The Wilmington Star doubts the expediency of increasing taxtion as re-commended by Governor Jarvis. And what would be thought if the tax throughout the State should be paid, as in Craven county, by about one-third of the voters of the county?

We apologize for the large number of typographical errors in Sunday's paper, especially in the "Tewels." We very inadvertantly allowed the author of the Jewels to read and correct proof—hince illee lachring. He is a good writer but a horrible proof reader.

Divine services will be held to-night at 7:30 o'clock, in the Neuse street Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. L. S. Burkhead, pastor; under the auspices of the Evangelical Alliance. Topic for consideration: Humiliation and confession.

All are cordially invited.

The meeting at the Baptist Church last night, under the auspices of the Evangelical Alliance, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, was well attended. Rev. F. W. Eason, the pastor, opened the meeting with appropriate scriptural reading, and a short talk, after which prayers were offered and addresses made by Rev. Dr. Burkhead, Revs. L. C. Vass, J. A. Suydam, and several lay members. The meeting was one of praise and thanksgiving and the entire congregation entered into the spirit of the subject. The whole community is invited to attend these meetings and it is heped that the interest already manifested at this first service will continue to increase.

A high grade school in this city, as is plated, would keep them all in New Berne and the money used for their board and other expenses would be spent in this community.

National Bank of New Borne.

To-day the Stockholders of the National Bank of New Berne meet to elect Directors for the ensuing year. The report of the Bank published in to-day's JOURNAL makes a very good exhibit of trade" is on the right side, and there is be pursued with a vengeance." hardly a Bank anywhere that makes a better showing during the year than this one here.

Good Lawyers.

Messrs. F. M. Simmons and L. J. Moore are attending Lenoir Inferior court. We take much pleasure in commending these two lawyers to the people of Lenoir, whenever they wish to employ counsel in addition to the local Bar. Mr. Moore is as well known in Kinston as the local attoneys, his posi-tion as Solicitor several years ago bring of the "busybody spirit," and hence ing him into favorable notice. Mr. public affairs are left to the management Simmons is a younger lawyer, but as safe and reliable a counsellor as the New Berne Bar contains. Both of them are fine lawyers and worthy of a good patronage wherever they practice. A Farm.

If the Governor and State officials have railroad on the brain, the public institutions around Raleigh are "farm struck" about as heavily. The Penitentiary wants a farm for the convicts, and now the Deaf and Dumb Asylum is on the same tack. We quote from the Report just submitted to the Legislature:

"If our Institution were outside the city limits, we might have a farm and garden, and teach them this important industry. We might produce the great-er part, if not all, of the vegetables and milk used at little or no cost.

We are now required to work our pupils 'two hours per day.' How can we do this on a four acre lot, one-third of which is covered with buildings, and the balance not enough for recreation? A force of sixty could be utilized to great advantage on a farm. This would prove healthy employment. Every Principal who has been here has felt

In the Governor's message he recognizes the fact that we in North Carolina have what New England people needraw material for manufactures as our ance just what we need-capital and skilled knowledge for handling these raw materials. It ought to be easier to bring knowledge and capital to the raw material than to do as we are now doing in carrying raw material to the North. We quote from the message on the plan of advertising our native pro-

The great Exposition at Atlanta in the fall of 1881 offered the Southern States an unusual opportunity to advertise their resources. The Agricultural De-partment availed itself of the opportunity and made a display there of which I think every North Carolinian who visited the grounds was proud. * But there will be an opportunity offered the State to make an exhibition of her resources where she can reach the very classes of the people whom we want to attract to the State. The people of Bos-ton have organized and had in success-ful operation the New England Manu-facturers' and Mechanics' Institute. The Association, desirous of making the exhibition, which they will hold next fall, a grand success, have invited the Southern and Western States and railroads to make a display of their re-sources upon their grounds. A commit-tee from the Association visited me in Railroads and Moral Science.

I ask you to authorize me or some one else to enter into a contract with person or corporation to give them the State's interest in the stock of the Atlantic road upon the completion of the road to Salisbury.

Is not that a remarkable request for any person to make? To ask the Legis- Hyde, Moore, Tyrrell and Harnettlature to give him or any one man the power to transfer stock costing over one million of dollars to some unnamed cortake the gift, what a tremendous power would be placed in the Governor's

What about the tax evaders and tax shunners of New Bernel The JOURNAL has shown several times that about twothirds of the people of Craven county pay no tax. But instead of being "pursued with a vengeance," nothing at all is done to them.

The people of New Berne have one very redeeming trait of character—they attend to their own business and generally allow others the same privilege. We notice since coming here very little of public officials, with very few suggestions on the part of the people.

While this is very commendable as rule, we think it is carried too far in this case. This grave charge, that about two-thirds of the people are non taxpayers, ought to arouse such a sense of indignation in the community that it would work a revolution. The people, it would seem to us, should hold indignation meetings, and public sentiment should demand that every appliance of the law should be put in operation to collect tax.

Another reason for this feeling is that this state of affairs has been in operation so long that public sentiment has become deadened—the tax-payers have become "hacked," to use a common, but forcible expression. The Sheriff thinks if he does a little better than his predecessor he is doing good work, and the County Commissioners are baffled and foiled by false representations in regard to age when they endeavor to carry out the law.

The County Commissioners do not receive sufficient pay to give their personal attention to the details of this matter, but they can employ agents to run down the "tax evaders." The law is strong enough to cover every case, and if the law is only carried out there would valuable woods and textiles and miner- be a terrible commotion in Craven als; while New England has in abund- county. It is a burning shame and outrage as the law is now administered

> We have received from the Representative from Jones, Mr. E. R. Page, a copy of the report of the Board of Directors of the Penitentiary for the two years ending October 31st, 1882.

Mr. Stamps, in his opening, claims the indulgence of the public for the Board. in that the magnitude of their work could easily occupy the entire attention of men of great thought and experience. of men of great thought and experience, and that the incidental control contemplated by law in a board of business men, whose private affairs claim their constant care, should be regarded with Nobody hurt. generous justice.

That sounds reasonable and it will that, too, to the President.

The report, entire, makes a very creditable showing for the Penitentiary management. They have 996 convicts tion last night with some of the leaders we learn that at least 30 boys and girls of that race are off attending different schools and colleges.

A high grade school in this city, as is dable progress. From experiments made during the past year it is thought eripit on a farm may be made profitable, and the General Assembly is asked to buy a farm near the Penitentiary for that purpose.

During the past year the following counties in the State have not sent a single convict to the Penitentiary; Alleghany, Caldwell, Carteret, Henderson, three extreme Western counties; three poration, for nothing! Suppose more number, 29, followed by Forsyth with than one corporation should offer to 21, Wake with 18 and Wayne 17. Crathe Penitentially was inaugurated.

In the physician's report beside other discusse 26 had been under treatment for Bright disease, 35 for consumption, 31 for dyspepsia and 21 for liver complaint. The two latter items strikes us as a little odd for convicts. Something wrong in the dist-or, perhaps the disease was deeply rooted before a way. ETHY BETRONT TRUNKS OUT
