Rain, Rain! Rain!! It pours.
Turner's Almanac says rain to-day.

F. S. Ernal had in on Saturday a cotton leaf 7x9.

One interment in Cedar Grove cemetery during the past week.

The Register of Deeds issued marriage license to one couple—colored—during the week.

The excessive rains in the last week will damage cotton crops, and probably cause considerable sickness.

The new passenger building and ticket office at the Midland depot is nearing completion. The work of removing the track has begun.

The coast cable across Topsail sound, parted about the 20th of June, is now being replaced by the signal service of Beaufort in charge of Mr. Lewis Leonard.

Messrs. F. G. Simmons and Jonathan Haven are collecting lumber on a lot opposite the Cotton Exchange for a building in which they will open as cotton brokers this fall.

Off to Morehead.
We observed on the down train last night Mr. J. A. Prigden and family of Kinston, Geo. F. Rountree of Brooklyn, N. Y., Geo. N. Ives and family and C. E. Slover and wife, of the city.

Fond of Music.
Mr. Wm. G. Bryan lost on yesterday morning a one hundred dollar greenback. Luckily he had taken notice of the number of the bill and could identify it if found. Late in the evening he found the bill at Mr. Hanff's, who had it from a colored lady from the country, who had invested in a $75 organ. It is a great pity for the good lady to be thus bereft of a nice musical instrument.

Motion to Expel.
Early Saturday morning the "Jewels" were called together to vote on the case of Neuse River Navigation Company vs. JOURNAL editor, to see whether said editor should not be expelled from the "panel" for revealing the secret of the name of the new steamer Kinston, before it was launched. The accused plead ignorance of the ancient custom, and claimed that he was an up-country landsman, and didn't know that it made any difference about telling the name on the day of launching. After much discussion Mayor Howard plead in behalf of the accused that a steamboat man that didn't know any better than to tell an editor his secrets must not grumble if they leaked out, and G. F. M. Dail closed the discussion by saying he was going to donate two bottles of champagne to christen the boat—which said donation restored good humor and the defendant was discharged with the admonition to go and sin no more.

Mayor's Court.
John Lee was up for the same old offense, loud talking, using profane language on the streets. He pleaded guilty to a part of the charge but not guilty to the balance.

Three witnesses were sworn who made it appear that John was guilty of the whole charge. He went down to Mr. Ulrich's store on Friday and commenced a conversation with Mr. Lane using very strong terms about the man who had been telling lies on him. Pretty soon he directed his remarks to John Dunn, a colored boy employed there. Mr. Lane got him out of the store and he continued to curse loud, attracting a crowd.

"John Lee," said His Honor as he adjusted his spectacles and picked up the city ordinances, "come this way. I want to read you the law about this loud talking and swearing on the public streets, (read Sec. 3 Chap. 5). You have been up here three or four times for this same thing; I have talked to you and persuaded you to do better; I have been lenient with you but it is all to no purpose."

"Yes sir, you read me the law before but this boy attempted me."

"I know, but you had no right to take the law in your own hands. I shall have to inflict the severest penalty in this case, which is $5.00 and cost."

"Mr. Mayor: can I ask you just one question?"

"Well, what is it?"

"What will you give me if I take that boy out there and give him a good beating with my fist?"

"I will give you six months in prison."

"Well," said John, throwing down his money, "I'll do whatever the law says; but next time you have me up here it won't be just for talking."

The Kinston Launched.
Yesterday evening a considerable crowd assembled in Howard's shipyard to witness the launching of the boat being built by Mr. J. M. Howard for the Neuse River Navigation Company.

At 3 o'clock, p. m., she was cut loose and glided towards the water, but called a halt just before reaching it. The genius of the builder soon started her again and she landed into the water. A shout went up from the crowd while Mr. G. F. M. Dail and Capt. Roberts of the Neuse each broke a bottle of champagne over her head, and Mr. W. D. Wallace broke a bottle of cognac over her stern; the flags were unfurled and the Kinston was christened.

The Kinston is 104 feet long, 19 1/2 feet beam, 24 1/2 over all, 4 foot hold, draws 2 inches forward, 13 aft, and will carry about 250 bales cotton. She is intended for the waters of Neuse river and its tributaries, and will be a great convenience to shippers along this line.

Howard's ship yard has a reputation for good work and we doubt not this reputation will be sustained in the Kinston.

We noticed a crate of B. P. Sale's beer on the ship yard; it was locked, and Capt. Roberts had the key. The bottles were emptied after the launching.

Success to the Kinston, to its clever owner, and to its builder.

Second Annual Reunion of the 67th Regiment of North Carolina State Troops at Beaufort, July 20th, 1882.

Pursuant to adjournment this association assembled at the Court House in Beaufort, and were called to order at 3 o'clock, p. m., by Col. J. N. Whitford, the president.

A very beautiful and appropriate prayer was offered by the chaplain, Rev. John Rumley, after which Col. Whitford delivered an address full of interest to the old soldiers present, as it referred to many cherished reminiscences, among which was a touching reference to the old battle flag of the regiment which was hung up in the hall.

Mr. Rumley in behalf of Mayor Bushall welcomed the association and extended the hospitalities of the town, to which Mr. L. A. Potter responded on behalf of the association.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and adopted, after which an election of officers was held, which resulted as follows: Col. John N. Whitford; Lieutenant Colonel, Wm. F. Howland; Senior Major, Edward Whitford; Junior Major, Nathan Hooker; Adjutant, W. J. Bushall; Chaplain, John Rumley; Sergeant Major, L. A. Potter; Quarter Master and Treasurer, C. C. Taylor; A. C. S. J. F. Jones, and the following ten captains to be staff officers: Hardy Whitford, L. J. Howland, T. L. West, Turner J. May, W. B. Pierce, Alfred Heath, Wiley A. Ewell, W. W. Arnold, H. A. Gaskins and N. L. Carrow.

On motion, it was ordered that the Sergeant Mayor be Assistant Secretary.

The following resolutions were offered by Lieutenant Colonel Howland and adopted by a standing vote:

WHEREAS, The time has again arrived for the annual re-union of our association and we have been permitted again, together—

Resolved, That we renew our pledges of fidelity to each other, and promise our every effort to continue the meeting and organization of this association, until the name of every faithful member of the 67th North Carolina Regiment is enrolled upon our minutes.

Resolved, That a report of thanksgiving should animate us all, in that a kind providence, has preserved alive during the past year every member of our association.

Resolved, That the thanks of the association are due and are hereby tendered, to our worthy Col. J. N. Whitford for the interest he has always manifested in our organization and the promptness and punctuality with which he has attended our gathering.

Resolved, That we meet in a spirit of unity and harmony calling up our kindly association of the past and discussing matters of common interest but carefully avoiding all subjects of controversy, will part as brethren faithful to our record, our country and each other.

Resolved, That in the death of Rev. Dr. Wm. Closs, whose presence cheered us at our last meeting and who so earnestly took part in our proceedings. We have lost a friend, in whom Heaven has gained a saint and we submissively bow to the decree of our Supreme Commander, who permitted our friend and associate by reason of strength to pass the allotted three score years and ten.

The following communication from Ensign H. C. Whitehurst was read and ordered to be recorded:

THE FLAG OF THE 67TH REGIMENT OF NORTH CAROLINA TROOPS.
COL. J. N. WHITFORD:—DEAR SIR: On account of my ill health at this time, I have not been able to write the memoirs that I promised. I will state briefly, however, that after the war, I had the flag cleaned from the dirt and smoke stains, covering it, so that it might be better preserved. It is now considerably worn, but the war rents may still be distinguished. There are seven rifle shot holes, in the body of the flag, besides one in the upper end of the margin next to the staff. The lower corner was carried away by a bursting shell, but I never knew how the upper corner was shot off.

The last staff was shot through so that it broke off in the engagement just above my hand. The present staff, was captured during the fight, below Kinston from the enemy, and our flag attached, and was so used in the engagement with Schofield's army immediately afterwards, and until the end of the war. This flag was under fire at fort Anderson, opposite New Berne, at Rocky Point on the Roanoke, at Plymouth, in the battles below Kinston with Schofield's army. Our regiment was at this time attached to Hoke's Division, and this flag led the fight on South West Creek, in which a Brigade of the enemy were captured, and the next day participated in the general engagement with Schofield's whole army. The Confederates being commanded by General Bragg. This flag was also in the engagement at Cox's Bridge where our regiment with a few pieces of artillery kept the right wing of Sherman's army, from crossing to the rear of our army during the battle of Bentonville North Carolina. Yours Respectfully,

H. C. WHITEHURST,
Ensign.

Adjutant Bushall offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, that the members of this association be requested to meet at New Berne on the 10th day of May, 1883, at 3 o'clock p. m., and that the Executive Committee make all necessary arrangements for said meeting.

On motion, the Beaufort, New Berne, Kinston and Goldsboro papers were requested to publish the proceedings, after which the Association adjourned with the benediction by the chaplain.

The Trenton boys report that Capt. Rasberry has in contemplation a plan of county government.

Who Got the Nomination.
The Jewels, although fatigued and worried, took up the case sent up from Wilson.

To get at the correct understanding of the question we must first ascertain the meaning of the word nomination.

Webster-on-the-bridge says "the nomination of persons to place being a prerogative of the King."

Upon enquiry the panel learns that Mr. King was not in the convention—not a delegate—so they are inclined to think it was no convention having the "prerogative" cited above.

Convention or no convention seems to be the question now issue.

This being a question that was agitated some years ago and decided in favor of both parties, it becomes worthy of consideration—in this case—what is a convention?

A convention is a convention of the people in convention assembled in convention.

Now then as a nomination is a nomination of the people in convention to nominate, and the nomination of "the king" then it follows that without the nomination of the king it was no nomination by the convention.

The Panel is strengthened in this position by the decision in the cases of Stimson and Bishop versus the "National Convention. In this case, although the Convention was a National one, yet as the delegates were all from one county, and only "visiting statesmen" from one other, it was held that the power of the Convention did not extend to parties outside of the Nation, and Democrats and Republicans were not compelled to accept nominations. Therefore it is the opinion of the Panel that neither Mr. Hubbs nor Mr. O'Hara are under any necessity to accept the nomination and that from want of "prerogative" in the aforesaid Convention.

The panel would be glad to furnish the public their opinion on the "Warsaw" Convention, but as that is way over in portland it will likely be decided by the "poles."

Kinston Items.
The cotton crops in Woodington Township in this county are represented to be exceedingly promising.

The Normalites are returning from Chapel Hill. Dr. R. H. Lewis and Miss Sebile Dunn reached home Thursday evening.

The Wilson Convention pans out new parliamentary tactics. They have nominated two opposing candidates without a single ballot.

The "jewels" met at the court house this morning and discussed the Wilson convention and, like the convention, adjourned without making a nomination.

Miss Gertrude Hooker and Miss Emma Carr, of Greene county, are visiting at Mrs. N. D. Myers in Kinston. Miss Sallie Grimsly, also of Greene, has been stopping with Dr. Bryan.

Henry Kennedy, taken before Judge McKay at Clinton on the 18th inst., was bonded in one thousand dollars to appear at our fall Superior Court to answer for the killing of Lewis Croom.

Rev. C. W. Howard has sold his house and lot in Kinston, adjoining the lot of Mrs. N. D. Myers to Mr. Kelly of Jones county, for $1500 cash. Mr. Howard will occupy the premises until January.

The big black horse of J. R. Phillips succeeded last Thursday, leaving the "aforesaid J. R." with only the buggy and the whip. The horse kicked loose and took the railroad track to the bridge before stopping.

It is represented that the city member of our Inferior Court is raising a fine crop of grasses and weeds on his model farm north of Kinston. The Lonsin Swamp Agricultural Club should take a note of the Judge's success in farming.

Stokes for Scales.
Stokes county, last Monday, declared for A. M. Scales for Congress. We regard Gen. Scales' renomination as certain. Indeed, we have yet to hear of any opposition to his re-nomination. No man in the district has stronger or more earnest friends, and never was such friendship more entirely deserved. He has maintained his leadership in Congress throughout his congressional incumbency. He has experience, ability and influence. His integrity no man in or out of Congress ever questions. It is unimpeachable. It would be impossible to find a man in the district better equipped for congressional service than Alfred M. Scales.—Greensboro Patriot.

Drowned.
On Wednesday night, the 12th, inst., Wm. Harris, a young man, native of this place, fell overboard from a small vessel lying near the Market Pier and was drowned. He was seen in the early part of the night in an intoxicated condition, and the supposition is that he went aboard the vessel, on which he was employed, to sleep; that some time during the night he went on deck to get water from the cask, and in turning to go back into the cabin he stumbled overboard. His body was recovered the next evening and carried to the home of his stricken parents. A sad and terrible ending to a life which might have been one of pleasure and profit to the world into which he was born.—North State Press.

The Fall river News says: "Several of our friends in this city have had their sense of hearing diminished in one ear by constant use of the telephone. Persons who use this instrument to the same ear every time, and the consequence is the organ is overworked and slowly approaching deafness in that ear is sure to follow. Several parties in this city who are affected by it have applied to an eminent aurist in Boston, who reports the cause to be as above described. He recommends that persons who use the telephone apply the instrument alternately to their right and left ears."

STATE NEWS.

Gleaned from our Exchanges.

Durham Recorder: At a meeting of the Durham Graded School Committee, Tuesday, the question of soliciting aid to purchase school books for those pupils who are unable to purchase their own books, our townsman, Mr. Eugene Morehead, one of the committee, gave $100 for that purpose.

New Berne Newbernian: We learn that the Clydes are having a steamer built to run between this point and Baltimore. She will be on the line about the 1st of September, and will, it is said, be the largest steamer that ever came to our wharves. Her carrying capacity will be between 1,200 and 1,400 bales of cotton.

Wilson Siftings: Yesterday W. P. Mabson, (col.) of Edgecombe county, went into Joe. McCraws store called for a cigar and went out without paying for it. McCraw had a warrant issued for his arrest. Mabson was up before the Squire and was fined 5 cents and costs. Mabson it will be remembered represented the Republican party of Edgecombe in the senate some years ago.

Goldsboro Review: We submit to the Railroad authorities, whose roads run through this city, the propriety of raising the grade so as to cover the cross ties and level the track. About four years ago Major John Hughes, when President of the A. & N. C. Railroad, caused this to be done in New Berne and La Grange, and the work was greatly appreciated. A small amount of work would make a decided improvement in this city.

Tarboro Southerner: It is said that some of our farmers are paying as high as one dollar and ten cents a day for laborers. With the present prices of cotton we cannot see very much profit to the farmers. The high wages is owing in a great measure to the scarcity of labor.—There has only been one desertion from the Democratic party in this county. There is one fact to his credit, he had the courage to say that he was a republican and not a liberal.

Pamlico Enterprise: From all parts of the county there comes the glad sound, "Crops were never better." The warm weather, interspersed with copious showers, has had the effect of making cotton, rice and corn "move along right briskly."—A protracted meeting has been going on at Pamlico for the past week, under the guidance of Rev. F. B. McCall of the M. E. Church South. Much interest is being manifested, and up to Tuesday there had been some twenty-five accessions to the church.

Goldsboro Messenger: The new fire steamer "Mary Alice," recently purchased for the fire department of this city, was received Tuesday evening. It is a fine and large steamer on the rotary pattern with two hose carriages and was expressly built for Goldsboro.—One or more cotton factories, a railway to Smiley's Fall, another to Greenville, and steamers on the Neuse, is now what Goldsboro needs and must have.—It is estimated that the building contracts for improvements now in progress about the city, will amount to over $100,000; and this does not include the oil mills or Asylum work.—Mr. J. J. Baker, Jr., brings us fine reports concerning the crops in Pitt county.—It is expected that a gathering of 2,000 people will greet Gov. Jarvis at Seven Springs, Saturday the 29th inst.

Beaufort Telephone: The shipment of watermelons to Northern markets has fairly commenced, and will probably continue for some weeks. Thus far the following vessels have been loaded: The schooners Charles, 4600; Etta, 4500; Wade Hamton, 10,000; R. Mason, 9,000; and S. F. Miles 8,000, making a total of 36,100. If the present fair weather continues, the shipments will show quite a large increase over those of last year. Quite a number of Northern captains are now here with their schooners, purchasing cargoes.—A furious wind storm approaching in velocity a tornado, accompanied with a light rain, struck Beaufort yesterday about 2 o'clock p. m., coming from the west. The sand was lifted in clouds and the waters were made to foam and boil like a seething cauldron for a few moments. No damage resulted as far as heard from, though the appearance of the clouds on their approach was fearful.—The telephone line from Beaufort to Newport is still being put in tangle shape by Mr. Thomas Ducean.
