LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
CICERO GREENS—Greenback Convent'n.
Polkville Convention.

Journal Miniature Almanac.
Sun rises, 5:20; Length of day,
Sun sets, 6:49; 13 hours, 29 min.
Moon sets 7:27 p. m.

Another heavy rain yesterday.
Mr. Gordiner's shingle machine was started yesterday.

The schooner Wade Hampton arrived in ballast from Beaufort yesterday.

The dredge boat Cyclops was dredging Mr. Oliver's dock near the railroad yesterday.

Rev. J. C. Pries, col., will lecture at Stanly Hall to-morrow night on his travels in Europe.

The Silver Cornet Band made a handsome appearance in their new uniforms last night, and furnished excellent music on the occasion of Governor Jarvis' speech.

The Republican Convention at Elizabeth City on the 10th nominated Walter Pool for Congress. He is brother to C. C. Pool, the candidate for Judge, and is said to be a good canvasser.

The New Berne machine works has just completed a saw and grist mill for Mr. Hezekiah Davis of this county. The rock for the grist is from Moore county and is said to be the best used.

We return thanks to Mr. John French for peaches sent in on Monday, also to Mr. A. W. Wood for an extra fine one that was grown on Mr. O. H. Perry's plantation near the city. It weighed 91 ounces and measured 10 inches in circumference.

First Cotton.

Mr. Wm. May sent in from Mr. Joe Rhem's farm yesterday the first open boll of cotton this season. It opened on Thursday last.

Great Fall in Goods.

One of the top shelves in Mr. C. E. Foy's store fell yesterday of its own accord. No damage, only a few boxes of matches took fire.

Larceny at Polkville.

Two small colored boys broke into the mill house of Mr. H. A. White at Polkville on Sunday night and carried off a bushel of corn. They were taken before Justice Jas. F. White, and dealt with according to law.

Mocking Birds.

Our sexton, Mr. Russ, of Cedar Grove cemetery says the number of mocking birds at the cemetery this summer is unusually large. He says there has been great destruction among the young ones by the cats, and he is going to provide against this next spring by caging them until they are able to fly.

Magistrate's Court.

Lizzie Chadwick was up before Squire Stanly yesterday for an assault on Madeline Braddock. She was found guilty. Released on payment of cost.

Peter Williams, the white washer, was up on Saturday for a serious assault on Robert Green, the barber. He was bound over to next term of Superior Court.

Freight Arrivals.

The steamer Stout of Clyde line arrived on Sunday morning with a cargo of general merchandise. Among the freights we notice a large stock of goods for Wm. Lorch; furniture for John Suter; a large lot of pork and bacon for Chas. H. Blank; pork, dry goods and a large safe for T. A. Green; hubbs, wheels, axles, harness etc. for P. M. Draney, and dry goods for J. O. Foy of Richlands.

Your Name in Print.

Dr. Geo. Slover left for Asheville on Monday-morning.

L. J. Moore Esq. is attending Greene county Inferior court.

H. R. Bryan Esq. has returned from Beaufort where he has been spending a few days.

Messrs. J. D. Sutton and J. P. Haskitt of Kinston were in the city yesterday.

Mr. Geo. B. Guion made a trip to Kinston yesterday. He has a good trade in that place.

Improved Cotton Seed.

Mr. Cicero Green called to see us yesterday, and in a conversation about farming he spoke of improving cotton seed. Several years ago he procured the Peeler cotton, which always brought more in the market than any other, and instead of deteriorating he improved it every year by carefully selecting the planting seed, but the loss of his gin house by fire caused him to lose the seed. He also procured the Cheatham cotton which was noted for having many locks to the boll. This he improved until he got a boll with 18 good locks. Mr. Green is of opinion that an early variety of cotton might be produced by carefully selecting the earliest bolls for several years.

Governor Jarvis' Speech.

A large crowd turned out to hear the Governor last night. He had good attention and made an excellent campaign speech. We will give a more extended notice of it to-morrow. The Governor leaves to-day for Nags Head.

Arrested for Murder.

On Monday morning quite a crowd of colored people from James City assembled at the court house to hear the preliminary trial of CAROLINE CANADY, col., who was under arrest for the murder of her infant on the 8th day of August. The warrant was issued by Thos. Stanly, Esq., and returned to him. Messrs. H. R. Bryan and W. W. Clark appeared for the defendant and asked that the hearing be postponed until Thursday. The court was willing to continue the case but would hold the prisoner. After argument by counsel in favor of bailing defendant, the court decided to allow her to give bail in the sum of five hundred dollars justified, for her appearance at 11 o'clock next Thursday.

Hear the Other Side.

The account we gave of the mass meeting at Trenton in Sunday's issue was from an O'Hara follower.

Yesterday we heard from a Hubbs man who was present, and he declares that a large majority of the crowd was for Hubbs. W. H. N. Green, col., who was present says no such resolution was passed by the meeting as was reported by our O'Hara man. He says one Simmons, col., offered such a resolution but the chairman declared it out of order. He says there were a great many colored men from Onslow in the meeting making a great deal of fuss, and when he asked them who they were for, they replied Canady.

A disinterested party from Trenton yesterday says he thought the crowd was about equally divided between Hubbs and O'Hara.

Swansboro Items.

Crops are very good everywhere.

Col. E. W. Fowville has a fine orchard and one of the prettiest flower gardens I ever saw.

Mr. W. N. Marine has bought a new steam engine from Talbot & Co. to run his gin at his place on New River.

Dr. E. W. Ward is ahead in farming as a general thing. He has the largest field of corn and cotton of any farmer in the neighborhood and is pulling his fodder now.

Wm. J. Gillett, a good farmer in Wolf Pitt, has three acres in cotton that will make, if nothing happens, six 500 pound bales, the best I have seen in this county. Mr. Sol Gornto is stripping fodder.

The bears and raccoons are plentiful here. Mr. John Sammons, a good farmer and blacksmith, says there are 500 coons around his farm; he caught nine upon one tree, and Mr. I. A. Kellam chased two bears-out of his corn last week, but did not succeed in making a capture; says he will take them yet, if it takes him all the year to do it.

Lip Hancock is sawing about 5,000 feet of lumber per day at Gornito's landing and when he can't get logs to saw he takes men in the place of them. Only a short time back since an accident occurred by sawing one of his men's face up, and yesterday another one had his hand nearly sawed off, a man named Elias White, colored; all carelessness on their part, not Hancock's.

Swansboro is still booming with visitors. She only needs a large hotel to make her one of the first sea side resorts of the State. I hear that Hon. J. W. Shackelford contemplates putting up a large hotel here. Wish he or some one would do so, as there is a splendid opening for some one to make money as well as to add to the great improvement of the place.

A grand farmer's picnic—called a fish fry—came off Friday in the woods near Ed. Smith's store. About two hundred people were present to celebrate the happy results of their year's work, in having such good prospects for another year's support. Good music was discoursed by Messrs. E. King and I. A. Kellum, and the young folks enjoyed themselves by tripping the light fantastic toe on the occasion.

Mr. G. W. Winberry, the prince of oystermen and fishermen on the river is a thorough going farmer too. He don't make any cotton but raises plenty of corn, raises plenty of pork; he has both to sell all the time. He says he don't make cotton because he wants to keep out of debt. He don't owe a dollar and always has a plenty; says he never knew anyone around him to make much cotton without being in debt more or less all the time. He has a splendid orchard with some of the finest pears in the country.

The Democratic convention came off last Monday and resulted in the nomination of Dr. C. Thompson, son of Frank Thompson Esq., for the Legislature. A very worthy man and well qualified for the position, but it seems that a majority of the people here are opposed to conventions and say they won't vote for a nominee, and expect the Doctor will have a hard time to get elected. They say the Doctor belongs to the Richland ring, as they call it, and don't want any one but a Richlander for any office. There are two independents and one liberal candidate, as he is called, for the same office. C. S. Hewitt of White Oak, independent, and L. D. Hancock, liberal, with the regular standing candidate, J. H. Foy, independent democrat, and I hear of several other independents against the other nominees, Mr. H. H. Sanderlin for clerk against Huggins, nominee, and L. O. Fonville for sheriff, against Murrill, nominee, and I don't recollect how many for Register of Deeds against D. E. Humphrey, nominee. The general opinion is that some of the nominees will be badly beaten.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12, '82. Washington is now a deserted village. The President, Congress, most of the Cabinet, all of fashion, and the lobby have departed. Many chiefs of Bureau and a large number of clerks are away on summer vacations. The absence is conspicuous on the street in the parks, in the hotels and in the air. "Well, let them alone and they will come and bring their—behind them." The summer vacation will be much briefer than usual. Congress will assemble for a short, sharp session in less than four months, and butlerly Washington will be back from the seaside and mountain in less than half that time.

It will be remembered that Congress granted the use of the Rotunda of the Capitol for a Fair and Exposition to raise funds for a statue to the memory of Garfield. The enterprise is in the hands of the Army of the Cumberland. A Garfield Monument Committee has been formed. The Fair is to be a National Industrial and Art Exposition, and medals and prizes will be awarded by special committees according to the rules adopted by the Centennial Exposition of 1876. The Fair will commence on the 25th of November and continue until the 3d of December. It is expected that the attendance will be very large, and that a large addition will be made to the Garfield Monument fund. The art exhibits, from all that can be learned, will be numerous and of a character such as has not often been collected in this country.

Several hundred new government clerks have recently been appointed—all of whom are males. The applications of females have been ignored, and Secretary Teller is known to be opposed to their appointment, giving as a reason that they are not as efficient as the males and that their presence in the Departments is corrupting. There was a woman's indignation meeting held at the Corcoran Building last night. There were probably one hundred in attendance, from the young, fresh looking girl to the aged care worn matron whose hair had grown gray with trouble and toil. Many prominent ladies who had expressed themselves in sympathy with the idea and had promised to come and help engineer the movement, failed to put in appearance. Mrs. Charlotte Smith, as chairman, announced the object of the meeting which was to take practical cognizance of the exclusion of women from the Departments. She stated on the authority of members of Congress whom she named that Secretary Teller objected to the appointment of women on the grounds that they corrupted the Departments and were inefficient as compared with men. She said that she had never asked a favor from the Government herself and therefore was perfectly disinterested in the matter. As a matter of principle, however, she thought it incumbent upon every woman to protest against the exclusion of women from the Government service on the sole ground of sex. As to the other charges she thought a woman alone, without the assistance of men could not do much corrupting. Addresses were also delivered by Mrs. Green and Mrs. Roberts. Many affecting instances were related by ladies who had waited in Washington for months expecting appointments, and not dreaming that the announcement would be made at the last hour that no woman need apply.

Senator M. W. Ransom is expected to address the citizens of Greene county to-morrow. He will have an enthusiastic greeting.

Senator Hill was much weaker yesterday, but his condition is not materially changed.

The Star Route Trial.

The closing arguments in the star route trial have been arranged so that there shall be four addresses from counsel for the Government and eight from counsel for the accused. This arrangement, like that followed in regulating the jury challenges, has its advantages for the defense, but, considering the number of, and lack of identity of interest among, the defendants, it can hardly be called unfair. Mr. Ker began the summing up for the prosecution Wednesday, and, of course, assured the jury that he believed twelve men had been found who were able to obtain a clear understanding of the complicated mass of details involved in the case, as well as ready to give an unprejudiced verdict. Like the testimony with which he had to deal, Mr. Ker's address bore most hardly on Brady, and it is difficult to see how that accommodating public servant can escape conviction. But, as the learned counsel remarked, "here they are, Stephen W. Dorsey and the others, before the jury, on a level with" (say a little below) "the humblest citizen of the country. It would indeed be a grand vindication of our institutions if they could be convicted like other criminals." It would indeed, particularly in the case of Dorsey.—N. Y. Times.

American Bar Association.

At the opening of the American Bar Association at Saratoga a few days ago, Alexander R. Lawton of Georgia delivered the annual address. He began by quoting the closing sentence of Clarkson N. Potter's address last year, where, after his eulogy on Chief Justice Taney, he spoke of the high honors due to those who have been permitted to adorn the administration of the law, and said: "We owe it to our high calling, to the cause of good government and good living, to see justice done to their services; to cherish their names and to keep their memories green." Mr. Lawton spoke of the great places given in history to heroes in certain fields, while lawyers who held high judicial positions are scarcely mentioned, when they have interpreted the law from the bench for years and their opinions are recognized as authorities all over the country. He made a brief allusion to Chief Justice Guson of Pennsylvania, who presided for twenty years over the highest court of that State; Theophilus Parsons, for five years Chief Justice of Massachusetts, who gave such a high character to the court there; also to Jeremiah Mason of New Hampshire, of whom Daniel Webster said: "No matter how deep I dug in a case, Jerry Mason went deeper." And yet these men, holding high judicial positions, were scarcely known to students of general history.

The speaker then took up James Lewis Pettigrew of South Carolina and Hugh S. Legree as the subjects of his address, telling how Mr. Pettigrew started from a poor family, was educated to the law, and rose to succeed Mr. Hayne as Attorney-General of South Carolina, where he sustained himself, and was recognized as the peer of the highest members of the bar of his own State and of Georgia, the State adjoining. Hugh S. Legree, he said, did not live as long as Pettigrew, but was equally distinguished, and entitled to equal honor.

On motion of Mr. Willis of New York the thanks of the association were given Mr. Lawton for his address.

New Corn.

ST. LOUIS, August 12.—Five car loads of new corn, well matured and in good condition, arrived here to-day and was sold at auction on 'Change for six dollars and seventy-five cents per bushel. It was raised near Waco, Texas. It is stated that large lots of the new crop will be ready for shipment from Texas the latter part of this month. This arrival is unprecedented in point of time.

An Entire Train Ditched.

WASECA, August 12.—Night.—A construction train on the Memphis & St. Louis R. R., with fifty-seven laborers on board, was yesterday thrown from the track near here, turning completely over, and thrown down an embankment into a slough below. Three men were dangerously, and thirteen seriously hurt, but not any killed outright.

Cheas Powers was hanged at Palestine, Texas, on the 11th inst., for the murder of Houston McMeans in March, 1881.
