T. P. Clarke has been appointed a clerk in the post office at this place.

The exercises of Miss Harrison's school will close to-day at 11 o'clock with spelling bee.

The first number of the Pamlico Enterprise from Stonewall is before us. A very creditable paper.

Mr. J. L. Rhem received three fine watermelons on Wednesday night from his plantation in Florida. They measured 15 inches in length.

The Theatre To-Night.

The speaking at the theatre to-night should draw a large crowd. Mr. Simmons is a fine speaker and the audience will be well entertained.

Board of Trade Excursion.

The Board of Trade made their sea voyage yesterday in the steamer Trent. They sailed up the river to Spring Garden; fished to their heart's content; sailed down the river to Riverdale, and steamed into port about night singing the "Good Old North State."

For Pollockville.

We learn several ladies and gentlemen of our city intend to take a trip to Pollockville on the steamer Trent to-morrow. The steamer will sail from the foot of Craven street at 7 o'clock, and those who leave home before breakfast can get their breakfast on board the steamer at 8 o'clock.

Don't fail to secure your tickets to-day, for the trip to Pollockville to-morrow.

Personal.

We were pleased to meet in the city yesterday Mr. James M. Kornegay from near White Hall in Lenoir county. He is one of the largest and best farmers in that section, and reports the crops pretty fair.

Mr. Willie Rhodes of Pollockville was attending Miss Corinne Harrison's examination yesterday.

Capt. Southgate came in yesterday, in charge of the Shenandoah. He has now a vessel worthy of him.

Capt. H. A. Bourne General Superintendent of the Old Dominion Steamship Co, and Mr. Geo. V. Sloat, Superintendent Engineer in same company, came in on the Shenandoah yesterday. We hope their visit may be a pleasant one.

Arrival of the Shenandoah.

"What a beauty!" "She's a daisy!" "Not half has ever been told!" Such remarks greeted the arrival of this new steamer as she came into dock yesterday evening. And indeed it is difficult to tell how nice the Shenandoah is; and the best description is to say it is one of the magnificent Bay steamers running between Baltimore and Norfolk transported to our waters. The saloon and state rooms are very much like the Bay steamers, and every convenience is made for passenger accommodation. We do not know a nicer trip than can now be had to Nag's Head by this boat. It will be something out of the beaten route for New Berne pleasure seekers and will doubtless receive their attention. The Shenandoah is by far the most magnificent steamer that has ever entered this port.

We are requested by the agent of the company to state that the citizens are invited to go down and inspect the steamer.

Miss Corinne Harrison's Examination.

The closing exercises of Miss Harrison's school opened on yesterday with general examinations; will continue to-day, with a "spelling bee" added to the examination; and to-night there will be a distribution of prizes and medals at the theatre and an address from Mr. F. M. Simmons.

The examination was very similar to the one reported in the JOURNAL about five weeks ago—no arranged programme, but the children allowed to be examined by any of the audience. We can only give a short notice and merely note some distinctive features in the school.

1. The children are likely to become good theologians—judging from the number of Bible verses repeated. We heard Dr. Gloss once tell how to put oneself to sleep, and it was, "to repeat from memory a verse from the Bible commencing with each with a letter in the alphabet, one commencing with A, one with B and so on; and that before getting through one would fall asleep." This might do for people generally, but the girls in this school would be apt to run through before getting sleepy. The object of this work as well as memorizing the poetry is to cultivate memory.

2. Writing by counting secures accuracy and uniformity.

3. The exercises in Mental Arithmetic shows a cultivation of mind as well as memory.

4. The classes in Written Arithmetic show thoroughness and familiarity with "the reason why." The highest class was tendered to the audience to be questioned on any example in Venable's Practical Arithmetic, and they passed through the ordeal without missing a question.

5. A new feature had been introduced in Grammar—diagramming. No royal road has ever been found in the study of Mathematics, and people educated under the old regime are apt to think that there can be no improvement on any of the methods of the good old times; but this is a mistake, and the diagram system illustrates the March in grammar. By means of it young minds can more readily grasp the idea of the structure and relation of language. It is a picture, and through the picture the child grasps the relation and dependence of the words and sentences. The progress made by the children in the diagrams reflects great credit on the teacher. When we visited the school, five weeks ago, this had never been taught; but a visit to the Goldsboro Graded School convinced Miss Corinne of its usefulness, for beginners at least, and hence its introduction. The audience could see that rapid progress had been made, for some of the pupils had Reed & Kellogg's Graded Lessons perfect.

The northwest corner of Middle and South Front streets was once considered a "bad stand," as several failures were made there in succession. For the last six years it has been occupied by a man who regards it as one of the best stands in the city. That man is

K. R. JONES.
He came to New Berne in the winter of 1875, clerked for Gates, Foy & Co. until the spring of 1876, and then commenced business for himself, without experience, without customers, everything to build up from the start, but possessing an indomitable will and a determination to know no such thing as failure, he has built up a handsome trade and succeeded where failure had been the rule before. He keeps a large stock of heavy and fancy groceries, a splendid line of dry goods, boots and shoes, and furnishes farms and country stores at wholesale and retail prices. Next door, O. U. C. here is

E. WHITMAN,
who opens at the peep o' day. Those who stop at Whitford's and Henderson's are early risers. Whitman's "eye openers" prepare them for a hearty breakfast. He has been in business here since 1865, and has been successful. Across, on the opposite corner, are

C. B. HART & CO., on the Northeast corner of Middle and South Front streets keep a good stock of hardware, stoves, lamps, tin ware etc. etc. They have been in business here for two years and are gradually building up a good trade. They possess the necessary qualifications to succeed and will doubtless do so. A few doors up and we come to one of the most prosperous merchants in New Berne. He carries a large stock of hardware. Stoves a specialty, oils, paints, house furnishing goods, sash, doors and blinds. He was off to "Hog Island" when we called, but we have evidence sufficient to know that he is doing a good business. Strict attention to business, sober and industrious habits, and judicious investments, are the secrets of his success. He began business with Mr. DeW. Stevenson, John S. Long, W. G. Bryan, L. H. French and W. G. Brinson was appointed to draft resolutions endorsing Hon. Charles C. Clark and recommending him to the Congressional Convention for the nomination of Congressman-at-large.

Mr. M. DeW. Stevenson as Chairman of the committee, reported the following resolutions, prefacing the same with some appropriate remarks:
WHEREAS, the Democrats of the second Congressional District have no prospect of representation in the National House of Representatives unless a democrat from this district be nominated for Congressman-at-large, and
WHEREAS, we have cheerfully submitted to the present condition of affairs for the good of the party in the State, and we think that it is but proper and just that the nominee for Congressman-at-large be selected from this district, provided we can offer a man fully competent and qualified for the office.

Resolved, That we, the democrats of Craven county in mass meeting assembled, heartily recommend our distinguished fellow citizen Hon. Chas. C. Berry's Extra Early, that is said to stand frosts better than any other variety. They have been in use for nine years. Dr. Berry is getting a fair share of the trade in his line. Near by is

M. H. SULTAN,
Who came to New Berne four years ago direct from Germany. He clerked for Mr. Cohen and peddled on spectacles for two years and in this way opened the eyes of the people that they might closely inspect the splendid stock of dry goods, dress goods, clothing, shoes, etc., that he keeps on hand. Has been doing business for himself two years; commenced on small capital; has now a good trade; carries a large stock of goods and has no debts. But he should thank Roger Bacon for inventing spectacles.

E. H. MEADOWS
dealer in drugs, seed and guanos, is on the corner of Middle and Pollock streets. He studied medicine under Dr. Primrose; was with him in the drug business until 1870 when he bought out the doctor and continued the business for himself. Dr. Meadows deals largely in seed for truck farms. He makes a specialty of the Meadows Premium Pea that has been so successful for the last two years. He also has an extra early cabbage grown especially for his trade. The fine cabbage brought to this market by Col. J. N. Whitford were grown from these seed. The Dr. makes a visit North every summer to look after his stock of seed. Success in trucking depends largely on the quality of the seed; the seed dealer should understand the minute details of the business in order to save his customers from imposition. On the opposite side of Middle street from Meadows' drug store, is the Weinstein building, an imposing brick structure, occupied by

WILLIAM SULTAN & CO.
Mr. Sultan came to New Berne direct from Germany. He clerked for five years, and then formed a partnership with Silberstein for two years. He has a very commodious store and keeps it well filled with goods. Wholesale and retail, makes use freely of printers ink to let the people know what he has. Buys for cash and sells for cash, hence, no bad debts, no mortgages to record, no use for the sheriff. He has a polite set of clerks and is bound to succeed.

East of Meadows on Pollock street and close by is
who has been in this market for sixteen years—twelve years at his present stand. "I buy for cash and sell for cash," said he as the reporter approached him. "All I want you to say is to tell the people if they want goods cheap to call and see me." We were surely glad he told us what to say, but if he will allow us we will mention his polite and good looking clerk, Duffy, and those handsome sewing machines, Domestic and Hartford, which he has on hand.

Our next advertiser on this row is manufacturer of fine Havana cigars. We visited his factory not long since, and told about the different brands he makes, the number of hands worked, and what a decent looking set he had. He is an industrious man, sticks close to his business, and makes several brands of cigars good enough for any man to smoke.

JOHN DUNN
is a large dealer in confectioneries. He also manufactures candy, and has a large run on stick candy at present. He has an extensive trade, and is doing a good business.

Mass Meeting.
At 12 o'clock the meeting was called to order by Mr. W. G. Brinson, who, on motion, called F. C. Roberts to the chair.

On motion, Mr. S. R. Street, Jr., and Clement Manly Esq., were made Secretaries.

On motion of M. DeW. Stevenson, Esq., a committee of five, consisting of M. DeW. Stevenson, John S. Long, W. G. Bryan, L. H. French and W. G. Brinson was appointed to draft resolutions endorsing Hon. Charles C. Clark and recommending him to the Congressional Convention for the nomination of Congressman-at-large.

Mr. M. DeW. Stevenson as Chairman of the committee, reported the following resolutions, prefacing the same with some appropriate remarks:

WHEREAS, the Democrats of the second Congressional District have no prospect of representation in the National House of Representatives unless a democrat from this district be nominated for Congressman-at-large, and

WHEREAS, we have cheerfully submitted to the present condition of affairs for the good of the party in the State, and we think that it is but proper and just that the nominee for Congressman-at-large be selected from this district, provided we can offer a man fully competent and qualified for the office.

Resolved, That we, the democrats of Craven county in mass meeting assembled, heartily recommend our distinguished fellow citizen Hon. Chas. C. Clark for the democratic nominee for Congressman-at-large, and earnestly request that he may be nominated for that office, being satisfied that no man in this district or in the State would make a more efficient and successful canvasser, or give greater satisfaction when elected.

Mr. Long seconded the resolutions and urged the necessity of action and diligence in prosecuting the claims of Hon. Charles C. Clark for the prominent position with which his name has been connected.

The resolutions were heartily and unanimously adopted.

Messrs. Adolph Cohn, J. W. Harper and F. M. Simmons Esq., spoke to the resolutions rallying the friends of Eastern North Carolina to actively in securing the nomination of the distinguished son of New Berne.

Mr. J. W. Harper moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify Mr. Clark of the action of the committee, and the motion being adopted, the chairman appointed Messrs. J. W. Harper, Brice Ippock and F. M. Simmons.

On motion it was resolved that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the newspapers of this city and those of the State be requested to publish the resolutions.

A good refreshing rain here last Monday night.

The recent good rains and warm weather are bringing out cotton, corn and other crops and with a favorable fall, the usual yield will be realized through this section.

Thomas Lindsay, Esq., of this place and Miss Emma Fields, daughter of John Fields, Sr., were united in marriage, on the 21st instant, at the residence of the bride's father in Lenoir county.

Last Monday afternoon was a regular one—gauze—undershirt—no vest evening being hot enough to cause even a talking saint of Tuckahoe frequently to repeat the name a California town, "Yuba Dam."

John F. Wooten, Esq., who has recently travelled through Lenoir, Duplin and Sampson counties, says the cotton and corn are small, but look very well and promising. He thinks a full crop of both will be made.

Daniel E. Perry has just returned from an extensive trip of observation in the middle section of the State and "before Richmond" Virginia and reports the wheat and tobacco crops very fine and promising. Granville county beats the world in pretty girls and such other items.

A man once stood on London bridge all day offering to sell a golden guinea for a shilling and did not get a purchaser; but an executor was more successful here a few days since, who stood for a few minutes only on the steps of our Court House, offering to sell a certain individual note which "works while the owner sleeps" and sold it for $11.30 "cash on the griddle." People are wondering if this note has worked any while the present owner sleeps.

Washington News.

We have a street sprinkler which is very refreshing these hot days.

Mr. J. A. Bryan, of Aurora, shipped a bushel and a half of very fine peaches to New York this week.

E. M. Brown of the North State Press, is absent from his office this week, on a business trip to Wilmington.

Miss Lida Bell, the handsome daughter of J. H. Bell of Tarboro is sojourning in town as the guest of Mr. J. N. Bell's family.

Mr. J. E. Clarke of your city, passed through town last week en route for the Pantego commencement. He looked fresh and happy.

The New Berne Hack takes on a new driver this week, in the person of Mr. Adolph Asher of Poplar Springs, Craven county. He is polite, courteous and exceedingly handsome.

Dr. J. F. Latham, one of the most scientific farmers of this county, has ploughed up part of his cotton crop and replanted, and the prospect is very encouraging for the young crop to overtake the old.

The steamer Washington is making her regular semi weekly trips to Aurora, Oregon, Makeleville, Haslin, Pantego and Leechville. Owing to the exceedingly low fare the farmers in those sections are coming to town by water instead of the usual long tedious land route. They can come to Washington and do all their business and return, and the round fare is only two dollars.

Dr. Pritchard delivered an address at the Pantego commencement full of wisdom and sound practical sense. The doctor was hard on mortgages, believing they were the source of much evil to the farmer. He is down on imported hay, and counseled his hearers that with more education they would compete with the North and become a manufacturing and great people. It was estimated that over 500 listened with the greatest anxiety to the scholarly effort.

Your correspondent made a trip to Hyde county last week, and viewed the crops. Current lack of township is suffering for water. There has been no rain in several weeks and it is impossible to get good drinking water. The trunks for catching drinking water are nearly all dry. The farmers catch rain water in March sufficient to last through the season, with a small quantity during the spring showers. Wheat is being harvested and the crop is medium. Cotton is rather small for the season, cotton is large enough to hill, and work will begin in earnest soon as the heavens send forth copious showers. The rice crop is looking better than corn and cotton. We saw the schooner Varina at Smith Creek loading with corn and will arrive in your city in a few days. Capt. Bell leaves the reputation of being the most pious captain that plies the Neuse and Pungo rivers. He is never known to use a harsh or rough word. If the storm is furious and disaster is inevitable, he takes it all with cool and sober deliberation.

OCCASIONAL.

Jones County Items.

Refreshing showers recently.

Mr. J. M. Pollock, who was cut last Saturday evening, is improving.

The farmers of the county have been making unfavorable reports of their crops, but they have vastly improved in the last several days, owing to the recent showers and warm weather.

While the farmers of this county complain of the backwardness of their crops, I would pronounce them very good, and especially so in comparison with the crops of Duplin, Sampson and Pender counties.

Little Alice, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Parker, died last Sunday night. We offer our sincere sympathies to the parents in their great bereavement, but they should be consoled knowing that their little daughter is in the Allwise Creator, for He giveth and He also taketh away.

The people of the town and community are very jubilant at the renewed prospects of a railroad. The counties of Jones and Onslow made a proposition to Mr. Best, which has been accepted. Every one agrees that a railroad would be a great benefit to the whole county as well as the immediate section through which it runs. But the great question heretofore has been the cost, and the proposition, as it now is, is as reasonable as could be asked for, and I think by all means should be accepted. It is a generally accepted proposition that railroads and internal improvements generally do more towards the general development of the resources of a country, and more to the general prosperity of the country, than anything else. And that being so it is not our duty, does it not behoove us to work with all our might and determination for an early completion of a road through our county.
