It is important that the city council should at once pass an ordinance forbidding the smoking of pipes, cigars, etc. on the cotton yard and steamer wharves or in the immediate vicinity of them. 'No smoking allowed'' is now painted in large letters on the Old Dominion and Clyde Steamship wharves in a number of places, and yet officers in charge have often to admonish those who are thoughtless that they are disregarding the notice; but off of these wharves it is driving poor Orlando from the Congresmaterial, and sometimes sitting on ingale.
