LOCAL NEWS.

Journal Miniature Almanac.
Sun rises, 6:37 | Length of day,
Sun sets, 5:00 | 10 hours, 33 minutes.
Moon rises at 1:37 a. m.

Twelve hundred bushels of rice sold at $1.02 to $1.04.

Wilmington has now 19 feet of water on high tide, and 14 1/2 at low tide.

One marriage license to a colored couple issued by the Register of Deeds during the week.

A lot of cotton on the R. & D. road was burned on Thursday; caught from sparks from the engine. Such accidents are becoming common.

The carpenters were at work on the windows in the Roberts building on Saturday for the purpose of improving ventilation of the school rooms.

New Hanover, as well as Craven, has a warm contest over the sheriff's office by two Republican contestants. The partisans hunt for each other with cowhides.

One-half interest in the celebrated Pontor madstone was sold at Roxboro last Monday for $250. Dr. C. E. Bradsher was the purchaser.—Durham Plant.

We are asked to call attention to a very bad mud hole just outside the city limits on the Neuse road, just opposite to the dwelling once occupied by Esq. Hill. It renders traveling dangerous.

A number of the leading cotton buyers in Charlotte have agreed to close their business and buy no cotton on election day. Is it patriotism or the dull cotton market that causes this new departure?

The Wilmington Review learns that tickets for A. M. Waddell for Congress are being circulated in the 3d district. A blind to catch the class of voters who occasionally vote for "Old Hickory" for President.

Rev. James E. Mann, P. E., will preach in the Methodist Church this morning at 11 o'clock, and at 7:30 p. m. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the close of the morning sermon. Sunday school at 3 p. m.

The new engine, once the Bragg, was brought out of the shops on Saturday, after about five years rest, and run up the road a short distance for trial. She is pronounced a "daisy," but she no longer bears the time honored name of Bragg, but is simply scored No. 12.

Mr. Jonathan Havens has received a letter from a nephew of the late Dr. Masters asking him to search the records in this county for a will of Mr. John H. Becton, who recently died in Arkansas. It is a very rare thing for one to have a will recorded before the death of the testator, yet we have heard of one or two instances of it.

In "Bits of History" the allusion to the Fair is very timely. The editor, a very small boy then, came down from Kinston to witness the crowded display, and we have often wondered why such a display could not now be made. What say our people to holding a Fair next year? All we need is one man with backbone enough to give it his personal care and attention.

Mr. Bryant Cobb of the Goldsboro Messenger and Mr. Taylor of the New Berne Journal were both in town this week in the interest of their respective papers. They met with success, as they should, for they are clever gentlemen, good canvassers and represent two of the best papers in North Carolina. Success to the Messenger and JOURNAL, for they are doing much for Eastern Carolina.—Beaufort Telephone.

Messrs. P. H. Pelletier and C. R. Thomas, Jr., the young gentlemen who have just been admitted to the bar are already making a record.

On Tuesday last His Honor Judge McRae requested them to act as counsel for a colored girl charged with larceny. They took the case and went to work, and although the girl had said she took the clothes, a verdict of not guilty was brought in and she was allowed to go free.—Beaufort Telephone.

We take pleasure in reproducing the following complimentary notice from the Beaufort Telephone:

At the 4th quarterly Conference of Ann street M. E. Church, the following preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, we esteem the Rev. N. M. Jersey as an efficient and able preacher, an excellent worker and a christian gentleman, therefore,

Resolved, That we, the members of the 4th quarterly Conference of Beaufort station, do respectfully request the Annual Conference at its next session, through our presiding Elder, Rev. J. E. Mann, to return Bro. Jersey to this station, as our Pastor for the ensuing Conference year, believing that it will be for the best interest of the church to return him to this charge.

Watch Out.
We give the following telegram:
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 4th, 1882.
Republicans are circulating Judicial tickets with some Republicans on our ticket. Give notice for all tickets to be inspected by informed persons before using.
OCT. COKE,
Chairman.

Warm.
The canvass between Stimson and Hahn grows in bitterness as the election day draws near. The Lodge of Nov. 4th, has the following direct personalities, with names added: "Devilish preacher," 1 time; "forgery," 1 time; "false," 1 time; "hypocrite," 1 time; "perjury," 1 time; "villain," 1 time; "rascal," 1 time; "bribery," 4 times.

Praiseworthy.
Hon. J. W. Shackelford and Hon. A. M. Waddell made speeches in Wilmington on Friday night for their successful competitor, Col. Wharton J. Green. Both of these gentlemen deserve great credit for their course in this campaign. Although defeated by Col. Green in the nominating convention they have each made a vigorous fight for Democracy and especially for their opponent. Such conduct will receive reward in the future.

The County Canvass.
The Democratic candidates for the Legislature in this county close the canvass to-morrow at Fulcher's. Mr. Henry R. Bryan, the Senatorial candidate, says he thinks there will be a pretty fair vote drawn out. Since the last election the Greenbackers have gained some in the county, and that will help to reduce the Democratic vote. A little vigorous work on Monday and Tuesday would help a great deal in drawing out this vote. It will not be denied that the Craven Democracy have done but little work in this campaign—and yet they pretend to have great fears on the "county government" question.

Cotton Yesterday.
Sales of 191 bales from 9 1/2 to 9.80.
Sales for week, 969.
Sales for same week last year, 1345.

Post Office.
The JOURNAL wants a number of new post offices started on the lower Neuse and some up the Neuse. We have just received four subscriptions from Adam's Creek where there is no office, but the papers are to be sent by the steamer Trent on her regular trips. We have now reliable lines of steamers making regular trips both up and down the Neuse, and the people along the river have now very poor mail communications. These steamers ought to get mail contracts and several new post offices ought to be established. New Berne ought, for the sake of her trade, to help get up these mail routes. Can't the Board of Trade appoint a committee to inquire into the matter, see what is needed, and then represent the matter properly to the post office department? Good mail communications are worth nearly as much to a city's trade as the transportation companies.

Clingman's Letter.
We copy some extracts from a letter written by General Clingman. The old gentleman has not forgotten the use of vigorous English, and his language is forcible even if it lacks elegance.

But do we not now see the most remarkable canvass made by the Bourbons that was ever witnessed in the State? The Governor has just abandoned the duties of his office at Raleigh and taken a journey through the mountains to the western borders of the State to try to carry the county of Mitchell for a local candidate. Our two Senatorial bosses, Ransom and Vance, are running over the State as they never did before. They have, too, brought into the field every available man they can command to help them. Two years ago—besides the present officers—we had to elect a President of the United States and Governor, and yet they did not make half the effort they are now doing.

I suppose my letters heretofore published in which I have denounced their system, have contributed to their alarm. A coal on the back of a terrapin will make him very lively. Did we ever see before such a set of lively terrapins as are now running over the State? The terrapin may scuffle and paw, but he cannot spread his claws and fly like an eagle. The American eagle, the bird of liberty, has spread his wings and is soaring through the heavens. The people are aroused, and are determined to throw off the political yoke and act for themselves.

The New Midland Engines—Mr. Best and his Syndicate.
The following telegram is given us for publication:

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 3, 1882.
J. P. CADDAGAN, New Berne:
Telegram received. Have telegraphed Manly urging immediate shipment of Midland engines. Directors' meeting to-day at Boston. I tendered my resignation on account of ill health. Denny telegraphs resignation not accepted, but leave of absence granted for four months.
W. J. BEST, Pres't.

From above it appears that all efforts are making to get the new engines here. The Pennsylvania road is under contract to bring them, we learn, and the delay is caused there.

The refusal to accept the resignation of Mr. Best answers the statement that the Syndicate was tired of him, and is taken by his friends as a vote of confidence. They assert also that the Midland people are prepared to meet their enemies in the meeting of the 10th at all points, and stubbornly contest every inch of ground.

Trade for the Week.
"Very dull," "tolerable fair," "dullest I ever saw," "pretty good," "picking up," "not as good as expected," were the answers to our inquiry on yesterday about trade for the past week. It was generally conceded, however, to be a little better than week before, though not up to the expectations of any save two or three. With the "time" merchants collections have begun, on a small scale with a majority, while some have made good collections. By inquiring at the National Bank we learn from the Cashier that some of the merchants had been around complaining of the dull season, thinking their cash accounts were considerably behind last year, but upon comparison found them fully up if not ahead of last year; and while on the subject the Teller put in a remark that he had put in some of the hardest days' work this fall that he ever did before. This corroborates our surmises in last Sunday's issue that the prevailing opinion that this is the dullest season ever known is more imaginary than real.

Rice has been active during the week with large sales and satisfactory prices. The corn market has been quiet with but little doing. Cotton has been dull and declining with rather light receipts. Farmers will evidently hold their cotton as long as possible while it is going down, though the price now compares very well with prices paid at this date for several years previous to last year. By reference to Mr. Frank Myer's books we find the following prices paid: Nov. 1st, 1878, 81; Nov. 1st, 1879, 101; Nov. 1st, 1880, 10; Nov. 1st, 1881, 101; Nov. 1st, 1882, 94 to 10. But meats have ruled very high during the year, and the farmer who has bought on time is not likely to have much money with which to buy goods after paying up unless the price of cotton does advance.

Kinston Items.

Cotton sold here last Thursday at 9 1/2. The Kinston ladies have it badly—the "Kinston bend" and the "Morehead walk." Even Uncle Richard is putting on the same fashionable air.

Beverly B. Wooten, son of John F. Wooten Esq., and Miss Hattie Moses, daughter of Col. G. C. Moses, were joined in holy wedlock last Wednesday evening by Rev. John T. Walsh.

J. M. Fordham Esq. of Jones and Miss Hannah Edwards, daughter of Elbert P. Edwards, were united in marriage last Wednesday by Rev. Israel Harding.

Johnson Vause, sign painter, fell head foremost from the top of Nicol's store, about thirty feet, Friday evening, breaking his arm and doing him other injuries which may result fatally to him. He was fixing a heavy sign to the store with rope and tackle, when the rope broke and hurled him headlong to the ground.

Capt. Page was with us last Wednesday, attending the wedding of Col. Moses' daughter. He is making quite a vigorous canvass in Jones for the Legislature—speaking twice a day and settling himself with the best old peach in the country. He has a unique present for President Arthur—two fat possums and a bag of yam potatoes, intending to give the President a taste of "possum sop." The Capt., it is said, is after a little national sop—Marshal for Eastern North Carolina.

Dr. Hawk's Appeal.
Dr. Hawk, an eloquent and popular New York divine, once asked the vestrymen of his church to increase his salary because of his increased family expenses. "Don't trouble yourself," said the vestryman, "the Lord has said He will care for the young ravens when they cry."
"I know that," said the clergyman, "but nothing is said about the young Hawks."—Truth.

From James City.
MR. EDITOR:—I have never denied receiving from Mr. Russell $2.50 of Mr. Stimson's money but I can prove that I furnished boys and drums and banners to notify Mr. Stimson's meetings in James City twice; and paid for the same out of the $2.50. If Mr. Russell and Mr. Stimson wish me to furnish them boys and drums to advertise their meetings either are welcome to the return of the $2.50. Poor C. H. Russell went to Mr. Stimson under false pretence and received money in my name which is a matter for the Grand jury to look after, and now he wishes to make his escape. There used to be 46 cities of refuge; if brother Russell can get clear, well done. May God help him to flee for his life for Justice is behind him.
Yours, etc.,
S. B. HUNTER.

Advertising.
"There is but one way of obtaining business—PUBLICITY; But one way of obtaining Publicity—ADVERTISING."
—Blackwood.

"ADVERTISING is to business men what Steam is to Machinery—THE GRAND PROPPELLING POWER."
—Macaulay.

Successful business men have generally acted on the theory propounded above. What has converted the poor proprietors of patent medicines into millionaires but constant and extensive advertising? What has built up the mammoth tobacco manufacturing business of Blackwell & Co. at Durham and given their tobacco almost a world-wide fame but their unusually liberal advertising? Go to the largest dealers and most successful business men in the towns and cities of our State and ask them the secret of their success. They will tell you that one important condition of that success has been liberal advertising.

Ask such men as George Allen, of Newbern; Einstein, of Kinston; the Weils, Strouses, and Kornegay, of Goldsboro; Tucker, Creech, Stronach and Hardin, of Raleigh. Some of these gentlemen have been advertising extensively for a score of years, and they still continue to do so. If advertising does not pay, such shrewd business men as those named would long since have discovered the fact, and would have discontinued the practice.—Fayetteville Gleamer.

Dowd at Sandy Ridge.
Maj. Dowd, after sleeping a few hours yesterday morning after the speaking in Concord the previous night, took a buggy and with Mr. T. M. Pittman rode 17 miles to Sandy Ridge in Union county where he spoke to 500 people including 50 or 75 ladies. A band of music and a basket picnic were features of the occasion. The Major returned last night and says that Union county Democratic candidates are just the solidest and hottest he has yet seen. There are no "Liberal" candidates and but one Republican candidate in the county. The indications are that the Democratic majority will be largely increased in the county. Ike Young has already pronounced it "the d—dest Democratic hole in the State." Mr. Pittman did not speak at Sandy Ridge, but went over into Stanly where he will speak to-day.—Charlotte Journal.

Centennial Graded School.
We are indebted to Mr. McAlpine, principal of this school, for the following information as to the number of pupils, etc. Number of children enrolled to date 684; in regular attendance 561; dropped for sickness, etc., 123. Average daily attendance 485. Average grade of scholarship (maximum 100) 80.4. Average grade of department 70.—News and Observer.

A correspondent in the New Berne JOURNAL of Friday charges Col. W. P. Canaday with complicity in the discontinuance of the postoffice at Hollywood, Carteret county. Now we are authorized by the management of the Midland N. C. Railroad to deny this charge and to declare there is no truth in it. The management of the Midland N. C. Road assumes all responsibility for the discontinuance of the post-office at Hollywood, and says it can prove to the entire satisfaction of any fair-minded, unprejudiced man, that the discontinuance of the said office was eminently fit and proper.—Newbernian.
