No Mayor's court for several days.

Onslow Superior Court convenes next week.

Our townsman, A. G. Hubbard Esq., was much improved yesterday.

Mr. Ellis' rice mill is being put in first rate condition. Rice is coming in slowly.

Mr. Ed Street received a pair of new Fairbanks scales yesterday and was put to work on the cotton yard.

At the skating rink last night some of the young ladies illustrated pretty fairly the "minstrel's" skating lesson.

The brick building near the Clyde wharf, built by Mr. Wm. Olivert twenty-seven years ago, is being re-covered.

Miss Fannie Clark, Miss Bessie Whitford and Miss Janie Whitford were registered as visitors at the Cotton Exchange yesterday.

Mayor Howard says he don't remember ever seeing the city so quiet for so long a time during his administration as it has been for the past few weeks. Only two cases during the present month.

The steamer Kinston arrived last night from up Neuse with 110 bales of cotton—80 through and 30 local. She was unable to reach Kinston on this trip on account of low water. The cotton was brought down a few miles on a flat boat.

The Secretary of the Raleigh Fair for next week calls attention to the shooting match for Thursday, and wishes New Berne to send up a team. The material is not here at this time. The young men of the city are almost entirely engrossed in business, and sport of this kind is at a discount. There is a strong effort being made to revive an interest in this direction in the Gymnasium building, but that rather languishes for want of proper interest. We should make a change in this matter. Innocent pleasures should be encouraged at all times.

There is a big effort to introduce "Olive Butter," the name "Olive" being more easy to swallow than "cotton seed oil" butter, though the article is made from cotton seed oil. Washington Butcher & Sons, (suggestive name) are manufacturing it on a large scale in Philadelphia, and it is said to be running a race with "Oleomargine" for the patronage of cheap hotels, restaurants, etc.—Farmer and Mechanic.

We see no reason why a pure vegetable oil should not be as palatable as hog's grease. The "olive oil" is being introduced here in New Berne and is doing all that is claimed for it—equal to the best lard and cheaper.

Pitcairn Green Dead.

The Cotton Exchange dog, belonging to Geo. Oliver, was found dead in a goods box yesterday morning. His name was Pitcairn Green. The Jewels have not set the time for the funeral.

Rice.

Notwithstanding the good reports from the rice crop that we have been receiving all along, yet but little has been brought to market and that of an inferior quality. A small lot in yesterday brought from 80 cents to $1.00 per bushel.

For the Penitentiary.

Two prisoners of the penitentiary were brought in from Jones county yesterday evening and lodged in jail. They were Alfred Ward, col., convicted of an assault with intent to commit rape, sentenced to 15 years, and Charles Whitfield, col., convicted of manslaughter, sentenced to 10 years. These were the only important cases tried. Court adjourned on Friday morning.

Your Name in Print.

Miss Harriet Lane, Misses Catharine and Frances Taylor, T. F. Hargett and L. C. Read arrived on the Shenandoah yesterday morning.

Mrs. M. D. Dewey has returned from the North and is opening a fine stock of Millinery.

Rev. N. M. Journey, of Beaufort, was in the city yesterday.

Col. J. N. Whitford was in the city on Friday. He goes to Onslow next week to join in the canvass.

Chas. H. Foy of Trenton is in the city. He promises to tell us the news when he gets settled.

Mr. John C. Wooten of Lenoir was in the city yesterday. He brings down 25 bales of cotton.

Mr. Macon Bryan of Vanceboro was at the Exchange yesterday with 20 bales of cotton.

River and Marine.

The schooner J. B. Anderson was loading lumber at Congdon's mill yesterday.

The Tiger Lily sailed for Bay River and Hyde county yesterday with general merchandise.

The steamer Neuse cleared for Kinston yesterday evening with merchandise and a number of passengers.

The Shenandoah made her usual trip yesterday carrying out cotton and passengers.

The Stout, of the Clyde line, cleared for Baltimore last night with wood plates, naval stores and between 600 and 700 bales of cotton.

Cotton Yesterday.

Two hundred and twenty-two bales changed hands yesterday at the Exchange. Among the sellers we recognized several of our best farmers—Messrs. J. W. Biddle, Enoch Lane, C. J. Rhem, Hezekiah Davis, Ed. White, Bat Wethersby and others.

Liverpool futures closed "flat," and spots with "moderate inquiry freely supplied." New York spots closed "steady" and futures made slight advance.

La Grange Items.

An infant child of D. M. Stanton died in this place Tuesday night.

Two new houses building in the place—C. W. Joyner's eating house and Thos. Head's drinking house.

Henrietta Michiner, col., died on Tuesday and was buried at the colored burial ground near Spring Hill Wednesday.

W. M. Nettles and family left this place for Florida on Tuesday. They take with them the best wishes of relatives and friends.

Reuben Attmore, proprietor of the "North Carolina fuss hotel," continues to furnish meals at the old price. No Chromoes thrown in after this date.

Mrs. F. McCoy died at her husband's residence in this place on Tuesday the 10th inst. The interment took place at the village cemetery on yesterday.

A small burglary on the house of Mary Smith, col., last Sunday night. Property to a small amount was carried off. The doer of the deed has not yet been found out.

A. N. Rouse left the city on Tuesday for Nash county and returned Wednesday night with one to lighten his sorrows and heighten his joys or vice versa. Miss Nancy Fryar was the bride.

James Wood alias Jim Potlicker, the La Grange vagrant, has returned to town, paid the costs of his vagrancy, and enjoys the rights and privileges of citizenship. Harrison, the long-legged policeman, should remember that Jim has at least one redeeming trait—he don't drink whiskey.

Ohio Election.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11th.—The Enquirer, Democratic, claims fifteen Congressmen in Ohio. As to the majorities it ventures no estimates, but refers freely editorially to its telegrams. It says the victory is decisive and overwhelming, and that it disposes of Foster in politics. It assumes that the campaign was desperate on the part of the Republicans, because, as it alleges, they talked one way on the liquor question in the country and another in the cities. It says the result is significant beyond mere local questions; that the Democrats, after being cheated out of the Presidency in 1876, came near electing their man in 1880, and that this and probably similar votes in New York and Pennsylvania are prophetic of a Democratic victory in the next Presidential campaign.

A special dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette (Republican), from Columbus, gives the following as the probable list of Congressmen elected: Democrats—1st district, John F. Fallett; 2d, Isaac M. Jordan; 4th, Benj. F. Leflore; 5th, Geo. H. Zency; 10th, Frank H. Hurd; 13th, Geo. L. Converse; 16th, Beniah Wilkins; 21st, Martin A. Foran—total, 8. Republicans—3d district, Emanuel S. Schultz; 9th, J. Warren Keifer; 11th, J. W. McCormick; 14th, E. A. Harr; 17th, J. T. Tydegraff; 18th, W. McKinley, Jr.; 19th, Ezra B. Taylor; 20th, A. S. McClure—total, 8. This leaves five districts doubtful, and of these it is probable that James E. Campbell, Democrat, is elected in the 7th district, and Hurd, Republican, in the 12th.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 11.—Seven hundred and sixty-three precincts show a net Democratic gain of 24,380, indicating a Democratic majority in the State of 35,000.

The New Olive Butter

This butter is excellent for frying purposes. There's something in a name, but, probably, nothing of the "olive" in the butter, except its color; but, besides being assured by chemists that this is a perfectly pure vegetable oil, all housekeepers who have tried it will agree that it is extremely economical and makes a very delicate frying material. Here was formerly the situation in the kitchen over the frying pan: You could take lard, which was not cheap and "used up" very fast; you had butter, which, besides being expensive, required a skilled cook to keep it from burning; or you could use salad oil, which, though costing alarmingly to begin with, required so little to do the work that the cooking school would tell you it was like the widow's cruse—it did not seem to lose perceptibly; after frying fifty oysters, the bottle was nearly as full as before.

But very few American housekeepers could be brought, by its first expense, to try using sweet oil, which is the frying material of all south Europe. We leave out of the list "clarified fat," or dripping, because there is seldom enough of this to do the entire cooking with, even with a conscientious person in the kitchen who understands how to save and use it all, as it should always be insisted on.

The two best known vegetable oils that this country produces are cotton seed oil and pea-nut oil, both of which are understood to have been for years exported to Europe, coming back to us in wicker-covered flasks as Italian olive oil. Real olive oil from California is too small a product, as yet, to count much in the home market.

The manufacturers of the new olive butter—which is not butter at all, but a clear, greenish oil—have agreed to give us a home product, warranted pure, without the ocean voyage; though, to conciliate our ridiculous American prejudices, do not label it cotton-seed or peanut oil, the former of which it probably is.

Anybody who tries it will agree that it cooks as well as salad oil; and as all vegetable oils heat at lower temperatures than the solid animal fats, it does not burn away or waste as rapidly as lard. It comes in convenient cans, with a monthpiece, like the kerosene oil cans, so that you can pour off just the desired quantity for use, and, after cooking, this can be carefully strained and returned to the can, except it has been used for fish, when it must be put into a separate bottle and kept apart for this use. It has a slightly pungent smell when cooking, which is said to be entirely removed by the use of a pinch of salt, but which is no worse than other frying through the house. The egg plants, oysters, clam or corn-fritters that are turned out of olive butter by a good cook, have not a particle of greasiness about them, nor any taste whatever, of the medium in which they are fried.—Philadelphia Ledger.

All Over the South.

The pecan crop in Texas is enormous.

Alabama expects to turn out 370,000 tons of pig iron next year.

Tennessee is certain of making an immense peanut crop this year.

The colored Baptists in Tennessee number 60,000 and have 150 churches.

In the public library at Macon, Ga., is an American atlas published in 1796.

One Winston, N. C., idiot carries $150,000 in matrimonial insurance policies.

The total valuation of property in Texas is now put at $400,000,000 in round numbers.

A fifteen-year-old girl in Harris county, Ga., is the mother of five children—triplets and twins.

Texas has fully 7,000,000 sheep, and the wool crop of the present year will be worth $6,500,000.

Mobile, Alabama, is doing more to aid fever-stricken Pensacola than any other city in the South.

A Southern exchange says the great needs of the South are small farms and diversified crops.

Amite county, Miss., claims to be the next place to paradise. It has neither paupers or prisoners.

It is estimated that at least 30,000 men are engaged in the "matrimonial benefit" business in Mississippi.

In spite of the overflow, probably in consequence of it, the Louisiana sugar crop is the best since the war.

The State Campaign.

(Wil. Star.)

Republicans, you are sold; the question is whether you can be delivered or not.—Greensboro North State, Rep.

The Democrats of the Second District held a convention and decided that it was not expedient to nominate a candidate or to have volunteer candidates.

Latham and Pool spoke at Black Jack yesterday, and at Bethel today. The speech of Mr. Pool was very poor indeed, and disappointed many people, who had heard him spoken of as one of the best Republican orators in the State.—Greenville Reflector.

For more than two hours the distinguished Senator (Ransom) talked to the people in a way that made weak and doubting Democrats stand erect. His speech is pronounced the best heard in Hillsboro since the days of Judge Wiley P. Mangum.—Hillsboro Observer.

The Revenue Machine has swallowed the Republican party in North Carolina. It has usurped party management, and its effrontery, its insensibility, its inordinate lust for spoils and its shamelessness is driving honest men by the score out of the Republican party.—Greensboro Patriot.

Which is it? We have either got a Greenback candidate for Congress with Republican proclivities or we have a Republican party with Greenback proclivities. Hard to tell which. Our party has retired from the regular legitimate trade and become a dealer in old clothes—or a junk dealer.—Greensboro North State.

Judge Bennett left last evening for his home in Anson county for a couple of days' rest. He is in very bad health, but notwithstanding this he has made and will continue to make a most active campaign. By request, Hon. R. F. Armfield will fill his appointment at Marion today.—Bennett made a splendid talk, one that was compared by the hearers to the best speeches that Gov. Vance, Senator Ransom, or Judge Merrimon have ever delivered. That Bennett did good yesterday cannot be gainsaid. He charmed the people, he instilled the fire of enthusiasm into them and waked them up generally. At 4 o'clock the crowd once more gathered in the court house, all eager and impatient to hear Bennett for the second time. Judge Bennett is an inspiring orator, he makes many new and telling points and his speech is interspersed with numerous good and fresh anecdotes.—"I have not sworn an oath in four years." If he has not sworn what he calls an oath in his speeches during the present campaign, if he does not call such words as these oath—"My God!" and "Great God Almighty," then we candidly admit that for one we do not wish to here him swear as he admits he did four years ago. In his letter denying the charge, he goes on to say further: "I never used obscene language in a speech, and any one who says so lies, and all persons who charge it are guilty of falsehood."—Charlotte Observer. [Leach made, as we learn, a most vulgar and abusive assault upon one of the Star staff at Wilson. He could not use the language he uttered in the company of gentlemen, much less of ladies. He is mad with the Star because it spoke of his ungrammatical vulgarity.—Star]

Cotton Gossip.

While at Mount Olive, a few days ago, we learned that many farmers who have sold their cotton in Goldsboro several years, are now shipping it to Wilmington. The cause of this seems to be that they have an impression that the buyers in Goldsboro have entered into a ring not to bid against each other. One day last week there were 30 bales from one gin shipped to Wilmington this trade came to this city last Fall. Unless something is done to change this tendency, it will be a dark day for the merchants of Goldsboro. News of the same kind has reached us from the country about LaGrange. The cotton from that region is going east.—Goldsboro Baptist Review.

Cash Getting Away From the Red Shirts.

Col. E. B. C. Cash, the South Carolina Greenbacker, came up last night on the freight from Chester, where he spoke an hour and a half yesterday. He stated that he was compelled to leave Chester because he was worried so by the red shirts, from which it is presumed that Chester received the lion of the Pee Dee" very much as Willsboro did McLane.
