LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
—BONITZ—The Bonitz Hotel.
S. W. LATHAM—Executor's notice.

Journal Statistics.
Sun Rise, 6:20 | Length of day,
Sun sets, 5:58 | 10 hours, 20 minutes.
Moon rises at 8:25 a. m.

The Board of City Councilmen meet to night.

The steamer Stout sailed last night with 800 bales of cotton.

Fourteen hundred bushels of rice sold yesterday from $1.00 to $1.05.

Munden of Pasquotank, the ex-legislator, ex-wife-elooper, ex-insane prisoner, has broken jail and is at large.

The "Advertiser" Monthly from Chapel Hill for October is on our table. It is a very creditable paper and filled with original matter.

The steamers Neuse and Kinston are proposing to change their boiler grates and burners. It is very difficult to get wood along the river banks.

Sheriff Stinson's new steamer is moored at his wharf near his new steam mill. If it becomes necessary for him to go up Salt river to-morrow he can use steam.

Deveraux gave Cox the lie; the General knocked him down; the bystanders separated them—so says the Raleigh Observer. Ar'n't we all glad the election is nearly over!

The Board of County Commissioners were in session yesterday. County bonds to the amount of $4,200 were canceled. The Board adjourned until 1st Monday in December.

Mr. A. W. Cook, the leader of the New Berne Silver Cornet Band, has just returned from the Tarboro Fair. He went to assist the Goldsboro Band in making music for the Fair.

The Kinston, Dixon, master, came in last night with 130 bales of cotton and 37 passengers. The passenger list was swelled by a large crowd who came down to vote. All Hahn and Stinson men—no Greenbackers in the crowd.

The schooner Melvin arrived from Philadelphia on Sunday with a cargo of coal for Mr. E. Ellis. She sailed from Philadelphia at 3 p. m. on Thursday last and made Hatteras light by 12 o'clock on Friday night. Her captain, Gordon, is quite sick.

Mr. Geo. Allen has purchased a brick machine. It is the machine for making brick in the winter as well as summer, as the clay is ground and the brick moulded dry, so there is no necessity for sunning or drying. The brick are taken from the machine directly to the kiln and set.

A bale of cotton on fire was discovered yesterday evening as it was being taken aboard the Stout. It had been in the Clyde warehouse for 48 hours, and it is thought the spark had been smoldering in the bale all the time. Lucky for the boat that it was discovered before storing away.

The Charlotte Journal says that several gentlemen of Pennsylvania are visiting the city, prospecting gold mines and looking out for other favorable investments in the South. Their attention has been called to the opening for a cotton seed oil mill in Charlotte and it is understood they are seriously considering such an enterprise.

The young man Foy, who left the city under a cloud a few days ago, returned yesterday, and it is hoped that negotiations now in progress will result in a settlement of his difficulties satisfactory to all concerned.—News and Observer.

Capt. C. D. Roy returned from Raleigh on Sunday night with his son, the young man referred to. The matter was all arranged with perfect satisfaction, and was, we are pleased to learn from Capt. Foy, an act of indiscretion on the part of the young man rather than premeditated wrong. He returned to Raleigh of his own accord in order to put himself right.

RIVER STEAMERS.
The Trent sailed for Pollockville on yesterday; the Cutler for Trenton; and the Contentnea up Neuse, all carrying merchandise.

McLindsay Again.
A late telegram from Chairman Coke informs us that McLindsay and his fraudulent marshals are at work in Elizabeth City, and that their purpose is to operate in the 1st and 3d districts.

Journal Drummer.
Our indefatigable agent, Mr. C. C. Taylor, is making his way this week to Hyde county to solicit subscriptions for another year. On his return next week he will be at Idaho and Anson; on Saturday, November the 18th. Will our subscribers at those places be kind enough to make his acquaintance and gladden his heart with the annual subscription?

Night School.
Dr. Geo. Slover has opened a night school in the city for the benefit of young men and boys who are employed through the day. It is a commendable enterprise and deserves patronage. Fifteen students have already been enrolled.

Election News.
We have made arrangements with Capt. Ashe, of the News and Observer to get the latest telegrams from Raleigh on the election; and also have special reporters at Beaufort, Kinston and in Pamlico and Jones, and we hope to be able to announce to-morrow the general result and will follow up every day in giving particulars of the vote. We will post up on a bulletin board as fast as received in front of JOURNAL office, and the public are invited to call and examine.

Name in Print.
Dr. Edward Clark returned on Sunday from a trip to Hyde. He says a full half crop of corn is made.

Miss Puss Moore of Greenville and Miss Laura Sugg of Snow Hill, two pretty young ladies, are visiting Miss Laura Dail.

George Credle is gone to Hyde county to see that there is a full vote and a fair count.

Mr. Warner, the advance agent of the Richmond and McElreth troupe was in the city yesterday.

Cotton Yesterday.
Eighty five bales were sold from 94 to 9.80—the market being dull and but little offering.

NEW YORK MARKET, SPOT:
Middling 10s.
Strict low middling 10 5-16
Low middling 10 1-16.

NEW YORK FUTURES:

LIVERPOOL FUTURES.
December, 6 3-64
January, 6 53-64
February, 5 50-64.

McLindsay Telegrams.
Chairman Coke continues to send telegrams about the McLindsay irruption. We have been inclined to think the whole thing was a hoax, but there may be something in it. From a private letter received on Sunday we are told that 400 of these "specials" are to be sent to the first district.

We thought an editor's duty ended in printing the news, but Chairman Coke assigns us to a new role—see his telegram below. We are ordered to "use all necessary force to prevent illegal interference," and are to "have them followed up by resolute men."

In obedience to the telegram we turn to Craven's Democratic Executive Committee and assign the following resolute men to look after the McLindsay crowd:

1st Ward, Major Hughes, E. Ellis.
2d " C. Manly, J. A. Bryan.
3d " Phil Holland Jr., A. Wood.
4th " M. D. W. Stevenson, Wm. Watson.

5th Ward, Chairman E. H. Meadows.
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 6.—McLindsay and his marshals have no legal authority. Any commissions they may exhibit are illegal and fraudulent. Use all necessary force to prevent their illegal interference. Have them followed by resolute men and send a certified copy of this to each precinct of each county. Be prudent but firm, for on it depends our liberties.

OCTAVIUS COKE.
EDITORS JOURNAL.—I was surprised to hear that doubt was entertained as to the power of the city council to pass an ordinance against smoking on the cotton yard.

The charter gives power to pass all lawful ordinances for the safety of the citizens of the city and extends the scope of authority to three miles outside the city limits.

The cotton yard partakes also of the nature of a public market and in that sense is more closely under their jurisdiction.

The ordinance is asked for by the only persons who would have a right to object to it, so the action would seem eminently proper under the circumstances and gratifying to many solicitous minds.

A moment's reflection will convince anyone that a fire there would be a great calamity to both town and country.

Pumpkins Again.
Mr. J. F. Swain, of Clemmonsville, says he holds the lot over our South Forker on the pumpkin question, a statement of which was published week before last. Mr. Swain says: On a piece of ground 12,000 feet he raised 100 pumpkins, the heaviest one weighing 48 pounds, and the lightest one 7.—Winston Republican.

Office of Light House Inspector, FIFTH DISTRICT.
WASHINGTON, N. C., Oct. 21, 1882.
To the Collector of the Port of New Berne, N. C.:

SIR—I have the honor to inform you that a "Marine Railway" is under construction from Farrow's shipyard, Washington, N. C., and until completion a red light will be exhibited at the end of the piling from sunset to sunrise. This light should be left on the starboard hand by vessels entering from down the river.

Very respectfully,
A. G. PAUL,
Lt. U. S. Navy, Asst. Inspector.

The Birthplace of Wm. Hooper.
HOLLYWOOD, Carteret county, N. C. | Nov. 4th 1882. |

MESSENGERS.—There has been going the rounds of the Press an item from the Wilmington Star alluding to the demolition of some old buildings in that city, which states that one of said old buildings "is commonly reported to have been the house in which Wm. Hooper, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, was born." This report is erroneous, and the item must have escaped the editor of the Star, or he himself would have corrected it. The William Hooper referred to, was born in Boston, Mass., 17th of June, 1742. He visited Wilmington in 1764, and in 1767 took up his permanent abode in that city, and was ever after prominent in the history and affairs of this State.

The three delegates to the Continental Congress from North Carolina whose names are signed to the Declaration of Independence were William Hooper, Joseph Hewes, and John Penn, not one of whom were natives of this State; a fact full of suggestions at the present moment, and bearing evidence of the enlightened toleration and appreciation of that period.

Respectfully,
APPLETON OAKSMITH.

Swansboro Items.

Mr. C. B. Brazzelle has a good school in progress now.

Another fish fry on Browns Bank yesterday; good time of course.

All healthy now—no deaths and no marriages this week, but expect to have some trotting in double harness in a very short time.

Anyone wanting any good salt mullets can get them by calling on John Pittman or Nash Dennis. Pittman is selling goods and Russell is buying and ginning cotton.

Mr. Jere Watson has found the snake at last—a rattlesnake, 19 rattles, weighed 62 lbs and filled a flour barrel half full when coiled around. I wonder if friend Mallison can beat that?

The farmers are about done getting in their crops; all seem to be very well satisfied with their turnout. Mr. Isaac N. Henderson made 28 bbls good corn on six acres old upland; he put one-half a handful of cotton seed to the hill.

M. Russell has been bothered with his new engine, by an oversight in the maker failing to complete a vent or passage for water from the dome to the boiler, but Mr. Hamblin, the maker has come and remedied the evil—an oversight he says which has seldom or never happened before.

Ed. M. Jones won a fine hat on his crop. He, with six others, agreed to give a hat to the one that made the best turn out on his field of corn—Jones won. Jones is also a good fisherman, especially in large fish; he caught yesterday a lot of fish, about 200 in all, mostly fine trout, and one of the largest black drum fish ever seen in this county. The fish measured 4 feet 8 inches long, was 3 feet 6 inches in circumference; did not see him measured, but supposed from looks he must have weighed 70 or 80 lbs. His scales were as large as half dollars.

The canvass is done and the election result is the next thing looked for. The Rads are quite sure of the election of W. P. Canaday for Congress in this district, and so are the democrats sure of W. J. Green's election. Somebody will be disappointed, as is the case in this county election, but as it is so mixed up here, the democratic nominees have the ascendancy, and are all no doubt elected, which perhaps is accounted for by the independents scaring them a little, and by the Republicans bringing out their candidates, etc. Well we will look out for them next time in course.

They Want to Buy It.
The announcement of Dr. Gregory's wonderful discovery for turning a negro white has created a sensation—and a scare too it seems in certain quarters. It was learned yesterday in a round about way that the Doctor had received a confidential letter from the headquarters of the Republican national executive Committee proposing to purchase the receipt, as the letter continued, it would inevitably destroy that great party. Whether or not the Doctor will sell we cannot say, but the proposition is made with an evidently business intent.—Charlotte Journal.

Pollockville Items.
Cold weather has begun at last and the usual amount of coughing is indulged in.

A run away and a smash up on Main street. No damage done, as the street was empty even of children.

John Bryant, col., has fitted up a neat little shop on the corner of Main and Barrus streets, and from the looks of things intends doing some barberous business.

The Baptist church is receiving the attention of the painters and will be a handsome structure when completed. Much credit is due Mr. Wm. Koonce for the faithfulness with which he has prosecuted the work.

The bard of White Oak was in town the other day, but we heard nothing from him of a poetic nature, maybe he is reserving his ideas for an elaborate poem which we understand is soon to appear, entitled, "The Light of the Juniper Swamps."

The colored people seem to be extracting sweets from this bitter world, notwithstanding the low prices of cotton, by a series of festivals, tableaux, etc. They seem to have no difficulty in getting up a Charade which holds the boards for a week, and play nightly to a crowded house.

We assisted in slaying a watermelon a few days ago—the treat of Mr. Haywood White, of this place. Rather late for that product of vegetation, but Mr. White informed us that he keeps them every year until mid-winter, the only precaution necessary to be observed is to prevent their freezing by keeping them at an equable temperature.

Rev. Mr. Johnson began a series of meetings at Lee's Chapel Sunday. He has been compelled to break two similar appointments at the same place heretofore on account of sickness. Not having become acclimated, he has suffered a good deal from malaria this fall. Now that cold weather has begun we hope he will enjoy better health.

We hear it rumored that there will be sent up to the next Legislature a petition asking for a repeal of the sumptuary law relating to our town. Notwithstanding the fact that we are in the full enjoyment of a local prohibition act, we are made almost daily witnesses to the baneful influence of the demon we have tried to put down.

As to the correct manner of spelling the name of our town, it is plain that both ways are correct, as the eminent Geo. Pollock, after whom our town was named, sometimes used and sometimes dropped the "c" in spelling his name. It seems to us that the discussion is very much like that which once occurred as to how many angels could sit upon the point of a needle. The most violent controversy took place upon that question, and it was about as important as the question of the correct manner of spelling Pollockville and New Berne.

New Berne Items.
(Watch-Tower.)

New Berne wears the same old weedy and grassy garments she did in days that are past. The streets in certain parts of the city are both grassy and weedy, and looks like age will cause some one to harvest a few loads of seed.

The Graded School is booming; 450 are now enrolled, and still they come. The session opens after late breakfast, and closes at 2 p. m. It is thought expedient to have only a few hours session, so the young idea will have ample time to digest the brain food measured out by able corps of teachers. No doubt this educational move will awaken a lively interest in the business of the "City of Elms." The JOURNAL deserves many honors for its persistent efforts to establish the Graded School upon a solid basis.

Our old printer, N. S. Richardson, an "Israelite in whom there is no guile," is full and overrun with job work. He has five hands constantly at work, and it is only by his indomitable energy he fills the large number of orders.

Our friend, G. A. Latham, of the Newbernian, is at his post, pegging away at Col. Green and county government. He looks bright and cheerful, and smokes his Havana with commendable dignity.

Want of time prevented us from calling on our esteemed cotemporary of the JOURNAL. We learned from outsiders that the JOURNAL is doing well and is meeting the expectations of its many patrons. It professes to be independent, but is rather on the semi-order. It would have afforded us pleasure to have given the "proper remedy" for diphtheria, but as all medical men are non-communicative on proper remedies for such diseases, we could not gratify the seeming desire without a proper consideration. However, we gave the JOURNAL address the proper remedy.

Our friend Duffey is booming at the "Cheap John" corner. He has good stock of dry goods and groceries, and is selling at bottom prices. He seems to be doing business strictly on the independent order, and has the vim and boldness to defy the most combined competition. It is to the interest of our friends to give him a call when they visit the city.
