed her wings and was hovering over the devoted town. Gas had been introduced as a better illuminator than the candle or the lamp. Stock companies were forming and laying pipes and hanging chandeliers in the more fashionable and progressive towns; dividends were being declared on the stock and gas had a decided boom in the land, when it was moved to organize a company in Darkville and light the town with gas. Father Grace, whose opposition had always been sufficient to kill any measure before found, to his surprise, that he had encountered one innovation too strong for him, and that the people were determined to see for themselves.

Editorial after editorial was written against it. Persuasion, cautions, admonitions, threats and entreaties were all exhausted, but to no avail. The company was formed, and the select men had agreed, not only to take gas for the town, but also a little of the stock for themselves. Heart broken and sad the old man went to his chamber and wept and as he wept he wrote and published the following:

"I'm glad the sun and moon are both hung up so high;

That no aspiring hand can pluck them from the sky;

If 'twere not so, I do believe that some presumptuous Ass

Would pull them down, and then propose to light the World with Gas.

Attacked by a Lion.

LANSING, Mich., June 4.—Yesterday one of the employees of Forepaugh's circus went into the lion's cage, and was attacked by the animal, which fastened its jaws in his arm. The beast was shot, and its jaws were pried open to release the unfortunate man.

To the Trustees of the New Berne Academy:

In the Lower Department of English the First Distinction was assigned to Master Oscar A. Kaffer; the Second to Masters Sam'l C. Bishop, Josephus G. Brinson, Chas. Case, Chas. S. Hill and John T. Hollister; the Third to Masters Edward Carter, Matthew Gordon, Ernest M. Green and Chas. H. Jones.

Master Jas. McC. Brinson has not been absent nor tardy during the month.

In the Primary Department of the Academy the First Distinction was assigned to Masters Harry B. Brock, Wm. Rue and Wm. Smith; the Second to Masters Edward Ervin, Alphens Fulcher and Wm. Harrison; the Third to Masters James Moore, Thos. B. Smith and Hugh Woods.

Respectfully submitted,

M. FETTER,

Principal of New Berne Academy.

By order of the Board,

CHAS. C. CLARK,

President.

STATE NEWS.

Cleaned from our Exchanges.

Beef is scarce and high in the Wilmington market.

Wilmington had a brewery in 1844—in the good old days.

Greene county has indorsed Swift Galloway for re-nomination as Solicitor.

More than 600 persons have been converted in Raleigh during the past year.

Raleigh heads us on the cabbage business, showing one weighing 14½ pounds.

The Federal Court is in session at Raleigh, Justices Bond and Seymour presiding.

The irrepressible Jo. Turner is again to the front. He was to lecture on Monday night in Raleigh on "Temperance, Hard Times and Reform."

Two ladies of Wilmington were robbed on the street in front of their home on Saturday night at about 9 o'clock. The thief made his escape.

The Goldsboro Normal School opens its session on Tuesday next—a combination of the Teacher's Institutes of the two counties of Wayne and Greene. We predict it will be as ably managed as anything of the kind anywhere in the State.

Wilson Advance: We are pleased to record this week the happy marriage of our very clever friend, C. B. Braswell, a prominent young farmer near Whitakers, to Miss M. B. Parris, of La Grange, daughter of Rev. John Parris. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father at La Grange; Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock, and the happy couple shortly after took the train for Whitakers, their future home. Upon their arrival at Whitakers, where a goodly number of the waiters accompanied them, the happy pair were given a reception at the residence of Mr. Braswell's mother.

New South: Capt. V. V. Richardson, Chairman, has called a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of the Third Congressional District to be held in Wilmington, June 8th.—The German brig Kronprinz von Preussen, Capt. Klein, was cleared from this port for Paysandu, Uruguay, South America, Thursday, by Messrs. E. Peschu & Westermann, with 169,337 feet of lumber, valued at $36,865.00.—The British schr. Kate Carleton, Capt. Thorndike, was cleared from this port Saturday by Messrs. Northrop & Cumming, for Bridgeport, Barbadoes, W. I., with 200,000 feet of lumber and 26,700 shingles, valued at $3,808.

Goldsboro Messenger: Our Wilson friends are taking steps for conducting the graded school, which has met with such success, another session. The Principal, Prof. Tomlinson, and four teachers were re-elected, and already $2,400 has been subscribed by the citizens towards defraying the expense of the school. More is needed and expected.—The closing exercises of La Grange High School on Friday last, passed off highly creditable to both pupils and teachers and afforded a very enjoyable entertainment to the friends of the school present. Capt. R. P. Howell who attended speaks of the efficiency of the pupils in highest terms. The address of Mr. H. F. Murray is spoken of as quite a literary treat. We hope to receive particulars for our next issue.

Carteret County Telephone: On Thursday last, Capt. P. F. Lanphear captured about 5,000 mackerel, and a monster Black turtle, which latter was ten feet wide, six feet long and two and one half feet thick. We regret we do not know his exact weight, but he was a "whopper."—A large square rig vessel laden with a general cargo from the East Indies abandoned and on her beam ends drifted about within four miles of the Cape Lookout Light house for four days, offering to the pilots and boatmen, of this county a magnificent opportunity to make a profitable use of her, but no one ventured out, and she was finally on Thursday of last week taken hold of by the Baker Wrecking Company of Norfolk and a steamer from Philadelphia and towed North. Is there another place on the coast, where people think so little of the filthy lucre or use so little exertion to get possession of it?

A Compliment.

The Rev. N. M. Jurney of this place, has recently been commissioned Special Correspondent of the New York Herald and in view of the relation this great daily sustains to the press of the Country, and the well known business principles which control the management, this appointment is certainly a compliment to Mr. Jurney. He has been instructed to report the sermon and the speech of Dr. Tallmage, and the address of Dr. Laferty, to be delivered at the approaching commencement of Trinity College, and also the names of the graduates and the prizes awarded on the occasion.—Beaufort Telephone.
