Mr. J. L. Rhem thinks cotton is damaged by the heavy rains, especially on light lands.

Several fish boats at the market dock yesterday. Trout, Spots and Jack fish in abundance.

The Shenandoah brought in two hundred bushels of corn yesterday, consigned to J. V. Williams.

Schooner Adah, Whitehurst, Master, arrived on Monday from Elizabeth City with corn consigned to J. V. Williams.

Mr. J. L. Rhem shipped by the Shenandoah yesterday 2364 watermelons, 8 barrels of apples and 10 barrels of cantelopes.

Schooner Mary, Davis, Master, arrived Sunday night with a cargo of corn from Elizabeth City, consigned to J. A. Meadows.

Thos. Gates & Co. are putting a new floor in their store. Guess they are afraid of the old one with a heavy stock of fall goods.

We call attention to the change in the ads. of Messrs. Blank and Foy. Mr. Blank offers a new brand of flour for sale, and Mr. Foy gets ready for the fall trade in fertilizers.

We are informed by a prominent Greenbacker of this county that John F. Wooten of Lenoir seems to be the choice of the Greenbackers of Craven for Congress, if he will accept of their nomination.

The excursion of the steamer Trent up Neuse river to Seven Springs in Wayne county next Friday and Saturday will be a pleasant one. Mr. L. Harvey from Kinston says he learns there will be a large crowd going up from Kinston.

We have before us the Annual Catalogue of La Grange Academy with a list of 85 pupils, of whom six went from this county. The Principals, Messrs. Joyner and Murphy, have a very high reputation for scholarship and successful experience as teachers.

Col. John D. Whitford has just returned from Raleigh, and bears greeting from the King of the Jewels (Capt. D.) to the resident members in the city. The Panel is becoming so scattered that after this week it is thought best to disband until cool weather greets them.

Fine Watermelons. The express office at this place received yesterday morning four watermelons which weighed in the aggregate 137 pounds. They were consigned to Miss Fentress of Raleigh, and raised by Henry Gaskins of Swift Creek.

Aunt Sallie has Come.

Among the arrivals on the Shenandoah yesterday morning was Joseph Salomonsky of Elizabeth City. We learn that he is to open a beer bottling establishment—Bergner & Engel—pretty soon.

Hose Trial.

The Atlantic Fire Company made a test of their new hose, yesterday morning, at the Brinson pump on Broad street. On the first trial the coupling of one section blew out with 130 pounds pressure, 80 pounds of steam. On second trial the coupling blew out with 175 pounds pressure, 95 pounds of steam.

Passengers on Shenandoah.

The following passengers went out yesterday on the steamer Shenandoah: Mrs. C. W. McLean for Syracuse, N. Y.; Mrs. I. W. Hughes, Mrs. M. S. Smallwood, Misses F. B. and M. B. Smallwood and Mr. E. W. Smallwood, for Long Island, N. Y.; Mr. E. S. Hughes for Baltimore; Mrs. Newberry and children, Misses Mary E. Tatum and Bettie Hargett, and Captain W. E. Carhart for Elizabeth City, and Mr. Marshall Park Jackson for Norfolk.

New Menagerie.

The cotton exchange room now resembles a first class Menagerie. On entering the door we behold, over the mantelpiece at the West end of the room, T. A. Green's Lion with his right paw upon "Bagging and ties," on the left is Humphrey & Howard's Elephant "Carrying the news;" on the right is K. R. Jones' Tiger carrying the flag of King Cotton—Bagging and ties; just behind the tiger is Redmond with Bergner & Engel for the whole Menagerie, Cotton Exchange and all. The work is as creditable to the painter, M. Berry,

Your Name in Print.

Mr. E. R. S. Tull, of Lenoir, was in the city on Tuesday visiting Mr. Wm. Hollister.

Mr. Jas. B. Banks, of Jones county, was in the city yesterday. He says crops in his neighborhood are not damaged yet by wet weather, and he never saw cotton and corn grow faster. Says he gets out to work very early and very often forgets to go to breakfast until 10 o'clock.

Gov. Jarvis, Mrs. B. F. Nunn, Mrs. W. J. Street, Mr. L. Harvey and family of Kinston and M. D. W. Stevenson of the city, were among the passengers for Morehead City last night.

River and Marine.

The schooner Adventure, Elijah D. Willis Capt., arrived from Fairfield on Tuesday with cargo of corn consigned to Burrus & Co.

The schooner Elmira, Marshal Swindell, Capt., arrived from Juniper Bay on Tuesday with cargo of corn consigned to J. A. Meadows.

The new schooner S. W. Hall, Capt. Walker, arrived yesterday from Philadelphia with a cargo of coal for Mr. Elijah Ellis. This is her maiden trip.

Benefits of Advertising.

It is natural that we direct attention to an item in our Kinston correspondence concerning the sales of machinery by Mr. J. W. Grainger. Mr. Grainger has, for six months, kept in the Weekly JOURNAL a two column advertisement (the largest of any in the paper) offering various kinds of machinery for sale. He has done this as a matter of business and not to patronize the paper, for it is not published in his town, and his present sales are proof of what the "ad" has done for him. There is another point in the case worthy of being pointed out on the part of the newspaper side of the question—this advertising has been going on for some considerable time before the heavy sales were made. Mr. Grainger thought best to carry his "ad" through the dull season and his perseverance has been rewarded.

It is natural for a newspaper to blow about the advantages of advertising, but facts are stubborn things and speak for themselves. The JOURNAL now publishes weekly 75 quires—a circulation of 1890—and Daily 19 quires—a circulation of 456, and he who uses its columns may be assured that his advertisement will be extensively read.

Hurrah for the Graded School.

The Trustees of New Berne Academy held a meeting on Tuesday evening and the following gentlemen were elected to fill the seven vacancies now existing: Messrs. Geo. Allen, T. A. Green, Alex. Miller, L. H. Cutler, W. M. Watson, Elijah Ellis and E. H. Meadows.

The JOURNAL takes great pleasure in endorsing this action. These men are representatives of the best commercial interests of the city, and the old Board has shown good judgment in their selection. We feel like raising a shout of jubilee for the Graded School is now a fixed fact. How it is to be started and when, we make no suggestion. We believe the old and new members will work together most harmoniously for New Berne's good, and that they are well competent to decide about all the details.

As to what the EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION will do, we apprehend there will be no difficulty. Fifteen Members of this ASSOCIATION are now on the Board of Academy Trustees, and we have no doubt this ASSOCIATION will be willing to turn over their money to the Academy, which now represents, in its members, the Public School fund, the Griffin fund, the Educational Association and the Academy fund. All that the members of the Association wanted was proper representation and this has now been obtained, and now there is nothing in the way for a powerful Graded School. It might be well for the ASSOCIATION to preserve its organization in order to collect the money and to devise some plan about raising money in the future. But there will be no trouble about the details. Let us rejoice that we will now have the school.

Wilson Normal.

ED. JOURNAL.—The State Normal School at this place closed on Thursday of last week with an entertaining and patriotic address from Gov. Jarvis who had been in attendance at the Normal the past two days. The Governor's address was to the point, practical, full of encouragement, and proved the speaker to be a friend of the true education of all classes alike.

The Normal has been a grand success from the very first, as was to have been expected under the Superintendency of Prof. Tomlinson, who as Principal of the Wilson Graded School, has brought that institution up to such an eminent degree of efficiency and success as to bring forth that remarkable commendation in the New England Journal of Education whose editor visited the school last winter. The State Normal was not a whit behind, for the Superintendent of the latter almost surpassed himself as Principal of the former. The principal instructor in the Normal, Prof. DeGraff of New Jersey, who has spent more than twenty years in just such work throughout the North and West, pronounced it to be a model Normal School, and further averred that it was the best organized, best managed, most beneficial and successful he had ever been engaged in.

Maj. Robt. Bingham in his public address before the Normal, said Mr. Tomlinson was making more reputation than any man in North Carolina, but it seems that his success is known not only at home but abroad, for we are informed that during the Normal session he received a very tempting call to go to another State to take charge of a permanent Normal School, but that being so interested in his work at home, and viewing with such faith the bright promises within our own borders, he did not entertain the proposition for consideration at all.

But before closing, Mr. JOURNALIST, I trust you will allow me to congratulate you on the most admirable and commendable course you have taken in reference to the establishment of a graded school in your city. You will ere long congratulate yourself, for the fruits of your endeavors will be very gratifying. The graded school at this place is considered a sine qua non, and it is now admitted that since its establishment, and by means thereof, the value of property has increased more than 30 per cent., and houses to rent are not now to be found. Many well-to-do families from adjoining counties have moved in and thereby have added to the wealth and prosperity of the place. New Berne will feel a pulse of new life ere long. Let the people once get interested, and it will become the passion of the place. What do you think? Over eight thousand visits were paid the different departments of the Wilson Graded School during nine months last year. It was a place to take friends from abroad, for these visitors represented thirty-five counties.

The success of your school seems now definitely assured, in a pecuniary sense at least, and with a wise superintendent, its issues will be grand and good.

A New Gate.

Mr. Nelson Whitford has on exhibition, at the entrance to his Cart House, a patent gate which will be of great convenience on large farms, where there are many gates, when they shall have been adopted. Any one approaching the gate in buggy, cart, wagon or on horse back can open and shut it without dismounting. It works like a charm.

Mr. W. A. Phillips left on Sunday morning for the Horner school at Oxford.

Jacob Langston, of the Neck township, having reached his 99th year, is the oldest inhabitant in this county.

J. P. Haskitt and Geo. E. Miller are off to-day for Asheville and the mountains of Western North Carolina.

The cotton crops are getting too much rain—it will be all tree and "no wool." However, it is the making of the corn crops.

That genial and intellectual "limb of the law," George Rountree, Esq., of Brooklyn, N. Y., was in Kinston last week. Marrying improves him.

Chauncy Gray presented us to-day the finest peach we have seen this season—it is a Delaware in size and flavor and was grown on his place in this county.

Now is the auspicious time for Col. C. C. Clark to strike the "tide that leads to fortune." Such an opportunity is not often within a life time. Resist not destiny.

The wire pullers and intriguers of the Wilson Convention "exhausted their powers" in a stupendous effort not to make a nomination. Laissez faire is the cry of the politicians and we are drifting.

Sam Weller characterized his occupation at the "White Hart" as "plenty to do and little to get." The business of the Congressional delegate is not so deprecatory—being little to do and plenty to get—perhaps five hundred dollars or so for office.

A delegate to the Wilson Convention on the 25th says all the wild animals were turned loose on him at the same time, which frightened him so badly that he was obliged to report the condition of his crop and have his damages as a delegate adjusted and paid. Poor fellow.

J. W. Grainger is having quite a boom in selling machinery. He has sold, since his return from Virginia about three weeks ago, over ten thousand dollars worth of engines, saw mills and other machinery. The sales were principally made in Jones, Onslow and lower Pitt.

Gov. Jarvis and ex-Gov. Brogden will speak through the same telephone at Seven Springs on the 19th inst. Curious people wish to know with what place that glittering saint, Gov. Jarvis, is now tempting the old "child of the skies;"—perhaps it may be Boutwell's "Hole in the sky" to which the Governor hopes to be the Mercury to take the Ex-Governor—a truly royal excursion indeed.

La Grange Items.

Bob Joyner was seen the other day trying to get up a funeral—playing with the tail of a young mule.

Rain has been excessively plentiful for some days. It is good for corn, but may push cotton too fast. In some places grass still abounds.

A. E. Rouse has contracted to move the old store on the John Bizzell lot, to a lot purchased by K. E. Bizzell on the south side of the Railroad.

The meeting of Co. C., 27th North Carolina regiment advertised for Saturday 29th inst., has been postponed to the 1st Saturday in August, at which time the members are requested to meet in this place.

"The times change and men change with them," and I believe men change with their occupation. If you should see Capt. Jake in his fatigue suit, he has every appearance of a regular engineer.

The new firm, J. S. Wooten and Shade Wooten, has procured the services of E. W. Bizzell as clerk. "Lige" has clerked a number of years in "the city" and stands second to none in the place in that capacity. He will accompany the "bosses" in their trip North this fall.

If any attempt has been made to get up a Liberal or Greenback party in this place, it has been unsuccessful thus far. A very few among us try to talk Greenbackism, but these few are not of us—the Democrats—they come from the other side, and we don't propose to be "bamboozled" by them.

D. C. Murchison, of Edwards & Murchison, represents insurance companies in North Carolina, Virginia, and elsewhere. He proposes to insure Gins and other property on living terms to all. He is also agent for several gins and presses which he proposes to sell at factory prices, freight added.

Thursday, of last week, was used by a number of the La Grangeites and citizens of the south side of Neuse in a picnic way at Seven Springs. "Old Man Bob" and Mrs. Old Man Bob, Conaway (Groceries) and Mrs. Conaway, who were so profuse in their visits to the Springs last year, two of them under different names, were present.

Rev. B. W. Nash held the quarterly Association of Baptist at Hickory Grove last Saturday and Sunday. His services as pastor is appreciated by a large number of the congregation at that place. The Baptist Review of which Mr. Nash is Editor, strongly, and rightly too, advocates prohibition. It is not right in that organ, however, to assume that the Democratic party has been, or is now, responsible for the failure of prohibition. They, the Democrats, propose to let it remain where the people themselves have placed it. The Republicans, I believe, assume the cause of anti-prohibition. When the Englishes in North Carolina show their hand, where will the Review be found politically? Many favor prohibition, but would prefer it straight without politics.

Jones County Items.

It has rained almost every day for the past fifteen or twenty days.

Every one who attended the U. S. concert at Trenton last Saturday seemed to be very well pleased with the performance.

The crops, I believe, are better in this county this year than they have been since the war. I never before heard as favorable reports from every section of the county.

I have heard that Capt. Raspberry wrote out a system of county government in 1875 or 1876, about the time that Messrs. Clark, Manly and Hughes suggested to the Legislature their plan. I wish the News and Observer would look over their files and republish the Captain's system, and if that journal cannot find the issue we hope the Captain will furnish them a copy of it.

I am glad to see that the citizens of this town and community are getting somewhat more interested in school matters than they have been heretofore. I never saw a place in my life where a good school would do more good than in Trenton, and hence the great need of one. A first class school would double the population of this town in five years, and those who would come to this place would be the best citizens of the county, and on the other hand, without a good school the population of the town will not only not increase, but will actually diminish and the best people too will leave the town, and also the best citizens will leave the county and go to towns in other counties where they will enjoy good educational advantages. They will not let their children grow up in ignorance, and I think they are right in that. This, we all know, is the age of education and in a few years it will be a question of education. Now is it important—very important that we in this town and community, and in fact the whole county should arouse—should awaken to the present state of affairs and go to work with all our determination and zeal and establish a good school at the county seat; build up Trenton and therefore build up the whole county. And, as I have already said, until this is done, Trenton will never advance, but on the other hand will retrograde.

FOR THE TURNIP CROP! Look well to your Home Supplies of Food.

RICHMOND, VA., July, 1882. The experience of last year was a lesson that none of us should soon forget. It certainly prompted us to the greatest diversity possible, especially in the direction of our food crops, and as we know of none more serviceable, looking at all the uses to which it can be put, than the TURNIP crop, we call attention to the provision we have made for it, in the way of a first-class fertilizer. We will in the following, let one of the most noted farmers in Virginia, Major ROBERT L. RAGLAND, of Hyco, Halifax county, tell what he knows of the

"ANCHOR BRAND" on this useful crop. He writes us, under date of 30th ultimo:

"I have used the 'ANCHOR BRAND' on my TURNIP crop continuously for the last twelve years, and the result has been so satisfactory every year that I now regard it as my main reliance for this too much neglected crop in the tobacco country. Since I began to use the 'ANCHOR BRAND' on Turnips I have never failed of a crop for self and laborers.

"Every man certainly who hires a colored laborer will do well to raise Turnips and Salad enough for him and his family, as well as for his own use, including a supply for stock. It is a reflection upon the intelligence and management of too many Virginia farmers that so little attention is paid to the garden, meat and milk supply, as on the first unpropitious season to leave them short of food. We will never be safe until we diversify our crops more than we do now.

"A clean preparation is best for Turnips, that is, the land should be plowed and re-plowed as often as necessary previous to sowing the seed, to prevent the growth of weeds, etc. Turnips do well after Irish potatoes, garden peas and other spring crops, if the land is rich or well fertilized.

"A moderately close soil is best, as the turnip does not thrive on a very sandy or loose soil. A brown clayey or damp soil is preferable, but it is well to sow on both moist and dry soils.

"No crop requires more thorough preparation. Break the soil as deep as possible with a two-horse turning plow, unless previously broken for a crop some year, and follow with a subsoiler. Re-fallow just before sowing, turning under some good farm manure from the stable, farm yard or ash heap, and apply at sowing the fertilizer. My use of the 'Anchor Brand' has run from 800 to 800 pounds per acre, the latter quantity giving the best results considering cost.

"The commercial fertilizer is best applied to the surface and sown along with the seed, and the surface harrowed lightly; this gives a vigorous start to the plants and promotes rapid growth—so essential to this crop.

"Ruta Bagas sow in drills from 15th July to 1st August; Flat Dutch, Strap-leaf and Globe sow in drills or broadcast from 1st August to 1st September for roots, and later for Salad.

"I repeat, every farmer, and indeed every housekeeper who can, should raise turnips for the table, and some for the stock. Turnips, if not more nutritious, are at least more healthy than cabbage, and Turnip Salad is a luxury that no Virginian or Carolinian can afford to dispense with. I have found the turnip to be the best preventive of hog cholera in my experience; hogs fed on turnips never have that plague. Sheep and cattle thrive on them in winter."

We also refer, among others of our customers, to Dr. Buchan Richards, of Sweet Hall; Mr. James Leigh Jones and Mr. Joseph R. Gill, of Richmond; Mr. Wm. E. Royall, of Powhatan C. H.; Mr. James Newman, of Gordonsville, and Mr. A. L. Van Ness, of Keyville. They have all used the 'Anchor Brand' habitually on the Turnip crop, and with the happiest results.

We will be prepared this fall, also, for the WHEAT CROP. The 'Anchor Brand' for wheat continues to do the work expected of it, and can be ordered from any of our agents.
