NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

W. A. HEARNE—Change of Schedule.
E. B. COX—Administrator's notice.
HUMPHREY & HOWARD—War in Egypt ended.

Journal Miniature Almanac.

Sun rises, 5:46 Length of day,
Sun sets, 6:00 12 hours, 14 minutes.
Moon sets 11:23 p. m.

Mayor Howard is still too unwell to hold court.

A few knotty peaches in market yesterday, retailing at fifty cents per peck.

Another lot of Smithfield cotton came down last night, consigned to John U. Smith Esq.

Mr. Elijah Ellis' ware house on East Front street is being repaired for the reception of rice.

Elegant gas lamps have been placed at each corner of the new passenger building at the Midland depot.

The new telegraph operator, Miss Kuyk, came in last night and Mr. McCullen leaves to-day, for Raleigh.

A string of crows about four miles long passed over the Neuse and Trent late yesterday evening—going Southward.

We have the new schedule of the Midland and will get it up in a day or two. They run freight trains each way every day.

The mill of Dail Bros. at Pamlico caught fire on Sunday night, but happily it was discovered and extinguished before doing any damage.

Two bales of cotton from Richlands, Onslow county arrived last night. It was sent by Mr. Zach Brown who was expected to follow.

Messrs. James L. Battle, George H. Willis, Lewis R. Randolph, Jones E. Abbott and Edward Bowens, all colored, left on the Shenandoah yesterday for Lincoln University.

Mr. Solomon Scott received yesterday a crate of Jenkins' Ale from Elizabeth City. The sampler of the Cotton Exchange says it is all right judging from the two bottles sent to him to sample.

An extra train will be run on the Midland for the benefit of those who wish to attend the stockholders meeting on the 29th. It is hoped that the new engines will be here by that time.

The Rev. Oliver Gatling, col. has recently returned to this city after seven years of foreign travel. The gentleman says he has been here long enough to electioneer for Daniel Stimson, and get in one fight.

The new steamer Kinston steamed up yesterday to make a trial of her machinery, and went down the Neuse several miles. There was some difficulty about keeping steam up, and a larger smoke stack may have to be ordered.

There were 20 bales of new cotton sold in the market yesterday at prices ranging from 11 to 11 1/2. On day before a nice grade of Smithfield cotton sold for 11 1/2. It will pay, in this market, to be very careful in housing and ginning cotton.

The Atlantic Fire Company received their new hose again yesterday. It had been returned—not standing the test—to the manufacturers to have the couplings remade. It will be tried again and if it does not come up the guarantee will be returned.

In our Kinston Items on Sunday the statement that Mr. E. F. Cox would probably run for Sheriff if J. D. Sutton Esq., the Democratic nominee, would withdraw, is a mistake. Mr. Cox writes us that he will not, under any circumstances be a candidate for political office.

The paint brush and carpenters tools are greatly improving the appearance of the Academy rooms—walls, door facings, desks etc. Prof. Johnson is giving the work his personal attention and will have things in order by the first of October. Nearly 400 children have been enrolled.

Graded School.

The teachers elect of the New Berne Graded school will meet at my office in the Roberts building, this morning at 10 o'clock.

D. B. JOHNSON, Principal.

Politics.

We think the Democrats of Jones did a very sensible act in their convention last Saturday in not making any nomination for Register of Deeds, against the Republican candidate, L. T. Wilson Esq. Jones has three excellent county officials in her present Sheriff, Clerk and Register of Deeds, two Democrats and one Republican, and it would be unfortunate to have either of them defeated. And, since the Democratic nominee for Register of Deeds in Lenoir has declined to run, we make a suggestion that no other be nominated. The present incumbent makes a capital officer, and is bound to be elected—and why go through the useless ceremony of putting out a candidate?

Passengers on the Shenandoah.

On her inward trip yesterday morning the Shenandoah brought the following passengers: W. D. Lothrop, Mr. Jacobs, C. Manford, W. Parker, G. Parsons, J. F. Taylor, Miss Mamie Ellis, Miss Janie Ellis, E. Hubbs and wife, Dr. W. P. Balance, Mrs. Sperling and daughter.

Outward trip, A. M. Hanff, H. Sperling, Mrs. Claypoole, Mr. Fleury and others.

Better Salary.

From a letter received by one of the Academy Trustees, we learn that Miss Corinne Harrison has received an offer to teach in the celebrated Quincey School in Mass., at a better salary than was offered here. As a journalist we feel gratified that our estimate of Miss Harrison's ability, so often expressed last summer, should be confirmed by a celebrated Northern school; but as a citizen of New Berne we would regret to lose her services. We think our Trustees would not be justifiable in losing her if an additional increase in salary would prevent. We have never seen her superior in a school room, and the salary tendered is not a sufficient remuneration.

River and Marine.

The Shenandoah brought in a large freight yesterday morning of general merchandise, and carried out in the evening between two and three hundred bales of cotton for Elizabeth City.

The Goldsboro of the Clyde line cleared for Baltimore yesterday evening with lumber, naval stores, wooden plates and over two hundred bales of cotton.

The steamer Neuse cleared for Kinston at 5 o'clock p. m. yesterday with a heavy cargo of general merchandise, and several passengers.

The steamer Trent went up Neuse with merchandise for different points on the river yesterday.

The steamer Contentnea arrived yesterday evening from Vanceboro with naval stores and shingles, and four passengers.

Your Name in Print.

Dr. W. P. Balance has returned from New York and reports a large stock of goods following.

Mr. A. M. Baker has returned from the northern markets and is now ready to greet the ladies with a polite bow.

Capt. O. S. Dewey returned from Raleigh on Monday night. He was greeted at the corner yesterday by the jewels.

Misses Janie and Mamie Ellis returned on the Shenandoah yesterday morning from a visit to friends in Baltimore.

Benj. F. Henderson from the Daves place in Jones, came to town yesterday for cotton pickers. He carries out a load this morning.

Mr. J. K. Willis goes to Kinston to-day to lay the foundation for a handsome monument to the late John Patterson.

We were pleased last night to meet Mr. R. D. McCotter the Democratic nominee of Pamlico for the Legislature.

Mr. E. G. Wise of Pamlico gave us a call yesterday. He reports the Democratic party booming in Pamlico.

Advantages of the Cotton Exchange.

There is a large, comfortable room, well warmed in winter, furnished with tables for the display of samples, and where telegrams are received and posted.

All cotton offered is sampled and the samples taken to this room.

The buyers all assemble at this place and buy nowhere else.

For convenience of sellers and to expedite the handling of cotton, a large yard well floored is provided, where all offered is placed and the mud and water avoided by this means.

All producers of cotton have access to the room and yard and can sell their cotton at an expense of fifteen cents per bale including weighing.

Out of town dealers in cotton have all the privileges of the Exchange the same as producers.

Resident merchants and dealers have to belong to the Exchange and conform to the by-laws, pay assessments when made etc.

Similar advantages are no where else offered to cotton producers.

Elsewhere in cities they cannot sell their own cotton, but must have a commission merchant.

Grape Farming.

Mr. Geo. Hundley sold his grapes this summer, in New York, from one acre at clear profit of $915.00. He says he will also make, with no labor but his own, 40 barrels of corn and 3,000 pounds of lint cotton, or $500 net for his year's work. Farming pays at this rate.—Warrenton Gazette.

New Berne Cotton Market.

We wish to call Brother Bonitz's attention to a mistake in the Messenger in quoting the New Berne cotton market. In Monday's paper, Sept. 18th, the Messenger quotes middling cotton in New Berne at 11 cents. We don't know where he gets such a report from, but if he would kindly look over the JOURNAL in making out that market, it would be much better. Not only could he have obtained this information from our market report but in our local columns we have given actual sales and names of parties, so that there was no chance of mistake. Thus in Saturday's Daily JOURNAL, Sept. 16, we gave sales of cotton from Kinston—barely grading middling—at 11.80, and on next day, account of sale of 20 bales at 11 1/2. Today the market is some lower, but still from 1 to 1 1/2 cent above the Messenger quotations. We notice in same Messenger that middling cotton at Goldsboro is quoted at 11 1/2; so we see the New Berne market is from a quarter to a half cent better per pound than at Goldsboro. The New Berne buyers propose to handle some of the Smithfield cotton this season, and, of course, Goldsboro don't want to take any advantage by misquoting the market. We think it was inadvertence in making up the market report.

Jewels Rejected.

The day was one to which long lingering looks had been cast by the Panel, equalled only by the earnest interest of the mariner who entertains an ancient belief in the great danger of the "equinox."

The CHIEF returned, but owing to the fatigue of the journey and loss of sleep, he was not feeling like examining into matters of business, so the morning was spent in "mutual admiration" and "congratulation."

The public may hold silence, for it is the determination of the Panel to "hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may," if anybody knows what that means. There are matters that they will set right, if it takes them until the Episcopalians finish their church spire, to do it.

The Panel were not unmindful that the Chief was not the only Jewel that arrived this morning, for they saw the omnibus as it went from the Shenandoah with a precious freight of "Jewels."

The News and Observer announced the question before the Panel, but it is deemed best to postpone the matter until the November election shall decide whether the dog has any tail to wag, and the chills have so far abated as to relieve the fears of the Governor.

The matter of the Graded School is on the "hook," and will have an investigation. The renting of the property west of the Academy will probably be approved, as that was advised, but the turning the Square around was one of the conditions attached to the advice.

How are the girls going to see the trains pass as it now stands?

The steamer Kinston ran out on a short trial trip, but as it did not assume the proportions of an excursion, it was left out as were the Jewels.

An Immense Business.

J. W. Scott & Co., yesterday, bought 15,000 pounds of dried fruit, 5,600 being purchased from one man. It was not a good day for dried fruit either. The business of this firm is simply immense and is still on the grow. We know of no men who more fully and richly deserve success than the energetic and enterprising young men who compose the firm of J. W. Scott & Co.—Greensboro Patriot.

Kinston Items.

Corn, $1.00 per bushel.
Meal, $1.20
Wheat, $1.00
N. C. Hams, 20c. per lb.
Lard, 20 per lb.
Chickens, 30 to 50c per pair.
Eggs, 15c per dozen.
The above are retail prices.
Cotton (Baled) 11c.
Cotton, seed, 8 1/2c.

The steamer Neuse, with 181 bales of cotton taken in here last Saturday, left Kinston wharf for New Berne early last Monday morning.

Lam Mowborn says his Boss has got a new clerk who will be in the store in about a week, drawing molasses and ruling him out. Don't like the idea of such a new-comer taking his place so unceremoniously.

Uncle Richard is using white paint on his residence opposite the court house with good effect and with a studied purpose. It is surmised he is preparing to join the white man's party after the Senatorial nomination in Greene on the 20th, inst., and is now setting his house in order.

Married, at John L. Coker's railway station, near Neuse river, on Sunday, Sept. 17th, current, by Wm. C. Fields, J. P., Miss Adelaide Brown of Lenoir county, to David B. Stowe of Dare county.

The Squire beheld her with surprise, and prayed her straightway to arise. Then joining hands, in accents low, pronounced them Mr. and Mrs. Stowe.

La Grange Items.

Cotton picking may be said to be in full blast.
M. S. Webb has sold out, closed up, and gone to Morehead City.
E. W. Bizzell will not accept the nomination for Register of Deeds.
Sim Wooten returned from the north last week, and is now receiving his new goods.
Jesse H. Hardy has a stock of goods in the store formerly occupied by J. D. Walters.
Everett Blizzard and Bettie Seymore were married last week, Judge Moore officiating.
James Bizzell of Wayne and Laura Wooten of Greene, were bound in the bonds of wedlock last Thursday.
C. L. Koonce and family left to-day for Florida. Hope they may realize their most sanguine expectations.
The rice crop is excellent. Noah Rouse reports 17 acres that will be ready for cutting next week. He says the growth is good and that the heads will average from 8 to 14 inches in length. Capt. Harper reports from his new purchase in Jones, heads 18 inches in length.

A curiosity at Col. Isler's mill—so saith Howel Garris. A cat having lost her kitten, found four young rats which she is nursing as she would the kitten. Does this throw any light on the question, "which is the mother of the chicken the hen that lays the egg or the one that hatches it?"

The quiet place, Bucklesberry, has a new sensation. Dempsey Wood is training for the State Fair, his bay mare "Maude," and Mr. Green is training Joe Lassier's stallion "Chief." They practice nearly every morning, and to a man who drives a slow mule, the horses appear to make good time.

John Wilson, colored, gave Joshua Walters, a lad of 15 years of age, a severe blow on Saturday evening. The circumstances, as I learn them are, that Walters asked to ride in Wilson's cart, and being refused, began to curse Wilson, when Wilson got down from the cart and struck the blow. Wilson has been arrested and Walters was, at last accounts, doing well.

Since the excitement produced by the action of our county convention has subsided, politics have somewhat cooled down, and I believe that nearly all Democrats in this section will support the regular ticket. They don't like some of the candidates, but like Democracy, and don't intend to be disgruntled over some of their nominations, but I think they have about wheeled into line, and will vote for the nominees. So any candidate expecting support from the other side is building upon a sandy foundation and will find his hopes demolished on the 7th day of November, 1882. Parties ties are politically stronger than kindred ties.

Jones County Items.

Our county convention passed off very quietly and harmoniously.
I think the farmers could sell their cotton in Trenton as well as in New Berne.
Mr. Chas. H. Foy of Trenton, one of our active, energetic and successful merchants bought the first bag of cotton sold in Trenton this season paying 11 3/8 cts. for it.
Messrs. J. P. Brogden and E. G. McDaniel have been quite busy opening and putting up their large stocks of fall goods, which they offer to their customers at bottom prices.
Mr. D. C. Parker has just completed a market house and oyster saloon in Trenton, and he will furnish his customers with fresh fish and oysters at all times. Very much to the convenience of the citizens of the town and community.
Col. Jno. N. Whitford was endorsed at the county convention last Saturday without a dissenting voice, heretofore there has been some opposition to his nomination but all parties seem to have become reconciled and all doubtless will unite and give him their undivided support. Col. Whitford will make an active and useful member of the Legislature and he will, as is characteristic of himself, adhere strictly to the principles which he considers right.

Stonewall Items.

Rain ceased; have had one week of pretty weather.
Rice cutting will commence next week—it is all right.
Cotton is opening rapidly and picking will be in full blast next week.
The Tiger Lily was on time last night and left here this morning. This seems more like being in the world; still, parties are much disappointed about their freight.
Some of our citizens are having hard luck in losing their horses with the disease known as blind staggers. I understand that Mr. John B. Reel, of Upper Broad creek, and Mr. Huff, near Rayboro, lost their horses last week by this disease, and also Mr. Council B. Midyatt here, at this writing, a very fine young mare, worth two hundred dollars, at the point of death—quite a loss.

Independent Preachers.

Hurrah! for Kernersville she has got two candidates in the field both independents, and both preachers. Surely when a man is called to preach God's gospel he fills a higher office than lies in the power of men to give.—Kernersville News.

Bill Smith.

Maj. Wm. A. Smith, of Johnston, long recognized as a leader among the leaders of the Republican party in North Carolina, and the party's candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the ticket with Judge Settle, was in the city last Thursday and expressed his disgust freely and emphatically with the coalition movement, and will not take any coalition in his ticket. The Major, always outspoken, says if he must vote for Democrats he will vote for the best men and not for those styled deserters, smelling around the Republican camp for fleshpots. He will vote for Gen. W. R. Cox for Congress in preference to Dev-ereaux. He will vote for Judge Ruffin for the Supreme Court against Folk. He will vote for Judges Gilmer and McKoy in preference to Darby and Edwards, and the Major says that thousands of other Republicans will do likewise. In short Maj. Smith has on a big disgust with the Revenue-Coalition ring.—Goldsboro Messenger.

The Rain Storm.

A severe rain storm burst upon this section Sunday and Sunday night, unequalled for the quantity of water and severity of wind ever known heretofore. Here the damage was considerable. Mr. J. C. Buxton's block of new buildings on Liberty Street, the second story walls of which were up, had the front wall broken, necessitating the taking out of the entire front of the center store room. The gentlemen had a brick-kiln near the creek, a mile from town, completely destroyed, and several cords of wood at the same, washed away. He estimates his damages at $500. Mr. Jacob Tise's mill dam near town, was washed out. Mr. Stafford's mill dam in South Fork, was not only broken, but the mill building was greatly damaged. All the bridges across Town Fork in Stokes, and Muddy Creek in this county, were washed away. Nearly every mill dam in the whole country around has been broken, and the damage to the growing crops incalculable. Many farmers estimate their losses at $500. The Yadkin River, however, was not so high—only about 12 feet above common water. The damage on the river consequently was not great. There never has been such a rain in this section before. The tobacco has suffered severely. To what extent it is yet impossible to estimate.—Winston Republican.

Four Men Buried Alive.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—At 10 o'clock this morning the embarkment along the western approach to the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge, which crosses the Schuylkill at Gray's Ferry, caved in while workmen were engaged there, and four men were buried by the earth. A large crowd of residents of the neighborhood went to their rescue and dug out three of the men alive, but badly, if not fatally, injured. The fourth was recovered dead.
