LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
WATSON & STREET—Sole burnt cotton.
E. H. MEADOWS—Democratic speaking.
WASHINGTON BUTCHER'S SONS—Olive butter.

Journal Miniature Almanac.
Sun rises, 6:16 | Length of day,
Sun sets, 5:14 | 10 hours, 58 minutes.
Moon sets at 2:41 a. m.

Senator Ransom will speak in Beaufort next Monday, Oct. 30th.

Mr. John Leffers, the Independent candidate for the Legislature in Carteret, is out in a card withdrawing from the contest.

Mr. George Bishop is overhauling his boiler and engine, and is making arrangements to use three times the power formerly employed. That is the right key. Let the manufacturing industries of the city be widened and extended. Every pound of steam used in a community helps to give employment to its people and adds to the aggregate sum total of a city's enterprise and usefulness.

Town Clock.
A large Town clock is very much needed; one that will ring out the passing hours, and that can be seen and heard all over the city. Major Dennison says that if the Episcopal church will complete their tower and permit a clock to be placed in it, the money can easily be raised by subscription to put a $500 clock in it.

Earthquake.
On Monday morning at about 7 o'clock, a very distinct shock was felt in this city, supposed to be an earthquake. Houses were shaken and a rumbling noise was heard. Visitors from Pollocksville say the same shock was felt there. We learn that New Berne has felt two or three earthquake shocks within the memory of the older inhabitants.

Your Name in Print.
We were pleased to meet on yesterday our young friend J. E. Robinson of Goldsboro, a brother of the clever U. S. District Attorney.

A number of our Lenoir friends are in attendance upon the U. S. Court—mainly as witnesses. Among them we notice W. A. Coleman Esq., the spicy and incisive Kinston correspondent of the JOURNAL, Col. N. B. Whitfield, Messrs. Sam Loftin, W. A. Croom, John Holland, Charles Holland, John L. Williams, W. W. Rouse and R. A. Jones. Several others came down last night whom we have not seen.

Theft Captured.
On Wednesday last Mr. Daniel Cradle of Hyde county, while in this city, had stolen from him several articles of merchandise. The case was put in the hands of the City Marshal, who, assisted by policeman Bowden, has succeeded in running the thief down. Having tracked the case home he procured, on Monday from Esq. Brinson a search warrant for the house of Ben McCullum, colored, and, having found the missing articles, took the gentleman in charge. Among the articles was a ladies' bracelet! Rather curious merchandise for a young man to carry around.

Wanted a Pair of Shoes.
Mr. E. H. Lane, serving as a U. S. jurymen this week, is a large farmer in upper Craven, and on Monday expressed his regret at being called away from his farm at this busy season, when the court could have so easily picked up a jury in New Berne. It is said that one of the members of the jury from New Berne said a few weeks ago that he hoped he would be taken on the U. S. jury for he badly needed a new pair of shoes. Wonder who it can be? Guessing is in order. We note among the New Berne members, Messrs. L. H. Cutler, O. S. Dewey, W. F. Rountree, J. K. Willis, George Bishop, R. D. Hancock, M. Patterson, N. S. Richardson, S. R. Street, Jr., John Dunn and several others.

Cotton Yesterday.
Same old story—off 1-16 again. The New York and Liverpool markets are each quoted "steady," but if steady means anything it is a steady decline. At the Exchange 104 bales were sold from 10 to 10:30, and closed with middling at 10 9-16.

NEW YORK MARKET, SPOT:
Middling 10 9-16
Strict low middling 10 11-16
Low middling 10 7-16

NEW YORK FUTURES:
Morning Noon Evening
October 10.78 10.71 10.63
November 10.66 10.61 10.58
December 10.65 10.63 10.58
January 10.74 10.49 10.67

LIVERPOOL SPOTS:
Uplands 6 1/2
Orleans 6 1/2

LIVERPOOL FUTURES:
December, 6 28-64
January, 6 15-64
February, 6 10-64

New Invention.
Mr. P. M. Hardy, of Beaufort county, formerly from near La Grange, is in the city in the interest of his "patent hoe." He has invented a hoe which he thinks will sweep the country when its merits are fully known. He has sold the State right for Pennsylvania to Sloat & Co. of Philadelphia for one thousand dollars.

Cotton Arbitration.
On yesterday a case of arbitration came up before the committee appointed for that purpose by the Cotton Exchange. Mr. Carl Duncan had sold by sample, to Mr. John U. Smith, 30 bales of cotton. When the cotton was delivered Mr. Smith rejected it as not grading up to sample. The case was submitted to arbitration and the committee decided that, of the 11 bales submitted to them, two should be rejected and the other nine should pass muster.

Paint.
A visit to Raleigh and the comparison, forced on one's mind, between that city and New Berne, is not pleasant to a citizen of the latter place. New Berne certainly does look dingy and dirty, by contrast, and it ought not to rest under the charge any longer. This city is flourishing; the farmers around make good crops and spend their money here; the merchants are extending their trade and are making money; the Graded School has started under most auspicious circumstances; new families are moving into the city; and the cry is that dwelling houses are unattainable for new-comers; and yet the city presents a forlorn and dilapidated appearance, and a stranger coming here receives an unpleasant impression of our progressiveness. Paint! Paint!! Paint!!!

Payment of Life Policy.
Col. F. H. Cameron, Superintendent of the "Life Insurance Company of Virginia," yesterday paid to the heirs of our late fellow-citizen, Mr. E. H. Windley, the amount due from that company. Mr. Windley was originally insured in the N. C. State Life Ins. Co., and his policy, amounting to $2,500, had been transferred to and reinsured by the Life Ins. Co. of Virginia. Not a dollar of premium had ever been paid by Mr. Windley to the Virginia Company, as his last annual payment had been made to the "State Life" last winter. The papers in the case were not completed and sent to Col. Cameron at Raleigh until last Friday, and the prompt action of the Company in settling the claim, is but another proof of the liberality and good faith with which the Life Insurance Company of Virginia is acting towards its patrons and policy holders in this State, as well as the honorable manner in which it is meeting all obligations arising from its re-insurance of the policies of the "State Life."

Colored Convention.
The New Berne District Conference of the A. M. E. Zion Church, was held in St. Andrew's Chapel in this city last week, and we copy from the Carteret county Telephone, who had a special reporter on hand, (ahead of us in enterprise) a short summary of statistics: There are 45 churches in this district, valued at $19,400 with a total membership of 2925, and 1906 children in Sunday school. Wonderful progress has been made this year—hundreds and hundreds have been converted and added to the church.—thousands of dollars have been raised, new churches have been built, several now underway of construction, and others are being nicely finished up. In all these Pervis Chapel takes the lead. Dr. Burkhead's visit and address was highly appreciated. Elder Smyer's reply on behalf of the conference, the interest manifested in, and speeches on education, temperance, Sunday schools &c., made the session the most interesting one ever held in the east.

United States Court.
The Government, through its appointed officers, opened on Monday its semi-annual crusade against the evil-doers. Judge Seymour was promptly on hand in fine health from his summer's vacation. The Solicitor, Marshal and Clerk were all at their posts ready for duty. The Judge's charge to the Grand Jury was a little out of the ordinary routine in regard to duration, occupying about fifteen minutes in its delivery. He drew a distinction between the duties of the Grand Jurors in State and Federal Courts, showing that in the one case the members thereof, coming from the body of the county, are supposed to be cognizant of most of the crimes committed, and therefore ought to be instructed minutely on their duties and responsibilities. In the United States Court it was probable that the Jury would have no personal knowledge of offences against the Government, and their principal business would be in attending to the whisky and tobacco violation of the revenue law, and any information desired could be given at any time. Particular stress was laid on our duty to respect law, whether mala prohibita or mala in se, concerning which distinction the Court had grave doubts.

After the charge to the Grand Jury, on motion of J. E. O'Hara, Esq., the "regular nominee," Mr. Geo. H. White of the New Berne Bar was admitted to practice in the Federal Court. The remainder of the morning hour was taken up in calling over the docket and getting ready for work. When the Clerk called out the name of CHARLES H. BROWN, the Solicitor very kindly explained to the Judge that as Mr. Brown was very busily engaged in helping to run another Court (Lenoir Superior Court), he thought best to excuse him at present. "U. S. vs. Elizabeth Moody!" was next called. "May it please the Court," said the Solicitor, "I think proper to enter a vol pro in that case. She is a woman."

"I'll go off then and put on a dress myself," exclaimed, sotto voce, a Lenoir county youth who was standing near, and is expected to answer the Government on a charge of distilling whisky without Uncle Sam's permission.

In the evening the only case tried was one against David C. Davis Jr., of Lenoir for illicit distilling. A witness, Chas. Holland, gave in the following testimony: "In March 1880 I went to a distillery in Lenoir county, in a 'pocosin' near Council Davis' place, about one mile from the road. Saw two stills and saw James L. Davis and the defendant, David C. Davis. Saw defendant chop up wood and put under still where they were making whisky; know it was whisky—saw and tasted it. Next morning saw them take the still down and move it further out in the pocosin—had heard the Revenue officer was coming. James Davis seemed to be boss of the business; David was helping him."

James G. Holland gave in similar testimony, whereupon the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The T. R. Transportation Co.
MESSRS. EDITORS:—Can no steamboat company compete with the Trent River Transportation company? They charge 50 cents per bale of cotton from Trenton to New Berne, a distance of over 70 miles, and 40 cents per bale from Pollocksville a distance of less than 20 miles. They will receive cotton at Pollocksville only on the days the steamer is expected to come, that is Wednesdays and Saturdays, and she is supposed to leave at 2 p. m. so there is only the half of those days that they will receive cotton at Pollocksville. No matter how far off the gin house may be, nor how many bales delivered and make the rate from Pollocksville 30 cents per bale, I can assure him a fair share of business. The cotton from my house amounted to over 40 bales the past week and he should have my custom to start with. It is only the freight from Pollocksville that pays.

Swansboro Items.
Court this week in Onslow, Judge McRae presiding. Not much business, as our people are good and law abiding citizens.

There was a Dennis and Snow man at court, a No. 1 ventriloquist, but the weak whisky kinder got the best of him the second day and he retired to private life to feel better.

We had splendid music Monday night by Canaday & Wood's string band, assisted by Capt. George Bell of schooner Katie Edwards, all of Jacksonville, Onslow county, N. C.

Some little sickness among the children here. Two deaths occurred this week, little John P., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Frazzelle, aged three weeks, and Sudie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Smith, aged six months.

All quiet; not much news, only Mr. Bryan Hattell, at Queens creek, has opened a splendid stock of goods and is selling cheap—buying turpentine and all kinds of produce—has a splendid gin, run by water power; also a No. 1 grist mill. Good for Bryan.

Capt. Burns Smith caught 60 bbls of large mullets at one haul Monday. Wish we had good transportation from here to Beaufort. Can't we have a steamer or boat of some kind running on Bogus sound waters from here to Morehead City? Guess we could, if the sound was dredged a little. It would certainly be a great benefit to our people.

Mr. J. D. Hawkins says he saw blue fish catching sea gulls near his fishery a few days ago. A school of large blue fish were passing by, when the birds which were following them for sprats (little fish) would fly down and the fish would jump up and catch the gulls and pull them under the water. This looks pretty tough, but Mr. Hawkins is a man of truth, and will testify to the fact, which he will prove if necessary at any time.

Pretty quiet at court, the whiskey was too weak. Friend Lewis Mills wanted to reply to Wassom but was persuaded not to; guess his spirits was too weak. Capt. Peter May was lively, but all straight. A little fistfight between Messrs. M. Wood and G. W. Smith—not much damage done, believe Mr. Wood got the worst end. Cause, law suit, not whisky as is generally thought, at court times. Wood accused Smith stealing, when Smith replied with a forward action upon Wood's proboecis. Result, a side wheel for Wood.

Considerable speaking among the candidates—among them were Capt. Swift Galloway, and his opponent, the celebrated Kernell Wassom, Col. J. N. Whitford and his opponent H. F. Brown, the former for Solicitor of 3d district, the latter for Senator for Onslow, Jones and Carteret counties. Whitford claims to be the nominee, Brown says not. Both made good speeches for the first. Capt. Galloway delivered an able address both Monday and Tuesday. Kernell Wassom spoke two hours and a half, told his friends to beware how they voted in this election; not to vote for any candidate, black or white, who would not support him (Wassom) for Solicitor, or any of the rads in the coming election. They said they would not. Now lets see if they vote for L. L. Hoyt, Republican candidate for Register of Deeds of Onslow county, who says he (Hoyt) will not vote for the said Kernell Wassom for Solicitor, but says he will vote for Galloway—now mark this.

Hyde County Items.
Geo. V. Credle, of Washington, has been with us.

We are having very wet and windy weather. Some rice will be lost.

Collins Shaw, mulatto, has been stamping the county in the Liberal interest.

Mr. Pool, candidate for the Senate, spoke Thursday night. His speech was well received.

We are looking forward to court week. Then the sluggish waters will be stirred and times will be lively.

B. G. Credle, known here as "Griff," has been to see us. We are always glad to see him. Our loss has been a gain to New Berne.

Walter Clark and D. W. Jarvis, from Beaufort county, came down to meet Senator Vance and take him on to his appointment above Pantego.

Swan Quarter merchants like all occasions that will call a crowd, and you ought to see them smile. They are polite at all times, but on such occasions you can hardly tell them from candidates.

Your itemizer is sick with the "shakes." A reasonable excuse for the shortcomings this week. Hope your readers won't think it's the "jams," as he is a Prohibitionist and teetotaler, and long since proclaimed war with intoxicants of all kinds. [Try Youpon Bitters.—ED. JOURNAL.]

Vance has been here, Zeb the imitatable, the Stonewall Jackson of North Carolina politics. We were glad to see him. He made a speech that we were glad to hear. The weather was very inclement, but a goodly number were out to hear Vance. Hyde delights to honor such a man.

It takes so long for a letter to reach New Berne from any point in this county. We must have mail facilities across the water. Stir up the officials, merchants and others on this question. A steamer could be built for the purpose, and, in my judgment, would pay with a mail contract carrying passengers and freight. Something must be done or your city will lose. We want a boat to run a regular schedule, with a mail contract she will have it to do. [We propose to keep hammering on this subject until we get it accomplished. After the election is over we think something can be done.—ED. JOURNAL.]

Aid for the Orphan Asylum
"Abundant crops, everywhere," seems to be the general verdict, therefore let voluntary contributions go forward to the Oxford Orphan Asylum, as not only have provisions been very high and contributions small the present year, but a new building for the boys, which was an actual necessity, has been erected at considerable expense. In this connection we would, by request, state that it is proposed, and the press throughout the State have been asked to extend the notice, that on Thanksgiving Day, which will probably occur on the 23d of November, a collection be taken up for the benefit of the Asylum wherever services are held.—Wil. Star.
