NEW BERNE, N. C., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1882.

NO. 201.

LOCAL NEWS.

Journal's Circulation.
Sun rises, 6:44 | Length of day,
Sun sets, 4:49 | 10 hours, 5 minutes.
Moon, sets at 3:54 a. m.

A light snow on Monday night.
Eggs are selling for 32 cents by the wholesale.

Roberts & Bros. are preparing to build on the burnt lot.

Five hundred bushels of rice in the market yesterday. Prices unchanged.

Mr. J. H. Willis received three new marble monuments by the Shenandoah yesterday morning.

The New and Observer is entering. We get the morning's paper at 9 o'clock on same day it is published.

The wood yards are nearly clear of wood. Oak and ash woods are selling for $4.00 per cord in the yard.

Mr. Levi Weinstein received notice of the death of his father on yesterday which occurred in Philadelphia.

The boats from below continue to bring in the Matamuskett apple in good quantities. They sell for seventy-five cents per bushel.

Our clever postmaster, Jno. S. Manix, has received the sad intelligence of the death of his mother which occurred at her home in New York.

Another addition to the railroad syndicate. We learn that Mr. Henry R. Bryan is willing to make one of the ten men to lease the mullet road.

The up train yesterday evening was crowded with colored ministers and delegates returning from the Conference that has been in session here for five or six days.

An idea of New Berne's grain trade may be had by noting that one dealer in sacks, Mr. F. Ulrich, received on the Shenandoah yesterday 15,000 empty sacks to sell to the trade.

Mr. W. H. Russ, the attentive sexton of Cedar Grove Cemetery, planted out twenty-five additional trees in the Cemetery on yesterday. They were maple, cedar, holly and hickory.

The steamer Snow Hill, B. T. Webb, Capt., made her first trip to New Berne yesterday. She was inspected by Messrs. Dunbar and Oast, and pronounced O. K. The Snow Hill will be put on the Contoatec river as soon as there is water enough. She will draw only twenty-four inches when loaded.

Cutting Asray.
The long spell of quietness in police circles was disturbed yesterday morning by Chancey Respass and Riley Moore, col. They got into a dispute in Mr. A. H. Holton's bar-room on Middle street, when Chancey drew his knife and stabbed Riley in the neck. Chancey was locked up and will be before the Mayor in the morning.

Steamers Cleared.
The Defiance, of the Clyde Line, sailed yesterday for Baltimore with 800 bales of cotton and 60 tiers of rice.
The Shenandoah sailed for Elizabeth City with 500 bales of cotton, 200 barrels of cotton seed meal and 100 barrels of naval stores.
River Steamers.
The steamer Nevas arrived from Jolly Old Field last night with sixty bales of cotton, some rice and ten passengers.
The Kinston sailed for Kinston yesterday evening with a fair cargo of general merchandise.
The Contoatec came in last night from Jolly Old Field with 33 bales of cotton, 1,000 bushels of rice and 8 passengers.

NORFOLK.
(Landmark, Nov. 19th.)
$1.00 to $1.05.

Shackelford's Campaign.
Hon. J. W. Shackelford made a strong canvass for his successful opponent, Col. Green, and the following letter expresses the opinion of the Colonel on Mr. Shackelford's efforts:
FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 10, '82.
MY DEAR SIR: Accept my sincere thanks and that of the party throughout the District and the State, for your noble and generous way in which you and your county have responded to the call of Democracy and Constitutional Government. It is the admiration of every man, God bless you and the Cause.
Yours most truly,
J. W. GREEN.

A Fat Bear.
Messrs. Ben McIntosh and Levi Ippock of Broad Creek brought in on yesterday a fat little bear weighing ninety pounds. The fat on its back was two and one half inches thick.

Your Name in Print.
Major Harding, of Aurora, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. B. F. Sugg, of Kinston, returned from a trip to Aurora on yesterday, and left on the evening train.

Rev. L. Branson, of Raleigh, was in the city yesterday and called to see us. He is at work on the sixth edition of his North Carolina Business Directory which is highly recommended by the Pres of this State and Virginia.

Miss D. C. Bryan, of Aurora, arrived in the city yesterday enroute for Morehead City, to see her sister Mrs. J. B. Pivar, who is reported to be at the point of death.

Cotton Tuesday.
Only 94 bales of cotton sold Tuesday. We notice a slight advance in Liverpool spots, but no change in New York. Futures in New York went off several points during the day. Sales at the Exchange were from 94 to 930.

NEW YORK MARKET, SPOT:
Middling 10 5-8.
Strict low middling 10 7-16.
Low middling 10 8-16.

January, 6 1-64.
February, 6 3-64.

The A. M. E. Conference.
The annual conference of the A. M. E. Church closed its session on yesterday. Bishops Payne and Dickerson presided. There were seventy ministers present, among whom were Reverends C. S. Smith of Illinois Conference, J. M. Gilmer of Baltimore Conference, and W. L. Hunter of New York Conference. Among the prominent ministers in the State were Revs. John F. Thomas of Wilmington, J. G. Frye, Cornelius Simpson and I. S. A. Murphy of the Western District, and George D. Jimmon of Raleigh. The reports showed a better financial standing and a larger increase of membership than any previous Conference. Over $1,200 were raised on Conference claims and a large amount for missions.

Garden Oysters.
We have spoken several times of fine "garden oysters" being in the market, which has created some little merriment among the "bankers," some of them wanting to know if we had reference to the oyster plant—a vegetable grown in gardens. We felt a little cornered on it until yesterday when Mr. Jacob F. Scott, of Jones, came to the rescue and averred that we were right, as he had an act passed when he was in the Legislature to protect the owners of "oyster gardens," and we think it was from the reading of this very act that we got the idea that bedded oysters—oysters that have been taken up and deposited in a certain spot by an individual—we recalled garden oysters. We took it for granted that oysters taken from a garden could properly be called "garden oysters." We have the law on our side.

Special Rates.
Mr. Editor:—Col. J. W. Andrews of the Midland Railroad, gives the following rates to the members and visitors attending the Annual M. E. Conference to convene in Raleigh, Dec. 6th.
From Morehead City to Goldsboro and return, $1.50.
From New Berne to Goldsboro and return, $1.25.
From Kinston to Goldsboro and return, $1.00.
From La Grange to Goldsboro and return, 75 cents.
These tickets are to be signed by the Secretary of Conference. They will be on sale the 1st of December, and good to return until Dec. 12. Yours truly,
N. M. JURNERY.

Hyde County Items.
Henry Wahab has bought all the rice in Juniper Bay—about eight or ten thousand bushels, which includes the crop of I. F. Bell, Esq.
Jane Hudson, colored, of Hyde County, is 45 years old and is the mother of 19 living children. Her husband, who has been twice married, is the father of 45 children.
George Credle says the JOURNAL is mistaken, that Hyde County has not gone Republican; neither has McLindsey got him—but we think that Judge Gilliam got him, when he caught him in the bar among the lawyers and asked brother Credle if he had license to practice law.

Kinston Items.
Cotton sold today at 9.50. Seed cotton, at 3 to 3 1/2.
It is now—20th inst—cold, cloudy and threatening snow at this point.
Miss Martha Pearce, of Jones County, daughter of the late Abner Pearce, of Lenoir, is visiting friends and relatives in Lenoir.
Fred Swindell, youngest child of Hugh and Laura Cummings, died, from meningitis, on the night of the 19th, inst., at Kinston.
Alex. Hill, in his 49th year, died of pneumonia on the 15th inst., at his residence on the place of S. H. Loftin, near Kinston, and was buried in Kinston Cemetery.
A subscriber to the Wilmington Post, who has failed to get his paper since the election, enquired of our assistant postmaster, "Where's the Wilmington Post?" "Gone Democratic," was the consoling reply.
A new baby boy recently arrived in the family of a Kinston jeweler, causing the head of the family to feel something like "he was a bigger man than old Grant." He hurried, on that eventful morning, to his store, kicked "old dog Pet" proudly aside, exclaiming, "Get out of pap's way."
The cause of Gen. Loftin's success in Greene county is now fully ascertained. The colored preachers took a hand in his election. One of them, while marrying a couple just before the election, asked the man: "Wilt thou take this woman to be thy wedded wife and vote for Hon. F. B. Loftin?" The man assented, the twain were made one flesh and the little sisters of the bride threw after them "a shower of rice" for good luck for the couple and for the General.

La Grange Items.
Saturday was a cold, rainy day.
Cotton sold last week as high as 9.47. Still distressingly low to eaters of Western pork, time customers and those in debt generally.
A marriage was to have taken place in Bucklesberry on Sunday evening, but at last accounts the male end of the contract had not come to time.
Lem. Dawson and Nannie Herring were married in Institute township, on last Sunday. Esq. J. W. Sutton tied the knot. No water haul in this case.
The heaviest hog of the season up to date, was killed by Capt. Harper last week. Weight, 495 lbs. The Captain is some on porkers as well as long rice heads.
Thieves like a change of diet. The last raid in Bucklesberry was on Joe Sutton's turkeys. Joe thought he "smelt a mouse," and was on the scout Saturday evening.
Ben Hughes tarried in town late Friday night, and when he went for his team, there was no team to be found. Strict search was made in various directions but they had not been found at last accounts.
It is reported that the gin house of James Wood of Wayne, was burned last Tuesday. The origin of the fire, the amount of cotton lost and if there was any insurance, I have not learned.
A canvass across the street, near R. B. Kinsey's, with the picture of a fish and the name B. E. Willis, shows the spot where fish and oysters may be had, especially on Saturdays. The itemizer is now laboring under the effects of an overbait of the bivalvular part of his stock.

Murder Trial.
The trial of Robert Pratt and Frank Moore, both colored, for the killing of Leonard O'Neal, a white man, at Fremont a few months ago, was called up in the Superior court on Thursday last. The Jury consisted of seven white and five colored men. The prosecution was conducted by Solicitor Galloway, assisted by Hon. W. T. Dortch. The prisoners had able counsel assigned them by the court in the persons of Col. Geo. W. Blount, of Wilson, and U. S. District Attorney W. S. O. Robinson and Messrs. Wm. A. Allen and F. A. Daniels. Every inch of ground was sharply contested while Judge McRae's charge to the jury was clear, fair and impartial. On Saturday at noon the jury brought in their verdict, convicting Pratt of murder, and Moore of manslaughter. Pratt was sentenced to be hanged the 19th of January, and Moore goes to the penitentiary for 20 years. Moore on being sentenced confessed the crime and that he did the cursing while Pratt shot O'Neal. We will publish the evidence in full in our next issue.—Messageur.

A Lady of Fact.
After the close of the war of the Revolution, several ladies from Philadelphia visited England. Their elegance and beauty compelled the admiration of even the prejudiced court of George the Third. "Well," said a London hairdresser, as he was dressing the hair of the ladies of our minister's (John Adams) family on a court-day, "it does not signify, but the American ladies do beat the English list all to nothing." One of the ladies thus complimented was Mrs. Bingham, the wife of a United States Senator from Pennsylvania. She was remarkable both for her beauty and for the ease and politeness of her manners. Such was the charm of her behavior that she fascinated all who sought her society. Even the servants seemed to serve her from affection rather than for wages. An anecdote illustrates her exquisite tact and politeness, which could turn even the rudeness of a guest into an occasion for paying him greater honor.
Samuel Chase, one of the judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, was a man of talents and of bad manners. On the bench he was despotic, and in society he asserted himself, no matter what man or woman he might thereby jostle.
While holding court in Philadelphia, he was honored by Mr. Bingham with a grand dinner-party and placed on Mrs. Bingham's right hand. Coolly adjusting his spectacles and looking over the elegant dinner, which had been prepared by a French cook, he said to her,—
"A very pretty dinner, madam; but there is not a thing on your table I can eat."
"And with what might I serve you that would be agreeable?" answered the urbane lady, not in the least ruffled by her guest's rudeness.
"A beefsteak, or a piece of roast beef, madam, will please me better than anything else."
A word was whispered in a servant's ear, and the lady's witty talk hardly allowed the judge to notice that he was waiting, while the other guests were eating.
When the servant reappeared with a dish of roast beef, Judge Chase attacked it with the vigor of a keen appetite. Having satisfied it, he turned to his hostess, and with the air of one who had conferred a favor by eating at her table, said,—
"There, madam, I have made a sensible and excellent dinner, but no thanks to your French cook."
Mrs. Bingham smiled as graciously as if she had received a compliment instead of a rude criticism. But tradition does not record that his "Honor" ever had another opportunity to pass judgment on Mrs. Bingham's cook.

A Question or Two.
The agent of a minstrel show who was traveling over the Pan Handle route, the other day, happened to take a seat opposite a Boston drummer. Each wore a pin with six diamonds in it, and displayed two watch chains. The coincidence happened to strike a solid old fashioned farmer as rather curious, and hitching along up to the pair he asked:
"Gentlemen, will you give me honest answers to a question or two?"
The time is it by your four watch-chains?"
The agent replied that he only had one watch that didn't klick, while the other confessed that he had none at all.
"One more question. Did you buy your diamond pins at the dollar store?"
The two men looked at each other in a troubled way, and then informed the blunt questioner that he had reached the limit.
"Oh wall, didn't intend to be sassy," he remarked as he fell back; "I'm sparking a widdler up in Wood county, and I was thinking that if I could buckle on a dollar diamond and harness two watch chains around me, she'd either kick or cave inside of a week."

Bold Robbery.
Mr. B. F. Park's colored driver left his horse and wagon standing in front of Messrs. W. J. Wyatt & Co.'s store, at the corner of Jones and Salisbury streets, Sunday night last, while he went inside to get some oats. When he came out his horse and wagon were gone. He went on to Mr. Park's residence, thinking the horse had gone home, but the horse nor wagon had not been seen. This is one of the boldest robberies we have heard of in a long time. Nothing has been heard of the thief or thieves up to this writing.—Raleigh Visitor.

GILBERT PUMP.
Read the following testimonials in regard to the Gilbert Force Pump, and remember that "No Well Regulated Family can afford to be without one."
By attaching hose it is made an efficient Fire Extinguisher.
Respectfully,
J. C. WHITTY,
Newbern, N. C.
MR. JOHN C. WHITTY—SIR—In reply to your inquiry in reference to the Gilbert Pump, I would say the city has one in use on Pollock street, which has been in use over a year, and has kept in perfect order all the time, and has been in daily use. They are in my opinion strictly a first-class Pump.
THOS. S. HOWARD, Mayor.
JOHN C. WHITTY, Esq.—Dear Sir—In regard to what I know of the Gilbert Pump—the city of New Berne placed one in front of the National Bank of New Berne, about one year since, and it has well stood hard usage ever since, without any repairs for it, by the manufacturer. This I believe is a better record than any previous Pump can boast of.
Yours truly,
J. A. GITTON.
J. C. WHITTY, Esq.—Dear Sir—We have had one of the Gilbert Improved Pumps in use at the Cotton Exchange for several months and find it all that is claimed for it by the manufacturer. Respectfully,
D. T. CARRAWAY.
MR. J. C. WHITTY—DEAR SIR—We have had a Gilbert Force Pump in use nearly 12 months and it has given us perfect satisfaction—no trouble with it whatever—it brings the water the first stroke. Very respectfully yours,
