The steamer Greenwich from New York to Florida that put into this port last Saturday for repairs, resumed her trip yesterday morning.

The steamer Stout arrived from Baltimore on Monday night with good cargo of general merchandise, and will sail this morning with 800 bales of cotton.

"No sir, I don't want that—I sell my cotton for the cash—can't take a note," said a Trentonite on Monday, when a cotton buyer presented him a check for his cotton.

What is the matter with our young friends of the 7th and 9th grades? None of them on the Roll of Honor! The teacher must be very rigid in his examination.

Six young colored ladies left on the train yesterday evening for Concord to attend school. They were the daughters of E. R. Dudley, I. B. Abbott, John Randolph and Israel Harris.

Mr. Albert Patterson had the misfortune to lose his fine trotter yesterday evening. He had been driven very fast from Washington and dropped dead in the street. Clear loss of $300.

The burned cotton was sold at the railroad yard on yesterday and brought good prices. It was sold by the bale without weighing. Maj. Dennison was the Lion of the occasion. The total receipts of the sales amount to about $3,600.

The Snow Hill.

The Midland carried up on Tuesday the boiler and engine for Capt. Ben Webb's new steamer which is to run on Contentnea creek. Capt. Webb says he will get them fitted in this week and expects to run to Snow Hill next week.

River Steamers.

The Trent arrived from Bayboro yesterday evening with 26 bales of cotton, 150 sacks of rice and 9 passengers.

The Contentnea arrived from Bell's Ferry with 12 bales cotton, 800 bushels of rice and 6 passengers.

The Neuse brought in from Jolly Oldfield 27 bales of cotton, 400 bushels of rice and 10 passengers.

Short and Sweet.

It is sometimes difficult to write a good letter. Many people are often troubled in writing down their thoughts, and can't express them as freely on paper as in talking. We give below a copy of a letter received by us. It is short, to the point, and we commend it to all JOURNAL readers as a model for brevity and for good taste:

CEDAR POINT, Carteret County,
Oct. 28, 1882.
I send you five dollars for the JOURNAL,
S. B. HOLLAND.

Your Name in Print.

Mr. J. C. Wooten, of Lenoir county, was in the city on Tuesday. He sold 23 bales of cotton at the Exchange.

Richard Caswell West, of Kinston, was a passenger on the Kinston Monday night.

Messrs. C. H. Foy, P. M. Pearsall, W. J. Rasberry and J. H. Banks, of Trenton, were in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Barrus, of Pollockville, were in the city yesterday.

Our Postmaster, John S. Manix, returned from New York yesterday morning. He had been called hence to the bedside of his dying mother, who was still alive when he left her, but no hope of recovery.

Miss Nellie Long came back on Monday night from a four month's Northern trip.

Mr. Isaac Brook, the champion bear hunter of Cypress Creek, Jones county, arrived in the city yesterday evening. He brought in some fine old bacon hams.

Maj. Harding and Mr. Joseph Poole of South Creek are in the city.

Rough Rice.

We give below the market quotations for rough rice as taken from papers published at the points given:

CHARLESTON.
(News and Courier, Oct. 30th.)
$1.00 to $1.10 per bushel.

WILMINGTON.
(Star, Oct. 29th.)
85 to 95 cents per bushel.

GOLDSBORO.
(Messenger, Oct. 27th.)
85 to $1.00 per bushel.

NEW BERNE.
(Journal, Oct. 31.)
90 to $1.02 per bushel.

As our Pamlico correspondent claimed that the papers in North and South Carolina would not give the price of rough rice, must we give him credit for drawing out the above quotations? We expect to keep our readers posted on the market at these points so far as our exchanges will enable us.

Cotton Tuesday.

Spots off one-sixteenth. November futures off 12 points, was the news from New York Tuesday. In Liverpool spots were up 1-16. The market here was brisk and in demand at quotations. 150 bales were sold at prices ranging from 94 to 10. The sales for the month of October foot up 4,174 bales against 4,480 last year. The total sales to date, 5,248, against 5,584 last year. The total receipts for the month amount to 14,085 bales; total for the season, 18,800.

There is every prospect that the sales here will come up or exceed those of last year, while the receipts at the port will be much larger. We give below the quotations for Tuesday:

Graded School Notes.

BY THE PRINCIPAL.

In the reports of the Newbern Graded School for the month ending Oct. 27, 1882, the attendance is noted from the 9th of Oct., instead of the 2d on account of the necessary irregularity in attendance, during the first week of school, occasioned by the non-arrival of the school desks at the time when they were ordered. So the 15 under "Times punctual" denotes perfection in punctuality.

The "scholarship average" is independent of everything else and is made up entirely from the examination papers in the higher grades and from oral examination and the observation of the teachers in the lowest primary grades.

The "general average of the class" is obtained by adding the general averages of the individuals of the class and then dividing the same by the number of individuals. It is meritorious for the "general average" of the pupil to be higher than that of the class.

The "rank in class" shows the standing of the pupil in the class according to merit—No. 1 having made the best average in the class and No. 2 the next best and so on.

Below will be found the names of those pupils who have made the best averages in their respective classes and also the names of those who have made averages sufficiently high—95 or above—to entitle them to go upon the "Roll of Honor," which roll will be made out, written in a conspicuous place in the school room, and published in the papers at the end of every scholastic month.

William Carter, a white tenant of Bryan Smith, coroner of Duplin county, who was assassinated last Wednesday, has been arrested and lodged in jail under strong suspicions of having committed the bloody deed. It is said Carter had made frequent threats of killing Smith under provocations growing out of erim con troubles.

Wm. C. Collins, convicted at the recent term of our Superior court of murder and sentenced to be hung on the 8th of December next, says he is satisfied with the trial and the sentence of the court, that he killed the child as proven, but not intentionally, and after seeing his mother and his legitimate child, who resides in Craven county, he will be prepared to meet with resignation, the judgment which has been pronounced against him.

Lewis Grady, the independent Republican candidate for county treasurer, took the political field to-day, going, however, in a different direction from the "regulars." He says he has gone out to set the triggers and pull the wires for the certain defeat of at least three of the Republican "regulars." He was last heard from near Frank Jarman's, singing as he went:
"I eat when I am hungry,
I drink when I am dry;
If a tree don't fall on me,
I'll live until I die."

The political candidates took the field again to-day at La Grange. How much the sovereigns will be benefited by these discussions is illustrated by a farcical occurrence at the meeting in the Neck township: While Col. Perry was making his maiden effort in this campaign, (said to have been a good speech too) he saw "a man and a brother," who could not read or write a word, scribbling away most industriously. After the speaking was over he said to the scribe brother: "Tom, what were you doing during the speaking?" "Takin' notes boss; all gemmen take notes." "Bring your notes here and let me see them." Tom brought his notes which looked more like bug crawlings, or Chinese than English. "Why Tom, this is all nonsense." "I thought so too boss, all de time you was speaking it."

La Grange Items.

The candidates are here to-day, Monday. Crowd small. Will report in my next.

D. M. Stanton has an office fitted up at the post office. Mr. Stanton is agent for several popular brands of fertilizers.

Another child, Herman, son of Julius and Nancy Sutton, has been dangerously sick of throat disease. His condition was some better at last account.

"Signor Erni," I believe they call the one leg street performer, was here Saturday amusing the people with his tricks, some of which were equal to many of the ring performers.

William Whitford and George Guion of your city was in town Friday on a bird hunt. An all day's hunt with Billy Hardee and Counsel Joyner brought up twenty birds. Rev. G. W. Sanderlin gives public notice that no more hunting will be allowed on his place.

Lemuel Graffenreid stole in this place an envelope containing twenty-four dollars from Furney Wood last Monday. On Friday night the money was returned and on Saturday morning Graffenreid was arrested and brought here for trial. The evidence was plain and he was required to give bond for his appearance at court.

Jones County Items.

Trenton is distressingly dull for this season of the year.

I could not realize that there were such magnificent farms in eastern North Carolina, as there are in the Richlands section of Onslow county, until I passed through that section. The plantations of Messrs. E. L. Franks, David Sandlin, Frank Thomson, Silas Venters, C. Stephens and others are as fine and productive as there are in the State, and all that section needs is transportation facilities.

Your correspondent visited Onslow last week attended the political meetings at Richlands, Haw Branch and Catherine Lake. The candidates are having a warm time in that county. They begin their discussions at 12 m. and speak until after dark. From what I could see I don't think there is any doubt as to the election of the whole Democratic county ticket. Col. Whitford is gaining strength every day, and I think the report of the Col.'s unpopularity was more imaginary than real. He will be elected by the usual majority, 700. Business.

The county canvass is progressing very quietly. The three candidates for Clerk still hold on. Mr. Kinsey, the heretofore Liberal, announced himself a Republican. That turn in affairs takes some of wind out of Mr. Perry's sails and I think he will give him a close run, but I think both will run aground and our most excellent Clerk, Mr. Whitaker, will be re-elected. Dr. C. J. Mattocks has developed or has shown a new talent. We all thought that the Doctor was only a successful practitioner, but he makes a most excellent political speech, and one of the striking characteristics of his address is his sound logic and fine reasoning.

Southern Progress.

Pungoteague Creek, Va., has a large and thriving fish fertilizer factory.

Montgomery is to have a very large mill for the manufacture of cotton and woolen goods.

Forty-eight million pounds of tobacco are annually consumed in Virginia's 172 tobacco factories.

One of the best equipped mills ever erected in the South is that of the Stonewall Manufacturing Company at Enterprise, Miss., just completed.

At Brilliant West Virginia, an iron foundry is about to be started with a capital of $300,000. It will have one of the best coal shafts in the country, with 26 acres of surface and 500 acres of coal lands.

RAZOR, KNIFE AND PISTOL.

Another Bloody Row among the Providence Negroes.

A bloody row occurred on the plantation of Mr. W. B. Vail, in Providence township, Thursday night. A number of negroes had gathered at the house of Geo. Miller, colored, and whisky was plentiful. Of course a row ensued, during which rocks, razors and pistols figured extensively. Mose McMullen received the severest injuries. He was cut with a razor from the neck, through the shoulder blade to the small of the back. The wound is a frightful one, but as no vitals were touched it is hoped Mose will recover. Dr. Meacham of Pineville is attending him. Geo. Miller, at whose house the row occurred, was struck in the head with a rock, and his scalp laid open to the bone. Zeke Meyer, the negro who killed Peter Rea in Providence two years ago, also had his head cut open with a rock. No pistol wounds were received, though it is said several shots were fired. No arrests have been made in the affair yet, and the Journal reporter was unable to learn what parties did the cutting.—Charlotte Journal.

Fight between a Democratic and a Republican Darkey.

At the Pineville mass meeting about 1 o'clock Saturday morning a fight occurred between a Democratic and a Republican darkey about politics. One of them, named Jim King, living a short distance below Pineville, was severely cut in the head with a rock. The name of the other darkey could not be learned. This was the only fight of consequence that occurred during the meeting.—Charlotte Journal.

Gossip from Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—It is generally believed that President of the Senate Davis is to be married, and that Miss Burr will be Mrs. David Davis in the course of the winter. She is a very attractive woman. This will put Mrs. Keifer's nose out of joint, as at present she considers that she takes rank of all the ladies of Washington; but Mrs. Keifer is a good motherly soul, who could abdicate without a pang, and not without grace either.

General and Mrs. McClellan, with their young daughter, will spend the winter in Washington, and will entertain—that is, they have joined the army of house hunters and want to find a house large enough for receptions. They are now at Wormley's Hotel.

Among the other winter residents of Washington is Col. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, who has built a fine house on Farragut square—the square ornamented with the most ridiculous statue in Washington, which is saying a great deal. If Admiral Farragut's galvanized corpse could be brought to view that statue, it would smile, if it did not actually laugh.

The President, on his return from New York, will go up to Havre de Grace, on the Susquehanna, for some duck shooting, with Mr. T. B. Ferguson, lately of South Carolina, now of Washington. As Havre de Grace came within two votes of being the capital of the country, it has some sentimental claims to the consideration of the President apart from the charms of Mr. Ferguson's shooting box.
