The sale of dog badges was very brisk yesterday.

Watermelons sold for thirteen cents a piece by the boat load yesterday.

New window blinds are being fixed to the Masonic building. A much needed improvement.

Corn was booming yesterday; $1.02 in bulk and $1.04 in sacks was the price. The buyers say, however, this is above the market price.

We are pleased to learn that our young friend D. N. Farnell of Onslow has secured a position in the Signal Service at Washington D. C.

Three knotty cases before the Mayor yesterday. One continued for want of witnesses, one dismissed on payment of cost, one dismissed—charges not sustained.

The Barque Winlow arrived at Morehead City last Saturday evening with 478 tons of steel rails for the Midland Railway. This completes the contract for 5,000 tons.

We are glad to learn from Mr. Robert Hancock Jr., that Hon. O. Hubbs is giving his personal attention towards getting the daily mail route between New Berne and Washington. The need for it is so great that we feel sure he will succeed.

A short trip to Mr. Noah Rouse's on Sunday proved very enjoyable. His crops as usual are good, especially a 16 acre field of beautiful rice, and as to his fruit, one would think we had not had any before and probably would not get any more for the season.

James Gooding, a young man of Pamlico county, passed through the city on Monday on his way home from Kinston where he has been attending school at the Collegiate Institute during the last year. He contemplates returning this fall. He would probably stop here if a Graded School was in operation.

The School Fund.
The subscription list grows steadily. Yesterday morning Mr. Alex. Miller's list showed $1,635, which, added to the $900 already in, makes $2,535, and the other three canvassers, we suppose, have enough to run the list up to over $3,000. Eight of the Academy Trustees have joined the Association.

Died from a Fall.
We learn from Mr. F. L. Perry who came up from Morehead City on Monday morning that Mr. James Liddick, a bar tender for J. H. Miller, fell from the second story of the Atlantic hotel saloon on Sunday night, receiving injuries from which he died during the night. It is not known at what hour of the night he fell; he was discovered about 2 o'clock a. m. and was lying at that time. His remains passed up on the morning train.

A Preacher in Court.
Ezra E. G. Hill had a singular case before him on yesterday. It appeared that a Rev. Mr. Johnson, colored, and a Rev. Mr. Marsh of the same church had some unpleasant words in the presence of Marsh's wife who took sides with her husband. On last Sunday Marsh's wife attended Johnson's church, being a member of the same, and took her seat. Johnson had begun the services when he discovered Mrs. Marsh, whereupon he ordered her out; she refused; he ordered the Deacons to carry her out—they refuse to act in the premises, and Johnson took hold himself; she persisted in her refusal, and Johnson dismissed the congregation. Mrs. Marsh goes to justice Hill and gets a warrant for an assault; the Rev. gentleman appeared before the court and plead guilty to the charge. While all this is going on the Rev. Marsh is off on a preaching tour.

Steamboating.
See the new advertisement of the Trent River Transportation Company. Their new steamer the L. H. Cutler is up for Trenton on Wednesday July 19th at 9 o'clock p. m. This company is doing a thriving business (now running 3 steamers) and it very justly merits the patronage so liberally bestowed upon it by our people.

The stock of all our river steamers is good and is eagerly sought after by our business men here and elsewhere and also by many of our most successful farmers on Trent and Neuse rivers. Every business man or farmer in this section should take a share of stock in one of these companies and thereby become identified with one of the most prosperous and successful enterprises ever inaugurated in this section.

Off for Hyde.

The Tiger Lily left on its regular trip on Monday, for Hyde county, carrying the following passengers: Messrs. Frank Midyette, S. S. Fisher and E. L. Mann, Mrs. Wilborn, Miss Wayne and Miss Burris. Among the freights were consignments to W. P. Burrus, Wilkinson & Midyette, J. M. Hall, W. T. McKinney, Geo. I. Watson, J. M. Clayton, W. R. Swindell, J. M. Spencer & Bro., D. R. Midyette, and Geo. W. Swindell. Also a lot of lumber to construct a Midland wharf and warehouse at Swan Quarter.

Among the passengers of the Trent on its upriver trip up the Neuse on Monday were Mr. Jos. Kinsey and lady going out to their country home. Our river steamers are making such regular and frequent trips that those living near the river are becoming accustomed to visit New Berne in this manner rather than with horse and buggy.

River and Marine.

The steamer L. H. Cutler came in from Vanceboro on Monday.

The Tiger Lily sailed for Hyde county about noon on Monday.

Schooner Gov. Vance, S. H. Spencer, master, arrived Saturday night from Engelhard with a cargo of corn consigned to J. A. Meadows and Burrus & Co.

The Lucretia, Capt. Barna Peel, on Saturday night from Middleton with cargo of corn consigned to J. A. Meadows.

The S. Francis, B. Douglas, master, on Saturday night from Wysocking with cargo of corn consigned to Burrus & Co.

E. Charlie, Ben Willis, master, on Saturday night, from Juniper Bay with corn consigned to Burrus & Co.

The Fleetwood, Flowers, master, on Saturday night with corn partly consigned to Burrus & Co.

Your Name in Print.

W. G. Brinson Esq., is off to Durham attending a meeting of the Finance committee of the Grand Lodge K. of H.

Col. Jno. D. Whitford left for Raleigh yesterday morning in the interest of the A. & N. C. R. R.

L. J. Moore Esq. came up from Morehead City yesterday morning bound for Wilson to see the fun which begins there to-morrow.

Mr. J. W. Grainger and family, Mr. Geo. F. Parrott and lady, Messrs. A. Mitchell, John B. Hill and W. A. LaRoque, all of Kinston, arrived last evening, bound for Nag's Head per steamer Shenandoah. How will this do for JOURNAL advertising?

Sheriff S. E. Koonce and J. P. Broden of Trenton came in on Monday evening. They report that the Liberal meeting at Trenton was presided over by Capt. W. J. Rasbery, and was addressed by Messrs. F. D. Koonce and E. R. Page. Mr. J. F. Scott arose to oppose some resolution that was offered when he was informed that the meeting was not a Republican one. Mr. Scott withdrew.

Supposed Suicide.

Mr. James G. Whaley, formerly of this place, was found dead in his room at the hotel at Greenville on Sunday morning, and his remains brought here yesterday and interred in Cedar Grove Cemetery by New Berne Lodge No. 443 K. of H. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Burkhead at the M. E. Church.

From the letter given below it would seem that his death was of his own choice:

Peter McWilliams:—DEAR FRIEND: As Mr. Lanier is going to your place to-day with Mr. Whaley, I thought I would write you a short note. Mr. Whaley came on the boat from Tarboro yesterday about 11 or 12 o'clock and asked Dr. James for a room. After going to his room he sent the porter for a bottle of beer, and told him not to wake him until next morning as he had lost a great deal of sleep. The porter went to his room this morning and knocked but could not get in. He called for Dr. James and the doctor came and looked in and found him dead. Dr. Brown was called and found a beer bottle and a glass with 4 or 5 drops of beer or something that smelt like beer but did not have the same color that the few drops of beer which were left in the bottle. Dr. Brown has the remainder which was left in the glass and will send it off for analysis.

He has had careful examination and the jury have decided there was no foul play.

Yours,
T. A. CHERRY.

Columbus Endorses Short.

The Columbus county Democratic Convention was held yesterday at Whiteville. We had a reporter on the grounds, but as the convention had not concluded its labors when the train passed there this afternoon, we have no report as yet of the result, other than that the attendance was very large, and that Col. H. B. Short was endorsed by the convention as its choice for Congressman from this district.—Wil. Review.

Our Churches on Sunday.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. L. C. Vass preached at 11 a. m. on last Sabbath, from John 14: 2, 3. "In my Father's house are many mansions etc." He set forth the universal belief amongst all nations in the doctrine of a future state; and the gloom that shrouded it, until God shed light on it, especially through Jesus Christ. In the sadness surrounding the administration of the Last Supper, and the announcement of the approaching separation and betrayal, the Saviour spoke these words to comfort His disciples. He not only meant that this world is only one room in God's great Universe, and that He would only be in another room, and still near to help and bless His followers; but, drawing His illustration from Herod's gorgeous temple, with its numerous rooms and courts, He led their contemplations to rich provisions for His children beyond the grave. The following ideas were emphasised: Heaven is a PLACE for God's children. Its location is not known, but it is where God is: where Christ has gone. It is the Father's house. The doctrine of the immortality of the Soul, underlying all Scriptures, calls for a definite locality for Heaven.

2. Ample provision is made for the rest and joy of God's redeemed people. There are "many mansions." Clear light of Revelation teaches that there is room for all; respect to human wants and capacities; degrees of perfect happiness; home and society; provision for individual meditation and growth in happy privacy; and large and healthful variety.

3. Christ, Himself, prepares the mansions, this "place" and therefore they must be glorious and perfect. His work is according to God's plan, through the cross. It prepares His subjects for the place, and the place for His subjects. He, the High Priest of good things to come, by His own blood, obtains eternal redemption for men.

4. He claims and receives believers into Himself. The peculiar expressiveness of this language was unfolded, as meaning the reception of a bride by the bridegroom.

The beauties, certainly, and free offer, of this heaven to lost sinners, were urged as arguments for instant obedience to the Lord Jesus. The sermon was closed by the beautiful lines of Prof. W. L. Alexander, of Scotland, on "The Aged Saint entering Heaven."

CHRIST CHURCH P. E.

REV. V. W. SHIELDS, RECTOR.

Services for sixth Sunday after Trinity.

Sermon by the Rector. Text—from 12th and 13th verses of 9th chapter of the gospel by St. Matthew: "They that are whole need not a physician, but they that are sick; for I am not come to call the righteous but sinners to repentance."

There is one character in which the church stands as related to man that is generally lost sight of by the world and that is the character of a loving mother.

When men turn away from the world and join the church the question is often asked what influence will he be to the church?

Will he advance the social standing of her members, or increase her revenues, and thereby give her the advantage of his wealth and position? This is a worldly view and one that the church herself never considers.

Her inquiry is, does he bring a penitent heart—a broken spirit that I can heal?

And when her children gather around her table to partake of her Holy Sacrament, many are often criticized and their imperfections pointed out by those who misunderstand the subject, but we find that the Pharisees asked the same question of the Disciples "why eateth your master with publicans and sinners?" and the language of the text was the answer: "They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick." "I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."

ST. CYPRIAN CHURCH, P. E. (COLORED).

In the absence of the Rector, there was service in the evening and sermon by Rev. V. W. Shields. Text: 15 and 16 verses of the Gospel by St. Mark.

And He said unto them, go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptised shall be saved and he that believeth not shall be damned.

Our Lord in all His miracles and teachings while on the earth before His crucifixion, kept constantly before His disciples the universal scope of the salvation he came to teach by his life and to purchase in his death: But it was after the resurrection from the dead while holding converse with the disciples and giving them directions as to the organization and promotion of His church, and just before His ascension into Heaven that he uttered the words of the text so full of hope and promise to the nations of the world.

No nationality, no race, nor any of the people of the world are to be denied the blessed advantages of this salvation; and yet it is to be the reward only to those who believe and are baptized in a salvation that offers the joy of a life of peace happiness and bliss for eternity, and is denied only to those who believe not and hence are not baptised. The illustration of the universality of the Christian religion was found at the day of pentecost when by God's direction "There were dwelling" at Jerusalem, Jews, devout men out of every nation under Heaven. So it is then this salvation is vouch safe to all who will accept it on the terms, and refused to all who reject it.

Kinston Items.

Messrs. Ed. Sutton and L. M. Sutton are at Glen Alpine.

Lenoir is exporting wheat. Mr. Geo. F. Parrott shipped a car load to Baltimore a few days ago.

Mr. W. H. Worth has a new variety of oats—THE BRIGHAM YOUNG. From one grain he has raised this season 156 heads.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Lottin left on Sunday for Pennsylvania, where Mrs. L. expects to spend several weeks at a celebrated "Water Cure."

The Inferior Court surprised its friends in its verdict against Mrs. Quick. The good lady had been convicted of a plain case of larceny, and the court let her off with costs. Maybe as she was a town lady the "rural members" of the court left the matter to the good judgment of the city member.

B. W. Canady and H. C. Parrott are very earnestly interested in the passage of the River and Harbor bill. They have sawed out a large lot of lumber for Gen'l Ransom's jetties and there is some doubt about getting any pay unless the "old flag and an appropriation" comes to their rescue.

A few days ago your correspondent met with Lewis Parrott, the Lousin Swamper whose crop was noticed in the JOURNAL about a month ago, and asked him how it was getting along under Dr. Kainit's ministrations. "The crop is all right," he replied, "Dr. Kainit had nothing to do with it. I've got a good crop everywhere except where Charlie Andrews cultivated last year, and a little spot next to uncle Johnnie Mewborn's poor land."

Swansboro Items.

Turpentine is brisk here, as is everything else now.

W. P. Watson is going to put up another windmill in the place of the one burned. Will be all completed in a week or two.

A revival is in progress at Queen's Creek Church now. Rev. Mr. Warwick, assisted, I believe, by Rev. Mr. Kendall from Brunswick circuit.

Mr. Hall had a fine pear tree full of pears which he thought a great deal of, when some one, last Saturday night, dug it up, a lady having dreamed about money being buried under the tree.

Quite healthy in this neighborhood now. Only one death lately—little Robena H., daughter of J. N. and Katie Henderson. She died last Tuesday, aged fifteen months. Little Roby was a bright, promising child, the pride of her parents.

Three vessels, loaded with naval stores for Wilmington, N. C., cleared here to-day, viz.: schooner Roy, Capt. W. W. Dennis, schooner Minnie Ward, Capt. Jos. Moore, and schooner John T. Willis, Capt. Jos. Bloodgood. Two more in port awaiting a load.

Mr. John A. Provov has about twenty acres old upland in corn, that will make, if nothing happens, 100 barrels. This is the best upland corn I have seen this season. Some of the stalks have seven and eight silks and shoots on them. Good corn that.

Visitors are coming in all the time; among some of these are Mrs. F. G. Simmons and Miss Mary A. Dickinson from New Berne, Mr. E. H. Barnum, New Berne, and Mrs. J. W. Shepard and child from Polkville. All are enjoying themselves finely; fishing, gunning, sailing, and picnicking on the banks are the principal features of enjoyment.

The farmers were never more pleased—the best crops, so far, for many a year. Mr. E. R. Provov has some of the finest cotton I have seen—the largest, most bolls and forms. I counted one stalk last week, which had 64 forms and blooms and 4 grown bolls. The stalk was about four and a half feet high. He will have cotton open by the 20th of July. M. Russell and E. W. Matlock have the best cotton in Swansboro vicinity; J. A. Pittman, Dave Ward and J. Loughlin also have fine crops of cotton and corn.

La Grange Items.

A Falling Creeker seems to have taken a great liking to our town. Maybe we shall hear more from him in a short while.

Rev. Mr. Mann passed through this place Friday, on his way to Piney Grove where he held the Quarterly Conference of his church Saturday and Sunday.

A big trial Saturday evening over a little negro for stealing a little purse with a little money in it. So far as I heard, there was but LITTLE positive evidence that he did it. Bound over to court.

Three young gentlemen of La Grange, after having made engagements to take some young ladies to the Springs last Sunday were unable to secure vehicles. Guess they took advantage of the occasion in calling for an explanation.

Frank Rouse came to town Saturday on a visit to his father. When about two miles from town he noticed that his horse appeared to be much jaded. In one hour after he arrived here, the horse was dead. Some said the disease was colic, others that it was inflammation of the bowels.

Simcon Wooten has sold his store, and lot attached, for two thousand five hundred dollars. He purchased this property five or six years ago for one thousand two hundred, an increase of over one hundred per cent. The sale was made to J. S. Wooten of this county and Shade Wooten of Green, who will open a full stock of general merchandise next fall.

The seasons are very favorable to crops. Corn and cotton are doing well, where proper attention has been given. I saw, last Friday, crops in bad condition for want of work, on which account the land cannot yield a full crop. Bad farming is injurious, not only to the tiller and owner of the soil, but to the entire community.

A "hubbub" among the colored element on the streets Saturday about a watch. John Gatlin accused George May with taking a watch from the pocket of James Barrow. Upon enquiry, Barrow did not own one, but he had on a vest that was used by his brother, who did. His brother's was brass, and so was the one in May's possession. Constable Warters got hold of the time piece and informed May that he would retain it, till his taxes were paid. It is a bad wind that blows nobody good.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

THE ADJOURNMENT MIRAGE—WORK BEFORE CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.

Prominent members of the majority in Congress are of opinion that the House will adjourn on Monday the 26th inst. It is thought there is not much disposition on the part of the House to force and prolong debate on the tariff question. On the other hand, if it shall be decided to take up the contested election cases, it will be impossible to dispose of them before the 1st of August.

At a meeting, held immediately after the adjournment of the House yesterday by the Republican caucus committee on the order of business, steps were taken to ascertain definitely how much time it would require to obtain a quorum of Republican members, so that if it should be thought advisable the pending contested election cases might be taken up and probably disposed of before final adjournment.

The committee deferred action in the matter until the information can be obtained, when another conference will be held—probably.

The committee decided that the House shall proceed with the consideration of the Senate amendments to the General Deficiency Appropriation bill, and that the next order of business shall be the consideration of the River and Harbor bill as amended by the Senate. These two measures, it is thought, will consume two days.

Some of the members of the Republican majority have questioned the expediency of proceeding to the consideration of the contested election cases during the present session, but the prevailing opinion, as shown by the discussion in the caucus committee, seemed to be that if a quorum can be secured within a reasonable time, it will be to the advantage of the party to dispose of them. Should it be found that a quorum can be promptly procured, the arrangement will be to take up the South Carolina case of Smalls against Tillman on Tuesday or Wednesday next, and as soon as that shall have been disposed of to consider the report of the Committee on Elections, recommending that the seat now occupied by Mr. Shelley of Alabama be declared vacant.

By the time these two cases are out of the way it is probable that the South Carolina case of Lee against Richardson will have been acted on by the committee and will be ready for consideration in the House.

The eighth bill, numerically, of those on the Speaker's table in the House is the bill to pension General Grant, which passed the Senate some months ago. Members of all political parties in the House who were asked about the matter to-day gave general opinion that the bill would not pass the House this session.

They believed that it would be laid aside in order to pass more important measures on the table which have already passed the Senate. Among these bills are the following: To provide an alcoholic liquor traffic commission; to investigate the amounts of money due United States citizens for supplies furnished the Sioux and Dakota Indians in 1860 and 1862; to provide for the conversion and redemption of ten dollar refunding certificates. These are the most important bills pending; but altogether there are nearly two hundred and fifty Senate and House bills on the Speaker's table.

It is not "our funeral" this time.
