THE JOURNAL.

NEW BERNE, N. C., NOV. 19, 1882.
FUNNY SAYINGS.
 "What's a zebra, Tom?" asked a gentleman of his son.
 "A horse with his ribs on the outside," was the witty reply.
 "You never saw my hands as untidy as that," said Aunt Jane to Bessie.
 "No," replied Bessie, looking up archly, "but your ma did."
 John argues that if a two-wheeled vehicle is a bicycle and a three-wheeled a tricycle, a one-wheeled ought to be an icicle." But it isn't;
 it's a wheelbarrow.
 A little lad of four years, seeing his father returning from a visit to
 a barber, remarked:
 "Papa's got a new face, and I think a new pair o' ears."
 The father's hair had been cut,
 making his ears look larger.
 "Now, Johnny," said Aunt Lucy, placing her hand upon Johnny's head, "do you understand why it is better to give than to receive?"
 "Yes, ma'am."
 "Why is it? Give me an example."
 Johnny, who had just disgraced himself in a little flurry with
 another boy, replied:
 "Well, I reckon it's better to give a cuff 'longside the head than
 to receive one."

Who is Maria?
 "Who is Maria?" was the question that startled Mr. Brown (who talks in his sleep) as he waked the other morning and found Mrs.
 Brown sitting up in bed with an interrogation point in one eye and an exclamation point in the other.
 "Maria? Maria who?"
 "That's just what I want to know; you repeated the name over and over again last night."
 "Let me see—oh, yes; that's Parker's dog—a splendid animal. I've been trying to buy her."
 "You ought to own her, certainly;
 you are so excessively fond of her.
 You asked Parker's dog to put her arms around your neck and kiss you.
 You even went so far as to tell Parker's dog that you loved her with all your heart, and that when you came to die if you could only lay your head on Parker's dog's bosom you could breathe your life out sweetly there. Then you asked Parker's dog to have another plate of ice cream, and if the watch you had given her kept good time. During the night you kissed Parker's dog
 a dozen times, called her all the pet names known, and proved to me conclusively that you ought to live with Parker's dog and not with me."
 Mrs. Brown has gone to her mother.
