And it costs the farmer fifteen cents a bale to sell in New Berne, which he thinks is a dreadful imposition.

A Rumor Denied.

A rumor has gained credence on the streets to the effect that the Wilming-The Bonito, from Beaufort, brought ton & Weldon R. R. Company have made arrangements for the lease or purchase of clams. The clams are to be R. R. with the view of continuing the construction of the road on from Smith-field to Florence, or perhaps some point on the W., C. & A. R., R., this side of on the W., C. & A. R., K., this side of Florence. On applying for information relative to this matter, to Capt. Divine, we were informed by him that he, too, had heard the rumor, sud that it was incorrect; that no such arrangement had been made by the W. & W. R. R. for the purchase or lease of the A. & N. C. R. R.—Wil. Review.

We think it behooves the parties, who vere instrumental in declaring the Midland lease forfeited, to hunt up a lessee somewhere who will pay at least $40, 000 per annum for the road. When the made if the item of "fifteen thousand dollars paid on Principal of Judgment in U. S. Court at Raleigh" does not appear, the Atlantic road will have the victim of a terrible blunder.

It will not do to say Gen. Lewis' re port necessitated the declaration of a forfeiture; for if every word of his report were true there was a remedy and the bonds were in the Bank to cover just

Almost a Shipwreck. About 4 o'clock on Saturday evening

Patrick and Dixon's flat from Hookerton with 99 bales of cotton came around Union Point with intent to make harbor at the Old Dominion wharf. But the fierce wind then raging swept the boat down the river in spite of the frantic ef- Graded School in Kinston. The proforts of the four sable boatmen struggling with pole and oar.

Capt. Dave Roberts of the steamer Neuse, who had just come into port, seeing the precarious situation of the flat, quickly landed his passengers, shipped the JOURNAL reporter and steamed down the river to the rescue.

As we neared the flat Capt. Roberts called out:

"John I make a line ready on the starpard side."

"Aye, aye, sir!" responded John aring round to the port side.

"That's 'port," coared the Captain,
"I said 'starboard'".

"Aye, aye, sur' and the line was got

"Hold her hand up" trumpeted the Captain to the flat crew, who were wildly imming their poles into the inky water.

"Can trench Bottom," was chorused most and the Newse bore down on the flat as if to run her down.

Don't run over ba" yelled the flat men, and the steamer bells 'to back her" with the "jingle" freely rattled brought flat and ateamer safely along-

ide. When the steamer reached the frightened mariners, their boat was drifting rapidly down the river, no bottom could be reached by sheir poles and heavy ness were dashing against and over the best, cooking her to rock and quives, while the was rapidly filling. The late was unmanageable, and the News was flat-bottomed and never built for such rough water. But with skillful bandling the flat was soon in tow, and brought safuly into port. Twanty minutes longer exposure to those rough waves would have sent the flat to the bottom, and Capt. Roberts do-serves all the credit for saving her from a watery grave.

The present value of a share is about nine dollars, so that the State's stock (12,660 shares) is worth about $113,981, but there is hanging over this a mortgage-bond debt of $164,666. This debt is a judment of the Federal court, and there is no escape from its payment. It will be seen therefore that the State's Sales for year (since Sept. 1) 13,712 stock is worth much less than the judg-ment against it, -Chatham Record.

The statement above was made in the Journal some days ago by a correspondent, endeavoring to bull the Midland view of getting the State's interest in the Atlantic road; but the fallacy The Charleston News and Courier published in a recent issue a comparison of charges on handling cotton in the cities of New York, Norfolk, Charleston and Savannah which is of interest. Wilparent that we did not take the trouble to notice it. But now it seems that brother London of the Record has been mington is not mentioned and perhaps for excellent reasons. In New York, according to the News and Courier, the expenses attending the sale of a bale of stock is worth less than nothing.

If he, or any one else, will think for a moment, it will be seen that the market Mr. Joel Kinsey sold several fine pair having been omitted by the News and turkeys in Market Saturday for $2.00 ft turkeys in Market Saturday for $2.00 here, which is 17 cents less than in Savannah, 30 cent less tuan in New York, and the cool resolutions you possibly can, the cool resolutions you possibly can, the cool resolutions you possibly can, the cool resolutions of the stock in the A. & N. C. R. R. Miss Sewel, daughter of Dr. Sewel, near value of the stock in the A. & N. C. R. R. Miss Sewel, daughter of Dr. Sewel, near since dollars a share, subject to that is nine dollars a share, subject to that the costs just fifty cents a bale tosell cotton the deltar is very probable this stock would be worth 25 cents on the dollar; and it ought to be borne in mind that Miss Hattie Fordham, from Jones, and it ought to be borne in mind that and it ought to be borne in mind that with a rental of $40,000 per annum this debt could be paid in twelve years. And another point ought not to be forgotten-until the Midland lease was declared forfeited on November 10th. A. & N. C. R. R. stock was worth thirteen dollars a share in the Raleigh market. The parties who took the responsibility of that day's work may have terrible cause to regret it in the future.

Our Senator 11th district will endeavor to get a bill through the next General Assembly, giving convicts to grade and bridge the slough below Kinston to the river bridge, with a special county tax to build an iron bridge across Neuse river, where the present dangerous structure now stands.

An effort will be made to obtain a charter from the next Legislature for a gressive spirit of public education, as well as the continued prosperity of our town, demands such a school here and it is hoped no serious or selfish opposition will be interposed to prevent its establishment.
