THE JOURNAL.

NEW BERNE, N. C., SEPT. 24, 1882.
Entered as the Post office at New Bern, N. C.
"BOANER DOCKERY" is what the Chatham Record calls him. It is a Boaner for term on both sides then.

THE Chatham Record comes out this week with no snake story in it. The good brother is evidently failing. BENNETT has been speaking there and exorcised the snakes, probably.

MANY of the old-line Republicans are perfectly willing to see the Liberal ticket beaten. The Greensboro North State and Winston Republican are on the War path against Chairman Cooke.

JAMES B. NOR who was nominated for office by the Liberals of Carteret comes out in a card in the Telephone denouncing the Liberals and claiming to be a Republican pure and straight. He says if he can get no Republican ticket to support, he will vote for the Democratic nominee for Sheriff, Julius F. Jones.

The Strength and Weakness of the Church.

We find in a Northern paper an address by Mr. George C. Glenn, a free thinker, on the "Strength and Weakness of the Church." It is moderate in its tone and dignified, and commends itself to some extent to thoughtful readers.

The lecturer presents the elements of strength possessed or claimed by the church about as follows:
1. Its antiquity, and the conclusion drawn from it that anything that has been preserved so long must possess great merit.
2. The mysticism that surrounds and permeates it, and which operates like a charm on all that comes within its influence.
3. The influence of poetry which is associated with that of sacred music. This influence is exerted on persons who are not close reasoners, and who, perhaps do not reason at all.
4. The attractiveness of the Christian doctrine of immortality as presented in many of the expressions of Jesus and as pictured in various ways by poets and orators.
5. The magnitude and variety of its charities, which embrace every object of benevolence in our own and foreign lands.

ception of the poet and artist was inspired by the belief in the supernatural. It is evident that the lecturer did not enumerate all the elements of strength in the church. He did not mention its splendid organization, its great wealth, and the devotion of many of its members. He did not refer to the common belief that it was ordained by God, or to the equally common belief that the Bible which authorizes its organization is His revealed word. He did not mention the fact that many believe in the divine authority of the church and find nothing inconsistent in the plan of salvation as set forth in the New Testament and as interpreted by Catholic councils and by Luther and Calvin. He made no allusion to the fact that many believe that no code of morals can be made operative unless it can be shown that there is a higher authority for them than the approval of a few worthy persons. He did not speak of the respect in which the church is held by the civilized world, nor the living example of thousands and ten thousands of pious men and women who are guided by its precepts. And above all the speaker did not mention, for he could not realize that truth, that the Church is from God and is upheld by His power. "And the Lord shall be King over all the earth; in that day there shall be one Lord, and his name one."

The Outlook

The outlook in North Carolina is admirable. We have everything to assure us of victory. Dockery's canvass, it is said by those who have been over much of the same ground, has been without result, while indiscreet expressions here and there have positively harmed him.

Latham's election, at one time doubtful, is no longer so. Green will beat Canna day by an increased majority. Robbins finds the enemy's camp divided into two hostile factions—Dr. Cooke being bitter and massing at least one-half of the Republicans under his banner, while Dr. York has met with the fate that follows all politicians who desert their colors on the eve of battle, and gets but little comfort from either his old Democratic associates whom he now denounces, or from his new renegade friends whom he so lately denounced. "The filth and mud of Radicalism," his favorite expression, does not commend him to his new allies. In the other Democratic districts there is practically no opposition to our candidates, while Hubbs and O'Hara are fighting over the only cheese the Republicans will get in this State. Bennett's election by not less than thirteen thousand is claimed with confidence, while the opposition to Ruffin and our judicial ticket is barely respectable.

We will have the Legislature by our usual majority—two-thirds in the Senate and nearly three-fifths in the House. In fact the Liberal movement is a flat failure.

Before the Liberal convention met we expressed our doubts whether the Republican leaders would be so wanting in political wisdom as to affiliate with it and disband their old time organization and throw overboard their old local leaders in order to get a few sorehead and impracticable Democrats for standard bears. Happily for us—those whom the gods sought to destroy they first bereft of reason—and the most impolitic thing the Republican leaders could well have done they did. The blunder once made was irreparable. From then local dissensions have become widespread. The Republican party is rent and torn into all sorts of factions, while the two State committees keep warring, and try to look cheerful. The fifty odd, and thousand white men whom the census tells us did not vote at the last election will not follow Leach, whose famous words are now known to all: "The leopard cannot change his spots nor the Ethiopian his color, but my God, Dockery, how soon a white man gets to be nigger when he joins the Radical party."
A survey of the State, with such information as comes from sources heretofore reliable, makes us buoyant, and we feel that the Democratic party is better organized, growing stronger and more united daily, while the enemy is all to pieces and so hopelessly divided that it will be quite impossible to heal their breaches and reconcile their differences. And it was the revenue ring and the little god-ful of Liberals that did it. We think a vote of thanks to Price, Leach, Johnston, Cooke, Mott and Harris is in order.

D. A. Jenkins Speaks on the Subject of Constitution.

We published a letter from the Hon. David A. Jenkins, ex-State Treasurer. No man enjoys the confidence of the people of North Carolina, irrespective of party, to a greater degree than does Col. Jenkins. He is a stalwart Republican. The position he has taken will have a very damaging effect upon the so-called Liberal movement. We had hoped that the experiment, so heartily advocated by a few, might at least receive the passive support of those who have heretofore been regarded as the leaders of the Republican party, but the Accoucheurs in their parturient seems to have lost sight of the fact that there are one hundred thousand Republicans in North Carolina who never expect an office, and who vote the ticket because of their devotion to the principles of the grand old Republican party. If they had been consulted and their opinions treated with some little consideration, it would have been as well. Instead, the most super-human efforts were applied to secure the cooperation of some wind-broken, hipshodden, spavined, spring-kneed, string-halted, disheveled, Bourbon Democratic steeds who ought to have had their shoes pulled off and allowed to run the pasture for at least one season, so they might have practically regenerated a constitution which they had broken down in serving the Democratic party.

An Idiot.

One William M. Cooke, Jr., a candidate for Congress in the Asheville District against Gen. Vance, has issued a card, which is intended to influence voters in his favor. Here is an extract:
"Attempts are being made, fellow citizens, to persuade you that my success and that of those with whom I am acting, is in some way to insure to the benefit of the late Republican party in the State."
This Cooke is chairman of the Executive Committee of the so-called Liberal party. We call upon Dock Sorrell to suppress his idiotic chairman. If the above is a specimen of Cooke's wisdom, it is easy enough to see that Vance will have a walk-over.—Winston Republican.

Dr. Deems invited to Lecture.

Our citizens will be glad to learn that our enterprising friends of the Wilmington Library Association have extended an invitation to Rev. Dr. C. F. Deems to deliver another of his popular lectures in this city. He has accepted an invitation to lecture in Raleigh on the 5th of October, and it was thought he could probably be prevailed upon to visit us again. His numerous friends in Wilmington will extend him a hearty welcome, should he find it convenient to gratify them in the manner proposed.—Wtl. Star.

Whisky Treatment.

(Goldsboro Methodist Advance.)
We hear of some physicians who treat the malarial fever, now so prevalent, with whisky, and lose all their patients. For the benefit of the people we will state that our physicians here do not use the whisky practice, and they are very successful. Considering the large amount of sickness in this section there has been very little fatality.

Politics in Davie.

Politics in Davie is somewhat on a boom. It is the only county we have yet visited where we found Liberals—liberal Democrats we mean. And we were told they are still thicker in Rowan county.

On Tuesday the Republicans and Liberals put out their country ticket, which we will be able to give fully next week. Col. Dockery's appointment for Monday, was filled by Collector I. J. Young. Dr. J. G. Ramsey also spoke.
